Albien Boulware

Recorded in Book No. 19
Apt. 97 File 393

This is the furthest back we have come on this line of Boulwares. We know that they came from England, and do have info from other counties in SC, but have not been able to get from Albien to the correct ancestor in England.

We have a picture of Albien. I am not sure what kind of clothes he is wearing. It may be a suit, but could also be some sort of military uniform.

The name Boulware has also been spelled Bowler, Boler, Bowlware, Bowlere, Boulwer, Boulwar, and Boulwere.

One of the original Bowler family emigrants in Virginia was Thomas Bowler who was living in Yorktown as early as 1653 and later move up the Rappahannock River to a place which still bears the name "Bowler's Wharf." It is believed that Thomas Bowler was married twice, his second wife being Tabita Edlow, the daughter of Lt. Col. Matthew Edlow, who cam to Virginia on the "Neptune" in 1619.

Family tradition says that Mary Muscoe, daughter of Salvatore Muscoe, married William Boulware, and is said to be the father of Muscoe Boulware, I of Fairfield Co., SC. The name Muscoe has been prominent since that time.

THE REVISED GENEALOGY OF THE SHELTON AND LEEDS FAMILY

Tradition says that three Boulware brothers came from VA to SC. One settled in the Catawba River, one on Horse Branch, and one great-grandfather Albien Boulware settled on Broad River, and we begin with:

ALBIEN BOULWARE

children:

Reuben married Mary Knight. He was killed in the Confederate War.

Lucy married Steven Crosby and Bill Smith

Daniel Pink married Miss White. He was killed in the Confederate War.

Green

Obadiah (Obie) married Janie Jenkins (2 children: Coleman and Lizzie)

Osborne married 12-7-1817 died 1-10-1905

Note: Some seem to think that another son Andrew married his niece Charlotte Boulware (daughter of Osborne). This Charlotte Boulware was married to William Shelton Shirley of Fairfield, SC. Charlotte did marry Andrew, but the "jury is out" on just who Andrew was. One family source says he was Andrew Mogul who came through town, met and married Charlotte Boulware, and began calling himself Andrew Boulware.)

BOULWARE...BOWLER FAMILY

One of the original Bowler family emigrants in Virginia was Thomas Bowler who was living in Yorktown as early as 1653, and who later moved up the Rappahannock River to a place which still bears the name "Bowler"s Wharf." It is believed that Thomas Bowler was married twice, his second wife being Tabitha Edlow, the daughter of Lt. Col. Matthew Edlow, who came to Virginia on the NEPTUNE in 1618.

The William and Mary Quarterly VI gives the following: Tabitha (born 1648) was the half sister of John Edlow. She was the executrix of their mother, married shortly after 1670 to Col. Thomas Bowler of Rappahannock. Thomas Bowler first appears as a Headright (four adventures) in a patent to Col. George Read of York on February 25 1658; and in his own right had a grant of 504 acres in Rappahannock County on September 28, 1674.

In 1674 he was commissioned a member of the Governors Council. His will was proved in Rappahannock on July 2, 1679. It mentions his friends Col. Nicholas Spencer and Capt. Thomas Gouldman; a minor son, James Bowler; daughter Elizabeth Bowler; child Anne Bowler; wife, Tabitha, executrix.

There was a James Bowler, a contemporary and quite probably a half brother or nephew of Thomas Bowler, married to Mary Gray, as shown in the will of William Gray, which was probated in Rappahannock County on February 3, 1673. This will names his son-in-law, James Bowler; grandchild Elizabeth Bowler; and daughter Mary Gray, executors; my wife Mandlin Gray; and son-in-law, James Bowler.

The old Virginia records show the family names was spelled in various ways, such as Bowler, Bowlere, Boulwer, Boulware, Boulwar, Bowlware, and Boulwere. The Virginia Magazine of History and Biography says: "There is a deed of June 4, 1690, recorded in Essex by which William Bowler and Elizabeth, his wife, pass lands to Thomas Page. There are in Essex County numerous records of the Boulware family (pronounced Bowler) of the same origin."

The copies of wills mentioned in this volume come mostly from the Court House at Rappahannock, Essex County, Virginia. Essex County is narrow and long with its length the south bank of the Rappahannock. It is bounded on the south and west by King and Queen, and Caroline Counties to which many of the Boulware families moved. Unfortunately the records of King and Queen were destroyed in the Confederate War. By the time of the Revolution some of the Boulwares had moved to Kentucky, and later they passed on to Missouri and other western states.

