alma mater

We hail thee, Winnsboro,
The pride of each heart.
We cherish fond memories
Thy halls now impart.
Thy ideals are lofty;
Thy standards we praise.
We hail thee, Winnsboro,
We bask in thy rays.

Thy sons and thy daughters
All cherish thy fame.
We'll hold high the banner
To honor thy name.
We'll proudly unfurl it
In purity bright.
We hail thee, Winnsboro,
Our strong beacon light.

FOREWORD

The 1964 graduating class has the unique distinction of being the first class to complete five years at Winnsboro High School. Looking back, we Seniors can remember our eight grade ratting year—the first year of consolidation. The completely new and up-to date facilities provided an environment conducive to learning and soon developed school spirit. In addition to the modern physical plant, improvements were made in academic departments. The faculty was enlarged, a guidance department added, the Commercial Department was expanded to include a greater variety of courses in office occupations, and forestry was added to the Agricultural Department. In 1963-64, the school maintained its accreditation in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

And, now, after completing our years at Winnsboro High, we, the 1965 graduating class, can recall proudly "our five years of progress."

dedication

The 1965 HALCYON is dedicated to a person who has given so much to Winnsboro High School and asked so little in return. She has been with us throughout our five years of high school, serving first as a home economics teacher and then as a guidance counselor. Her devotion, understanding, and youthfulness have made her a friend of all students. By the dedication of this book, we say thank you,

Miss Sara Faucett

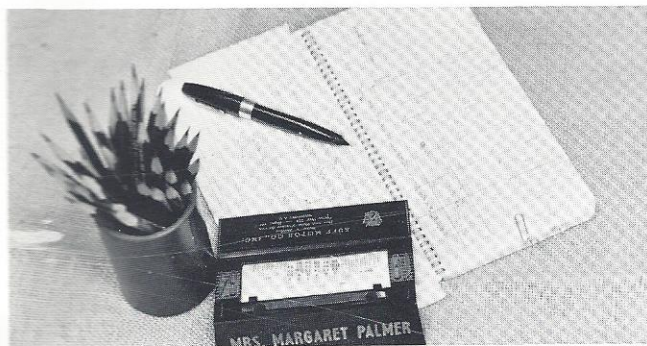

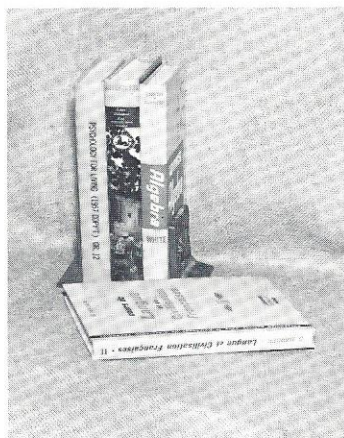

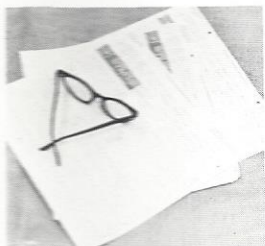

Miss Faucett looks to see if college board scores have arrived.

In accordance with the President's Physical Fitness Program, Miss Faucett walks from the parking lot each morning.

"Hi there! I'm your friendly guidance counselor."

In this section is shown the faculty, the supporting base of our school. Members of the faculty strive to give Winnsboro High students the best possible education.

Academic courses in English, mathematics, science, history, and foreign languages are provided for the students preparing for college. Vocational and business courses are provided for students who do not plan to continue studies after graduation.

The faculty of Winnsboro High School constantly endeavors to maintain high standards of teaching and guidance.

"I see but one rule; to be clear. If I am not clear all my world crumbles to nothing." So English is not only useful to the English scholar or professional writer, but absolutely necessary to do well in any academic or technical subject, to enter almost any vocation, and to have a happier social life. This necessity is recognized at Winnsboro High by requiring English each year for every student. Offered are courses in basic grammar, the history of the language, American and English Literature, and Business English with emphasis on the language used in commerce and industry.

With computers and adding machines doing much of the work today, it seems there would be little reason to study mathematics—but as computers require special arrangement of numbers which necessitates an even greater knowledge of math. And nearly all vocations as well as the College Board Exams, require a basic knowledge of arithmetic, algebra, and trigonometry.

Students at Winnsboro High School are offered general math and algebra in grades 8 and 9 followed by plane geometry and trigonometry. Though math often seems neither easy nor interesting, its vital role in today's world is recognized by students and faculty alike, who work together to participate in today's world with a better understanding of math, the result of better preparation.

"A child said 'What is grass?' fetching it to one with full hands." Today the child can almost say what grass is, digressing on atoms, genes, and photosynthesis; and looking further he might ask, "What is space and why is there disease?" With solution to these questions closer than ever, it becomes more necessary that students educated in the general sciences.

Winnsboro High School offers general science grades 8 and 9 and separate courses in biology, chemistry, and physics.

The Agriculture Department gives students a knowledge of modern agricultural methods and standards, and it gives them practical experience in these methods. The Distributive Education Department seeks to acquaint students with the business world through school instructions in marketing and salesmanship.

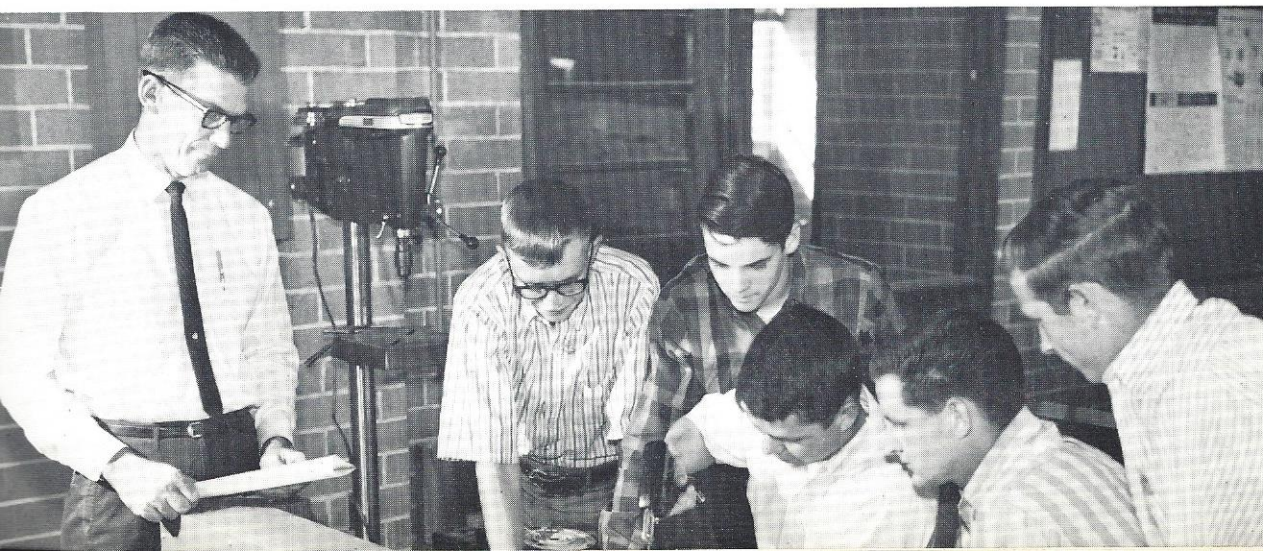

The Home Economics Department stresses homemaking in order to become a well-rounded citizen with proper emphasis on sewing, meal planning, health and many other subjects. It prepares students for a creative and satisfactory life.

The Electric Shop Department introduces students to the field of scientific electronics and gives them the opportunity through this three-hour course to develop a skill in this field.

The Department of Office Occupations through a two-year program offers to students the skills of typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping as well as courses in Business English and Business Math.

"Misbehavior is caused by . . ."

History is no more than things said and done in the past and man should consider and understand many things gone by in order to live more intelligently. It is also essential to have a knowledge of the past to anticipate and deal with the future.

The Social Studies Department of Winnsboro High School offers courses in South Carolina, World, and

United States History covering critical events of importance to the student in understanding the past and the present.

Also offered is Psychology, the study of human behavior and mental conditions, supplemented by an annual visit to the State Hospital.

music

"All Nature sings and round me rings the music of the spheres." These lines from a religious song of today are full of the Greek and Latin enthusiasm and interest for music. Music has always been a part of life, both in and outside of organized religion. Winnsboro High daily band practice and Glee Club twice a week gives us a chance to enjoy secular and religious music; to develop skills we will always enjoy.

Language

Mrs. Martha B. Coleman

Mrs. Mary C. Eargle
Summerland College, B. A.

"Ah, Mrs. Eargle, let's talk about the banquet!"

"Cui bono?" "Quousque tandem?"; "But why?" and "How much longer?" are questions asked by anyone studying a foreign language. These questions are from Cicero; the answers each student must find for himself. Understanding other cultures and a speaking knowledge of their languages are useful in selecting a vocation, visiting foreign lands, or promoting world friendship. To achieve these goals our language department offers Latin, an important source of modern English vocabulary and French, a derivative of Latin used in study and diplomacy throughout the world. Our teachers help Winnsboro High students answer Cicero's questions.

physical education

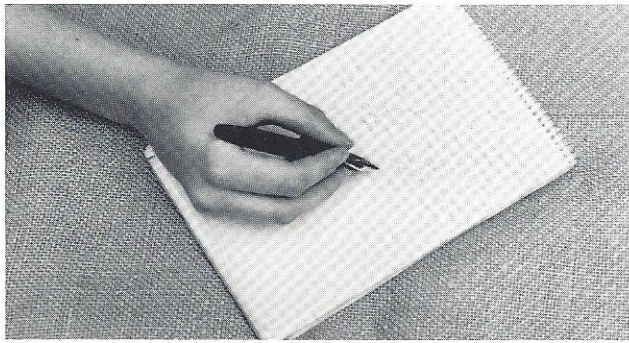

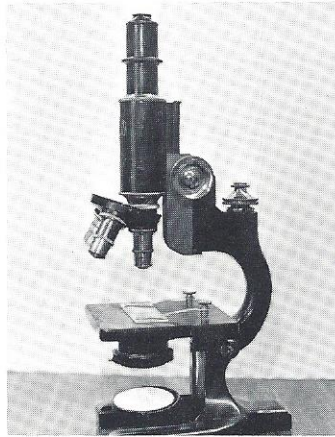

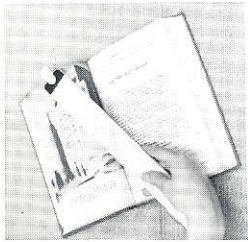

"Simon says, 'Bend to the right!'"

