Miss Janice Gail Moseley and Mr. Lyle Wendell Dickerson exchanged wedding vows in a seven o'clock candlelight ceremony, Saturday evening, the twenty-eighth of November, in Stephen Greene Baptist Church. The Reverend Graham Lyons and the Reverend William King were the officiating clergy.

The sanctuary was decorated with a fifteen-branch arch brass candleabra and two matching side candlebras, all holding lighted white tapers. Tall brass-footed hurricane lamps with white tapers marked the pew ends down the center aisle. Palms in brass urns and an altar arrangement of yellow gladiolas, bittersweet snapdragons, yellow and tangerine carnations, and bronze and gold chrysanthemums completed the setting.

Mr. James David Williams of Winnsboro, organist, presented a background of Classical music. "The wedding March" by Richard Wagner was used for the processional and the recessional selection was the triumphant "Psalm XIX" by Marcello.

Mr. William Kimble of Winnsboro, vocalist, was accompanied on the piano by Miss Sharon Porter of Winnsboro as he sang "Each for the Other" and, after the vows were spoken, "The Wedding Prayer." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal gown of white chiffon over pooded taffeta and silk. The gown featured a high neckline which rose from a schiffli embroidery empire bodice with schiffli and Venice lace applique bishop sleeves. The full skirt fell softly into folds to form a circular chapel-length train which was bordered in delicate silk Venice lace. Her veil of silk bridal illusion was bordered with scalloped patterns of schiffli lace and was attached to a camelot headpiece of seed pearls and Alencon lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of soft yellow roses, white miniature carnations and babies breath.

Mrs. Michael Leo Walker of Winnsboro was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of brushed mocha jersey. The spaghetti-

The mother of the bridegroom wore a floor length dress of jade green Qiana. The gown had a fitted waist which fell into a full skirt and was enhanced by matching Venice lace cuffed long sleeves and a inset yoke of the same lace. She also wore a cream cymbidium orchid with natural foliage. The grandmother of the groom wore a formal gown of romance blue quiana with a full skirt and long sleeves, accented by a flowing evening scarf. Her corsage was of white French carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Social Hall. Guests were greeted at the door and introduced to the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Crouch of Winnsboro.

Bouquets of autumn flowers were used throughout the room against a background of magnolia leaves in tall brass stands and sprays of magnolia and acuba in each window.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen tablecloth and centered with an arrangement of autumn flowers in a footed silver epergne. Silver candelabra holding lighted white tapers were placed at either ends of the table. Guests served themselves from the buffet of miniature ham biscuits, assorted sandwiches, nutty fingers, cake squares, cheese suaws, assorted homemade cookies, nuts and mints. The beautiful three-tiered wedding cake was placed on a round table which was covered with a yellow tablecloth and a white embroidery overlay white tapers in single silver candlesticks flanked the cake and autumn chrysanthemums surrounded the base. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Thomas Marion Center Jr. of Winnsboro and Mrs. John Woodrow Hall of Columbia. Punch was poured from a silver filigreed bowl by Mrs.

Mrs. Lyle Wendell Dickerson

Miss Barbara Bernice Robertson Is Bride of Mr. Gibson

Miss Barbara Bernice Robertson and Dan Harris Gibson were united in marriage at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, September 5, at First Presbyterian Church, Macon, Georgia. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Gordon K. Reed. The bride's wedding band belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Bernice Chappell Lemmon of Winnsboro.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Robertson of Columbia. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Robertson and the late Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Lemmon, all of Winnsboro. The groom is the son of Mrs. Emmett H. Gibson of Macon, and the late Mr. Emmett H. Gibson.

Mrs. Phillip T. Rehm, sister of the bride, of Etowah, North Carolina, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Bett Snooks of Atlanta, Miss Cathy Snooks of Macon, and Miss Lynn Gibson, niece of the groom, of Macon.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of blue chiffon over satin taffeta accented with empire waists and chiffon covers. The dresses were cocktail length and fell into hankerchief style hems. They carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies with baby's breath.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown fashioned of white sheer organza over satin taffeta accented with Chantilly lace. The gown was designed with a Queen Anne neckline, fitted all lace bodice, and long bishop sleeves closed at the wrists with matching lace. The full skirt and triple-tiered chapel train fell softly from the bodice. The matching veil of silk bridal illusion fell from an all lace headpiece accented with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade of yellow and white roses with stephanotis and baby's breath.

The best man was Mr. William M. Gibson, brother of the groom, of Macon. Usher-groomsmen were Mr. Jack P. Gibson, brother of the groom, of Dallas, Texas; Dr. James C. Sikes and Mr. David B. Redding, Jr. both of Macon.

The bride's mother chose a cocktail length dress fashioned of mauve chiffon over crepe. The dress was designed with delicate side pleats in the blouson top and skirt and long chiffon sleeves. The dress was tied at the waist with a chiffon sash. She wore an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a suit of light aqua linen accented at the neck with a soft bow tie. The bolero jacket was designed with embroidery. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Susan McDuffie, organist, and Mrs. Jo-Bess Grenga, soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception held at Sidney Lanier Cottage in Macon. Greeting the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Puryear of Macon. Mrs. James C. Sikes of Macon kept the bride's register. Mrs. John S. Thurman of Ruby and Mrs. Jack F. Robertson of Winnsboro, both aunts of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. David Beasley of Dixie, Georgia, and Mrs. Beth McGee of Columbus, Georgia served the punch.

After the bride and groom cut the cake, champagne was offered to the guests by Mr. D. Phillip Stenbridge and Mr. Jim Goswick, both of Macon.

During the afternoon the couple left for a trip to St. Simons Island, Georgia, for their wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a navy and white sundress with a navy jacket. Her corsage was her mother's orchid.

Parties

Pre-nuptial parties consisted of a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. John S. Thurman and Mrs. Daniel Miller, aunt and cousin of the bride, in Columbia; a drop-in given by Mrs. Letitia H. Brown, Jan Brown, and John Brown, also in Columbia. A wine and cheese party was given by Miss Bett Snooks, a cocktail party by Mr. and Mrs. David B. Redding, Jr. of Macon, and a cocktail party by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Puryear of Macon. A bridesmaid's brunch was given by Miss Cathy Snooks on the morning of the wedding.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's family at Idle Hour Country Club in Macon.

Following the wedding trip the couple will be at home in Macon.

Miss Shirley Teresa Tilley and William Jerry Barfield were united in marriage on August 22, at six o'clock in the evening, in Spring Valley Presbyterian Church, Columbia. The Rev. Lamar Potts officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dale Tilley of Columbia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Barfield of Winnsboro.

Miss Margaret Christian Robertson Is Bride of Mr. Ariail

At half past seven on Saturday, September 26 Margaret Christian Robertson became the bride of Robert Edward Ariail. Union Memorial Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding and vows were spoken to Rev. James Hope and Rev. Larry Smith.

The church was a scene of lovely simplicity. The Communion table was centered with a massive fern and flanked by silver candelabras. Magnolia leaves, white baby mums, and blue gentians adorned the choir rail. In each window was a hurricane globe surrounded by magnolia leaves and holding a lighted taper.

Mrs. Beth Kiker, organist, and Mrs. Mary Ann Davis, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music including solos "Love Devine, All Love Excelling" (Bunjes) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte). Processionals used were "Trumpet Voluntary" (Purcell) and "With Trumpets and Horns" (Handel); recessionals were "March in C" (Purcell) and "Psalm 19" (Marcello).

The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in a formal wedding gown of ivory satin. The gown was designed with a Queen Anne neckline and a keyhole back. The long fitted sleeves featured appliques of Alencon lace and seed pearls and ended in points over the hands. Lace and pearls circled the fitted waist and continued down the front of the victorian skirt and along the chapel-length train. The matching waltz length veil of silk illusion was attached to an all-lace headpiece which was accented by seed pearls. The bride wore an heirloom lavalier which was worn by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days. Her only other adornment was a pair of diamond earrings which were a gift of the groom. She carried a lace-covered Bible topped with silk orchids, lilies-of-the-valley, and forget-me-nots. Ivory satin streamers tied with love knots and filled with forget-me-nots spilled down the front of her bouquet.

Miss Susie Kaye Barkley of McCormick was maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of burgandy striped chiffon fashioned with a high ruffle at the neck and long full sleeves ending in banded cuffs. The waist was accented by a satin ribbon from which the A-line skirt flowed softly to the floor. She carried a wicker basket filled with burgandy silk mums and mauve tiger lillies, baby's breath and burgandy angel's lace. Satin ribbon covered the handle of the basket and streamers accented by love knots and baby's breath fell from the front.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Denise Blauch of Richmond, Va., Miss Betty Ariail of Clemson, Miss Janice Ariail of Columbia, all sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Kathy Robertson of Winnsboro, sister-in-law of the bride. Their gowns and baskets were identical to those of the honor attendant.

