

K3-5 Christmas Program

Naughty or Nice?

Mary Had a Baby, Yes Lord!

Cole Elder and Alexis Montgomery reverently play the roles of Joseph and Mary in the much anticipated annual kindergarten program.

Three "Plus" Gifts. Landon Dagenhart, Johnathan Bonds, and Dylan Albert represent the kings bringing gifts to the Christ child. These students, along with their classmates, are some of the greatest gifts to RWA!

"M" Is For. Sarah Hughes knows that "M" is for more than monkeys or macaroni in her Christmas program! She and her classmates, Ava and Riley, were full of snickers just as the crowd was with their acronyms.

O' You Better Watch O
Landon is ever so thankful he m
the "good list." From the smile face, he might have just know was hiding in the box from Sant

1. Without Mrs. Poland's final touches, costumes would be a disaster. 2. Some of the kindergarten girls wow the crowd with their props to support the lyrics of "Five Little Christmas Trees." 3. Choreography, including sign language, sets the stage for a top notch performance. 4. The excitement of this group brings nothing but smiles and laughter to prepare the heart and spirit for the Christmas season. 5. The beauty of their apparel, hand motions, and smiles have formed memories that will always be cherished by their families and friends. 6. How many reindeer are a must to pull Santa's sleigh? 7. Santa's visit is a highlight for Georgia Kate Price and the other kindergarten children each year!