Among writings of the Greek philosopher, Plato, is found the principle that athletics (physical coordination) is as important to education as music, science, and literature. Today this idea is demonstrated at Winnsboro High School by the requirement of Physical Education in grades 8, 9, 10 for both boys and girls. This gym program which covers various exercises and games together with first-aid instruction, strives to promote clean sportsmanship and teamwork necessary in all work and study.

Mr. Joseph Turbeville
The Citadel, B. S.

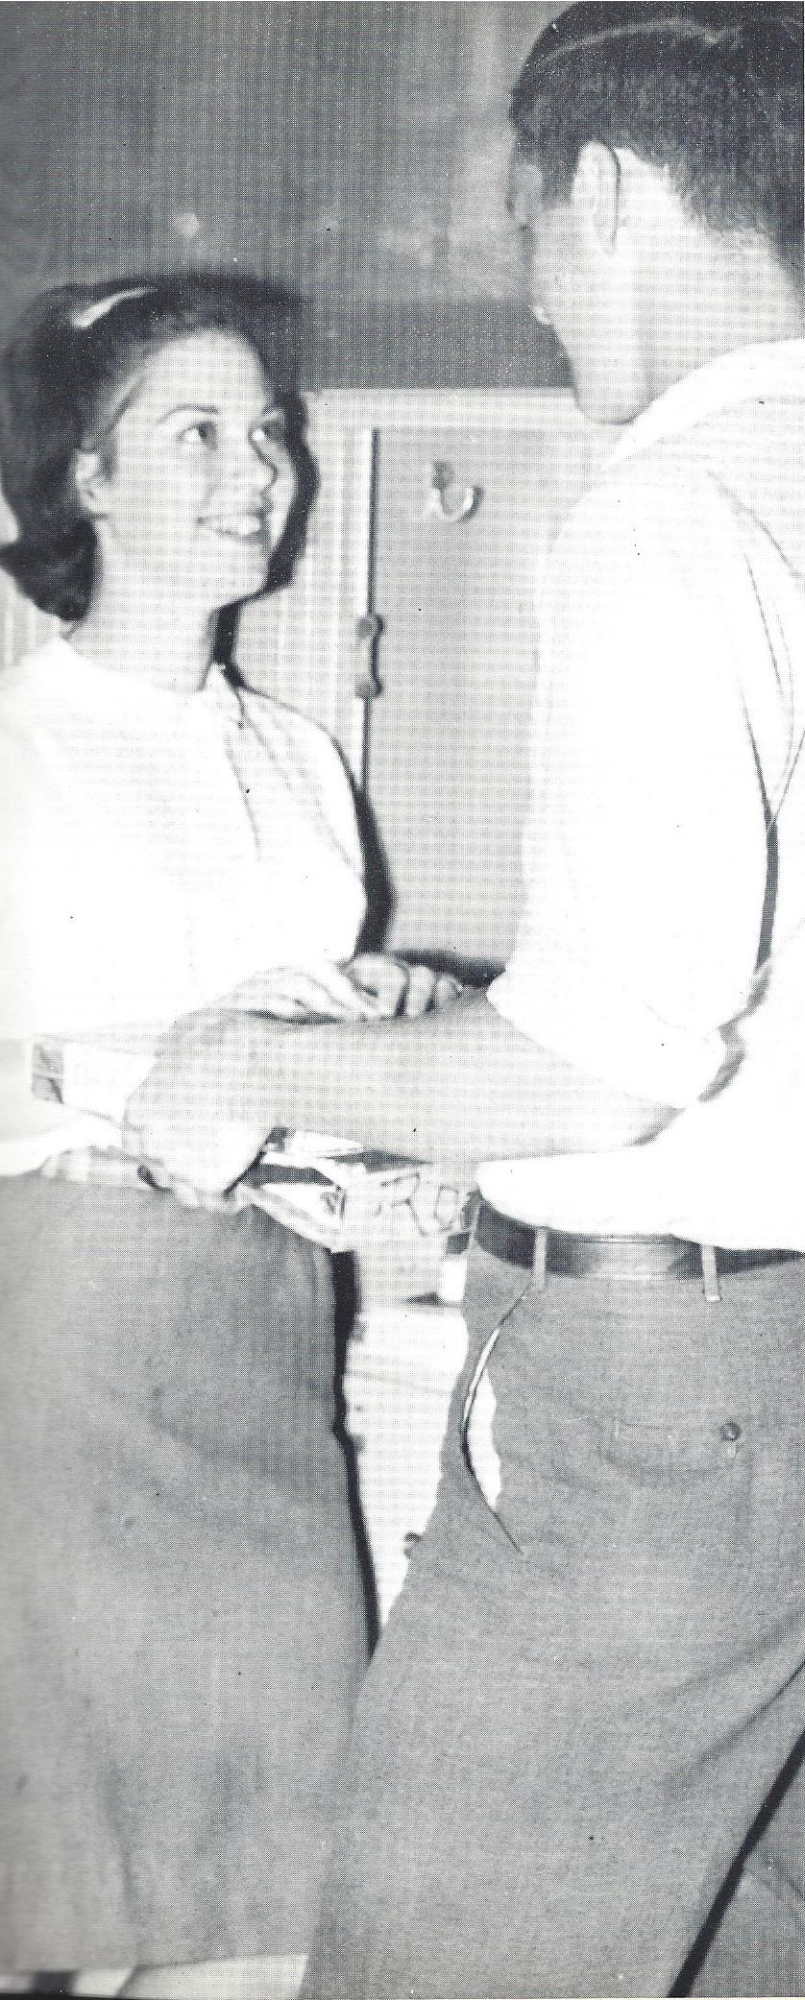

In this section are shown the members of the Winnsboro High student body. Students come to Winnsboro High in search of knowledge and friendship. Every student is given the opportunity to participate in athletics, academics, and clubs.

Uncertain Sub-Freshmen anticipate with mixed emotions their future. Beginning to relax, Freshmen are confronted with Algebra I and Latin. Sophomores eagerly participate in varied school events. Juniors enjoy prestige and eagerly look forward to their Senior year. Seniors await graduation with mixed emotions as they recall their past five years.

Singing the ALMA MATER, pledging allegiance to the flag, cheering the WILDCATS on to victory; all these unite our student body in a common effort

In this section are shown the extra-curricular activities at Winnsboro High School which give every person an opportunity to join a club of interest to him.

Honorary scholastic, foreign language, service, and music clubs acquaint students with various fields. Chapters in national organizations prepare students for their chosen work after school. The Block "W" Club encourages student participation in school-sponsored events.

The Student Council composed of elected representatives from each homeroom completes the extra-curricular activities. These students along with the faculty continue to make improvements at Winnsboro High School.

student council

OFFICERS: JOHNNY CHAPMAN, Vice-President; BETSY BLACKWELDER, Secretary; TIMMY WILKES, Treasurer; FRAN FRAZIER, President.

The German philosopher and poet Goethe called the best government "that which teaches us to govern ourselves." The Student Council of Winnsboro High provides an excellent opportunity for leadership training and self-government, by consisting of elected representatives from the home-rooms and school organizations together with editors of publications.

The Student Council holds weekly meetings to discuss and act on ideas from the student body and, considering the problems that a newly consolidated school faces, it has promoted school spirit by adopting a school seal, presenting an annual talent show, and purchasing a victory flag.

The Safety Committee of Student Council in accordance with the South Carolina fire requirements organized periodic drills, and to emphasize the religious aspect of student life the Council sponsored morning devotionals.

future teachers of america

Knowledge, leadership, and efficiency are three qualities which the Future Teachers of America strive to obtain. The F.T.A. is a national organization encouraging students with an interest to enter the field of education as a profession.

The Kathleen Lemmon Chapter is an active one. Over the past five years, it has planned American Education Week, Spiritual Emphasis Week, and programs for Alcohol Education Week. This year Pat Ford was selected a state winner of the Ruth Thomas Scholarship sponsored by the South Carolina Future Teachers Association.

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club for students in the eleventh and twelfth grades who are taking at least two business subjects. Its goal is to develop leadership and to introduce business students to the business world through speakers, field trips, and projects. Every year since it has been organized it has taken part in the F.B.L.A. State Convention. Last year one of the members offered for office and was elected secretary of the state organization. For the past two years, members of the club have represented South Carolina in the National F.B.L.A. contests. In 1964, Winnsboro High was represented in the "Miss F.B.L.A." contest and in 1965, in the "Mr. F.B.L.A." contest.