Mr. William H. Ariail of Pomaria served as his son's best man. Ushers were Ron Barker of Ballentine, Dave Blauch of Richmond, Va., brother-in-law of the groom, Frank Kiker of Newberry, and Tommy Robertson of Winnsboro, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length gown of mauve chiffon over georgette. The dress was designed with a high jewel neckline and long full sleeves. The dress featured a pleated panel that flowed from the shoulder to hemline, held in place by a soft bow at the waist. Her corsage was of burgandy silk roses.

The mother of the groom chose a one-piece dress of daphne rose and dyed lace. The draped bodice was attached to a skirt of sunburst pleats. The bodice and sleeves were accented by bands of lace. The dress featured a lace collar and cuffs. She wore a matching corsage of silk roses.

Mrs. Maggie Gaston, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a long dress of periwinkle. Rows of tucks accented the bodice and small pearl buttons held the yoke of lace and collar. She wore a corsage of pale pink silk roses.

Mrs. Eva Cromer, maternal grandmother of the groom, wore a formal gown of dusty coral polyester. The dress featured a V-neck and long, fitted sleeves. She, also, wore a corsage of silk roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Winnsboro Women's Club Building.

Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robertson of Columbia, aunt and uncle of the bride, and served themselves from a beautifully appointed table centered with a lovely arrangement of roses and late summer flowers. Trays of chicken salad and vegetable sandwiches, boiled shrimp, sausages, cheese rosettes, mixed nuts and mints were served. Misses Carolyn Arnette and Carolyn Rexby presided over the punch bowl. The bride's cake was placed on a round table covered with lace over-lay on white. The three-tiered cake, topped by ivory satin bells, featured a cascade of flowers of palest ivory to peach. After the traditional cutting by the bride and groom, the cake was served by Misses Kay Shealy and Fran Arnette. The groom's cake, red velvet topped by a reluctant groom caught by an eager bride, was placed on the champagne table and presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Parker. The bridal register was kept by Mrs. Linda Barker. The bride and groom mingled with the congenial group of relatives and friends.

After the reception, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn. For traveling, the bride wore a fall ensemble of paisley in tones of brown and rust. Her corsage was an orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Robertson of Winnsboro. She is an honor graduate of Winnsboro High School and received a B.A. degree in art from Columbia College. She is employed by the Dutch Door in Columbia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ariail of Pomaria. He is a graduate of Mid-Carolina High School and attended Clemson University. He is employed by South Carolina Electric and Gas Co., at the V.C. Summer Nuclear Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Ariail are now residing in Little Rock, Vice-President of Methodist Church Rt. 3 Box 75 Winnsboro, S.C. 29180

Miss Margaret Christian Robertson Is Bride of Mr. Ariail

At half past seven on Saturday, September 26 Margaret Christian Robertson became the bride of Robert Edward Ariail. Union Memorial Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding and vows were spoken to Rev. James Hope and Rev. Larry Smith.

The church was a scene of lovely simplicity. The Communion table was centered with a massive fern and flanked by silver candelabras. Magnolia leaves, white baby mums, and blue gentians adorned the choir rail. In each window was a hurricane globe surrounded by magnolia leaves and holding a lighted taper.

Mrs. Beth Kiker, organist, and Mrs. Mary Ann Davis, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music including solos "Love Devine, All Love Excelling" (Bunjes) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte). Processionals used were "Trumpet Voluntary" (Purcell) and "With Trumpets and Horns" (Handel); recessionals were "March in C" (Purcell) and "Psalm 19" (Marcello).

The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in a formal wedding gown of ivory satin. The gown was designed with a Queen Anne neckline and a keyhole back. The long fitted sleeves featured appliques of Alencon lace and seed pearls and ended in points over the hands. Lace and pearls circled the fitted waist and continued down the front of the victorian skirt and along the chapel-length train. The matching waltz length veil of silk illusion was attached to an all-lace headpiece which was accented by seed pearls. The bride wore an heirloom lavalier which was worn by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days. Her only other adornment was a pair of diamond earrings which were a gift of the groom. Burnes-Garretson vows spoken in Darien, Ga.

St Andrew's Episcopal Church, Darien, Georgia, was the scene of an impressive 3 p.m. afternoon wedding ceremony, Saturday, July 25th. Miss Lesley Ellen Garretson was united in marriage with Philip Duane Burnes, Jr., in a double ring ceremony and nuptial mass. The Reverend Fathers Wells Folsom of St. Andrew's and E. Irwin Hulbert, of Washington, North Carolina officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Randolph Garretson of Darien, Georgia and Col. and Mrs. Philip Duane Burnes.

Jack Wooten of St. Simons Island, Georgia, presented an organ prelude of nuptial music. Prior to the entrance of the wedding party, the congregation joined in singing "Glorious Things Of Thee Are Spoken". The processional was led by crucifer, Amy White and followed by acolytes Elizabeth Sawyer and Karen Sawyer, lay reader, Mrs. Charles Powell, sister of the bride, of Belhaven, North Carolina and the Reverend Clergy. The soloist, Mrs. Walter Early, sister of the groom, of Greenville, sang "O Perfect Love".

The brass altar vases held arrangements of white pom-poms, white status, fugi mums and glads.

Colonel Philip Duane Burnes attended his son as best man, and usher-grooms men were Scot Garretson, brother of the bride, of Darien, Georgia, Walter Early, brother-in-law of the groom, of Greenville, and Donald Walker of Columbia, nephew of the bride, of Belhaven, North Carolina served as ring bearer.

The bridal party entered to "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell. Mrs. William Russell Holland, of Jesup, Georgia was matron of honor and Miss Gay Garretson of Darien, Georgia was maid of honor. Both are sisters of the bride. Their dresses were floor length multi-floral cotton, featuring fitted bodices, Sabrina necklines and outlined with white eyelet lace edged ruffles which extended over the shoulders, creating a short sleeved effect. The full circular skirts were edged with lace edged ruffles and attached to the waist with self tie belts. They carried natural bouquets of summer flowers using color in the dresses and accented with baby's breath and greenery.

Sisters of the groom, Mrs. Susan Curtis, and Miss Phyllis Burnes, of Darlington, were bridesmaids. Their gowns and flower matched those of the honor attendants.

Flower girls were Penny Powell, niece of the bride, of Belhaven, North Carolina, and Katie Curtis, niece of the groom. They wore dresses which matched the other bridal attendants and carried lace baskets of rose petals.

Given in marriage by her parents, and escorted by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal wedding gown of candlelight shade, styled with a fitted empire bodice of reembroidered Alencon lace, encrusted with hand sewn pearl trim. The bodice was attached to a full skirt of peau de soie, covered with imported silk illusion. The full length bishop sleeves were fashioned of illusion and attached to shorter lace sleeves, creating a layered effect. The gown was made by the bride's mother and worn by her sister at her wedding. Her finger tip length veil of silk illusion fell from a bandeau headpiece of reembroidered Alencon lace and she carried a prayer book arrangement, using the prayer book given her by her maternal grandmother at her confirmation, centered with a crescent of white sweetheart roses and accented with baby's breath and rose leaves.

Following the ceremony the recessional selection "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" was sung, with the bride and groom leaving the church to "Toccati" by Vedor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Garretson chose a formal length, gold, handpainted organza over taffeta gown and wore a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother, Mrs. Burnes, wore a floor length gown of delphinium rose, silk crepe, featuring a jewel neckline and hand sewn pearls at random. She was given a white cymbidium orchid corsage. A white orchid corsage was presented to Mrs. Alex MacKay, maternal grandmother of the bride, of Darien, Georgia.

The new Mrs. Burnes traveled in a cotton, navy blue and lime, summer suit/dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride and groom will be at home on High Street. Mr. Burnes is employed by the accounting firm of Nagy and Wilkes, and Mrs. Burnes by Fairfield Memorial Hospital.

Greenville, South Carolina; Mrs. Karen Bell Poston and Miss Margaret Elizabeth Schulhofer of Aiken.

Matthew Malavite of Canton, nephew of the bride, and Gordon Reese Weigle, III of Kaiserslautern, nephew of the groom, were ring bearers. Flower girl was Miss Andrea Lynn Malavite of Canton, niece of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception was held in The Club at Hunter's Glen. Following a wedding trip, the couple returned to their home in Aiken.

