

FAIRFIELD COUNTY

Will of Sarah Beam

Sons - Albert and Jesse Beam, youngest children

"All the rest of my children be very nearly of full age."

Son - Solomon Beam, oldest son, to have right and title to dower in real and landed estate of my late husband, Jesse Beam

Son - William Beam, "is an idiot and not of sane memory, occation by fits, entirely incapable of caring for himself." Provision made for him to be cared for by Solomon Beam.

Wit.: D. R. Coleman
Jacob Feaster, Jr.
Henry A. Coleman

Proved: 2 Feb 1820

Apt. 10 File 62

-----
Will of Sarah Beam

Friend and brother-in-law - David R. Coleman - tract of land purchased from John Shirley containing 125 acres

Brother - Albert Beam - slaves

Residue of estate to be sold and divided among the family of deceased brother, William Beam - his widow, his sons, Thomas and Jesse, and daughters, Mary, Sarah, and Elizabeth. Bed and furniture to their mother, Dorcas Beam.

Executors: Nephews: Jacob Feaster
Henry A. Coleman

Signed: 25 July 1838

Wit.: Isaac Nolan
Elizabeth(X) Coleman
David A. Coleman

Codicil: To neice, Susannah Beam, my riding mare.

Apt. 4 File 655

Will of Sarah Beam

Sons - Albert and Jesse Beam, youngest children

"All the rest of my children be very hearty of full age."

Son - Solomon Beam, oldest son, to have right and title to house in real and landed estate of my late husband, Jesse Beam

Son - William Beam, "is an idiot and not of sane memory, occasion by fits, and thereby incapable of caring for himself." Provision made for him to be cared for by Solomon Beam.

Witness: D. R. Coleman
Jacob Feaster, Jr.
Henry A. Coleman

Proved: 2 Feb 1830

Appt. 10 File 62

Will of Sarah Beam

Friend and brother-in-law - David H. Coleman - tract of land purchased from John Shirley containing 125 acres

Brother - Albert Beam - slaves

Residue of estate to be sold and divided among the family of deceased brother, William Beam - his widow, his sons, Thomas and Jesse, and daughters, Mary, Sarah, and Elizabeth. Bed and furniture to their mother, Dorcas Beam

Executors: Nephews: Jacob Feaster
Henry A. Coleman

Signed: 22 July 1838

Witness: Isaac Nelson
Elizabeth (E) Coleman
David A. Coleman

Codified: To Nelson, Samuel Beam, my riding mare.

Appt. 11 File 62

FAIRFIELD COUNTY

WILL OF SARAH BEAM

Sons - Albert and Jesse Beam, youngest children

"All the rest of my children be very nearly of full age."

Son - Solomon Beam, oldest son, to have right and title to dower in real and landed estate of my late husband, Jesse Beam

Son - William, "is an idiot and not of sane memory, occasion by fits, entirely incapable of caring for himself." Provision made for him to be cared for by Solomon Beam.

Wit: D. R. Coleman
Jacob Feaster, Jr.
Henry A. Coleman

Proved: 2 Feb. 1820

Apt. 10 File 62

-----

WILL OF SARAH BEAM

Friend and brother-in-law - David R. Coleman, a tract of land purchased from John Shirley containing 125 acres

Brother - Albert Beam, slaves

Residue of estate to be sold and divided among the family of deceased brother, William Beam - his widow, his sons, Thomas and Jesse and daughters, Mary Sarah and Elizabeth. Bed and furniture to their mother, Dorcas Beam

Executors: Nephews, Jacob Feaster and Henry A. Coleman

Signed: 25 July 1838

Wit: Isaac Nolan
Elizabeth Coleman
David A. Coleman

Codicil: To neice, Susannah Beam, my riding horse

Apt. 4 File 655

WILL OF SARAH BEAM

Sons - Albert and Jesse beam, youngest children

"All the rest of my children be very heavy of full age."

Son - Solomon beam, eldest son, to have right and title to down in real and landed estate of my late husband, Jesse beam

Son - William, "is an idiot and not of sane memory, occasion by life, entirely incapable of caring for himself." Provision made for him to be cared for by Solomon beam.

Wit: D. R. Coleman
Jacob Reaser, Jr.
Henry A. Coleman

Proved: 2 Feb. 1820

Appt. to file 62

WILL OF SARAH BEAM

Friend and brother-in-law - David R. Coleman, a tract of land purchased from John Shirley containing 125 acres

Brother - Albert beam, alive

Residue of estate to be sold and divided among the family of deceased brother, William beam - his widow, his sons, Thomas and Jesse and daughters, Mary Sarah and Elizabeth. Bed and furniture to their mother, Dorcas beam

Executors: nephews, Jacob Reaser and Henry A. Coleman

Signed: 25 July 1820

Wit: Isaac Nolan
Elizabeth Coleman
David A. Coleman

Codici: To wit, Susannah beam, my riding horse

Appt. to file 62