

SUMMER BREAK IS ...

Fun in the Palmetto State

Creighton Ellison and her horse Tut traveled to New Mexico on vacation. She participated in the Junior High School Rodeo Finals, competing against people from all across the country.

Mason Adams and his brother Wyatt dig tunnels in the beach sand, trying to stay cool under the family umbrella.

Each summer Coach Halt's girls' basketball team takes a week to go to camp to improve their game. They went to Coastal Carolina's Team Camp in summer of 2010.

Summer Break! The time every student (and teacher) looks forwards to. After stressful exams and senior graduation, many head to the beach, the mountains, or camp. Almost as soon as everyone has settled into sleeping in and going on family vacations, the days get shorter, and summer draws to an end.

Instead of going to the lake or the pool or hanging out with friends, RWA families prepare for the often dreaded first day of school. The younger kids look forward to it while the high school students don't want to see it come. But in the back of their minds, older students realize they are one year to closer to graduation...one year closer to starting the next chapter of their lives.
