

1. Anna Grey Walters keeps a close eye on the base runner while receiving the ball. 2. Cassidy Branham checks to see if she made it to the out field as she heads back to base. 3. The Lady Eagles congratulated Calhoun on a hard fought game. 4. Anna and Cassidy discuss game strategy between the 6th and 7th innings of a playoff game. 5. Laker gets into her power position before the pitch. 6. Junior Sarah Coleman makes contact for a base hit. 7. Kennedy Elms is ready to field under the ball at third base. 8. Jordan Parris makes the play on Calhoun batter's hit to the middle infield, a Cavalier out.

Eye of an Eagle! Eighth grader Anna Connor follows the foul fly ball to get the put out. Although young for a varsity level starting position, Anna worked hard and earned a starting spot at the first base position.

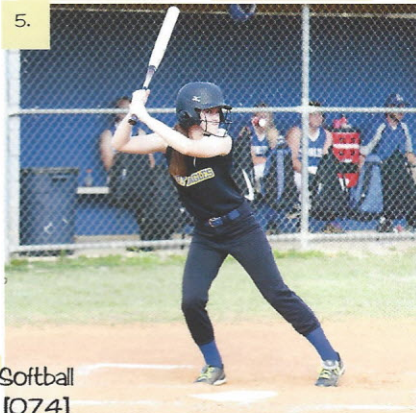

Eagles on 3. Before every inning the Lady Eagles gather inside of the pitcher's circle. This was a ritual for the infielders to unify them and give them time for a mini-pep talk.

She Throws Like a Girl! Bailey Taylor, an eighth grader, winds up to hurl another pitch across home plate. As the team's ace pitcher and fast pitch veteran, she was a leader on the team throughout the entire season.

Base Hit. Annie Mattox earns a single at Fairfield Central. A new player to RWA, this was her first hit playing softball for the Lady Eagles.
