

The Long Road to Playoffs

The varsity boys' basketball team had a fairly successful season during the 2009-2010 school year. Going into the season, the team showed great promise with a host of five seniors to lead the team. However, it took a while for the Eagles to hit a brief winning streak. Fortunately, they were able to enter the playoffs with an 18-10 record. The Eagles went into the playoffs as the number three seed, facing St. John's Christian Academy. They pulled out a win with a score of 49-41. The Eagles also managed another victory over the King's Academy, advancing them to the AA state semi-finals to face First Baptist School. The Eagles put up a tough fight, but lost to the Hurricanes, ending their season at number two in their region. The Varsity Eagles will have a very onerous season next year in efforts to build their team's strength again. The Eagles will lose their leading scorers, G. Coleman and MacKenzie Robinson, and leading rebounder, Drew Maass, as well as starting forward, Jonathan Love, and Bryson Pope, first year player.

9. Dillon Cail displays good shooting form as the varsity boys face the First Baptist Hurricanes. 10. Varsity Eagles cheer on their teammates from the bench. 11. Bryson Pope lines up on the free throw line to shoot two. 12. McNair Coleman stands at the top of the key, ready to throw the ball to the next open teammate. 13. MacKenzie Robinson goes up for a fast break layup after making a steal against Greenwood. 14. Jonathan Love puts up the short jumper against a Lewisville defender. 15. G. Coleman leaps over a Greenwood defender for a strong layup. 16. MacKenzie Robinson, leading scorer, shoots for the three from the corner.

Ae
Aerial

