Letter from the President

Interest in Killian Ancestry continues to grow and it is my hope that our efforts to preserve this heritage will benefit those in coming generations. We should continue to reach out to those that contact us and encourage them to become an active part of the "Killian Clan".

For more than 70 years, the Killian Clan has met at Salem Lutheran Church or in the surrounding communities of Lincoln and Catawba Counties to renew our heritage and friendships with other decedents of Andreas Killian. This year will be no exception. The Executive Committee of the Killian Clan met several weeks ago to plan for the 2005 Killian Reunion. The reunion dates are September 8th, 9th, 10th and a complete agenda is included in this newsletter.

We are also making plans that would provide for a more permanent location to archive documents made available by members of the Killian Clan. Our hope is that with a permanent archive location, we will be able to preserve copies of pictures, wills and other valuable historical information that might otherwise be lost. If you have information of this nature, please bring copies for our permanent archive.

Please take the time to call other family members to let them know of the upcoming reunion and to encourage them to attend.

Looking forward to see you soon,
Sincerely, Dan Tingen

Descendants remembered at 2004 reunion:

Linda Hoyle's Uncle Ken Barclay (82), August 12, 2003, one of our heroes, Captain and pilot of a C-54 in the Air Force during WWII and after the war was an air traffic controller with the FAA before retiring in Lincolnton. A John Killian descendant, he and his smile are truly missed.

Jim Abernethy (Ann Jenkins' and Kay Houser's brother).

James Green's mother: Essie Inez Broom (90), a Samuel C. Killian descendant, December 29, 2003.

Wanda Woolwine McElveen's mother Minnie (89) a Samuel C. Killian descendant and her husband James (Johnny) A. McElveen.

Lucy Lindsey and Laura Mae Justice.

John Killian's father of Alabama.

Birth announcements at 2004 reunion:

Boy & girl to Setzer family from Hickory NC.

Niece and granddaughter to Dan Sipe family from SC.
