Miss Martha Kay Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hugh Montgomery of Bishopville, became the bride of Dr. Leon Erwin Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hunt of Winnsboro, on Saturday, April 9, in the Bishopville Presbyterian Church at six o'clock in the evening.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Cecil D. Brearley, D. D., of Bishopville.

The bride wore a gown of pure silk taffeta with rosepoint lace and a low, round neckline of lace scallops and medallions. The full skirt formed shirred side drapes over a cathedral train of lace and scallops. Her fingertip veil of nylon net fell from a crown of pearls. The bride's floral bouquet was centered with an orchid.

Miss Ann Montgomery, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a full-length gown of blue taffeta with an overskirt of white lace. She carried a bouquet of petal-pink roses.

Dr. Hunt had as his best man his brother, Mr. Revonne Hunt of Winnsboro. Ushers were Dr. William Hood of Charleston, the Rev. D. A. Long, III, the bride's cousin, Messrs. Joe Fanning of Bishopville, and Dave Thompson of Charlotte, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The cake on the bride's table was flanked by white tapers in tall single silver candle sticks that belonged to the bride's great-great grandmother. Punch was served by Mrs. D. A. Long, III, and mints were served by Mary Evelyn Long and June Fanning.

Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Brearley greeted the guests at the reception. Frances Muldrow presided at the guest register. The bride's cake was served by Mrs. T. A. DuBose and Mrs. L. F. Montgomery, aunts of the bride. The guests were bid farewell by Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Easterling of Raleigh.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in San Antonio, Texas.

Miss Martha Joie Flanders Becomes Bride of Mr. Taylor on August 6th

MRS. JOHN CARROLL TAYLOR

Miss Martha Joie Flanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ridge W. Flanders of Winnsboro, became the bride of John Carroll Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Ward, also of Winnsboro, at eight o'clock Saturday evening, August 6. The ceremony was performed in Stephen Greene Baptist Church, with the Rev. James P. Blackweider, pastor of the bride, and the Reverend Cecil M. Camlin, Jr., pastor of Gordon Memorial Methodist Church, officiating, using the double-ring ceremony.

The church was effectively decorated with greenery and branched candelabra, and a mammoth center arrangement of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

The nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Dewey Youmans of Metter, Georgia, soloist, and Mrs. G. M. Ketchin, organist. Mrs. Youmans sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer," and the traditional marches were used for the processional and recession.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Ridge Warnell Flanders, was lovely in her original wedding gown of imported silk linen and Venice lace. It featured a bateau neckline and an Empire silhouette with a bolero-effect bodice accented with wide Venice lace, and Kabuki sleeves bordered with lace. The modified skirt was highlighted with a detachable graceful chapel train and she wore an imported illusion veil attached to a triple-tiered crown of seed pearls and iridescent beads. She carried a round bouquet of glamelias, daisies and stephanotis.

Miss Judy Sims of Winnsboro was the maid of honor. She wore a floor-length dress, featuring an Empire bodice of marigold linen having a semi-scalloped neckline. The modified lemon-ice skirt was accented at the waistline with a small braid of roses and the skirt had double marigold panels to the hemline in the back. Her bouquet was also of glamelias, daisies and greenery.

The bridesmaids, attired similarly to the honor attendant and carrying similar bouquets, were Miss Joye Ward, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Jo Turner, both of Winnsboro; Miss Joyce Goodright of Gastonia, N. C.; Miss Margaret Reagan of Hartsville; Mrs. Sonny Sanders of Lexington, and Mrs. Darvin Flanders of Anderson.

Miss Linda Ratts of Winnsboro, was flower girl, and wore a dress similar to the other attendants and carried daisy petals. The ringbearer was Lee Hinson of Lancaster.

The bridegroom was attended by his father, David J. Ward, as best man. The usher-groomsmen were Ted Moore of Calhoun, Ga.; Henry Gerald of Darlington; Frank Fraylick of Columbia; Donnie Gibson of Lockhart; Steve Hilton and Randy Flanders, brother of the bride, of Winnsboro.

Mrs. Flanders, mother of the bride, wore a dress of pale green crepe, with a lace overblouse and a corsage of tuberose and a green orchid.

