the day was over the sun came out and a glorious sunset marked the passing of Christmas '99. The rain on Saturday interfered somewhat with the trade, but in spite of the downpour a considerable crowd was on the streets and the stock of holiday goods had diminished greatly by night and all of the merchants had disposed of the greater part of their Christmas things. The home coming of so many college girls and boys was one of the greatest pleasures that the holidays brought, for everyone was glad to see the happy young people at home. Already, however, the visitors have begun to leave and by the end of the week the town will settle down again to its usual quiet and the students will be again hard at work.

MOORE-ALLSTON.

Miss Charlotte Allston and Mr. M. A. Moore were quietly married on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. S. G. Martin. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Capers in the presence of a few friends. The bride wore a lovely dress of white brocaded crepe de China trimmed with liberty silk and her maid of honor, Miss Frances Vanderhorst of Charleston, wore a dress of white chiffon over white satin. Mr. Walker Moore, a brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding was to have taken place on Wednesday, January 3rd, but on account of the illness of the bride's father, Rev. Mr. Allston, the date was changed. The bride and groom left on the north-bound express train and will be away for several days. The young couple will make their home in Union, and will carry with them the best wishes of their friends.

Have You Heard Of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palata-

Mr. Chesley G. Boulware, Jr., one of the "Corner's" best and most progressive young farmers, was married on the 27th December, by W. W. Crosby, N. P., at Santuc, Union county, S. C., to Miss Annie Willard. After partaking of a bountiful dinner the parties from the "Corner" returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Boulware remained and visited some of the bride's relatives and friends, and returned to the home of the groom's father on the 29th, where a host of friends and a sumptuous dinner were awaiting them.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRISON

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, nee Graddock, died at her home in Fairfield County on the 13th of December in the 53rd year of her age and was buried on the 15th at the cemetery near Morris Creek, where old Bethel Church stood in former years. She was a member of the Methodist Church. She left a husband and three children surviving her, who together with other friends and relatives mourn her loss, but entertain the good hope that their loss is her eternal gain.

A Friend.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest Pile cure on Earth, and the best Salve in the World. 25 cents a box. Sold by McMaster Co., druggists.

WYLIE-MCGARRITY.

Mr. James A. Wylie, of Hopewell, and Miss Lula McGarrity, of Wellridge, were happily married on the evening of the 20th of December at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Jos. McGarrity, the Rev. Mr. Brown officiating. On the following day there was a very pleasant reception given at the home of the groom. There they met and received the hearty congratulations of their many friends and relations of their own county, and Fairfield, his native county. The presents were beautiful and useful.

SUGGESTIONS TO GRANITE QUARRIES.

Gaffney, S. C., Dec. 15, 1899.
Mr. Editor: We have just read Maj. Woodward's paper on "South Carolina Granite Quarries." It is our purpose here to collect material from the whole State so that each county shall have a separate space for the exhibition of its mineral resources. We should be pleased to have the authorities of the different quarries in Fairfield to ship us a small cube of granite with which to erect a small block monument in our museum. If one face be polished so much the better. We should be glad to have specimens of any other minerals—all of which may be shipped to Gaffney at our expense.

Very truly yours,
W. S. Hall, Jr.