Hancock-Porter wed in Saturday ceremony

Miss Janet Rebecca Porter and Mr. Charles Wesley Hancock Jr. were united in marriage Saturday, August 29, 1981 at 7 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The Reverend Thomas E. Dougherty of Winston Salem, N.C. cousin of the bride, was the officiating minister.

A prelude of wedding music was performed by Mrs. L.B. Anderson, organist and Mrs. Johnny Goode, soloist, who sang "Evergreen."

The double-ring ceremony was held on the back lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Porter in the midst of a beautiful natural setting. Escorted by her father, the bride entered the lawn down a torch lit walk-way to the place where the ceremony was performed.

The vows were spoken in front of a brass arch with clematis inter-twined in the lace work flanked by an eight-branch lighted candelabrum with clematis and a white bird bath arrangement of tuturus, clematis and greenery. The outdoor pool with floating candles lit in lily shaped candle holders provided the background. Arrangements of flowers and magnolia leaves were placed at special places on the lawn. Hanging baskets and plants added to the beauty of the setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white crepe-de-chene with a scooped neckline and lace trim. The fitted bodice was accentuated by lace inserts and a gathered skirt fell from the waistline. Delicate lace formed the sleeves of the gown coming to a point over the hands. She wore a miniature cluster of baby's breath on one side of her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Kathleen Porter Timms, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a light blue formal gown with spaghetti straps and blue floral capelet draped over the shoulders.

Maid of honor was Judy Toone, a friend of the bride and her gown was identical to that of the matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Nancy Driskell and Maree Barnes, friends of the bride; Rena Boykin, sister of the groom and Lenora Porter, sister-in-law of the bride. Their gowns were the same as those of the honor attendants. Bouquets of yellow daises and baby's breath were carried by all of the bride's attendants.

Little Miss Jill Timms, niece of the bride, was flower girl and carried a white basket of flower petals. She wore a light blue dress with rounded neckline, puffed sleeves and gathered skirt.

The groom had his brother-in-law, Mickey Boykin, as best man. Groomsmen were Johnny Porter, Jimmy Porter and Bunny Porter, brothers of the bride; Rusty Timms, brother-in-law of the bride and Harry Gurganious, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a formal floor-length gown of persimmon chiffon with matching loosely fitting coat.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home where arrangements of roses were used. The table was placed in the enclosed attractively decorated porch and over laid with a white lace table cloth. Centering the table was an ar-rangment of roses. Delicious party foods were served.

The wedding cake was decorated in yellow and white, separated into three tiers by columns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Porter of Winnsboro and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Porter Sr. of Winnsboro and the late Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Hinson of Rock Hill. She is a graduate of Richard Winn Academy and attended the University of S.C. School of Nursing.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marcene Strickland of Lancaster and the late Mr. Charles Hancock, Sr. He is a graduate of Lancaster High School.

The couple will make their home in Ridgeway.

Hancock-Porter wed in Saturday ceremony

Miss Janet Rebecca Porter and Mr. Charles Wesley Hancock Jr. were united in marriage Saturday, August 29, 1981 at 7 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The Reverend Thomas E. Dougherty of Winston Salem, N.C. cousin of the bride, was the officiating minister.

A prelude of wedding music was performed by Mrs. L.B. Anderson, organist and Mrs. Johnny Goode, soloist, who sang "Evergreen."

The double-ring ceremony was held on the back lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Porter in the midst of a beautiful natural setting. Escorted by her father, the bride entered the lawn down a torch lit walk-way to the place where the ceremony was performed.

The vows were spoken in front of a brass arch with clematis inter-twined in the lace work flanked by an eight-branch lighted candelabrum with clematis and a white bird bath arrangement of tuturus, clematis and greenery. The outdoor pool with floating candles lit in lily shaped candle holders provided the background. Arrangements of flowers and magnolia leaves were placed at special places on the lawn. Hanging baskets and plants added to the beauty of the setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white crepe-de-chene with a scooped neckline and lace trim. The fitted bodice was accentuated by lace inserts and a gathered skirt fell from the waistline. Delicate lace formed the sleeves of the gown coming to a point over the hands. She wore a miniature cluster of baby's breath on one side of her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Trenholm Road United Methodist Church of Columbia was the setting for the marriage of Miss Mitzi Dora Brown of Columbia, formerly of Chester, and Herman Grady Phillips, III of White Oak on Saturday, June 27, 1981. The Rev. William Bouknight, III, pastor of the church, and Col. (Ret.) Chaplain Sidney Randolph Crumton, formerly of The Citadel officiated the 6 p.m. ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Oscar Brown of Chester, was graduated from Chester High School and Columbia College. While at Columbia College, she was noted among Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, the Dean's List, and was voted May Queen. She taught two years at E.L. Wright Middle School in Columbia and will teach this fall at Richard Winn Academy in Winnsboro.

The groom, son of Mr. and Committee, was a Distinguished Military Student and was Cadet Captain on Regimental Staff. Listed among Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, he is presently employed as vice-president of Phillips Granite Co., Winnsboro.

A massive arrangement of snap-dragons, roses, fugi mums, gladiolus and gypsophila adorned the altar. Seven-branch candelabra, interwoven with bakers fern and emerald evergreen, were placed in the chancel, along with a Trinity candle.

Satin ribbon, interwoven with baker's fern, marked the reserved pews.

Mrs. Jerry Shuffler of Columbia, organist; Miss Anne Farr of Columbia, trumpeter and Miss Mary Ann Council of Darlington, violinist, presented a program of wedding music. Vocalist Victor Black of Columbia sang "My Tribute" and "The Lord's Prayer". A congregational hymn, "Joyful lace, seed pearls, and pink dogwood applique enhanced the bodice. The full skirt fell into a chapel train, featuring an Austrian flounce and pink dogwood applique.

Her wedding outfit was completed with a veil of imported French illusion, embroidered with matching lace. The bride carried a European nosegay of stephanotis, roses, miniature carnations, gypsophila and silk picote ribbon, accented with pink rose buds and pink stephanotis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brown wore a formal length peach chiffon gown with a deep v-neckline outlined with a narrow flounce. A corsage of rose buds complemented her attire.

Mrs. Phillips, mother of the groom, chose a formal gown of Milano blue over chiffon. The slim accoridian pleated skirt fell from an elaborately sutash braided bodice, featuring a deep ruffled v-neckline. A corsage of rose buds com-the full skirt was accented with a flounce. She carried a white wicker basket containing assorted pink silk flowers, maiden hair fern and pink and white lace ribbons.

TAYLOR-PHILLIPS

WINNSBORO — White Oak Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church of White Oak was the scene of the 8 p.m. wedding Saturday of Miss Jane Patrick Phillips and Steven Davis Taylor, both of Columbia. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Jerry Roger Wolff, and a reception followed at the Fairfield Country Club in Winnsboro.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grady Phillips Jr., was graduated from Winnsboro High School and attended the University of South Carolina. She was presented at the Winnsboro Cotillion in 1974 and is employed by Dr. William H. Bridgers of Columbia.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Bertha Davis Taylor and Willie Eli Taylor, was graduated from Winnsboro High School and attended Gardner-Webb College. He is employed by Leath-Maxwell Home Furnishings as manager of Gilbert Furniture Company in Columbia.

After a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple will make their home in Columbia.

Cauthen-Emory wed in Rock Hill

Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church of Rock Hill was the setting for the wedding on Saturday, February 14, of Ms. Anita Hinson Emory and John McCarley Cauthen, both of Rock Hill. The officiating minister for the four o'clock ceremony was the Reverend Joe W.B. Brooks, pastor. The single ring ritual was used.

Chancel decorations were two large red and white floral arrangements, and arched candelabra with lighted candles.

A prelude of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Robert Marett, organist, and Mrs. Dotty Carter, soloist.

The bridegroom's father, R. Sidney Cauthen, stood as best man. Usher-groomsman were Joseph W. Jordan and Robert K. Marshall, of Rock Hill; Alexander F. Fewell, of Charleston; Harry Findley, of Greenville; and Robert S. Cauthen, Jr., the bridegroom's brother, of Westchester, Pa.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Allen Brandon, of Rock Hill, as matron of honor, and Ms. Kay Roberts, of Rock Hill as maid of honor. They wore identical floor-length gowns in red chiffon, complemented with waist-length red chiffon capes. They each carried a single white mum.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald Ernest Hinson, the bride chose a wedding gown of ivory organza posed over taffeta. The fitted bodice with modified empire waistline was accented with Venise lace and pearls, and fashioned with high neckline and sheer lace-edged yoke. The sheer bishop sleeves were finished at the wrist with wide lace cuffs and the chapel length train was edged in a deep ruffle bordered in Venise lace. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a hat of ivory organza and Venise lace, with rolled brim and fingertip illusion trim. Her bridal bouquet was nose-gay of red and white cut flowers.