Preliminary to the American Revolution, a Committee was appointed in Essex County to protect American rights against the British. Two of its members were Thomas Boulware and Muscoe Garnett. Muscoe Garnett was a grandson of Salvator (or Sylvester) Muscoe, a planter and Justice who served as Sheriff of Essex, and later was Burgess from Essex County. A copy of Salvator Muscoe's will is shown later on in the text.

There is a tradition in the Boulware family that Mary, the daughter of Salvator Muscoe, married William Boulware, said to be the father of Muscoe Boulware I, of Fairfield County, SC. This is probably true, but there is no evidence in Salvator Muscoe's will, as this daughter was unmarried at the time of his death. Further research should be made in the land transfer records at Rappahannock Court House.

Judge Neil of Winnsbor, SC in his notes says that shortly after the Revolution, Muscoe Boulware, and two cousins came from VA to Fairfield County. One of these cousins is identified as Obadiah Boulware; the other cousin was probably a Pickett. The Boulwares and Picketts intermarried for several generations.

Members of the Obadiah Boulware branch may find a copy of the will of Thomas Boulware (father of Obadiah) which was probated at Rappahannock, VA on April 18, 1785. Obadiah was executor of his father's will.

The genealogical tables in this volume were prepared by James Richmond Boulware II and Judge Thomas M. Boulware. Most of the old VA wills were copies by Miss McKinney of Washington, DC who gave them to Col. Richard E. McMaster.

Note by Author: Through the kindness of Col. Richard E. McMaster, retired and now living in Washington, DC we are using his brief introductory remarks and other valuable contributions to this research work, from which we have gathered enough information to complete a "partial" history of the Bowler-Boulware family.

THOMAS BOWLER was born 1608 and died 1679. His will dated March 17, 1678 is recorded July 2, 1679 in Rappahannock Co, VA, mentions his friends Col. Nicholas Spencer and Capt. Thomas Gouldman; minor son James Bowler; daughters Elizabeth and Anne Bowler; and wife Tabitha Edlow Bowler, executrix. (Will Book 2; pages 133-137- (later shown in this text and copy).

Anne married Richard Cocke, the younger, of Bremor. She was born 1675 and died in 1705. Reference in William and Mary College Quarterly for January 1895, page 204.

An article by James Southall in VA Magazine of History and Biography says that Tabitha Cocke Adams owns that part of her grandfather's estate where Bowler's Wharf is located.

There is a deed of June 4, 1690 recorded in Essex Co., by which William Bowler and Elizabeth his wife, pass lands in Rappahannock, originally granted to Thomas Page, and by him conveyed to William Bowler and his brother, James Bowler on February 25, 1688.

The will of William Gray, probated 1673 shows that his daughter Mary married James Bowler. The will of James Boulware dated December 13, 1713 and probated February 17, 1718, Rappahannock, Will Book 3, p, 77 mentions his widow "Maiory Boulware" and his children James, Mark, Benjamin, John, William, Mary, Grace. This will was executed by "Marj F. Boulware." We noted that each time, he wrote the name "Boulware."

The will of Elizabeth Boulware dated 1772, Book 13, page 60 shows that she was the daughter of John Pitts, and married Benjamin Boulware of St. Anne Parish, and had a son, Muscoe.

Will of Michael Sparke, Citizen and Stationer of London, Parish of Sepulchres, without Newgate, October 22, 1653: "I give the remainder...with the money owing to me by Mr. Thomas Bowler and Mr. Anderson, of Yorktowne, in VA, to the rest of my grandchildren equally between them."

Comment by the editor: Thomas Bowler was, no doubt, Thomas Bowler, afterwards of Rappahannock Co., who was appointed to the Council in 1675 and died in 1679. It seems that Thomas Bowler was in business in Yorktown as early as 1652. A study of the passenger lists of the boats might give the exact date.

The original Bowler settlement was at Bowlers Wharf in Rappahannock Co. between the Rappahannock and York Rivers. Essex Co. was formed then King and Queen, and Caroline Counties. King and Queen was formed in 1691, where St. Stephens Church is located (no records there since 1865). Also we find St. Johns Parish; St. Margarets Parish was established in 1721. The key to the Boulware Genealogy is in the county records of Essex, King and Queen, Caroline Counties--such as marriages, wills, land transfers.