Block "W" CLUB

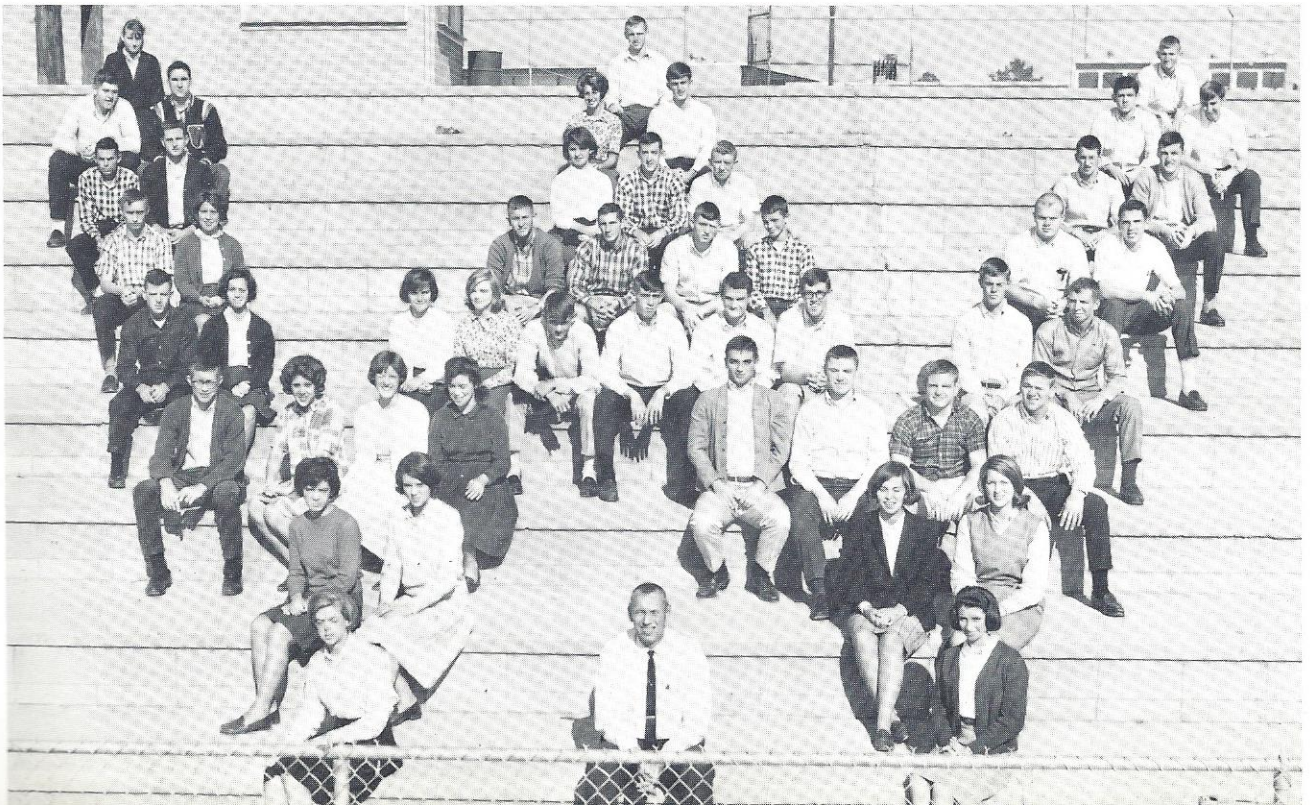

The Block "W" Club is an athletic organization whose purpose is to promote good sportsmanship and to emphasize the importance of physical fitness. Membership is restricted to those students who through practice and diligence have earned a Winnsboro High School Block Letter in one of the five sports or varsity cheerleading. Annual projects include a candy sale and the student-faculty basketball game.

Not only does the Block "W" Club increase school spirit and promote interest in athletics, but produces well-rounded, capable individuals.

LIBRARY CLUB

OFFICERS: BUD DARK, President; BOBBY SMITH, Treasurer; LYN McMASTER, Vice-President; KENT DOTY, Secretary.

The Library Club of Winnsboro High School explores the field of library work and endeavors to improve the facilities of the school library. The purpose of the club is to render service to the library and school and to encourage more and better reading among students. Members assist the librarian in many ways, giving two study halls a week to library work. Duties performed include typing, filing, mending, and shelving of books.

This year's Library Club sponsored for the first time a book fair which proved to be most successful.

Studying Latin increases one's cultural knowledge and helps one understand the structure of various other languages. The Latin Club stimulates an interest in the cultural field and provides the opportunity to learn about early civilization. The highlight of the Latin Club is the annual Roman Banquet which becomes more elaborate each year.

french club

OFFICERS: JIMMY TURNER, President; ELLEN LEWIS, Historian; MARION POPE, Vice-President; MARGARET JOHNSON, Secretary; CHARLOTTE LEITNER, Treasurer.

The French Club is composed of students who are taking first and second year French. The purpose of the French Club is to give students insight and knowledge into culture and customs of France.

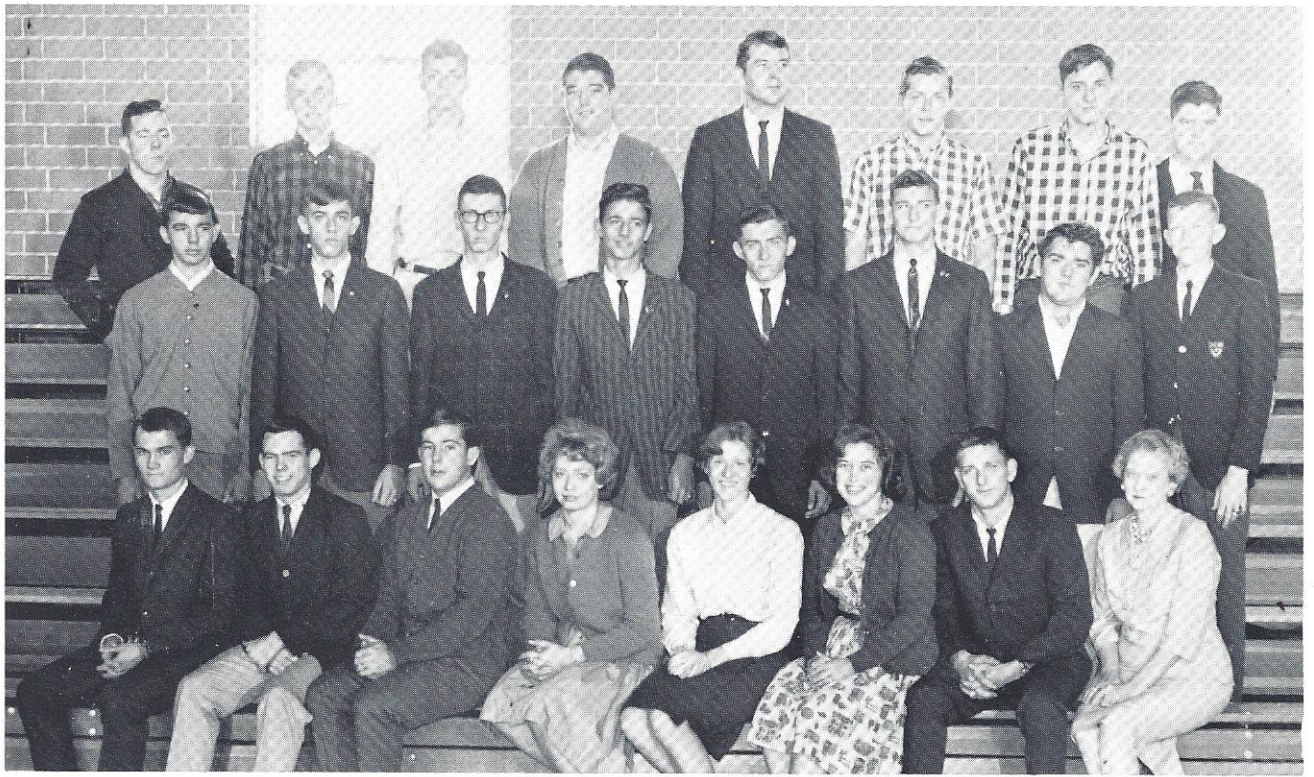

This club holds monthly meetings which are conducted in French. The members enjoyed a variety of interesting programs this year including plays conducted in French and the singing of French songs including the National Anthem of France, "La Marseillaise."

For each of the five years since the Winnboro Distributive Education Club has been housed in the Winnboro High School building, an enviable record has been maintained. The Distributive Education Club gives students the opportunity to take an active part in the business world. A three-star plaque for each year attests to the fact that the highest standard of excellence has been reached each year. In addition to this year's club receiving five placings in the state, Richard Ladd was elected State Treasurer.

OFFICERS: JOY SHARPE, Historian; VERNON MAYES, Chaplain; DARLENE MINCEY, Editor Promotion Manager; RENNIE ROBINSON, Vice-President; BUCKY OSBORNE, Parliamentarian; GENE RHYMER, Secretary; JIMMY BLACKWELDER, President; REX GRAVES, Treasurer.

Smith, Peake, Lewis, Branham, Humphries, Roof, Collins, McCaston, Rhymer, Kelly, Rutland, Branham, Coleman.

The purpose of the Trade and Industrial Club is to train its members for good citizenship in addition to acquiring skills and technical information. Since its organization, several members have contributed outstanding projects at the State Trade and Industrial Convention. This year Robert McCaston served as State Treasurer for the Trade and Industrial Club.

future homemakers of america

To educate young women in the art of home-making is the objective of the Future Homemakers of America. The club strives to instill the economic and spiritual values of a good homemaker in each girl.

Activities of the past five years include annual Christmas dances with the F.F.A., raising of money for the F.H.A. camp, and improving the appearance of Winnsboro High by the planting of roses.

