

A Bright Future

1. Alexa Karoly gladly accepts an award from the Co-Head of School, Tony Caulder.
2. Students and parents enjoy the fellowship at the ceremony.
3. Alex Maass delivers the opening prayer and blessing of the banquet meal.
4. Some seniors show off their crazy side after the banquet.
5. Andy Taylor joins his peers after receiving his award from the Co-Heads of School.
6. Alumnus Boyd Brown addresses the students on the importance of academic success.

Academic Banquet

Words of Wisdom

On August 20, 2009, Richard Winn students gathered together for recognition of their academic excellence from the previous year. The ceremony began with an opening speech given by SC House of Representative Boyd Brown, an alumnus. He spoke of the importance of staying in school and getting an education. He used ten reasons to stress his point, including controlling one's future in order to obtain a promising career. With Brown's high position in state government, he proved to the students that good things can come from a small school and that they should not hinder themselves by believing they cannot reach their goals, no matter how high they are.

Headmaster's Award

Grace Wilkins (11), Andy Taylor (10), Alex Maass (9), Allison Cook (8), and Alexa Karoly (7)

Junior Scholars

Grace Wilkins, Brock Sherrod, Will Hemlepp, Reagan Railey, Amanda Haynes, Jessica Durham, Drew Maass, Kelly Cooper, and Kayla Branham