

Survey Is Worth Reaching For!

Our official magazine is growing. Its circulation has increased 25 per cent in a year's time. But still, only one of ten Presbyterian families in our Southland subscribes to the SURVEY. The hope for full readership of this fine monthly lies in the Every Family Plan. In this plan churches send the SURVEY into every home for $1.60 per year instead of the regular rate of $2. More of our churches are enrolling in this 100 per cent subscription plan all the time.

No matter what your age or interests, PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY has something for you—something you will find vital and helpful in the pursuit of your Christian life. Articles on youth and family life, Christian education, missions, Christian citizenship, evangelism, men's work, women's work, and now—a new children's section. News stories, thoughtful book reviews, top-flight photographs keep you abreast of what's going on in the world of religion. PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY is a magazine no Presbyterian home should be without. When you know the type of magazine the SURVEY is now, you will want it. You will see that it's in your home—and in the homes of your fellow church members.

The Tither

The faithful tithing steward never asks how much must I give to keep face, but how much can I give and still keep going efficiently for God.

YOUR Opportunity

Next Sunday you will have an opportunity for a very real service to your Church and Saviour. That Sunday will be Every Member Canvass Day, when throughout 17 states in the Southeast, Presbyterians will be visited about their pledge for the work of their church. Between now and then, it is hoped that these members—those being visited and those who visit—will be much in prayer for the results of that day.

Certainly the monetary aspects of the Canvass are not the sole motive of it, although every business-minded person well knows that the church, as any other organization, must meet financial obligations to function properly and to expand. It is, however, the spiritual phase of the Canvass that makes it what it is. For this reason in particular, the Every Member Canvass of a church makes it different from the secular canvasses of the business world.

Sometime during this week you will probably hear about the needs of your church. Pray that you will be made aware of these needs, and be made receptive to them.

The Every Member Canvass cannot, and must not, be considered lightly. It is indeed one of the vital lifelines on which the future of the church and the harvest of the Lord depend.

SUPPORT OF OUR COLLEGE!! Presbyterian College is in the final stages of its drive to build the much needed place for extra students, Very much needed Chapel, and other improvements of dire need. All churches in the three supporting Synods have been asked to promise support for this needed drive for improvements by pledging $10 per member in all the churches in the Synods of S.C., Ga., and Fla. This is the secret of the P.C. Campaign so far.

Our Church "Aimwell Presbyterian Church" has been asked accordingly for $890.00. The elders of our church realized that we are pretty much in debt at the present time, but observing the faith of our sister church Longtown and so man others in our presbytery, have agreed to make a long range commitment. They have agreed to pledge this amount over a period of 5 years, thereby writing into the church budget of our church $2.00 per member per year for the next five years - $ 178.00 each year for P.C. This is not asking for any commitment this year, it begins in 1957.

NO EVENING SERVICE TONIGHT Due to possible infection of greater danger. Your pastor feels it advisable to cmit evening services for the month of November, hoping for better health, the Lord willing, in days to come.