OFFICERS: GLORIA KELLY, President; MILDRED MONTGOMERY, Vice-President; LYNN SMITH, Treasurer; BILLY FRANCES SPIRES, Reporter; CATHY REXRODE, Secretary.

future farmers of america

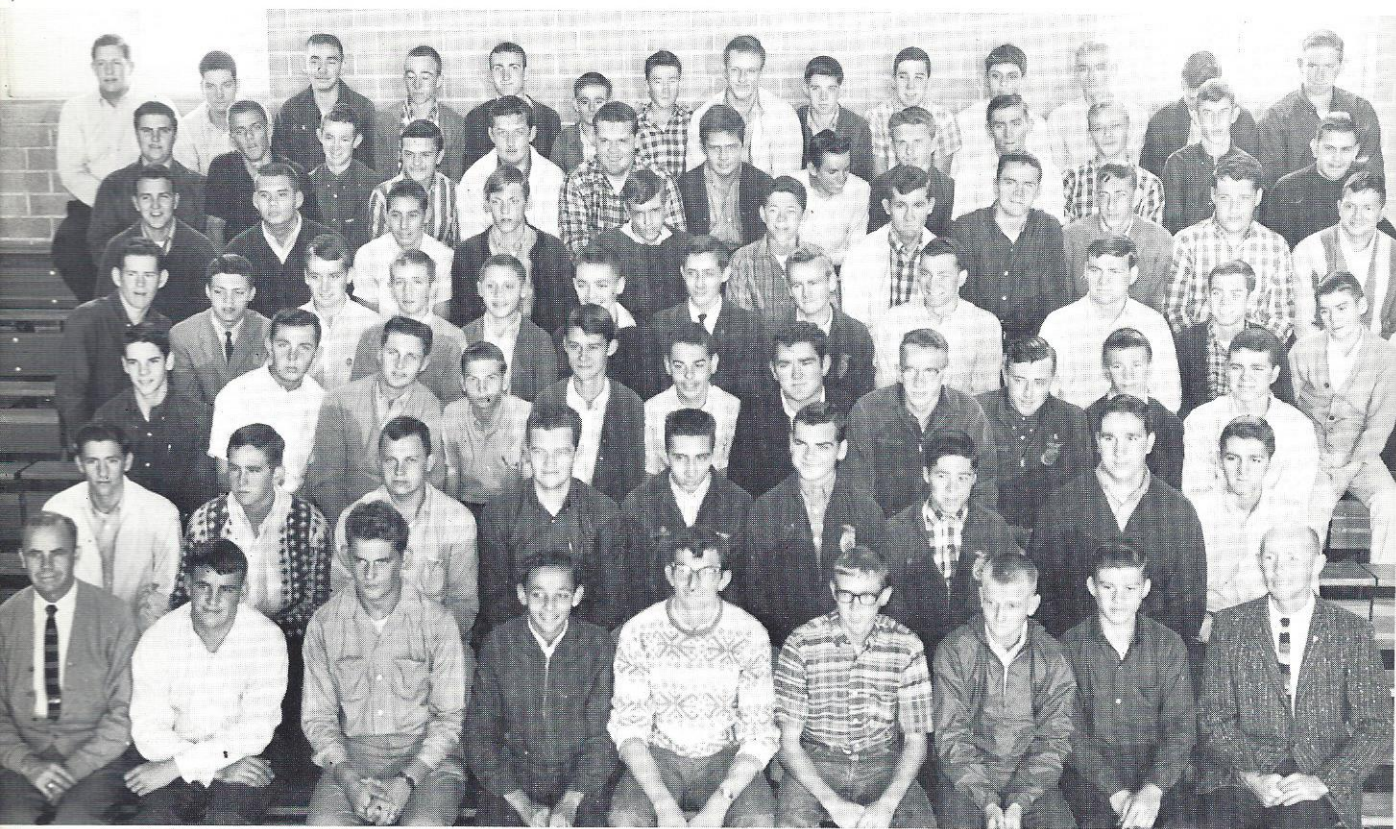

Using modern, scientific agricultural methods to replenish the food supply in America, learning self-expression, and encouraging good citizenship are the common goals of the Winnsboro High Future Farmers of America. Membership is open to all who are interested in agriculture.

Members have participated in various activities including planting grass around the school, growing certified plants for the county, and operating sweet potato and tomato hotbeds. They have also participated in a school program of forestry planning and forest control. The chapter stresses the importance of self-expression through parliamentary procedure and public speaking.

OFFICERS: CHUCK McMASTER, President; JOAN CROSSLAND, Secretary; RUTH THOMPSON, Treasurer; JAMES COLEMAN, Vice-President; RUDY HARRINGTON, Drum Major.

The Winnsboro High School Band serves the school and community in a variety of ways. From pep rallies and football shows to parades and concerts, the band's yearly calendar bulges with activity. Always expanding its equipment as well as its membership, this year the band has purchased a new set of parade drums, a baritone saxophone, and next year looks forward to the possibility of owning new uniforms.

The band functions as a class for which credit is given. The membership is composed of students from the eighth through the twelfth grades.

Miss Hall presents the John Philip Sousa Band Award to Chuck McMaster, for superior musicianship.

During a half time spectacular drum major Rudy Harrington "Strikes up the Band."

OFFICERS: COBY STEVENSON, Secretary; LOU HASLETT, Treasurer; MARION POPE, President; SUZANNE STRANGE, Vice-President.

Students with an interest in singing and voice culture make up the Winnsboro High School Chorus. In the previous four years Mr. Walter Graham followed by Mr. John Mitchum conducted the chorus. Their concerted efforts resulted in the presentation of a Christmas and Spring Cantata. This year's chorus under the direction of Mr. Jerry Pitts presented a Christmas Festival. The chorus' Spring Festival featured individual student talent with songs for the guitar and folk singing. Members of the chorus have also participated in numerous civic and community programs.

club honors

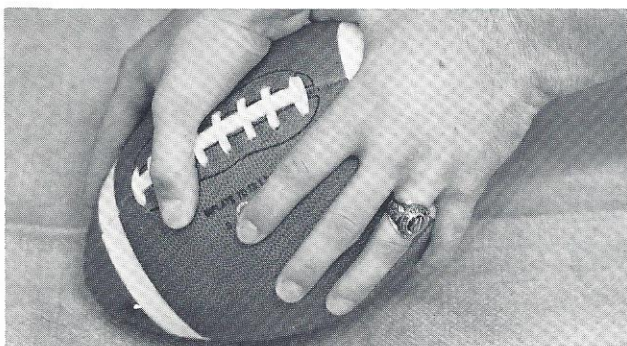

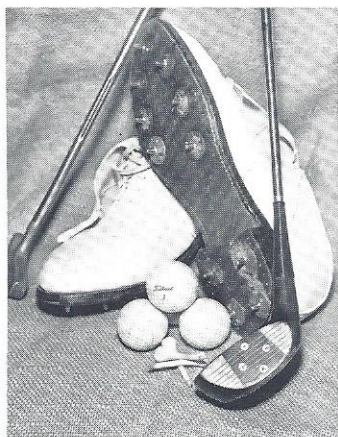

BUD DARK was chosen state Mr. F.B.L.A. and will represent South Carolina at the national convention held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ROBERT McCASTON won first place at the state T. and I. Club Convention for his FM radio.