Following the exchange of the marriage vows, a reception was held in Johnson Hall at Winthrop College, after which the couple left for a wedding trip. On their return they will make their home at 2657 Bonnybrook Circle in Rock Hill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hinson, of 1002 Fernham Road, Rock Hill. He is the grandson of Mrs. Bertha Richardson McCarley, of 60 Dogwood Avenue, Forest Hills, Winnsboro and the late Robert Laurens McCarley. ly Florida, Mrs. Teresa Hatchell White of Rock Hill, and Mrs. Martha Bowen Wessinger of Chapin. Their formal length gowns in a lovely sea spray featured criss-cross bodices with spaghetti straps and matching chiffon capes. The skirts fell from empire waistlines and were also accented with accordian pleats. They carried nosegays identical to that of the matron-on-honor.

Margaret Elizabeth Mann, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Her dress was in sea green and featured a peter pan collar and puff sleeves, accented by a sashed white eyelet pinafore. She carried a white basket of rose petals. Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Julian Mann.

Mr. Robert Calvin Caldwell Sr., was his son's best man.

Usher-groomsmen were Robert Calvin Caldwell, Jr., John Heath Caldwell, Thomas Julian Mann, Ernest Preston Broome of Georgetown, and William Alfred Jackson of Columbia.

Nephews of the bride, Ernest Preston Broome, Jr. and David Eugene Broome were junior groomsmen and lighted the candles for the ceremony.

The ringbearer was Robert Calvin Caldwell, III, nephew of the groom. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow edged with lace.

The bride's mother chose a full-length gown of sky blue for her daughter's wedding. The gown featured a scooped neckline which was accented by an attached cape of sky blue chiffon trimmed in delicate lace. The cape ended in a V over the bodice and overlapped an apron of chiffon which was identical to the cape. The skirt fell smoothly from the belted waist. Her gown was adorned by a lavender-throated orchid corsage.

The groom's mother chose a full-length gown of pink for the wedding. The bodice was delicately tucked and featured spaghetti straps. The gown was accented by a three-quarter length Bishop-sleeved jacket which also featured the delicate tucks. The skirt fell smoothly from an empire waist-line. Her attire was also adorned by a lavender-throated orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a candlelight reception was held in the exquisitely decorated fellowship hall of the church. Magnolia leaves accented lighted hurricane lamps in each window and beautiful arrangements of flowers and candles were placed about the hall.

The bridal table, overlaid by a beautiful floor length white net tablecloth, held a lovely arrangement of gladioluses, lacey mums, daisies, roses, and baby's breath. The arrangement was centered between two silver candelabra which held burning white tapers. A delicious variety of party foods was festively placed about the table.

Greeting the guests as they entered were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cooper, aunts and uncles of the bride.

The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Charles Alexander and Mrs. Jamie Lyles.

The beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake, topped by satin wedding bells, was centered on a round table overlaid by a white lace-trimmed linen tablecloth. The cake was enhanced by the bride's bouquet.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were the sisters-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Robert Calvin Caldwell Jr. and Mrs. John Heath Caldwell.

Serving punch were cousins of the bride, Mrs. William Robert Cassels, Jr. and Miss Linda Gay Knox, along with Mrs. Donald Greer and Miss Susan Douglass.

Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. James Brice, Jr., cousins of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. William Daniel, aunt and uncle of the groom.

Hendricks-Clack wedding held Saturday at Cool Branch church

Mrs. William Harry Hendricks

The sanctuary of the Cool Branch Baptist Church of Blair was the setting for the wedding of Miss Avonda Kay Clack and William Harry Hendricks, Saturday, January 3, 1981. The Reverend James Maloney, pastor of the church, and the Reverend Raymond Thompson of Rock Hill, former pastor of the bride, officiated at the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Clack of Blair, S.C. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dickerson of Blair and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Clack of Chester. A 1977 honor graduate of Chester Senior High School, the bride was also graduated from Winthrop College on December 20, 1980, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Education. While at Winthrop, the bride was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi Business Fraternity and a member of Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Society.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hendricks of 317 Foxfire Drive, Smyrna, Ga. He is the grandson of Mrs. Mary Davis of Orangeburg and the late Carl W. Davis, and Mrs. Vivian Hendricks of Branchville and the late Julius D. Hendricks. He was graduated in 1976 from Rock Hill High School and is presently employed with Southern Railway in Atlanta, Ga.

Vows were spoken before a background of greenery and a brass basket arrangement of white mums, gladioli, and pink carnations flanked by an arched fifteen-branch, brass candelabra, two twenty-one-branch spiral candelabras and two nine-branch tree candelabras entwined with springerii greenery and holding lighted tapers. A brass kneeling bench and a unity candle used by the bride and groom as part of the wedding ceremony were placed at the front of the sanctuary. The pews were marked with white satin bows and springerii greenery.

Miss Beth Maloney greeted the guests and presented them copies of the wedding program as she attended the bridal registry.

Mrs. Peggy Swearingen, organist, provided a program of classical and sacred music. The Reverend Raymond Thompson of Rock Hill, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal wedding gown fashioned of white imported silk organza over taffeta accented with French Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The gown was designed with a Queen Anne neckline circled with lace and featured a fitted bodice which was heavily appliqued with lace medallions. The long tapered sleeves were fashioned of chantilly lace ending in a ruffled cuffs of brussels lace over the hands. The back of the gown was adorned with covered buttons and the natural waistline was circled in white satin ribbon with streamers which extended gracefully over the chapel length train. The flowing skirt was accented with pearls and chantilly lace motifs and a deep brussels lace, flounced hemline.

The tiered finger tip veil of imported bridal illusion and chantilly lace matched the bridal gown. The veil was attached to a Camelot headpiece fashioned of lace and pearls, edged in a border of matching lace. Her only ornaments were a diamond pendant and diamond earrings, gifts from the groom.

The bride carried a colonial, cascading bouquet of white silk sweetheart roses and white silk, cascading, butterfly orchids gathered with white satin streamers designed for her by her mother. At the conclusion of the ceremony before the bride and groom were presented to the congregation and before they ascended the aisle, they each presented the other's mother with a kiss and a pink silk sweetheart rose.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clack was attired in a formal gown of blushing pink quiana designed with a softly draped neckline, belted waistline and featuring a ruffle that fell softly from the waist extending to the softly scalloped hemline. A white Royal Bouquet orchid complemented her ensemble.

Mrs. Hendricks, mother of the groom, chose a formal gown of dusty rose qiana featuring a softly draped bow at the neckline and long, billowy chiffon sleeves. A white Royal Bouquet orchid complemented her attire.

Miss Beth Clack, of Blair, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a formal gown fashioned of Cranberry qiana accented with chiffon. Her gown was designed with a fitted bodice, spaghetti straps and flowing skirt. The gown featured a capelette of matching chiffon which tied in a bow on the left shoulder draping softly over the right shoulder extending to the waist. She carried a Colonial Bouquet of miniature pink carnations, pink sweetheart roses, cranberry daisies, and babies breath gathered with colonial streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Debra Clayton, of Chester; Miss Jane Hendricks, of Smyrna, Ga.; sister of the groom; Miss Roseanne Dickerson of Columbia, and Miss Lori James of Chester.

cousins of the bride. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to that of the honor attendant.

Miss Becky Swearingen of Blair, and Master Andy Haworth of Branchville, cousin of the groom, served as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Mr. Harry Hendricks of Smyrna, Ga. served as his son's best man.

Usher-groomsman were Keith Norris, Jeff Norris, Johnny Caveny and Andy Mahaffey, all of Rock Hill.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Yongue, aunt and uncle of the bride received and introduced the guests to the receiving line. Mr. and Mrs. John Dickerson, aunt and uncle of the bride, said the goodbyes.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Lib Brakefield, aunt of the bride, who made and served the wedding cake, Mrs. Odell Boulware, Mrs. Doris Boulware, Mrs. Sheila Wilson, Mrs. Kathy Winchester, Mrs. Mattie Wishert, Miss Barbara Wishert, and Mrs. Mary Dickerson.

After a wedding trip to Charleston and points of interest along the Florida coast, the couple will make their home at 2003 Woodlake Drive, Marietta, Georgia.

