down; the old high pulpit, entered by a short flight of steps, torn away and the present rostrum and pulpit desk took its place.

The Rev. Spratt White came to Catholic as pastor Sept. 6, 1874. He was followed in 1881 by the Rev. L. Henry Robinson, who died July 3, 1885, and was buried in the churchyard.

The Rev. J. A. Wilson next supplied the church until Mr. McLin was called in 1886. He served the congregation for nine years.

From 1895 until 1898, the Rev. J. G. Hall, a returned missionary from Mexico, labored in this field.

During the summer and fall of 1899, the Rev. Davidson Douglas supplied the church.

Another returned missionary, the Rev. C. G. Brown, of the Japan mission, was called in December of 1899 and continued as pastor for twelve years, until 1911.

On January 16, 1912, the Rev. Robert LeRoy Brown, began his pastorate which continued for ten years. He was followed by the Rev. B. H. Franklin, who ministered to this congregation for eight years.

The last and present pastor on this roll of honor is the Rev. A. M. McLaughlin, who came to the church in 1928 and is still (1933) ministering faithfully to the small congregation of worshippers in this historic church.

JOHN MUSCO BOULWARE (In Memoriam)

John Musco Boulware, ruling elder in Catholic Presbyterian Church, whose determined purpose and self sacrificing effort made possible the monument erected in 1933, had no ancestor whose name could be placed on the memorial stone, as his forebears settled in Virginia when they came to America.

However, his ancestor Muscoe Bowler served in the Revolutionary War there. In the Archives of Virginia, Volume entitled "List of Revolutionary soldiers of Virginia" his name is found. In Audited Account XXXII, 118, is stated the service of Muscoe Bowler as being in the militia and his service was paid in pounds and shillings. The Bowlers settled in the Tidewater region of Virginia as early as 1688. From the research of Colonel Richard McMaster we learn that this Bowler family was headed by William Bowler. From the Virginia magazine of history and biography there is a deed of the 4th of June, 1690, recorded in Essex by which William Bowler and Elizabeth his wife pass lands in Rappahannock, originally granted to Thomas Page and by him conveyed to William Bowler and his brother James Bowler, the 26th of February, 1688.

Some of the descendants of the Virginia Bowlers were inter-married with those of Salvator Muscoe, who lived in the same section of the state. The unusual given name Musco came down through every generation of the Bowler family in Virginia, in Fairfield County, South Carolina, and in Chester County, South Carolina. The parents of Muscoe Bowler (Virginia) were William Bowler and Mary Muscoe. There is recorded in Winnsboro, Fairfield County, South Carolina (Book N, p. 392), a deed under date of March 12, 1799, which is the first record of the Bowlers in that county. William Pickett sold 300 acres of land to Muscoe Bowler for 180 pounds, situate "on and between the Waters of the Wateree and Taylor's Creeks."

The Bowlers bought large tract of land in Fairfield County, built lovely homes, and died possessed of large estates. They had been Episcopalians in Virginia but found no church of that faith in Fairfield County, so joined the Mount Olivet (earlier Wateree) Presbyterian Church located near their homes. This Muscoe Bowler Senr., b. 1758, in Virginia, died 1825 in South Carolina, left a will (Apt. 39, File 613, Fairfield County, C.H.), drawn April 30, 1818, (no mention of recording given) in which he mentions the following heirs:

His wife, who was Nancy Pickett

Thomas Bowler who married Martha Pickett

Benj. Bowler who married Sarah Richmond
