

Last Will And Testament

Lois Smith wills her "office" dependability to Millie Pope and Frances Kay Mitchell.

Johnny Cathcart and Wilburn Price leave their busses, wrecked or otherwise, to Rickey Thomas and Rusty Robinson, respectively.

Jean Mattox and Peggy Gladden will their ability to date underclassmen to Patricia Groomes and Sandi Morris, respectively.

Libby Tanner bequeaths her love for T-birds to Ben Branham.

David Ferguson leaves his "fatherly" ways to Joe Sanders.

Callie Ladd wills her ability to excel in French to Janet Fellers and Sue Fortune.

Hayne McMeekin leaves his bad luck with cars to Francis Brewington; he needs it!

Miriam Lyles and Linda Stevens leave their slightly deteriorated desk in the chemistry lab to Mary McMeekin and Elizabeth Douglas.

Steve Beckham bequeaths his quiet ways and beautiful relationship with the teachers to Jake Stone.

Hermanette Raley bequeaths her love for horses to Brenda Douglas.

Judy Faye Weed wills her love for business courses to Ann Wiles and Patricia Dove.

Bubba Lyles bequeaths his position as editor-in-chief of Consolidated Comments to Ellen McMaster.

Emmie Lou Anderson and Faye Bairefoot leave their love for Clemson to Becky McSwain.

Adrian Glenn leaves his freckles to Larry Parker and Stella Boulware.

Patsy Patrick leaves her intelligence and ability to do excellent on the College Board Examination to all Juniors.

Michaëlle Reynolds, Julie Burley, and Vicki Gladden want to leave everything but themselves.

Carolyn Cathcart wills her contacts to Kitty Powers.

David Albert bequeaths his incessantly contagious laughter to Frank Martin.

Annette Dove leaves Tilman Evans with much regret.

Amy Eargle leaves her cute ways to Carlie Ann Lyles and Jolene Mattox.

Billv Johnson leaves his nickname "Goat" to Robin Wilkes.

Fay Sellers leaves her ability to get a diamond from a Winnsboro High School graduate to Leona DeHart and Shirley McFadden.

Joyce Mayes leaves her title "Miss Senior" to Elizabeth Douglas.

Joyce Gunter leaves her red hair to Brenda Lutz.

Jack Mincey bequeaths his English studies and his book to Jerry Douglas.

Norma Jean Hubbard leaves her love for school to Marsha Hackle.

Serena Magill bequeaths her love for chemistry to Jenny Littleton.

Tommy Leviner leaves his love for getting dismissed to Fitz Dove and Wayne Wilson.

Sallie Ramsey wills her typewriter in typing to Melba Cail and Beverly Brown. Make good use of it girls!

Thomas Maddox and John David Mattox leave their excellent attendance to Linda Huggins and anyone who needs it.

Annie Ruth Brown wills her naturally blond hair to Lynda Davis.

Edward Murphy wills his ability to make airplanes to any Junior taking a subject under Mr. Stoudemayer.

To Barbara Miles, Faye Ingle leaves her ability to "keep" books for Mrs. Bass in Bookkeeping.

David Martin and Patsy Fickling leave their place in the hall at lunch period to Dubbie Berry and whoever it may be that week.

Pauline Lucas bequeaths her library duties to Shirley Reynolds.

Glenn Ragsdale gladly leaves his seat in Trig class to Billy Patrick.

Dora Banks wills her "clock watching," especially 30 seconds before the 8:30 bell, to Darnell Branham.

Thurmond Pullen leaves his job at the Winn-Dixie Food Stores to Boykin Smith.

Patsy Smith bequeaths her determined ways to Cornelia Waters.

Dannie Childers leaves his shot-putting to Larry Jo Douglas.

David Horne leaves his collection of hot rod books to Richard Adams, Vernon Atkinson, and Bobby Faile.

Glen Taylor bequeaths her "A's" in shorthand that she didn't use to Juanita Davis and Barbara Drew.

Sam Peak leaves his kindness to Toby Chapman and Richard Johnson.

Jimmy Peake leaves his suaveness to John Powell.