

Hug it Out Mrs. Nicholson and George Taylor embrace before catching up on the years that have passed. This 50th event gave many former RWA faculty the chance to catch up with former teachers and students who attended the school throughout the years.

Catching up Pelham Lyles (far right) seems to be absorbing all of the dinner discussions. Pelham graduated in 1968 which was Richard Winn's first graduating class.

80's Mix with 90's Beth and Crawford Hughes, Will Black, Palmer Nicholson and the Atkerson twins all agree that time flies after graduating.

Class of '74 Ann Dickey Campbell ('74) and her husband David are prepared to enjoy the festivities. Ann was a faithful 50th planning committee member.

Best Days Edie Pope and Julie Allen Sease, both 1996 graduates, share fond memories of RWA with its former headmaster, Mr. Carroll Taylor.

Dual Roles Joe Wilkes along with Bobby and Amelia Ellison have worn many hats at Richard Winn but one they all share is being parents of RWA graduates.