Mrs. Ward, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a sheath crepe dress of delicate pink, with chiffon streamers from the low neckline in the back, and her corsage was of a tinted orchid encrusted in tuberose.

Mrs. Jack Jordan of Georgetown, aunt of the bridegroom, wore a turquoise crepe dress, with a metallic embroidered bodice and her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, there was a reception in the Social Hall of the church for the wedding guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sims greeted the guests and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Taylor introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the parents of the bride, the bridal couple and their attendants and the bridegroom's par-

Miss Tina Jean Cathcart Becomes Bride Of Mr. Cunningham on August 20th

MRS. ROBERT C. CUNNINGHAM

Beautiful in its simplicity and dignity was the wedding of Miss Tina Jean Cathcart and Robert C. Cunningham which was performed at the First Baptist Church on Saturday evening, August 20, at eight o'clock. Dr. J. E. Rawlinson, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Cathedral tapers burning in a unique arrangement of tall candelabra entwined with ivy, a central white floral arrangement on a single high white pedestal, palms and magnolia leaves formed the setting for the wedding.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. W. P. Bennett, organist, and Mrs. J. B. Floyd, pianist, rendered a program of appropriate music. They played "If Thou Art Near" (Bach); "The sweetest Story Ever Told" (Stults); "Sabbath Chimes" (Klickmann); "Panis Angelicus" (Franck); and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach). Mr. Theron Wilson, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" (Guy Singer) and, as the benediction, "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap). Wagner's "Grand March" was used for the processional of the attendants, and Lohengrin's "Wedding March" for the entrance of the bride. The traditional "Wedding March" (Mendelssohn) was used for the recessional.

The petite bride entered o veil of illusion, with lace flowerettes appliqued with seed pearls and sequins, was fingertip length and fell from a pearl tiara.

She carried a white Bible which had recently been presented to her in an impressive ceremony by the Young Woman's Auxiliary, W. M. U., of her church. It was topped with a purple-throated white orchid corsage and showered with streamers of narrow satin ribbon tied with lover's knots.

Miss Patricia Cathcart was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor-length mint green linen dress with matching shoes. The dress was designed with a scooped neckline and caplet sleeves, and a narrow skirt with a deep slit in the back above which was a wide scalloped band and sprays of deeper-toned embroidery. A long narrow velvet ribbon sash tied in a bow at the back and fell to the floor. She carried a cascade of yellow pompons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Cunningham, sister of the groom, and Miss Judy Wilkes. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to those of the honor attendant.

David Albert, of Winnsboro and Shaw Air Force Base, serv-

Mrs. Cathcart, mother of the bride, wore a dress of light blue taffeta brocade with matching shoes. White gloves and a pink carnation corsage completed her outfit.

Mrs. Cunningham, the groom's mother, wore a navy blue dress. She, too, wore matching shoes, white gloves and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social hall of the Educational Building. The guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shirley. Mr. and Mrs. D. Brady McKay introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the bridal couple, their parents, and the bridesmaids.

The register was kept by Miss Catherine Cathcart, sister of the bride.

Others assisting in receiving and entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. ("Woody") Hollis, Jr. who directed the guests to the second floor. They were invited into the social hall by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Wilkes.

Serving as floating hostesses were Mrs. W. J. Davis, Miss Carol Berthold and Miss Dorothy Vandiford. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reid.

The refreshment table, at one end of the long social hall, was overlaid with white cut-work cloths and centered with a silver container holding white petunias and burning tapers. On either end was a crystal punch bowl over which Mrs. Bill Cunningham, Augusta, Georgia, and Mrs. John C. Cathcart presided. Further assisting in serving were Misses Becky Newman, Peggy and Helen Shirley, Mrs. Wanda Nagl, all of Winnsboro, and Miss Rona Parks of Fort Mill.

At the other end of the reception room, the lovely three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the bride's table which had a covering of green over which was the elegant tablecloth of tatting which had been handmade by the bride's mother. Burning candles in single candleholders were on either side of the cake. The bridegroom received the traditional first slice which the newly-weds cut from the bottom tier.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left for their wedding trip through the mountains. For traveling, the bride wore a light green suit complemented with a matching floral printed blouse, black accessories, and the orchid corsage which had topped her Bible.

