

Tell me, tell me Sophomores for I really would like to know. How come you are traveling, traveling, so fast. Your movements are so rapid that your bodies seem like ghostly figures.

Why are you traveling so fast? Can't you read? The speed limit is 55 mph. You had better slow down or you'll be stopped.

Why are you traveling, working, constructing, performing, talking, walking, and living so fast. Tell me, tell me Sophomores for I really would like to know.

. . . old friend, the reason why we are traveling, working, constructing, performing, talking, walking, and living our Sophomore year so fast is because we're trying to fulfill the places and duties of the . . . (on next page)