Broom-Rhymer Vows I

In a lovely candlelight ceremony at six o'clock in the evening, on June 27, Miss Debra Lynn Rhymer became the bride of Mr. Douglas Ray Broom at Stephen Greene Baptist Church. The Rev. James P. Blackwelder officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur E. Knotts of Winnsboro, and Mr. Lewis W. Rhymer of Columbia. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gettys Neil Broom of Winnsboro.

The church was decorated with an arch of lighted tapers flanked by two candleabra centered with an assortment of summer flowers.

Miss Sharon Porter, organist, presented a program of nuptial music, with the processional "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and the recessional Mendelssohn's "The Wedding March." Bill Kimble, soloist, sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "If".

Mr. Broom served as his son's best man and the ushers were Ricky Broom, brother of the bridegroom, and Bobby Mason, Jimmy Perry and Tommy Humphries.

Mrs. Thomas E. Robertson was the matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of light jersey knit and chiffon. The gown featured a mock wrap fitted bodice with double shoe string straps and a sheer caplet. The sun burst pleated skirt fell softly from the empire bodice. She wore a head-piece of blue flowers and ribbons. She carried a brandy snifter and a lighted candle accented at the base with streamers of blue ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Angie Rhymer, sister of the bride, and Misses Valerie Jordan, Dianna Smith and Lillian Williams. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the honor attendant.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her mother and father. She was lovely in a formal gown of white chantilly lace and organza over taffeta. The fitted all-lace bodice featured a split neckline, accented with pearls and irridescent and v-yoke creating a mock Bertha collar. The full bishop sleeves were closed at the wrists with lace cuffs. The full all-lace circular skirt, which extended into a chapel train, was designed with a lace banded wide organza flounce at the hemline. To complete her outfit, the bride wore an elbow length veil of white silk bridal illusion which fell from an all-lace headpiece accented with pearls. The veil was finished with a matching lace border.

The ring bearers were Miss Amy Rhymer and Mr. Michael Kimble. Amy's dress was similar to that of the bridesmaids. Michael was dressed in tuck fashion, the same as the ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a formal gown of silesta chiffon in a delicate blue border print. The attached cape, creating a flounce in the front to cover the bodice extended into a longer drape in the back. The A-line skirt fell softly from the empire bodice.

Mrs. Broom, mother of the bridegroom, was beautiful in an all lace dress of a deep rose. The loose fitting bodice featured delicate straps and a natural waistline. From the sashed waistline fell a full circular skirt. The dress was topped with a sleeveless all lace bolero jacket.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church educational building. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rhymer greeted the guests.

McMaster-Douglas vows spoken Saturday, April 25

The wedding of Miss Jane Richards Douglas and James Fleming McMaster, III was solemnized in a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, April 25, at 5:30 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal Church in Winnsboro.

The Rev. Robert E. Long officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James Edgar Douglas, III and the late Mr. Douglas of Winnsboro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming McMaster, Jr., also of Winnsboro.

Mrs. McMaster is the granddaughter of Mrs. Prioleau Richards Scott (nee Marguerite Ruff) of Ridgeway and the late Mr. Scott, and the late Dr. and Mrs. James Edgar Douglas, Jr. (nee Annie Gibson) of Winnsboro.

The groom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ray Sloan (nee Lourena McKinnon) of Horrell Hill and the late Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming McMaster (nee Christine Gooding) of Winnsboro.

Organist was Mrs. John V. Nicholson, Jr., who presented a background of classical music in addition to the traditional wedding selections. Soloists were Carl M. Douglas, Jr. and James G. Douglas, cousins of the bride.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Carl Macy Douglas, the bride was lovely in a full-length wedding gown of ivory silk organza. The empire bodice was embellished with peau d'Ange lace and seed pearls, and was designed with a high Victorian neckline and long full sleeves. The skirt was an organza sheath with lace motifs and a band of lace at the hemline, ending in a full chapel train edged with lace and topped by a bow. Her chapel length mantilla of ivory silk illusion and Brussels lace was first worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Prioleau

Richards Scott. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of ivory roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. Her only ornament was the heirloom laveliere belonging to her great-grandmother, Mrs. Daniel Walter Ruff (nee Florence Rembert). The exquisite piece of jewelry was designed with rubies and pearls on a gold chain.

Matrons of honor were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Randolph Ridge Flanders of Charleston and Mrs. Francis Ancrum Clarkson of Raleigh, N.C.

Miss Frances Elizabeth Martin was the maid of honor.

The honor attendants wore silesta gowns in a lovely jade green, featuring criss-cross bodices and gathered with silesta covered buttons on one side and softly draped in the back. The formal length skirts fell smoothly from the fitted waists, accented with accordian pleats. They carried cascade bouquets of daisies, fugi mums, baby's breath and statice.

Bridesmaids were Miss Katherine McDowell Douglas, Mrs. Lynn McMaster Sheffield, Miss Nancy Stewart Ruff, Mrs. Angela Miller Bush and Mrs. Frieda Shumpert Stuck. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to those of the honor attendants.

Honorary bridesmaids were Misses Anne Melvin, Kay Melvin, Sallie Traylor, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Eleanor Mann. Their corsages were of ivory daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a full-length gown of silesta chiffon in sea mist green. It featured an accordian pleated berth which fell from the scooped neckline of the fitted bodice. The skirt was also accordian pleated and belted at the waist.

The groom's mother wore a floor-length silesta chiffon gown of aqua blue with an attached cape. It featured silk imported French braid around the neckline and empiere waist. The skirt of the gown of the gown was accordian pleated.

Both mothers wore wrist corsages of yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Prioleau R. Scott, grandmother of the bride, wore an aqua-blue gown of georgette crepe that featured double tucking on the bodice and collar. The gown was belted with a pleated skirt. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mr. James Fleming McMaster, Jr. served as his son's best man.

Nephews of the bride, Christopher Scott Flanders and Francis Ancrum Clarkson, Jr., were junior groomsmen.

Usher-groomsmen were Robert Gooding McMaster, Jr., Francis Ancrum Clarkson, Randolph Ridge Flanders, Robert Carlton Sheffield, Stephen Hugh Mann, Daniel Walter Ruff, III and William McSwain Burdette.

Elizabeth Pritchard Clarkson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford Clarkson of St. George, was the flower girl. Her dress was ivory eyelet with a jade ribbon sash. She carried a basket of rose petals.

The ringbearer was Ryan Christopher Sheffield, nephew of the groom. He carried the rings on an ivory pillow trimmed with lace. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlton Sheffield of Fort Walton, Fla.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the elegantly decorated parish hall of the church. Hurricane lamps with ivory tapers burned in each window, lavishly trimmed with fresh cut ivy.

The bridal table, overlaid with an heirloom damask ivory cloth, held a lovely arrangement of daisies, baby's breath, fugi mums in shades of cream, yellow and green. The arrangement was flanked by silver candelabra holding burning ivory candles. The delightful array of party foods was placed about the table.

Greeting the guests as they entered the foyer were Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie M. Douglas, aunts and uncles of the bride.

Introducing the guests to the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Charles O. Williams. The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Dalton Poston and Miss Karen Courtney, cousins of the groom.

The beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake, topped with fresh spring flowers, was centered on a round table encircled by the attendants' bouquets.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were Mrs. J. Palmer Matthews and Mrs. William R. Traylor.

Serving punch in the garden and the parish hall were Mrs. Gary F. Bass, Jr., Mrs. John T. Anderson, Mrs. Maynard Davis, and Mrs. Henry E. Matthews, II.

Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walter Ruff and Mrs. and Mrs. John C. Stewart.

The bride is a graduate of Richard Winn Academy and received an associate degree in Medical Secretarial Science from Midlands Technical College. Prior to the wedding the bride was employed by Dr. J.

William Pitts in Columbia.

The groom is a graduate of Richard Winn Academy and Spartanburg Methodist College. In December 1978 he graduated from Clemson University where he received a B.S. degree in agriculture, mechanization and business. He is employed as assistant county agent with the Clemson Extension Service in Barnwell County.

After a wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., the couple will make their home in Barnwell.

Out-of-town guests came from Horrell Hill, Columbia, Newberry, Ridgeway, Greenville, Barnwell, Florida, Georgia and Colorado.

Broome-Ferguson Vows Exchanged

Miss Ellen Renee Ferguson and Mr. William Brenton Broome were united in marriage on Saturday, August 8, at 7 o'clock in the evening at The First Church of the Nazarene.

