that will soon begin exporting products and importing profit. To find out, plug your company into the promising possibilities of exports by taking a moment to browse the South Carolina Export Consortium homepage at <http://SCEXPCon.Badm.SC.Edu>. Or to learn about the Consortium and our many partners, feel free to contact my office or your local chamber for more information.

South Carolina is already a world leader in the international business community. And I feel certain, by using the unprecedented resources of the Export Consortium, we can generate even greater wealth and more jobs at home by sending more of our craftsmanship with the quality stamp of "Made in South Carolina" abroad.

Bob Peeler is lieutenant governor of South Carolina. He is the first Republican elected to the office since Reconstruction. A small businessman from Gaffney, Peeler serves as honorary chairman of the South Carolina Export Consortium.
