

Lyeisha Tyquawanda Boyd

Lyeisha Tyquawanda Boyd celebrated her second birthday on March 8.

She is the daughter of Mecia L. Davis of Greenbrier.

Grandparents are Eloise Davis and John H. Davis, Jr. of Greenbrier.

Great-grandparents are Ella Mae Trapp and Andrew Trapp of Greenbrier.

She will celebrate her birthday at home with family and friends on March 13.

HERALD / NO. 3/11/1999

man defense. with a full court transition offense.

The ability to run and play a fast transition game, presented a fun game to watch for the fans.

Team play was emphasized as it showed in the balanced scoring attack with eight to ten players usually in the scoring column each game.

Playing guard for the Lady Griffins were Dwan Young, Ashley Wood, Stephanie Jackson, Dionna

tral softball pla

in baserunning. As a whole, we have more speed than any team in the conference. It's going to help us in the long run. The tourney at Richland Northeast helped us a lot. It prepared us for Clover."

The girls say they have responded well with Jackson and say she's making them better.

"I really like her a lot," short-stop Sherice Bush said. "She's really dedicated. She's teaching us how to play as a team. I've had problems making the throw to first. She taught me how to release the ball. It's working."

It's important to have good pitching in fast-pitch softball. So far the Lady Griffins have been relying on Martha Dove, a freshman.