The Reverend Billy H. Ring, pastor of the bride and groom, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza and silk Venise lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a wedding band collar and a sheer yoke, all accented with lace appliques, tiny seed pearls and irridescents. The full sheer sleeves were closed at the wrists with wide cuffs bordered with a delicate lace edge. The full circular skirt and attached chapel train were enhanced with a wide flounce at the hemline, featuring four rows of lace and scattered lace motifs accented with tiny seed pearls and irridescents. The bride wore a matching veil of bridal illusion and matching lace.

The bride carried a bouquet of white rosebuds, miniature carnations and baby's breath. The bride's only ornament was a golden necklace centered with a diamond, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Vicky P. Beam, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a light blue chiffon floral gown enhanced by a draped capelet which fell softly over the shoulders. The skirt featured soft accordion pleats which fell from an empire waistline. She carried a nosegay of blue carnations, daisies, mums and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were Miss Fran Hungerpillar, Miss Ellen Segars, Miss Carol Denton, Miss Vicky Bayne, cousin of the bride, from Greenwood, and Miss Linda Broome, sister of the groom, from Ridgeway. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to those of the honor attendant.

The groom had his father, Mr. William D. Broome, as best man. Groomsmen were Jeff Mattox, Billy Peake, Alan W. Pullen, Pat Patterson, cousin of the bride, from Greenwood, D.J. Beam, Jr., uncle of the bride. Junior groomsmen were David Ferguson, Jr., brother of the bride and Jody Beam, cousin of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Beam, Sr.

Allyson Geiger, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Geiger. Allyson wore a dress identical to the bridal attendants'. She carried a white lace basket with red rose petals.

The ring bearer was Jonathan Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Beam. Jon carried the rings on a white heart-shaped satin pillar trimmed in lace.

The organist was Mr. Royce Ring. He played a prelude of traditional wedding songs. The soloist was Mr. Richard Johnson. Songs sung throughout the ceremony were "O Perfect Love", "Each For The Other" and "God Bless This Marriage."

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a full-length dress of sky blue soft polyester which featured a v-neckline accented by a chiffon cape of sky blue which draped over the bodice. The skirt featured accordion pleats which fell from an empire waistline.

The groom's mother wore a floor-length dress of voile paisley summer print with a ruffled v-neckline accented by a soft cape effect over the shoulders with a full circular skirt. Both mothers wore corsages of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Inez Broome of Ridgeway, grandmother of the groom, was attired in a full-length dress of lavender polyester accented with a lavender floral jacket.

Mrs. Eldred H. Pearson, grandmother of the bride, wore a floor-length dress of coral floral polyester which featured a wide collar draping over the shoulders.

Mrs. Alma W. Ferguson, grandmother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of mint green polyester. All grandmothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Family Life Center of the Church.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white floor-length tablecloth. Centering the table was a beautiful arrangement of white gladoli, blue mums, daisies and baby's breath.

Also decorating the table were two silver candelabra holding blue candles. The delicious party foods were attractively arranged on the bridal table.

Greeting the guests as they entered the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, dear friends of the bride and groom.

The bridal register was kept by Mrs. Sharon B. Geiger, sister of the groom.

Decorating the table was a bud vase of daisies and blue carnations.

The beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake was separated by white columns topped with white satin bells. The cake was accented with a blue flowing fountain. Encircling the cake was individual cuts of daisies, blue mums and greenery. Silver candle holders with blue candles were placed on each side of

Lane-Arnette nuptials held Saturday, Dec. 5

Before a large assembly of family and friends, Miss Elizabeth Patrick Arnette and LeRoy Franklin Lane were joined in the bonds of marriage on Saturday, December 5, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Swainsboro, Georgia. Reverend Michael E. Patrick, uncle of the bride, conducted the sacred double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Arnette, Sr. of Swainsboro. Mr. and Mrs. Darriel F. Lane of Canoochee, Georgia are parents of the groom.

Vows were exchanged before the altar which was centered with thirty tree-branch candelabrum, flanked on each side by fifteen level branch spirals, on the upper level were two nine-branch candelabra holding burning white tapers. Jade palms formed the background. White baskets holding pink glads, carnations, fugi mums and garnet kings graced each side of the altar and flanked by ferns on each side. The Unity Candle held white candles with a spray of white carnations and pom poms. The kneeling bench was graced with a spray of pink glads, carnations and mums.

Mrs. David Price, pianist, provided a program of musical selections. The theme from Ice Castles was played by Mrs. Price and sung by Miss Amy Herrington as the attendants came down the aisle. Miss Herrington also sang the wedding prayer as the couple knelt in prayer during the ceremony.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the beautiful bride was radiantly gowned in an exquisite creation of white peau-des-soir and venice lace. The fitted bodice enhanced with lace, sequins and seed pearls, featured a portrait neckline edged with lace and seed pearls. The long lace sleeves ended in ruffles of matching lace. The flowing A-line skirt was covered with venice lace. The two-layered skirt was scalloped along the edges. The skirt extended into a cathedral length train at the back with lace along the scalloped edges. The middle panel was all lace, the side panels of peau-des-soir were edged with lace. A soft bow accented the back waistline. A walking length veil of french illusion and venice lace with rolled edges fell from a Juliet style cap of seed pearls and lace.

The bride carried a white rose cascading bouquet with stephanotis, gypsophillia, and centered with three burgundy roses with greenery and white picot streamers.

For something old the bride wore a gold watch, a gift of her mother; something borrowed was a band of gold with diamonds, which belong to her late grandmother, Mrs. R.E. Arnette. Something new was her wedding gown and something blue was the traditional garter.

Miss Cindy Wilson of Swainsboro was maid of honor and Mrs. Doug Arnette, Jr., also of Swainsboro, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Doug Jones, cousin of the groom; Miss Frances Lane, sister of the groom; and junior bridesmaid, Miss Sara Arnette, sister of the bride.

The attendants wore identical gowns of burgundy silk-chiffon over taffeta. The off-shoulder neckline featured a soft ruffle. The two-layered skirt with ruffles on each layer, was gathered on the left side with a bow. They carried crescent bouquets of pink carnations, burgundy roses, gypsophillia, snowdrift, burgundy and pink streamers, and springria greenery.

Flower girl was Miss Brandy Lane, cousin of the groom. She wore a floor length dress of white satin. The neckline and skirt was accented with a ruffle. A burgundy colored sash complimented the waistline. A small floral headpiece adorned her hair. She carried a white basket trimmed with pink and burgundy streamers, filled with rose petals.

Darriel F. Lane served as his son's bestman. Grooms-men were Doug Arnette, Jr., brother of the bride; Chris Atkinson, Chris Ellison and Steven Andrews, cousin of the groom.

The groom was attired in a silver-gray tuxedo with cummerbund and tails. The ruffled skirt was trimmed in black. He wore a burgundy rose with lily of the valley in his lapel. All male attendants wore identical outfits.

Brad Riner, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. He donned a silver-gray tuxedo similar to the groomsmen with a burgundy rose in his lapel. He carried a heart-shaped pillow of white satin trimmed in white lace and pink and burgundy streamers.

Mrs. Arnette selected a floor-length dress of aqua silk chiffon with a fitted bodice designed with a V-neckline enhanced with a ruffle. The long full sleeves were gathered at the wrist. The flowing skirt fell from a natural waist encircled with a tied belt of matching material. Her corsage was a white, yellow-throated orchid with white tulle, white leaves and lace ribbon.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Lane, chose a floor-length dress of moon-light rose satin with an overlay of matching chiffon. The bodice featured spaghetti straps. The blouson overlay had a satin draw-string at the waist. The chiffon overlay was split from waist to floor on each side. Matching shoes and a corsage of a white, yellow-throated orchid complimented her outfit.

Grandparents attending were Mrs. J.A. Patrick, Sr., Columbia, S.C.; and Mrs. Earl Sconyers, Canoochee, Ga.. Mrs. Patrick wore a street length dress of teal-blue crepe. The V-neck was accented with a soft ruffle. The long fitted sleeves ended in ruffles. Her outfit was complimented with wine accessories and a white purple-throated cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Sconyers, grandmother of the groom, wore a street length dress of deep crepe mauve knit complimented with gray accessories and a white purple-throated cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Jim Bennette, aunt of the groom, directed the wedding.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Arnette hosted a reception in the social hall of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Lorene Canady.

Guests were greeted by

Mrs. Eddie Andrews, aunt of the groom. In lieu of a receiving line, the bride and groom circulated among their guests.

