Dr. Beam

CC Native Named To S.C. Land Resources Post

H. Wayne Beam, a Chester County native has been named Deputy Director of the South Carolina Land Resources Commission.

Beam, a graduate of Clemson University, received the M.S. degree from Auburn University, and in 1973, was granted the Ph. D. from North Carolina State University.

In announcing Dr. Beam's appointment, John W. Parris,

Executive Director of the Land Resources Commission, said "South Carolina is very fortunate to have a man of Beam's ability in state government". Dr. Beam will coordinate all land management activities of the commission, Parris said.

Dr. Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Beam of Chester, is married to the former Donna Kaye Adams of Rock Hill.
