

The upper school students take the last second before the beginning of fifth period to pose for a picture in their "elderly" attire.

Mrs. Woodle's fourth grade class displays their goofy sides and their flashy Decade Day outfits.

Rebekah Phillips works diligently on the "Boys of Fall" themed senior sign.

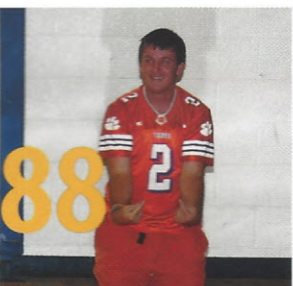

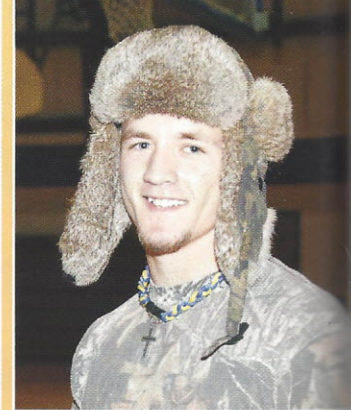

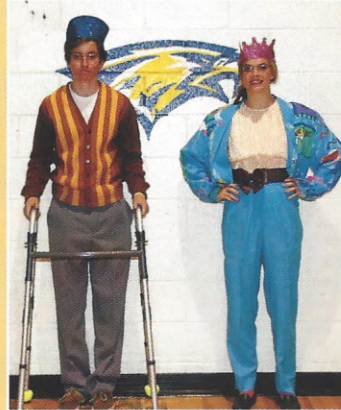

It's easy to see that "twins" Nancy Blair Gonzalez and Samantha Blair stand out in the hallways.

Ellie Trapp flashes her smile for the camera while buying a snack at lunch.

The seventh grade class is obviously a class divided in their opinions on college football.

88

