

Spread Your Wings. Cooper Swearingen "spreads his wings" to block the inbound pass. His hands and feet made him a defensive threat to opponents.

Striking Distance. In position to strike, Todd Johnson prepares to take a wide open three. This was Todd's rookie year on the squad.

Finish High. Ethan McManus finishes his free throw attempt beautifully as he looks for it to go in. Ethan moved up to from the B-Team program to play on the ms team this season.

Make It Rain. Jai Sanders shoots his free throw, focusing only on the goal and extra point. Jai hustled and improved throughout every game.

Preparing for something Better

Although their season did not go according to plan, the middle school boys learned valuable techniques and strategies of the game. Varsity boys coach, Joe Pitt, lead this team along the way, helping them realize what it will take to play for his varsity squad in years to come. This young group of Eagles faced tough opponents every game they played and showed flashes of brilliance here and there. Even though it was a tough year for this up and coming team, their skills will grow rapidly in years to come.