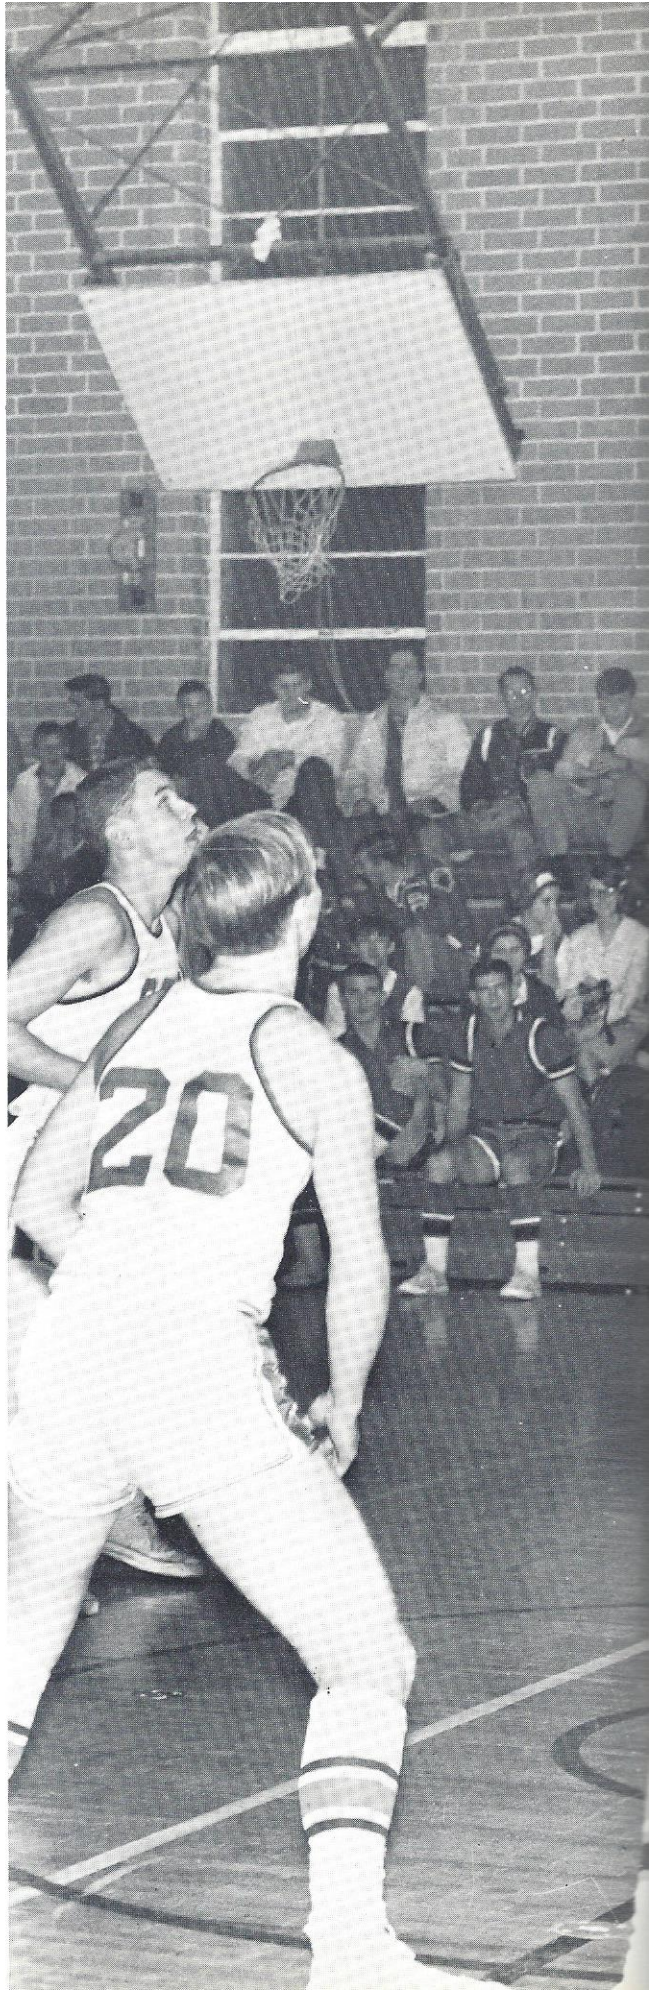

LOU HASLETT was elected State Recording Secretary of the Junior Classical League.

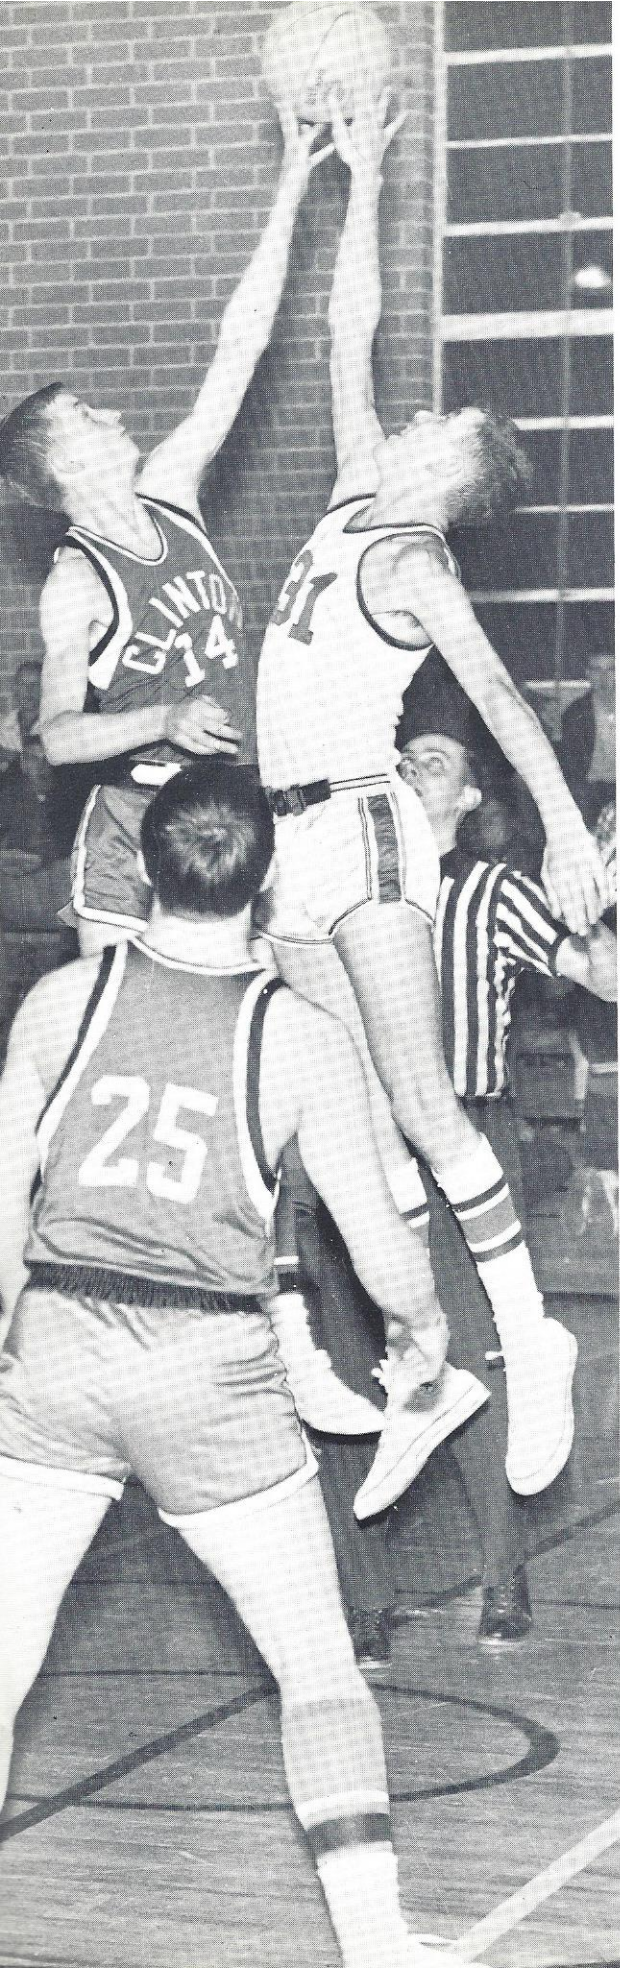

In this section are shown the sports at Winnsboro High School which strive to build physically fit bodies and to encourage good sportsmanship.

Students have the opportunity to participate in these five varsity sports: football, basketball, track, baseball, and golf. For the eighth and ninth grades there are two junior varsity sports — football and basketball.

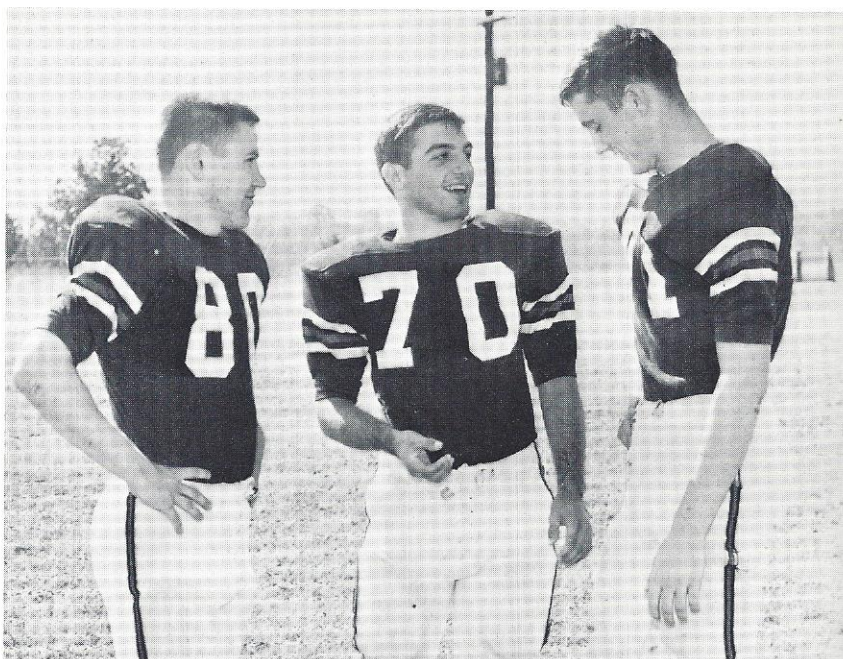

Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders wearing scarlet and navy uniforms symbolize, as well as encourage, school spirit.

"The best part of beauty is that which no picture can express."

—Bacon

Although beauty played an important part, it was not the only factor considered in the choosing of the 1965 Miss HALCYON; she was also judged on her poise, diction, and oral interpretation.

These pictures show in part the well-rounded life our Miss HALCYON leads. Beth Stevens is an active member of the Sophomore Class. She attends the Sion Presbyterian Church. Among her activities are many sports, including tennis.

CLASS HISTORIANS: Gene Brigman and Joan Crossland.

MASCOTS: Beth Turner and Mark LeGrand.

class history

This is not the end; it is not even the beginning of the end, but rather it is the end of the beginning. When we entered Winnsboro High School as the first sub-freshman class, we felt that we had reached the beginning of the end. Not only was the sub-freshman class in a state of confusion, but also the entire school. Having endured the tortures of the senior class on Rat Day, we felt more a part of high school. Our class was now represented by Patsy Craft as Rat Queen and Heyward Harden as Rat King.

By the ninth grade, all the fears of the new and unknown were forgotten. Now we really belonged. With this year came new acquaintances. We met students from all parts of our county on a social basis by joining various clubs.

Our sophomore year was a point of no return—the mean of our education. It was during this period when we seriously began preparations for college by taking the PSAT. Some began preparation for a career after high school by enrolling in the various vocational classes.

We were dazzled by the excitement of our junior year. After many weeks of hard work, we tried our hand at acting by presenting "We Shook the Family Tree." One of our never-to-be-forgotten experiences was taking the College Board exam. The highlight of the year was taking the seniors on an imaginary trip to our 50th state, Blue Hawaii.

Our much anticipated senior year finally arrived with mixed emotions. Along with it came our smashing comedy, "Boarding House Reach," senior privileges, invitations, and Junior-Senior. At the prom we were taken to the Mississippi River for a ride on the Showboat.

