Justin Marshall James
Ashford

Justin Marshall James Ashford celebrated his third birthday May 7, 1997.

He is the son of Tracie A. Davis and Melvin J. Ashford of Winnsboro.

Grandparents are John and Mary Seibles, Mr. and Mrs. Bossie Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Ashford of Winnsboro.

Great-grandparent is Fannie Johnson of Charlotte, N.C.

He had been assistant director of labor relations since 1986.

In his new position, Mobley administers agreements and labor protective arrangements imposed by the Surface Transportation Board in connection with mergers, abandonments, leases and trackage rights.

Mobley, 47, is a native of Winnsboro. Of his eight brothers and sisters, five still live in Winnsboro, including Florence Glenn, Sara Barnes Ophelia Davis, George Mobley and Thomas Mobley.

In 1971, after graduating from Valparaiso University in Indiana with a bachelor of arts degree in history, Mobley joined Southern Railway as a management trainee in the Maintenance of Way Department.

Following the 1982 consolidation of Southern with Norfolk and Western Railway
