Despite their "injuries," Autumn and Haley look awfully happy walking to class together during Homecoming Week. Berry glances away from his computer exercise. On Grandparents' Day, Samantha W. shows her grandmother some of the work she's done in class. Kyle is dropped off on the first day of school and walks, a little nervously, into the school building.

Where there's smoke,
there's...

Autumn

...Clowney on a Tiger.

...drama from your mama today.

Book It! The third grade class participates in National Young Readers Week. During this week the students practiced reading out loud.
