

Boulware Walls Cemetery

I have these photos on my Ancestry.Com site "Smith & Jones." Rex Boulware, a descendant of Benjamin J. Boulware's brother, Thomas Boulware, posted below comments about Boulware Cemetery & Benjamin Boulware's gravesite. Rex lives near Denton, Texas.

"What do think of this cemetery? My direct line, G-G-G Grandfather built this for the family. Do we have any family interested in keeping it up. I live in Texas but will contribute to its up keep if any family members live close enough to supervise its restoration. Rex Boulware 940-390-1820."

"For those who are interested there are several more graves marked in this cemetery with the same type of crypt. When I was there in summer of 2008 and found the cemetery some of the tops were askew and partially broken. I covered them back with the broken pieces but did not seal anything proper. Some of our ancestor's bones were visible through the broken spots and this was very disheartening. Folks we need to do something. Please make some suggestions as to how we can do this."
