
Sports

A stadium under construction is a promise--a promise of games won and games lost, of teams victorious and teams defeated, of teamwork sought and achieved, of physical fitness won through hard work and practice.