Mrs. Cunningham is the daughter of Mrs. Melville Cathcart and the late Mr. Cathcart. She is currently employed with the Development Department, UniRoyal.

She carried a white lace covered prayer book topped with a white orchid and satin ribbons tied with valley lilies.

Mrs. Dickey, mother of the bride, chose a blue lace over satin dress, white accessories, and wore a corsage of double white carnations.

Mrs. Douglas' dress was of brown lace over satin, and she chose matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations also.

For her wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, the bride wore a light blue two-piece suit, blue hat, white accessories, and the orchid lifted from her prayer book.

The bride is a graduate of Chester High School, attended the Rock Hill College of Commerce, and is employed in the office of Schlegel Manufacturing Company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Winnsboro High School, attended Wofford College, and is employed with Harrison and Wright.

They are at home at Mountain Lakes, Chester.

Miss Linda Ann Wood became the bride of Richard Harold Kinley at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Reverend Winfred L. Bagwell officiated at the ceremony in the Rockton Baptist Church, Winnsboro.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thomas Wood of Winnsboro, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Cone Kinley, also of Winnsboro.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Harold Timms, pianist, and Mr. Harold Timms, soloist.

The bridegroom was attended by his father as best man. Ushers-groomsmen were Jerry L. Kinley, brother of the groom; Donald Lee Wood, brother of the bride; Joe Stillwell and David Stillwell, cousins of the bridegroom, all of Winnsboro. Ed Melton of Winnsboro served as ring bearer.

The bride's sister, Miss Betty Raye Wood, was maid of honor. She wore a mint green, floor length dress of satin brocade with a matching green chiffon veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The bridal attendants were Miss Mildred Irene Harris of Spartanburg, cousin of the bride, and Miss Janet Carol Floyd, cousin of the bridegroom. Their dresses of yellow were designed similar to that of the honor attendant and they carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

Miss Dale Wood, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a yellow floor-length dress identical to the bridesmaids' dresses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of bridalure white nylon organza ending in a wide sweeping chapel train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a jewel neckline, re-embroidered applique motifs and long fitted sleeves tapered to calla points over the hands. The softly gathered bouffant skirt and butterfly bow at the back was enhanced by reembroidered applique motifs. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a small crown of miniature pearls and sequins. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a purple throated orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the educational building of the church.

Later in the evening the couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home on Winn Street in Winnsboro. For traveling, the bride wore a simple empire dress of blue cotton knit and black accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her Bible.

Mrs. Kinley is a graduate of Winnsboro High School and is presently employed by the Textile Administrative Center of UniRoyal-U. S. Rubber Company. Mr. Kinley is also a graduate of Winnsboro High School and is employed by Melton's Open Air Market in Winnsboro.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Wells Becomes Bride of Mr. McFadden in Columbia

MRS. BOBBY RAY McFADDEN

Christ Lutheran Church in Columbia was the scene of the lovely wedding of Elizabeth Ann Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells of Columbia and Bobby Ray McFadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFadden, Sr., of Winnsboro. The nuptials were solemnized on Saturday, August 18 at six o'clock with the Reverend Donald Safrit officiating, using the double ring ceremony.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. R. W. Bailey, organist, and Mrs. Way Scott, soloist.

The bridegroom had as his best man his father, and ushers were Albert Wells of Columbia, brother of the bride, and Joe McFadden of Winnsboro, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Albert Wells, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a street-length dress of apricot taffeta, a headpiece of yellow daisy pompoms, and carried a nosegay of daisy pompoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of silk organza and hand-clipped Chantilly lace over taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. A wide insert of lace caught up with a cabbage rose enhanced the organza skirt. Her face veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white sweetheart roses showered with satin streamers.

Mrs. Wells, mother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of aqua organza and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. McFadden, mother of the bridegroom, wore a street-length dress of blue organza and her corsage was of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Assisting in receiving and entertaining were Misses Ann Beckham, Jean Funderburk, Shirley McFadden, Claudia Dreher and Carolyn Dreher, Mrs. Leslie Westberry, Mrs. Harold Walsh, Mrs. Chloe Haygood, Mrs. C. B. Dreher, Mrs. G. D. Cook, and Mrs. J. P. Davenport.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. McFadden left for a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina.

They are making their home on Margrave Road in Columbia.
