

Steady! David Walling, Taylor Ingle, and Mac McDonald work on a project assigned by Coach Copeland. Wood working class was a way to get students involved in helping modify and enhance the school.

Design Team! Juniors Samantha Blair, Sarah Grier Thompson, and Lauren Faust diligently paint mailboxes for each teacher to put outside his/her classroom. Woodworking class obviously wasn't just for the boys!

That's Shocking! Junior Sarah Coleman helps second grader Caroline Poole better understand static electricity. During tutoring sessions, upper classmen were able to teach lower school students in fun and interesting ways.

Getting Messy. Kyle Speagle and his friends play a game of hide-and-seek during art class after using a little paint somewhere other than the canvas. Numerous students enjoyed the creativity that art class provided this year.

Think, Think, Think... Hunter Tate thinks about what to make during robotics. Hunter and other students enjoyed creating working robots.

Ta Dah! The Latin dance girls end on a positive note. They showcased their new dance moves on stage in front of the entire upper school.
