

Last Will And Testament

Carolyn Beam leaves her clerical work at school to any Junior who would like to help the teachers next year.

Tommy Sprott wills his musical ability to Berkeley Palmer.

Johnny Stewart leaves his position on the baseball team to Cecil Tanner.

Hellen Wilson leaves her shyness of manner to Lillian Bass and Brenda Myers.

Charles Truesdale wills his mechanical aptitude to William Kennedy.

John Cotton leaves his love for tennis to Wade Macfie.

Vivian Perry leaves her seat on the Ridgeway bus to Mary Pat Nichols.

Terry Hegler leaves his sense of humor to Craig Hinrichs and Bill Heron.

Billy Clarkson wills his sleek ways to Charles Mincey.

James Bundrick leaves his course in electrical shop to A. T. Thigpen.

Jane Dinkins bequeaths her Beta Club membership to Billie Faye Branham.

Tinka Milling leaves his English Literature book to any Junior having $5.00.

Sammy Allen leaves his ability to flirt to Erwin Renwick and Skipper Sims.

Ernestine Goldman wills her "perfect" attendance record to Tommy Davis.

Jackie McQuirt leaves his ability to stay out of trouble to Donnie Coleman.

William Branham wills his nickname "Snowball" to anyone who wants a good dye job.

Wayne Mixon leaves his ability to keep orderly class meetings to the '64 Class President.

Gloria Reynolds and Judy Marsh leave their correspondence course to whoever might need it next year.

Tim Clark bequeaths his love for school to anyone who loves it.

Haskell Smith leaves his love for U. S. History to Annette Cogdill.

Tina Jean Cathcart leaves her petiteness to Becky Sanders and Judy Spires.

Harold Keever leaves his first name to Harold Baker.

Faye Peake leaves her quiet ways to Nancy Nunn.

Susan Smith leaves her love for English novels to the Juniors taking English Literature next year.

Harold Kinley bequeaths his Morse Code to Robert L. Dove.

Claude Coleman leaves his nickname of "Valleydale" to Robert Dove, Bill Heron, and Thomas Broome.

Bobby Cunningham leaves his major in U. S. History to Joyce Braziel, Barney Fuller, and Jimmy Boyter.

Catrina Russell bequeaths her "alertness" to Josephine Beckham and Beverly Freeman.

Elmer Fuller wills his attentiveness to Jimmy Warmoth.

Larry Mincey leaves his beautiful pronunciation of medieval English to Larry Parker.

Signed, sealed, and delivered by Carolyn Beam and Steve Beckham.

Witnessed by Julianne Robinson and Phil Johnson.

Class Poem

As today we meet with the thought of departure,
May our hearts ring loud and clear,
To Winnsboro, our school, our town, our people,
To whom we hold most dear;

May we carry with us fond memories,
That began long ago,
And may we continue with these memories,
In our hearts may they always glow;

As to our destinations we merely begin,
Let us now put to thought,
All the things that have been taught us,
And the accomplishments these have brought;

We come now to thank you, ask your blessings,
and bid good-by,
Our loving parents, dear teachers, and humble
friends,
But we must not forget the all powerful one—
With Him we always win.

So when the door is entirely open,
Waiting for us to step through,
We shall enter into life's future,
Leaving our school, fellow students, to you.