The climax of our five years is graduation. On graduation night we shall probably see some of our friends for the last time. This is both a sad and a joyous occasion. We become sad as we leave the teachers and friends who have helped us to gain this first milestone in our education. It is joyous because we can now look forward to our bright future.

In these final hours of our wonderful high school days as we relive all our memories, we realize that this is definitely not the end or even the beginning of the end, but truly the end of the beginning. Now we bid Winnsboro High School a fond farewell.

class poem

*There was no grass on the barren land;
There was only dirt and only sand,
And the dust flew high as the buses ran,
And we entered school, a sacred eighth grade band.*

*The dust settled down, and the grass quickly grew.
We all studied hard and advanced quickly, too.
And we all felt better—'cause of people we knew,
And before we expected, the ninth grade was through.*

*The first bell rang for the '62 fall,
And we didn't need school 'cause we had it all.
And life was a game and such fun and a ball,
And never a care embraced tenth grade halls.*

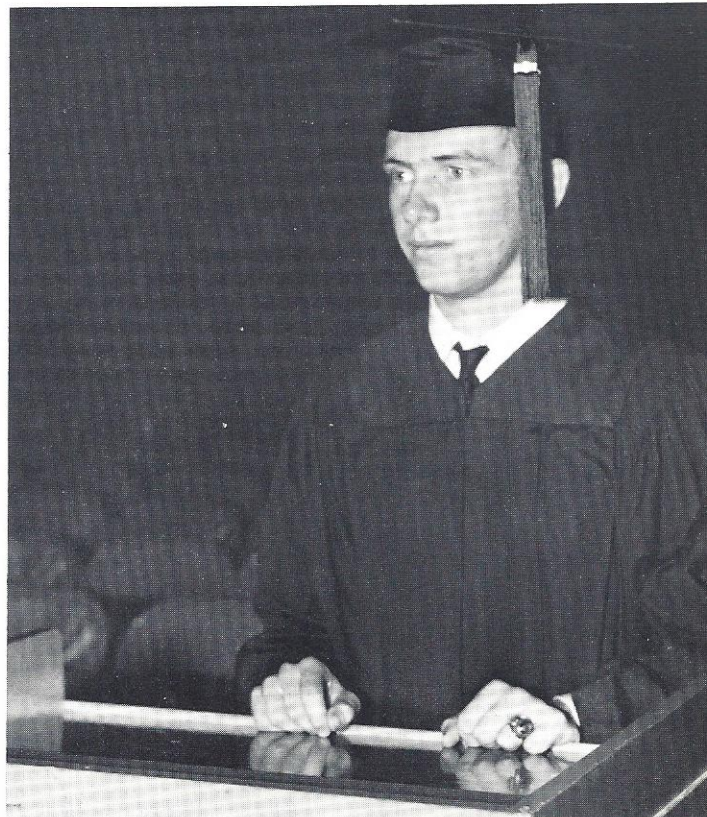

*Fall came again; the leaves were red,
The leaves were beautiful, but also were dead.
And we all learned much from what we had read,
But a longing for knowledge was not in one's head.*

*The Senior year came; we laughed, and we cried.
Some entered college; some were denied.
Our egos were growing; our teachers we tried.
Then it was over; our beginning had died.*

*Upward or downward; forward or back;
Life high and haughty; life full of tact;
Life full of romance; a life full of fact.
We'll be prepared; we've hardly a lack.*

*Winnsboro was built with a back and a hand.
Its purpose—to train the minds of the land,
To make us as high and as worthy as can,
But whatever one's fate, Winnsboro made him a man.*

CLASS POET: Danny Stevenson.

last will and testament

We the Senior Class of Winnsboro High School on this said date of May twentieth, nineteen hundred and sixty-five, being of sound mind and body write our Last Will and Testament.

As a group, we leave the administration in peace—one piece that is.

We leave the faculty, not as we found them.

To the Juniors, we leave our vacant places and hope that you'll be able to fill them. We doubt it—but we hope.

To the Sophomores, we leave our first Junior-Senior. We had fun; we hope you do.

To the Freshmen, we leave our few seats in D-Hall, and our strong desire to stay out of trouble.

To the Sub-freshmen, we leave our ability to get ahead and use the ones we already have.

As individuals, we leave the following:

Dickie Brabham leaves his ability to whisper those sexy French phrases to any Junior who's having trouble with his girl. It works everytime, right, Stein?

Joan Crossland wills her love for certain students at Clemson to Joyce Chapman. That way Joan won't have to worry.

Steve Connor leaves his love for those Cotton fields back home to Vernon Mayes.

Robbie Robinson just wishes she weren't leaving—Johnny that is.

Terry Peake, Billy Estes, Barney Fuller, and Donell Humphries will their ability to grow tomatoes and potatoes to Billy Montgomery, C. T. Rabon, and Van Ferguson.

Sara Fuller, Mary Jane Hagood, and Sandi Morris leave their good jokes to Margie Smith, Pam Bennett, and Linda Reynolds.

Mack Boulware leaves one free bottle of tetanus toxide to D. J. Beam for his hog bite, although it wasn't a hog that bit Mack.

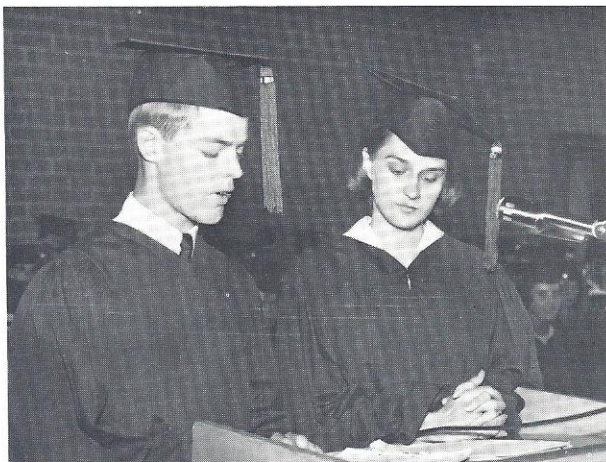

Gwen Branham and Priscilla Branham leave their ability to help Mrs. Bass and Mrs. Hite to Terrace Still, Carolyn Brown, Linda Bowers, and Terry Sue Upchurch.

Spenser Watts and Sonny Myers will their sudden love for Ridgeway to Robert Jolly, Billy Myers, William Muse, and Bunny Porter in hopes that you find as much pleasure as they did.

Suzanne Strange wills her naturally red blush to Chuck McMaster. Until now the only time his cheeks turned red was when he was blowing taps.

Jimmy Ogburn leaves his big feet and old shoes to any Junior who can match them or fill them.

Twila Wilson leaves one bottle of New Dawn, one karate book, and one free lesson in it to any Junior girl who feels she might need them.

CLASS LAWYERS: Jimmy Turner and Jane Finley.

David Shull leaves his place as a Furman Scholar to any Junior who wants it.

Anita Faulkner leaves her switchblade to Zeek Mincey, but please don't cut yourself, Zeek.

"B" Brown leaves all the girls at Winnsboro High School in capable hands of Weldon Bonds. If y'all thought "B" could sting, wait until you see what a Punk can do.

Sarah Gibson leaves a few tips to Judy Marcotte.

Mack Lynn leaves his place in the band to Tommy Collins.

Ruth Thompson leaves the CONSOLIDATED COMMENTS to Annie McLeod in hopes that it will always be on time.

Bobby Caldwell leaves his reserved manner to Bucky Osborne. We are sure once Bucky is able to get the "Gusto" out, he'll be as reserved as Bobby.

Bettie Fort and Jane Finley leave their worn out tassels and one free lesson in the fine arts to Brenda Whitman and Ellen Wallace Buchanan.

Unfortunately Bud Dark leaves Martha Dove.

Ann Frazier leaves two tickets to the Cintana Show at the fair to Dottie Hiott and Lyn McMaster. Have fun!

Tommy Taylor wills his marvelous basketball ability to Jimmy Thomas and Billy Dove. We hope you're as good as Tommy.

Mildred Montgomery leaves her cooking and home economic tips to newly-weds Willette Branham and Carol Jeffcoat.

Doug Enlow, Woody Hollis, and Billy Neely leave their size to next year's football team.

Linda Rutland and Jo Ann Banks leave their basketball ability to Betty Kay Timms.

Alan Dean leaves his job at Mrs. Taylor's supply shop to Kenneth McManus.

Francine Sikes, Cathy Rexrode, and Joy Sharpe leave their typing erasers to Diana Stevenson.

Howard Beckham leaves his love for square-dancing to David Branham.

Wanda Grice leaves her French ability to Ricky Cotton. We are sure that you don't need it, n'est pas, Ricky?

Rex Graves leaves his spleen to Miss Maner's biology class.

Eleanor Thomas leaves the 1965 HALCYON and all its problems to Lillian Meng. Good luck, Lillian.

Jack LeGrand leaves Mike, and Mike gives thanks for his leaving. Jack also leaves his ability to ask questions at the wrong time to anyone who wants it.

Annette Childers and Eileen Waters will their diamonds and good luck to Barbara Davis and Wanda Murphy.

Paul Ramsing leaves Mary Hanna one dozen spare rings and sincerely hopes that she is able to keep them.

Connie Sligh and Sam Stewart leave their natural red and bubbling personalities to Nancy Estes and Mary Sue House.

Billy Smith, Paul Castles, Robert McCoston, Jean Peake, and Roger Branham leave their love for underclassmen to Curtis Goldman and Lester Dinkins.

Mildred Ellenbourg leaves with the sad fact that she can't take Larry with her.

Heyward Burley must leave to go see his distant and beloved Uncle Sam.

Ellen Lewis leaves her love for certain northern boys to Susan Jackson.

