

Graduation a new chapter begins...

Turning a Page

After the ceremony ended, naturally, the caps had to be thrown, and with that release, the new Alumni also released themselves from the containment of high school and into the vulnerability of the real world, but not alone. As they walked down the hall and out the door as Richard Winn graduates, they turned a page together. Now, they begin a new chapter separate from one another, but still connected to each other and to the ever-growing Richard Winn family.
