

Seniors Serve

The senior class assists a family affected by the floods of 2015.

Check It Out John Coleman eyes his project before getting to work. His strength was very valuable to the group as they labored.

Who's Hungry? After a long morning of work, the seniors were ready for lunch. A portion of the class lights up as they prepare to refuel at Cookout.

Many Hands Make Light Work

Everyone pitches in to make the day's work as manageable as possible. Because of the seniors' hard work, a family was able to begin the repair process on their home.

Nailed It! Jaycie Johnson uses precision and accuracy as she hammers some nails into a doorframe. Like this task, there were many tedious jobs to be completed on the work site.

Unity The class of 2016 stands together as one body and prays over the home and family before beginning the day's work. Through this life-changing day, the seniors became closer than ever.