Butch Walker leaves his good luck and all that it has brought him (or lost him) to Abie Kelly, John Kimble, Tommy Collins, and especially Ted Ragsdale. Have no fear boys there's enough for everyone.

Bonnie Huggins and Gloria Kelly leave their shortness to Clifford Barfield and Van Collins.

Johnny Ray Barfield leaves his ability to leave the scene of the crime to Timmy Wilkes and hopes that Timmy doesn't join the Glee Club.

Barbara Hollis leaves her ability to graduate in three years to any ambitious Junior.

Mickey Dinkins leaves all the fun he had addressing graduation invitations to Skippy Clarkson. Skippy, don't buy so many as Mickey did.

Margaret Truesdale, Linda Huggins, and Jean Varnadore leave their love for shorthand to Paulette Brigman and Billie Spires.

Joey Parker leaves his quiet ways to Gail Cooper.

Margaret Johnson, Kent Doty, and Patsy Craft leave one word of advice to Bessie Yarborough, Brenda Mostello, Patricia Bundrick, Irene Mincey, and Brenda Nelson—crime doesn't pay.

Billy Pearson leaves his bubbling personality and his bright yellow pants to Jerry Burns and Maynard Davis. Wear them in good health.

Ann Black wills her ability to type and talk at the same time to Sandy Ballentine and Annette Hornsby.

Kenneth Hudson, Butch Loftin, and Aubrey Williams leave their buses—what's left of them—to Clyde Sanders, Tommy White, and Ronnie Evans.

Charlotte Leitner leaves her ability to star in a French Club production to Susan Miller, Donna Grieb, and Margaret McDonald.

Donnie Coleman leaves his curly hair and one bottle of Vitalis to any Junior who needs it.

Nancy Clyburn leaves her position as the typist on the annual staff to Mary Stevenson.

Ernie Broome and Steve Sprigner leave their friendship to David Porter and Richard Rutland.

Odell Branham and Jimmy Connor leave their old places in the shop to Danny Conyers and Don Montgomery.

Gene Brigman leaves his unfailing love for French to any Junior who wants it.

Hal Thomas and David Mode leave their old jobs at the Winn-Dixie to Bunny Porter, Harold Brooks, and J. W. Younge.

Lizzy Ramsey and Linda Wood leave their places on the honor roll to Jo Watts.

We're sorry to say after much begging Jimmy Blackwelder will not give up his psychology book. Jimmy, I didn't know that you loved it so much.

Jimmy Milling leaves his height and his ambition to be a minister to Johnny Lewis.

Fran Frazier leaves her many duties and offices to Johnny Chapman. The only one Johnny might have trouble with is being Miss Senior.

Dianne Denton, Janet Floyd, Betty Bryant leave their old jobs and tired feet to Dale Reynolds, Susie Dickerson, Linda Coleman, Carol Shirley, and Janice Branham.

Harriet Beckham and Bobby Cooper leave their places in the hall where they have had so many agreeable talks to Hugh Moseley and Cathy Strange.

Pat Ford and Bennie Hornsby leave all their old trig papers, their battered old trig books, with best wishes and good luck to Johnny Goode, George Raines, and Bobby Arndt, and Milton Hinnant.

Marion Robinson wills his false teeth to Robert Lucas, Danny Dickerson, and Billy Marthers. Be careful with the real ones you have left.

Margaret Ann Boulware leaves her accent to Sue Phillips. By the way, Sue, you're catching on quickly.

Danny Stevenson wills his ability to always be READY to Annie McLeod.

Sandra Hartly, Judy Graham, Rennie Robinson, Darlene Mincey, leave their abilities to get husbands to Linda Massey, Brenda Mattox, Anne Melvin, Miriam Kyzer, Delane Jones, and Bernice Gunter. Good luck!

Billy Ray Wilson, Johnny Evans, and Joseph Wishert leave their unused detention hall seats to Richard Ladd.

Robert Hackle leaves his ability to snow all the girls and teachers to Gene Rhymer. By the way, Gene, we all have you a little book called "How to Cut Study Hall."

Heyward leaves his love for the beach to Ann Owens, but he doesn't recommend his idea of fun.

Jimmy Turner leaves a one-way bus ticket to Georgia to any Junior that can come see him at summer school. This applies mainly to those Juniors who spell their last name with a Q—right Ti!

Marion Pope leaves his well-pitched voice to Buddy Roof and Sammy Clowney.

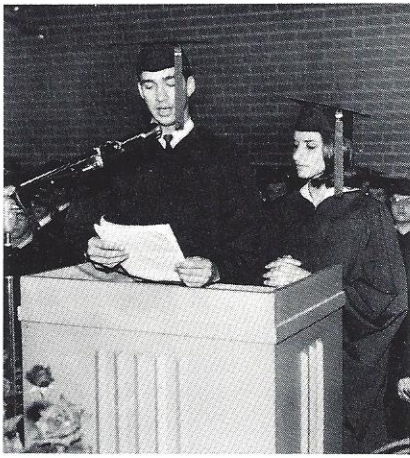

Rudy Harrington leaves, but Rudy just can't leave anything because it is all on its way to Luxemburg.

Coby Stevenson leaves his charge account at Lourie's and his good conduct medals to David Pullen.

Bobby Smith leaves his love for weddings to Johnny Martin, and Bobby hopes that Johnny will serve refreshments at his wedding.

Our one last token goes to Fredrick Douglas. We couldn't get Freddy's will because he was on his way to Chester, and we're on our way to the beach.

Signed, sealed, and delivered on this 20th day of May, 1965, by Jane Finley and Jimmy Turner. Witnessed by Beth Turner and Mark LeGrand.

CLASS PROPHETS: Bud Dark and Patsy Craft.

class prophecy

We would like to take you into the future to have a look at our classmates at work. To find all our friends we toured the U.S. Since we were traveling by car we were able to find those friends of ours who are in the most remote parts of the country. We first visited the mountains of N.C. where we find Steve Connor and Woody Hollis who are now law officers, destroying a still and confiscating 200 gallons of moonshine. One of the moonshiners has had a bit too much to drink and Sheriff Connor is taking him to the local hospital. We follow along and find Joan Crossland and Mildred Ellenburg working hard to keep things running smoothly. Joan is head nurse and Mildred Ellenburg is their very competent anesthesiologist. They are much too busy to speak so we move on to the emergency room where Dr. Billy Pearson, assisted by toe specialist Dr. Jimmy Turner and Dr. Do Wah Boulware, is working rapidly to sew Billy Smith's toe back on. Billy is a race car driver and has had a slight accident. His mechanic Roger Branham is accompanying and tells us that Billy spun out on the last curve of the Southern 500. We also hear that Jimmy Connor was a contestant driving his brand new G.T.O.

Next, we travel to Washington, D.C. where we are the honored guests at the White House of President "B" Brown. He takes us to the White House Golf Course where Senator Bennie Hornsby with his press secretary Marion Robinson and Bobby Smith are teeing off at the first hole. We follow them around in the Enlow Golf Cart manufactured by Doug Enlow, Inc. The game is held up for a while when Bobby loses a golf ball so we journey on to the Pentagon. Here we find Sam Stewart head of the War Department. Johnnie Evans is head of a committee for the prevention of cruelty to worms. Mack Lynn and Paul Ramsing are working in the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In the hall we see Major General Anita Faulkner giving orders to Privates Jean Varnadore and Francine Sikes.

From Washington we travel to New York City where we see the latest Broadway hit, entitled Marion and Juliet, starring that new sensation Marion Pope and co-starring David Mode. Connie Sligh plays the part of Juliet. While in New York we also see an unusual production, Swinging with Tassels. Starring in this is Bettie Fort, Jane Finley, Kent Doty, and Mary Jane Hagood. From here we decided to take in the first game of the season of the Harlem Globe-Trotters. En Route we hear on the radio Ann and Fran Frazier, the perfect look-a-likes, doing a Double Mint commercial. Fran is also a member of the famous vocal group, Peter, Paul, and Fran. Ann is considering marriage with a certain Broadway star. By this time we have arrived at the Coliseum. In the first performance we see Jimmy Meadow Lark Milling clowning with his teammates, Tommy Taylor, Aubrey Williams, and Coby Stevenson. Coby who teaches a surfer class has just returned from the West Coast. He plays with the Globe Trotters only as a hobby. Hey, there's a familiar face on the side line. It's the Globe Trotters' one and only cheerleader, Patsy Craft cheering her favorite player on to victory. After this game we are surprised to find that they have organized a female Globe Trotter team. Playing we see Jo Ann Banks, Linda Rutland, and Annette Childers.