After Thomas Bowler was established in business in VA, and had gained prominence, there were two others with him, whose success was also noted, namely James Bowler and William Bowler. We know that Thomas Bowler was from England, but we cannot say for sure when and where James and William Bowler came from. It appears that these men were closely related. These brothers we believe were half brothers or nephews of Thomas Bowler, thirty or forty years younger, as we can see from dates of their wills.

The wills of contemporaries of Thomas Bowler (1676) are as follows: William Lane 1661; William Gray 1672; Thomas Bland 1678; Warnock Gray 1696; and Robert Ply 1696. Then some wills of a later generation: James Bowler 1713-1718; John Bowler 1714; and John Williams 1714, 35 years after the death of Thomas Bowler in 1679. These men lived to an old age, at that time 70 years, and that would make the birth of James Bowler I about 1643-48.

We see from William Gray's will that in 1673 there was a James Bowler who was mentioned as son-in-law, and whom we believe was born about 1643-48, and the records show that Thomas Bowler married Tabitha Edlow "after 1670" and his will in 1678 mentions a minor son, James, whose birth was about 1672 or 73; and from then there were two James Bowlers.

In 1696 Warnock Gray in his will bequeathed to Sarah Bowler, daughter of James Bowler (son of Thomas and Tabitha Bowler).

#1 JAMES BOWLER the ancestor was born about 1642 or 1648. His will of December 13, 1713 was recorded in Essex County, Rappahannock, VA February 17, 1718, and mentions his wife Mariory Bowler and probated as Marg. F. Bowler, executrix, was Mary Gray, as mentioned in William Gray's will probated 1673. Children:

James	born about 1675 - died 1741
Mark	born about 1677 - died July 17, 1754
Benjamin	born about 1680 - died 1725
John	born about 1682 - died 1726
William	born about 1685 - died we have no record
Mary	not of age at father's death
Grace	not of age at father's death

NOTE: Albien Boulware of Fairfield County (4th great-grandfather of Brenda Austin Going of Union, SC could have descended from one of the above five sons)

William Bowler, brother of James Bowler, Sr. married Elizabeth Gray. See deed of William Bowler and wife Elizabeth to Timothy Davis on February 26, 1690, and a division of land between William Boulware and James Boulware in 1674. Also a deed of William Boulware and brother James to Thomas Page in 1688. There is no record of children.

John Boulware II, son of James Bowler #1, St. Anne Parish, Essex Co. born about 1675, died 1751.

THE BOULWARE WALLS

This burying ground was established shortly after the Revolution by Muscoe Boulware (1758-1825) and his wife Nancy Pickett, and they rest within its walls. They came from King and Queen County of Tidewater, VA, bought land on the Flint Hill Ridge, and built a home which they called "Eagle House."

When Muscoe Boulware died in 1825, he made bequests in his will to ten children, leaving the home place to his unmarried son, Dr. William R.A. Boulware, but providing that his wife, Nancy Boulware should continue to live there.

When Dr. Boulware died in 1832 he devised the home place to his oldest brother, Thomas Boulware, but made legal provisions for the cemetery by stating, "I do hereby reserve one acre of land which I appropriate and set apart as a family burying ground, with a suitable way of access to same."

His mother continued to reside at the old home place until her death in 1836. Three of her daughters married Pickett cousins, and both Picketts and Boulwares are buried within the old walls. The walls are quite massive, of rubble stone construction, about two feet thick, and extend nearly two hundred feet each way. The gateway pillars are of dressed stone with wrought iron gate.

There is a tradition that the first burial in the cemetery was that of William Boulware, father of Muscoe I., but there is no tombstone; neither is there a monument to Muscoe I, nor to his wife, Nancy Pickett. The earliest monument is that of Muscoe II, dated 1832. The latest is that of Sallie Raines Robertson dated 1889. There are a number of other monuments, among them one carrying only the inscription "My Mother." (Judge Neil's mother.)

It is proposed now (in 1946) to raise sufficient funds to set up a respectable marker to the memory of Muscoe Boulware I and Nancy Pickett, who following the custom of the times, laid out this family burying ground.

(Later in 1947)

The Boulware Walls were repaired and monument erected in 1946 under the sponsorship of:

DIED 1832
ERECTED BY DESCENDANTS

TRANSCRIPT WINNSBORO NEWS AND HERALD

Ten miles east of Winnsboro on the Flint Hill Ridge sloping toward the Wateree River, is situated one of the antiquities of Fairfield County, "Boulware Walls," the old cemetery of the Boulware family.