Miss Terri Sconyers, cousin of the groom, presided at the bride's register, which was placed on a circular table covered with pink satin cloth with a white lace overlay. An arrangement of pink glads, carnations, and gypsophillia graced the table. The table was also decorated with springria greenery and wedding bells. Guests signed the book with a white plumbed pen.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth overlaid with army-navy cloths. The wedding cake was a three-tiered creation divided with columns. It was trimmed with pink rose buds and white lily of the valley. Topped with two love birds trimmed with white ribbon, tulle, and accented with lily of the valley, the cake was made and decorated by the groom's mother. Miss Katie Howard and Miss Bunny Bryant cut and served the cake.

The groom's cake was a two-tiered chocolate cake trimmed with green, purple, and red grapes. The cake was

The long central food table was covered with linen cloths overlaid with army-navy cloths. An arrangement of garnet kings, pink carnations, fugi mums and snowdrift centered the table. Silver candelabrum with pink tapers accented the sides of the table. Silver trays were filled with chicken salad pastries, cucumber and pimento cheese sandwiches, ham biscuits, sausage-cheese balls, cheese biscuits, nutty fingers, spiced and toasted pecans, and mints. Fruit punch was served from a crystal bowl.

Assisting in serving during the afternoon were, Miss Michele Patrick, Miss Toni Phillips, Miss Dawne Canady, Miss Julie Dryden, Miss Bunny Bryant, and Miss Katie Howard.

Another punch bowl was placed on a separate table overlaid with linen and lace cloths. Guests served themselves extra punch from this bowl.

Green ferns were placed at strategic points throughout the social hall.

For traveling the bride changed into an ensemble of a plaid skirt with a blue blouse, brown corduroy blazer and

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Arnette, Sr. of Swainsboro. Mr. and Mrs. Darriel F. Lane of Canoochee, Georgia are parents of the groom.

Vows were exchanged before the altar which was centered with thirty tree-branch candelabrum, flanked on each side by fifteen level branch spirals, on the upper level were two nine-branch candelabra holding burning white tapers. Jade palms formed the background. White baskets holding pink glads, carnations, fugi mums and garnet kings graced each side of the altar and flanked by ferns on each side. The Unity Candle held white candles with a spray of white carnations and pom poms. The kneeling bench was graced with a spray of pink glads, carnations and mums.

Mrs. David Price, pianist, provided a program of musical selections. The theme from Ice Castles was played by Mrs. Price and sung by Miss Amy Herrington as the attendants came down the aisle. Miss Herrington also sang the wedding prayer as the couple knelt in prayer during the ceremony.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the beautiful bride was radiantly gowned in an exquisite creation of white peau-des-soir and venice lace. The fitted bodice enhanced with lace, sequins and seed pearls, featured a portrait neckline edged with lace and seed pearls. The long lace sleeves ended in ruffles of matching lace. The flowing A-line skirt was covered with venice lace. The two-layered skirt was scalloped along the edges. The skirt extended into a cathedral length train at the back with lace along the scalloped edges. The middle panel was all lace, the side panels of peau-des-soir were edged with lace. A soft bow accented the back waistline. A walking length veil of french illusion and venice lace with rolled edges fell from a Juliet style cap of seed pearls and lace.

The bride carried a white rose cascading bouquet with stephanotis, gypsophyllia, and centered with three burgundy roses with greenery and white picot streamers.

For something old the bride wore a gold watch, a gift of her mother; something borrowed was a band of gold with diamonds, which belong to her late grandmother, Mrs. R.E. Arnette. Something new was her wedding gown and something blue was the traditional garter.

Miss Cindy Wilson of Swainsboro was maid of honor and Mrs. Doug Arnette, Jr., also of Swainsboro, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Doug Jones, cousin of the groom; Miss Frances Lane, sister of the groom; and junior bridesmaid, Miss Sara Arnette, sister of the bride.

The attendants wore identical gowns of burgundy silk-chiffon over taffeta. The off-shoulder neckline featured a soft ruffle. The two-layered skirt with ruffles on each layer, was gathered on the left side with a bow. They carried crescent bouquets of pink carnations, burgundy roses, gypsophyllia, snowdrift, burgundy and pink streamers, and springria greenery.

Flower girl was Miss Brandy Lane, cousin of the groom. She wore a floor length dress of white satin. The neckline and skirt was accented with a ruffle. A burgundy colored sash complimented the waistline. A small floral headpiece adorned her hair. She carried a white basket trimmed with pink and burgundy streamers, filled with rose petals.

Darriel F. Lane served as his son's bestman. Grooms-men were Doug Arnette, Jr., brother of the bride; Chris Atkinson, Chris Ellison and Steven Andrews, cousin of the groom.

The groom was attired in a silver-gray tuxedo with cummerbund and tails. The ruffled skirt was trimmed in black. He wore a burgundy rose with lily of the valley in his lapel. All male attendants wore identical outfits.

Brad Riner, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. He donned a silver-gray tuxedo similar to the groomsmen with a burgundy rose in his lapel. He carried a heart-shaped pillow of white satin trimmed in white lace and pink and burgundy streamers.

Mrs. Arnette selected a floor-length dress of aqua silk chiffon with a fitted bodice designed with a V-neckline enhanced with a ruffle. The long full sleeves were gathered at the wrist. The flowing skirt fell from a natural waist encircled with a tied belt of matching material. Her corsage was a white, yellow-throated orchid with white tulle, white leaves and lace ribbon.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Lane, chose a floor-length dress of moon-light rose satin with an overlay of matching chiffon. The bodice featured spaghetti straps. The blouson overlay had a satin drawstring at the waist. The chiffon overlay was split from waist to floor on each side. Matching shoes and a corsage of a white, yellow-throated orchid complimented her outfit.

Grandparents attending were Mrs. J.A. Patrick, Sr., Columbia, S.C.; and Mrs. Earl Sconyers, Canoochee, Ga.. Mrs. Patrick wore a street length dress of teal-blue crepe. The V-neck was accented with a soft ruffle. The long fitted sleeves ended in ruffles. Her outfit was complimented with wine accessories and a white purple-throated cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Sconyers, grandmother of the groom, wore a street length dress of deep crepe mauve knit complimented with gray accessories and a white purple-throated cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Jim Bennette, aunt of the groom, directed the wedding.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Arnette hosted a reception in the social hall of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Lorene Canady.

Guests were greeted by

Mrs. Eddie Andrews, aunt of the groom. In lieu of a receiving line, the bride and groom circulated among their guests.

Miss Terri Sconyers, cousin of the groom, presided at the bride's register, which was placed on a circular table covered with pink satin cloth with a white lace overlay. An arrangement of pink glads, carnations, and gypsophyllia graced the table. The table was also decorated with springria greenery and wedding bells. Guests signed the book with a white plummed pen.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth overlaid with army-navy cloths. The wedding cake was a three-tiered creation divided with columns. It was trimmed with pink rose buds and white lily of the valley. Topped with two love birds trimmed with white ribbon, tulle, and accented with lily of the valley, the cake was made and decorated by the groom's mother. Miss Katie Howard and Miss Bunny Bryant cut and served the cake.

The groom's cake was a two-tiered chocolate cake trimmed with green, purple, and red grapes. The cake was positioned atop a circular table covered with a white linen cloth, overlaid with lace. Miss Toni Phillips cut and served the cake. This cake was also made by the groom's mother.

The long central food table was covered with linen cloths overlaid with army-navy cloths. An arrangement of garnet kings, pink carnations, fugi mums and snowdrift centered the table. Silver candelabrum with pink tapers accented the sides of the table. Silver trays were filled with chicken salad pastries, cucumber and pimento cheese sandwiches, ham biscuits, sausage-cheese balls, cheese biscuits, nutty fingers, spiced and toasted pecans, and mints. Fruit punch was served from a crystal bowl.

Assisting in serving during the afternoon were, Miss Michele Patrick, Miss Toni Phillips, Miss Dawne Canady, Miss Julie Dryden, Miss Bunny Bryant, and Miss Katie Howard.

Another punch bowl was placed on a separate table overlaid with linen and lace cloths. Guests served themselves extra punch from this bowl.

Green ferns were placed at strategic points throughout the social hall.

For traveling the bride changed into an ensemble of a plaid skirt with a blue blouse, brown corduroy blazer and brown accessories. She wore her mother's corsage to compliment her outfit.

Following a wedding trip to Savannah, Georgia, the couple will make their home in Canoochee, Georgia.

Bone-Crismond vows spoken in Camden

Beverly Jean Crismond and Jerry (J.B.) Bone were united in marriage Saturday, September 5, 1981 at a 10 a.m. in a garden ceremony at historic Hampton Park in Camden.

