Announcing The Publication Of

DESCENDANTS OF DANIEL STURGIS AND JEAN BRATTON
OF YORK COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA

This is a 20 year collection of the genealogy of a family that settled in York County, South Carolina before the Revolutionary War. The Sturgis family came from Maryland and settled on the West side of the Catawba River near Rock Hill in about 1760.

Many of these descendants still live in or near the York County Area. Part of this collection was taken from several books I have published over the past 25 years.

Contains the related families: Sturgis, Cox, Davis, Debo, Dodds, Ferguson, Jenkins, Lesslie, Neely, Schooley, Plexico and others.

LIMITED EDITION of 75 copies

Contains 67 pages, fully indexed, soft binding, available from the compiler: Max Perry, 2000 Harvard St., Midland, Texas 79701
