

scene of accident and death. It began to be called Devil's Elbow and the crest overlooking the creek, Devil's Elbow Hill.

It was rather nice over the hill once you climbed it. The irregular ling top, shaped something like a clover leaf, was not large in extent and did not promise much of bounteous living, but the heads were covered with oak trees, and made pleasant sites for homes. The little valleys between had springs and trickling streams with the waterfalls over outcroppings of granite, and offered good places stills and ponds.

It pleased Hugh Smith, for on November 6th, 1786, he paid 12 pounds and 14 shillings and received a grant of 545 acres from Governor Moultrie. He was followed by Robert Wilson, who bought the land from Smith, and who in 1791, received a grant of 105 acres of adjoining land. This was probably the same Robert Wilson, who sold the Winnsborough land to the Mount Zion Society for the college.

Then in 1798 came James Barber, thirty-eight years old, with his wife Sarah Gunning, his son Robert, twelve, and two younger daughters Eliza and Jane. His prayer must have been "God give me hills to climb and strength to climb them." For he bought the land from Robert Wilson and, for better or worse, it has remained in the possession of his children and his children's children.

BARBER

The Irish Rebellion of 1798, which cost Robert Emmet his life, sent James Barber and his half brother John as refugees to South Carolina. They were reputed to be officers in Emmet's organization, and had to leave their Ulster home on that account.

James had initiative and energy. He purchased 650 acres of land and planted part of it, ran a store, acquired a few slaves, and was an officer of the Mount Olivet Presbyterian Church just north of his place. His store was the assembly place for the whole country side, as shown by the three hundred names on his well kept accounts.

His children grew to maturity there, the son Robert Gunning remaining unmarried until his death in 1829. Eliza married Robert Richmond, and her father gave her a place to live on. Jane married Hugh Barkley, the son of a neighbor.

Both James Barber and his wife died in the month of November, 1824. He was 64 years old and she was 54. His will, signed June 23, 1824, and recorded April 27, 1825, is on file in the County Courthouse. In his will his wife he bequeathed, in addition to the property brought with her at her marriage, the horse named Jack to draw her chair; one new table to be made by Thomas Minton as good as he can make; the old best table and six sitting chairs of her own choice.

To his son, Robert Gunning Barber, he left the home place, the boundaries defined and ending in "a straight line to my Still House Spring." Also the large bed, bedstead, and furniture upstairs, six sitting chairs brought from Charleston, the sideboard, clock, largest table, and my negro man Bob.

To his daughter, Eliza Richmond, he bequeathed "the land whereon she now lives," and also two negro men named Stephen and Jessie.

To his daughter, Jane Barkley, and her husband Hugh Barkley, he gave the land between the said Hugh Barkley's land and Samuel Johnston's private road as far as Mushetts Branch, and up said branch to my land, and also my negro man named Glassgo.

To his grandsons James Barber Richmond and James Barber Barkley one hundred dollars each.

To his nephew James Barber, and to James Barber Smith, and to James Barber McCully the sum of fifty dollars each.

To his brother John, two hundred dollars and his best suit of clothes.

The remainder of his estate equally to his children.

The tombstones of James Barber and his wife stand in Mount Olivet (Wateree) church yard. His name still lives through the descendants of the five boys who were named for him.

THE STORE

The appraisers of his estate found accounts due on his books amounting to $9,382.00, also notes due him amounting to $6,461.85, also notes for Mount Olivet Church pew assessments for $78.00. The following names of the patrons of his store are an interesting roll call of the early settlers of the countryside.

The people of his little world certainly made a well worn path to his door. Something potent brought them there, whether it be his magnetic personality or the spirit of his "Still House Spring" which he refers to in his will.

Feb 20/1936

Dear Colonel McMartin.

I am most happy to hear from you and to have the beautiful account of the "Arms of Ethow Hill," short as familiar to me as to you. I used to drop in for a visit very often during the winter months of the 1860's as I grew to manhood. There are many families mentioned by you, of whom I did not have recollection as well as the location of their homes. I retain my affection and reverence for your dear father & mother. I know of no more reliable history of this County of Fairfield than your pamphlet provides, & I am grateful to you for sending me a copy. There have been many changes - names of families gone to other parts, no longer appearing - old houses obliterated by new & better ones. But the memories were awakened, are very, very dear to me - I remember you as a boy, and I hope we may again meet - If ever you are near enough, please give me the opportunity - My front door is wide open to welcome you.

With warm regards, Faithfully yours,

Thos. D. Bratton