Bishop J.C. Connell, presiding authority of the Camden Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Lather-day Saints (Mormon) officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Dorothy and Bondell Fallaw; was born in Washington, D.C., and educated in the public schools of Washington, D.C. and Laurel, Maryland; she graduated from Brookland-Cayce High School in 1973. She attended several institutions of higher education and served as an intern with the Supreme Court. She is currently employed by Richland County and assigned to the Richland County Sheriff's Department.

The bridegroom is the son of Nellie V. Bone and the late Joseph Herman Bone, Sr., was born in Columbia, and educated in the Richland County Public schools, graduating from Eau Claire High School in 1959. He entered the University of South Carolina in 1959 and has maintained student status either on a part-time or full time basis up to the present. For the past two years he has been a special audit observer in the School of Law at the University. He has long been a licensed communications consultant and is currently under retainer with Kershaw County Broadcaster of Camden (WPUB-AM & FM). He is currently employed by S.C.E.&G., assigned to the V.C. Summer Nuclear Station in Jenkinsville.

The wedding ceremony was "Old English," with trumpets and customs of an early era, enhanced by the beauty of the full blooms of pink, red, and violet clustered in the cluster of trees and natural arches and gazebos of Historic Hampton Park, which provided the garden setting.

Lois Connell, a member of the Camden High School concert band, provided trumpet acoustics and was featured "Herald" for the hour, for the entry of the presiding authority, of secondary parties, of primary parties and also provided a solo rendition suited for the open air ceremony.

The bride arrived for the ceremony driven in a grey coach with attached gold wedding bell chimes, under the escort of Cecil Bowers, of Camden, long time colleague of the groom, and walked with silver slippers through the park concord to the natural park altar where she was met by the best man, David G. Belton, Jr., of Winnsboro, surrogate brother of the groom, who issued the official invitation of engagement per early custom.

With the acceptance of the invitation of engagement, the bride and her party were presented to the assembled contingent for the marriage ceremony.

The trumpet solo, from the motion picture "Ice Castles," sounded through the park through the efforts of Lois Connell, setting the jioning in union under the morning skies.

Silk flowers for the wedding party enhanced the uniqueness of the ceremonial moment.

The bride's formal gown of bone, a gift from the groom, featured a Princess train and a motiff of universal accent, with beads and pearls clustered in heliocentric circles to simulate the alteration of the planets of the 20th Century, embellished from the waist line. The all-lace bodice featured a collections of beads and pearls, leading to full length sleeves.

The matching waltz length veil accented the background and setting of poignant clarity.

The bride presented one rose to her mother and one rose to her new mother-in-law, when leaving the natural altar.

The groomsmen were Michael Rietvelt and Perry Munn, surrogates of the groom, and the flower girl was Karen Dahle, grand niece of the groom.

Christopher Crismond, son of the bride, and Shep Bone, son of the groom served as special attendants to the wedded couple.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Cultural Hall of the Camden Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Lather-day Saints, with music provided by Dawn Edwards, noted Coloratura Soprano.

There were a number of out of town guests in attendance, with Carroll and Patsy Ligon of Blair, representing S.C.E.&G's V.C. Summer Nuclear Station in Jenkinsville.

A wedding trip to the Atlantic Coast, highlighted by an Atlantic Cruise preceded the couple's return to their permanent residence in Lugoff, S.C.

MRS. THOMAS CLAY ARNOLD

Northside Baptist Church of West Columbia was the setting for the 4 p.m. wedding of Miss Kimberly Anne Willis and Mr. Thomas Clay Arnold on Saturday, July 11. The Reverend J.O. Reed, Jr. officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darold D. Willis of West Columbia. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Arnold of Gray Court.

The bride attended the University of South Carolina and will continue to pursue her undergraduate degree in Psychology at the University of Arizona.

The bridegroom attended the University of South Carolina where he earned a BA and MA in Political Science. He is currently attending the University of Arizona, pursuing his Ph.D. in Political Science.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. W. Curtis Reames, organist; Miss Debbie Dominy, pianist; Miss Elise Pollock and Mr. Rick Kirkland, soloists.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father and given consent of marriage by her parents.

The bride was lovely in her formal length gown of white chiffon. The alencon lace bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline and sheer chiffon bishop sleeves with cuffs of Alencon lace. The neckline was enhanced with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and the cuffs were accented with seed pearls and covered buttons.

The flowing chiffon skirt fell from the bodice into a self-attached chapel-length train. The front of the skirt was enhanced with an inverted V panel of alencon lace accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins and the hem was bordered in matching lace.

The matching chapel-length mantilla veil of white bridal illusion fell from a headpiece of alencon lace accented also with seed pearls and sequins. The bottom of the veil featured an inverted V of lace that matched the front of the gown.

Miss Luanne Brigman, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Lori Willis, sister of the bride, Miss Geri Willis, cousin of the bride, Miss Helen Bird Arnold, sister of the groom were bridesmaids. They wore formal gowns of lilac chantilly lace off the shoulder with narrow straps and a wide flounce. Accenting the waist of the gown, a narrow lilac ribbon fell in streamers in the back. The A-line skirt also had a wide flounce on the hem.

Each attendant carried an old fashioned basket of silk summer flowers, miniature roses, Queen Anne's lace, baby's breath and purple statice.

Flowergirl, Miss Emily Thomas, wore a formal gown of white eyelet trimmed in lilac ribbon. Her dress was like that of the other attendants.

Mr. Thomas W. Arnold, father of the groom served as his son's bestman.

Usher groomsmen were Wayne Willis, cousin of the bride, Mark Cichock and Sebastian Ernissee, friends of the bride and groom. Master Kevin Coleman, served as ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Willis, aunt and uncle of

Everhart-McKay Vows Exchanged

Miss May Elizabeth McKay became the bride of Mr. Stephen Scott Everhart on August 15, in a candlelight service at First Baptist Church of Columbia, with Dr. J. Marshall Edwards officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Enloe McKay and the late D. Brady McKay, Jr., and the granddaughter of Mrs. D. Brady McKay of Winnsboro and the late Mr. McKay, and of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Enloe, also of Winnsboro.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ruffin Everhart of Columbia.

Mr. Danny McKay, brother of the bride, presented the bride to the groom.

The bride wore a traditional white gown of sheer illusion over silk crepe. The rounded yoke of Madeira lace was bordered by ruffled lace that encircled the sleeveless shoulders and was capped by a mandarin collar of the same lace. The calf-length veil attached to the lace cap was edged by similar lace and decorated with embroidered seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a diamond pin worn at the neck. An heirloom of six generations, it was loaned to her by paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret C. McKay. She carried a bouquet of mixed white roses centered with an S-curve design of red-orange tropicana roses.

Miss Libby McKay served as her sister's maid of honor. Another sister Mrs. Jeanne McKay Bridges, was a bridesmaid, as was Miss Michelle Everhart, sister of the groom, and friends Misses Elaine Zachery and Julie Thiel.

Flower girl was Miss Stephanie Ellisor and ringbearer was Master Kent Hudson, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Dan Everhart was his son's best man.

Usher-groomsman were Brad Everhart, brother of the groom; Mr. Marty Bridges, Mr. Tommy Fitzpatrick and Mr. Dave Belding.

Mrs. Lowell Hayes presented the organ prelude.

Following the grandmothers' entrance, Finale from Concerto No. 5 (Handel), Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ragsdale sang "The Gift of Love", and following the mothers' entrance, Arioso (Bach) was played and the Ragsdales sang "What Love Is."

The chiming of the hour preceded the processional, which included the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. A duet, "The Lord's Prayer", followed the ceremony and prayer and the lighting of the unity candles. The recessional included Mendelssohn's "Wedding March".

At the reception following the ceremony, guests were entertained by musicians Glenn Ragsdale at the piano and Misses Jo Anne Jones, Mary Lee Taylor and Jackie Taylor played violin, viola and cello.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Debenport and Miss Karen Mitchell helped with the registry. Mrs. Robert Sims served bridal cake following the traditional cutting of the first slice by the bridal couple. Misses Mary Barnes and Gwynn Dee Bridges poured punch.

Mrs. Everhart is a graduate of Irmo High School and attended Mars Hill College. She is employed by Colonial Life Insurance Company.

The groom is also a graduate of Irmo High School, attended Wake Forest, and is currently enrolled in graduate school at the University of South Carolina, pursuing a masters degree in accounting with additional plans for a degree in law.
