

Spirit Week

Mathletes vs. Athletes

Fifth graders Rob Wilson, Lawson Wade, and Jacob Chaisson make it no question that they'd prefer a baseball diamond over a math classroom. These three were teammates on a travel baseball team.

Safari Day

Several sixth graders go all out for Safari Day. This day gave students an opportunity to show their wild side by dressing as safari hunters and tourists or animals of the jungle or desert lands.

Stars and Stripes

Camo Day

This ninth grade group is hard to spot in their camouflage attire and face paint. Camo Day is a loved Spirit Week tradition at Richard Winn.

Spirit Day

The sixth grade class is festively adorned in spirit links to show off their school spirit. Spirit Day is a day for students and staff to demonstrate their RWA pride.
