

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Jane Nelson Edmunds, will my ability to get boy-friends to Alice Youngblood and Mary Jean Haigler because they try so hard.

I, Joyce Inez Beckham, will my small feet to Tommy Edmunds.

I, Louise Gordon Bradley, will my long hair to Susan Palmer.

I, Florence Lucile Branham, will my ability to play basketball to Rebecca Richardson.

I, Roberta Estelle Branham, will my wise cracks to Shirley Mattox in hopes that she will use them.

I, Herbert Norris Hollis, will my tall statue to Howard Mattox.

I, Thelma Lavonne Dinkins, will my ability to laugh to Clara Mae Moseley.

I, Alice Louise Braziel, will my quiet disposition to Ruth Miles.

I, Elizabeth Wilson, will my ability to dance to Florence Peak.

I, LeGrand Branham, will my expertness in basketball to Billy Medlin.

I, Jenny Wren Dixon, will my short statue to Bobby Hartman in hopes that he won't grow any taller.

I, Leila Loretta Humphries, will my plump figure to Sadie Gunter.

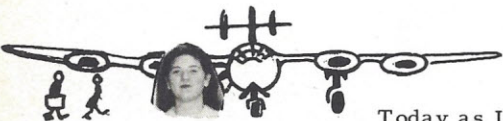

I, Nadine Mattox, will my slim figure to Isabel Cooper.

To the incoming Seniors, we leave our ability to publish a school paper.

CLASS PROPHECY

Today as I sit here waiting for my plane to take off, before I assume my duties as a hostess for Delta Air Lines, my thoughts wander back to the class of 52.

I see Joyce Beckham happily married and the mother of six children.

There's Loretta Humphries a secret agent for the F. B. I.

Jenny Dixon is now head of the English Department at U. S. C.

Typist for the U. S. Rubber Co. is Louise Braziel.

Lavonne Dinkins is the receptionist at the Waldorf Astoria.

Mrs. Danny Medlin, the former Nadine Mattox, leaving for a honeymoon in Texas.

Estelle Branham, an Air Force Nurse now serving in Korea.

Now owner of a large modern service station in Columbia is Norris Hollis.

Lib Wilson who is now a secretary at Fort Jackson.
