

Sitting: Anna Grey Walters and Blake Little. Kneeling: Meg Cathcart, Sarah Coleman, and Pauline Craig. Standing: Chloe Dawkins, Addie Bostrom, and Chrissy

With new uniforms and multiple new faces, the Varsity Eagle cheerleaders received a face-lift over the summer. Because there were only eight girls donning blue or gold bows on Fridays, the squad was definitely small this season. However, spirit and enthusiasm were never lacking. The Eagle cheerleaders, for the second year in a row, supported Breast Cancer Awareness by sporting pink bows and poms during the month of October. A cause that hit closer to home, Team Lily, was also supported by the Eagle cheerleaders again this season. Every game brought the girls closer together. This was definitely a squad passionate about their football players! Although some games ended on a low note, every cheerleader retained a smile and positive attitude. New cheers and dances coupled with innovative stunts were acquired at the Universal Cheerleading Association (UCA) summer camp. Four cheerleaders were chosen as UCA All American cheerleaders and three girls were invited to perform in the 86th annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. One thing was certain, the squad as a whole put their hearts into this season. The words of the squad's favorite chant "Richard Winn Varsity, we're number one" rang true for this group of cheerleaders.

Boostin' up the [spirit]

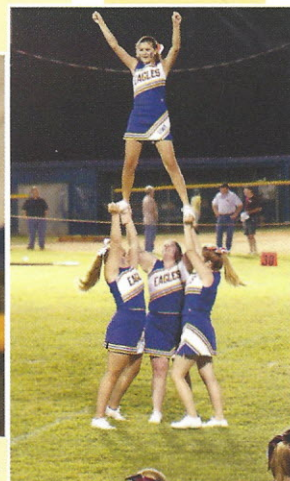

Richard... Chrissy Caudill, Bostrom, and Anna Grey get the crowd pumped up at pep rally. Pep rallies were the opportunity for the cheerleaders to spread their enthusiasm with the student body.

Rock Your Body. Sarah Coleman smiles to the crowd as she exhibits her dancing abilities. The cheerleaders perfected four dances to execute during halftime.

Give It Your All. Captain Blake Little leads a chant to support the football team. All of the cheerleaders put their whole hearts into each cheer.

Take It to the Top. Bases Anna Grey Walters and Blake Little press into an extension. This group worked hard all season and accomplished many difficult stunts.

What was the most exciting part of the season?

Getting to cheer for the football players and performing at halftime.

-Meg Cathcart, 9th Grade

As this was my last season, it was emotional and exciting. Being able to cheer on our boys to well-deserved victories and bonding as a team are two moments that stand out.

-Blake Little, 12th Grade

