In the past two years that I have been here, I understand why we are called the Wildcats. Game after game; win or lose, the Wildcats have remained tough. In basketball, their effort has given them another conference championship and in football they have turned the program around to be a contender. Only through hard work, discipline, and unselfishness has this happened, with a great group of student-athletes. The Winnsboro Wildcats will soon be gone but not forgotten. The Wildcat is going through a transformation which will make it even better (the Griffin).

Reflecting on my coaching experiences at Winnsboro High is one of mixed emotions. Being from Winnsboro had some advantages, and I'm sure there were some disadvantages as well.

Coaching and teaching have been an ambition of mine since I can remember. I've had the pleasure of coaching football, girls basketball, and baseball during my stay at Winnsboro High. I've coached and taught a lot of fine young men and women, and along this way I hope I've had a positive effect on their lives. Nothing gives me more satisfaction than seeing my former athletes and students make a positive contribution to our society. I would like to thank all of them for providing me with so much satisfaction.

Very few people have the opportunity to work on a job that they really enjoy and I'm grateful for having had this opportunity.

As the "Wildcat" moves on I'm filled with mixed emotions because the young people of this county deserve only the very best in what they are trying to accomplish.