Well, we must continue our trip. Our next stop will be Detroit, Mich., where we find Heyward Burley testing new race cars that are designed by Clarence Myers for General Motors. This corporation is now owned by Mack Boulware. After visiting for a while with Heyward and witnessing some of his breath taking feats we leave Detroit for a long drive to New Orleans. We stopped on the way at the World's Largest Esso Service Station run and owned by our own Billy Neely. Hal Thomas and Paul Castles are his chief mechanics. Now we are ready to continue our drive. Just as we pass the Kentucky state line, we see "Lucky" Butch Walker. His car has 4 flats, the transmission has fallen out, and on top of all this his money was stolen by a pickpocket. That sounds like Butch's luck. We give Butch a lift, and he happened to be going to the Kentucky Derby. Lucky tells us that we can find some of our friends there, so that is our next stop. Three of our friends have now become world famous jockeys, Barney Fuller, Terry Peake, and Bobby Caldwell. After getting the autographs of our famous friends, we continue our trip, heading for New Orleans. Our first stop there is Bourbon Street where we find Jumpin' Jim Ogburn and Swinging Sister David Shull leading the famous Jazz Bandits in "St. Louis Blues." Since we have so many friends to visit, we can only stay a moment. We walk down the street a few doors and see a large neon sign reading, "Dino's Dinner . . . 69ers in person" . . . the diner is own by Ruth Thompson. Inside we see Rudy Harry Harington, Freddy the Dreamer Douglas, and Danny Slug Stevenson swinging away with their latest hit, "Darling, There's Nothing Finer Than a 69er." They have now added a few female vocalists to their band. Suzanne Strange, Charlotte Leitner, and Sarah Gibson. They call themselves the Supreme 69ers. Our good friend Heyward Harden is the bouncer. Through the years Heyward has come to be known as Happy Heyward the Hood Harden. Well, we now leave New Orleans and all our swinging friends and Heyward. We've decided to go to Texas next. The first place we visit is a large oil field. On a bill-board we see "B. and B. Oil Co.", owned by Larry Bolick and Odell Branham. They drive up to meet us in their Cadillac. Larry offers to take us on a tour of their estate, so off we go. As we walk onto the porch the door is opened by a well-dressed man. We recognize him as Bobby Cooper. His wife, Harriet Beckham Cooper takes our coats. Inside we see Spenser Watts, who is head chef; serving a delicious looking pot of chilli and beans to Linda Huggins, the estate's beautician; Joy Sharpe, the assistant cook and bar-b-que specialist; and Barbara Hollis, the family bookkeeper. We have just begun to eat when we hear a loud noise from the adjoining room. It appears that Bobby and Harriet are still at it. After all the farewells are said, we must continue our journey. Alan Dean, the foreman, sees us to our car. Alan writes Tarzan stories on the side for Warner Bros. It's back on the road again, but not for long. We are stopped at a toll-gate by one of the policewomen. Corp. Twila Wilson collects the toll. Very few people get past this gate without paying, because no one wants to tangle with Twitchy-Fingers Twila the Karate expert. Having paid our toll, we journey westward heading for California. Our first stop on the West Coast is Los Angeles where we drop by the baseball stadium where Mickey Dinkins is coaching his baseball team. Mickey tells us that his best hitters are Joey Parker, Steve Spigner, and Johnny Ray Barfield, who are all batting over .400. However we cannot stay, because supper time is approaching. We stop for supper at a beautiful Margaret Johnson Restaurant. Margaret bought out the Howard Johnson and is doing quite well. The head waitress, Diane Denton, serves us a Betty-Burger prepared by Chef Betty Bryant. We are chatting away with all our friends when who walks in, but Belinda P. Aragon and Sandra P. Hartley. Mr. and Mrs. Aragon and Mr. and Mrs. Hartly are vacationing together this year here in California. It's fun to recall old times but we really must journey on. Only a few miles to Hollywood, our next stop. We first visit the plush home of Gwen Branham who starred in the Ronnie Harsey production of Days of Milk and Crysanthemums. Cathy Rexrode is co-starring in the production. Gwen says she will show us part of the movie on her home viewer. Butch Loftin, the family caretaker, sets up the projector while Jerry "Goochy" Boykin prepares the screen. After the first act, we find that we must tell Gwen goodbye. We are just pulling out of the driveway, when we see Sara Fuller ride by in a certain '65 red Plymouth. Sara is now a housewife and loves to go shopping in the red car. Having gone down the street several blocks, we see a huge brick wall and right out in front is Lizzy Ramsey, picking flowers. We stop to find out who lives there, and she tells us that it is the home of the world-famous architect, Jimmy Blackwelder. Jimmy, of course, designed this 40-room mansion which was built by Billy Builders, Inc., the famous construction firm owned by Billy Estes and Billy Ray Wilson. Lizzy and her husband are employed by Jimmy as receptionists for the estate. We are invited for coffee, but we really must leave for we have an appointment at one of the local movie studios with Rex Graves, the world-renowned director. We are met at the gates by Robert McCaston, the studio's electrician in charge of all the lighting and cameras. Robert's sister-in-law, Pat Ford, is the star in Rex's latest movie about a school teacher from the South. Robert shows us to the front door where we recognize the doorman to be Eugene Peake. Eugene hopes to become an actor someday, too. In the studios we see many famous stars. Mildred Montgomery and Nancy Clyburn and Donnel Humphries are discussing a new script in which they co-star with Robert Hackle, the latest teen-age idol. Robert is now happily married to a certain girl from back home. Eileen Waters and Gloria Kelly are rushing around attending to their secretarial duties. They are both private secretaries for producer Ernie Broome. Ernie is planning a new movie about all of the rock and roll singers. He plans to title it Ernie's Record Mart. Now we must journey on to Disneyland. Several of our friends are employed here. In the ice-cream booth we see Sue Sanders and Margaret Truesdale dishing out their world-famous home-made ice cream. We notice a large crowd surrounding the newest addition to Disneyland, called Brigman's U-Wash-Um. There is a dedication ceremony and present for the event is Gene Mr. Clean Brigman himself and Mrs. America, Robbie Robinson. After the dedication service we move on to the amusement park area of Disneyland. The first attraction to catch our eye is a booth with a large sign "Dunk Donnie" featuring Donnie Coleman who is still a target. Ronnie B. Robinson, Priscilla Branham, and Judy B. Graham, and their husbands are vacationing in California. Our last stop on our trip is San Francisco. On the way there we pass a huge moving van with big letters that spell Black's Van Lines. We recognize the driver as Ann Black; it seems she's forever moving. Our first stop is the city's largest and most exclusive night club, Stein's Place, owned by none other than our own Dickie Branham. Upon entering we see a large stage where the floor show is now in progress. The main attraction is the dance done by the Steinettes, Wanda Grice, Janet Floyd, Linda Wood, Bonnie Huggins, Sandra Morris and Scottie Lewis. Ellen Limbo Lewis is the head Steinette. We have just been seated when we see our old friend Eleanor Thomas, dressed in a little cigarette girl costume chanting, "Cigars, Cigarettes, Tiparelloes." All of a sudden the door swings open and in walks a rather short man with old, ragged blue jeans, an old yellow ban-lon shirt, flip-flops, and a black beard. He seems to know us but we don't recognize him until several of the chorus girls yell, "Oooo . . . there's Jackie . . ." Then we discover that is actually Jack LeGrand. He tells us that he has fulfilled his life's ambition by becoming a professional beachcomber. Well, our journey has come to an end. We regret that we didn't get to see all of our friends, but some of them are overseas. Our good friend Grady Yarborough is the U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland, where Bud Dark also lives. Bud is the president of Radio Free Europe, and when he is not broadcasting, he is busy looking after his kennels where he and a certain girl from back home, whom he married, raise St. Bernards. Hester Young, Libby Andrews, and Frances Bass are all married and teaching school in France.

All of our friends have done well—we are proud of the names they have made for themselves and for our beloved Winnsboro High School.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

may 23, 1965

The graduating class sings "My Faith Looks up to Thee."

The Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered by the Reverend Earl Linderman of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, Sharon, South Carolina.

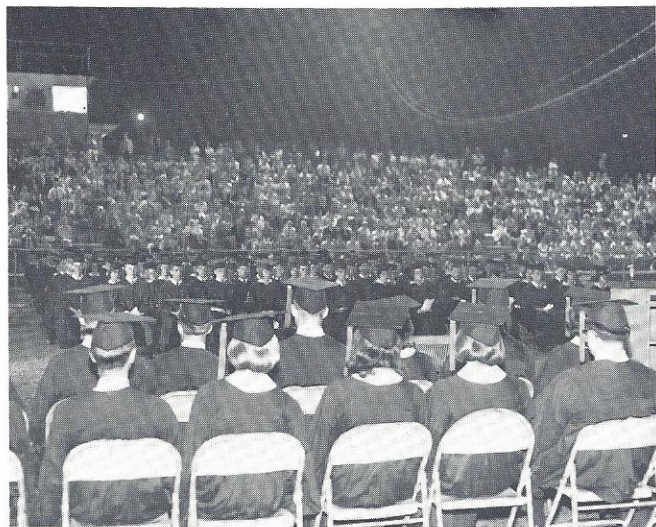

Serious but it won't last for long!

GRADUATION

may 25, 1965

"Now this is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end. But it is perhaps, the end of the beginning."

—Winston Churchill

"The Senior Class of 1965 awaits their moment of glory."

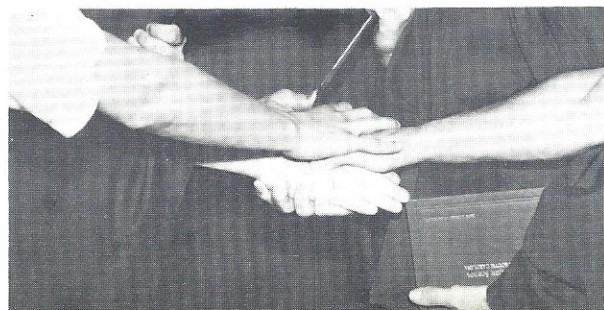

Graduation speakers and school administration are ready for the big night, too!

Dr. Charles Davis of Winthrop College delivers the graduation address.

"Together we stand; divided we fall!"

The seventeen Honor Graduates are recognized.

"At Last!"

Advertisement is the force that links businessmen with their communities. It is a force that is vitally necessary today. Advertisements take many forms; one of the most useful is the high school yearbook.

The advertising found in the HALCYON is indispensable to its publication for money received from subscriptions alone is not sufficient for its support. Through the advertisements found in this section, the merchants of Fairfield County have lent their support to Winnsboro High School.

To the Winnsboro High Graduates of 1965:

The mere lapse of years is not life. To eat, to drink and sleep; to be exposed to darkness and the light; to pace around in the mill of habit and turn thought into an instrument of trade — this is not life. Knowledge, truth, love, beauty, goodness, faith, alone can give vitality to the mechanism of existence.
