

Being

blue n' gold

...is all about being unafraid of individuality. At Richard Winn, it is important to see past the dress code, the guidelines, the sports teams, and the classrooms. Once you become a part of Richard Winn, whether you play a sport, join a club, or simply get through each day, the school colors are forever imprinted in your heart. Blue and gold become a beacon of family and friendship, a reminder of the relationships formed. Once you exit the school doors for the final time, blue and gold will always go with you. One day, each student, teacher, and faculty member connected to Richard Winn Academy will look on these colors and smile. After all, an Eagle never forgets how to

Be blue n' gold.