This old cemetery is of unusual extent for a family burying ground, and its walls are of such massive construction that trees of considerable size are growing from the tops of the walls, which are still in good state of preservation.

In addition to the Scotch-Irish and French element, which constituted so much of the original settlement of the County, there was a considerable inflow of settlers from the Tidewater Region of Virginia. Muscoe Bowler (Boulware), the pioneer of his family in Fairfield, belonged to the last named contingent. At the close of the Revolution, he with his wife, Nancy Pickett, moved to SC from the vicinity of Bowlers Wharf on the lower Rappahannock River where the family had settled more than a century before. He established his home near the site of the old cemetery, and lived in what was known as the "Eagle House."

Thirty years ago the brick piles of the old chimney were still standing, and there were a few of the old fruit trees remaining from the home orchard.

Muscoe Bowler (Boulware) was a descendant of Thomas Bowler who was living in Yorktown, VA as early as 1653, and who later moved to Rappahannock and represented that County on the Governor's Council in 1675, and died in 1679.

Thomas Boulware's wife was a granddaughter of Col. Matthew Edlow who came to VA on the NEPTUNE in 1618, and who was a member of the House of Burgess in 1629. Muscoe Boulware acquired his rather unusual first name from his mother who was the daughter of Salvator Muscoe, a lawyer, a justice, and a Burgess from 1735 to 1740 for Essex Co., VA, Edington's historical notes of Fairfield County mentions Muscoe Boulware as a soldier of the Revolution. This is confirmed in the VA State Library where his name appears in the "List of Revolutionary Soldiers of VA. The reference being in the Auditors account 27.118.

His father who was a Revolutionary soldier in Col. Bland's first VA Regiment is also reputed to be buried in this cemetery, but this cannot be verified, as there are no tombstones at the present time.

There are numerous unmarked graves of which there can only be surmised; the most recent tombstone is that erected to the memory of the mother of the late John J. Neil, which bears only the inscription "My Mother."

In all four generations of the name Muscoe Boulware lived in Fairfield County. The descendants of Muscoe Boulware I moved to Chester County, and the name Muscoe has come down through Muscoe, son of Thomas McCullough, and grandson of Muscoe I, and his son, Gray, who has two sons, Gray and Muscoe. These two sons are now living in Memphis, TN. Also through Muscoe W., son of Benjamin Boulware.

It is rather characteristic of the Boulware family that their migrations were along of longitude instead of latitude, and that they were all "river family," living first along the York River and then the Rappahannock, the Wateree, and the rivers and lakes of Florida. At least one branch has returned to VA, in the persons of the family of the distinguished Engineer Thomas McCullough Boulware who was born and raised in SC.

There are still many members of the Boulware name still living in Fairfield County, and through inter-marriage; there are also numerous descendants among the families Buchanan, Woodward, Neil, Hall, Stokes, McMasters, Matthews, Picketts, Kennerly, Stevenson, McDonald, and others.

The excuse for this article is to bring this old graveyard to the attention of these younger descendants in the hope that adequate steps be taken for its preservation.

The land upon which it lies is at the present time in the kindly possession of Mr. Robert C. Gooding. (Written 1925.)

NOTE: Thomas McCullough Boulware II retired and lived with his daughter, Mrs. James T. Sutton, superintendent of Monroe Public Schools, Forsyth, GA and died there Nov. 1944.

There are many Boulwares buried there. A multi-millionaire from MY has spent several hundred thousand dollars developing the place. She had the old stones cleaned and polished, and some put in frames. Mrs. Kelley has the old Bible with records.

given by Robert L. Boulware
Hillsborough, Ohio

In 1924 he wrote as follows: "The Boulwares were originally of French Huguenot stock, coming to America in the seventeenth century, to escape religious persecution, and settled near Culpepper Court House, VA. He had ten sons. He was a large land owner, as well as owner of many slaves."

"My grandfather came east to school, and there he embibed certain ideas with reference to the ownership of slaves, and religion, that his father saw fit to disinherit him unless he changed his views. He refused, and consequently was disinherited. The estate going to his brothers at his father's death."

This is verified by a "Cousin Edna McAdams" (Mrs. Harry of Lexington, KY who said she read in an Ohio history that Jacob Boulware was the son. He married Hannah Roodamar. They had 12 children.
