Several people have asked, "what is the next step in the process of building 'new schools?'" My first response is to caution them about the term "new schools." Our long range plans only include three new buildings: a comprehensive high school plus a vocational facility; and, only if needed, a new elementary school around the year 1990.

My second response is to remind them of the Board's resolution which requires the school system not to sell bonds until V.C. Summer Nuclear Plant comes on our tax rolls. Assuming the plant becomes taxable in 1983 - it would take at least ninety (90) days to go through the legal process of selling bonds. For comparison purposes, let's say the plant becomes taxable in December 1983, bonds would be sold sometime before June of 1984. Once they are sold, construction begins - realistically, we could hope for the earliest date of August 1985-1986 school year and a later date of August 1986-70 school year before our students could be in the new high school.

While we are waiting for full licensing for the V.C. Summer Plant, we
