

S O P H O M O R E S

Rookies . . . the youngest in the school . . . hustling . . . bursting through . . . novelty . . . untrod halls and strange signals . . . an entirely different lifestyle . . . many different segments, meeting, merging and for one fixed multitude. Innocence . . . inexperienced and lost, never recognizing your own obscurity. The confusion of strangeness melting until lost in the pride of being a WILDCAT, a true winner.