

CAMERON

From: "The Clans & Tartans of Scotland," by Robert Bain: Cameron: Crest Badge: A sheaf of five arrows tied with a band, gules, Old Motto: Ma righ's mo dhuchaich (For king and country), Gaelic Name: Camshron (origin of name: Camshron from Gaelic com (wry) and Stron (nose), wry-nose.) War Cry: Chlanna nan con thigibh a so's gheibh sibh feoil (Sons of the hounds come here and get flesh). Pipe Music: Piobaireachd Dhomuill Duibh.

Cameron of Lochiel: same badge as Cameron. same pipe music, same war cry. Plant Badge: Oak, Crowberry.

The history of the Camerons of Lochiel is inseparably bound up with the history of the clan, as witness the references in the preceding, but in 1528, the lands of the "Captain of Clan Cameron" were erected into the barony of Lochiel by a charter granted by King James V in which the "Captain" is for the first time described as "of Lochiel".

During the time of Sir Ewen, 17th of Lochiel, the castle of Achnacarry was built, and has remained the home of the Camerons of Lochiel until the present day, although the original house was destroyed in 1746, and the present castle was not finished until about 1837. Sir Ewen, who built the original mansion, was the celebrated chief of the clan who waged war against the troops of Cromwell. In the end the Camerons were allowed to retain their arms on their promise to live peaceably, and "no oath was required of Lochiel but his word of honour."

Donald, 19th of Lochiel, "the Gentle Lochiel" whose bravery and heroism was amply proved during the '45, constantly endeavoured to ameliorate the horrors of war as far as possible. He is said to have saved the city of Glasgow from being pillaged during its occupation by the Jacobite army in 1745.

In 1796 Donald, 22nd chief was by decree of Lyon Court established as chief of the family of Lochiel and as chief of Clan Cameron.

Cameron of Erracht: Regimental Cap Badge: Within a wreath of thistle, the image of St. Andrew holding before him his cross. Gaelic Name: shown on Badge. The Queen's own Cameron Highlanders wear this tartan, which according to regimental tradition was designed by the mother of the founder of the regiment, although widely worn, it is not a Clan Tartan. The progenitor of the Camerons of Erracht was Ewen, son of Ewen, Chief of the Clan Cameron, by his second wife, Marjory Mackintosh. In the first half of the 16th century. At the Jacobite Rising in 1745, Cameron of Erracht supported Prince Charles and was second in command of the Clan Cameron.

Alan Cameron of Erracht, who was born c. 1753, served in America and after his return home, he raised the original 79th Regiment, Cameron Highlanders in 1793. He was appointed Lieut. Col. Commandant and commanded the reg. throughout the Flanders Campaign of 1794-95. In 1799 the reg. was disbanded and many of the men joined The Black Watch. etc. etc.

The Clan Cameron described as "fiercer than fierceness itself" are reputed to be one of the ancient clans of Scotland, and for centuries associated with Lochaber. It consisted originally of three branches, the MacMartins of Letterfinlay, the MacGillonics of Strone, and the MacSorlies of Glen Nevis. The Camerons of Locheil descended from the Strone branch are said to have obtained their lands and the chiefship of the clan through intermarriage with the Letterfinlay branch. For a time the clan were subject to the Lords of the Isles and John assisted Donald, Lord of the Isles at the battle of Harlaw in 1411. Later, however the Camerons withdrew from their association with their powerful allies and a long period of feuds followed.

A notable chief was Sir Ewen of Locheil, born in 1629, who was received in London by King Charles II in 1660, and was knighted in 1680. He fought at Killiecrankie ten years later. The Camerons were always strong adherents of the Stuarts, and Sir Ewen never submitted to Cromwell. When too old for military service, Sir Ewen, in 1715, sent the clan under his son, to help the Earl of Mar. Sir Ewen's grandson Donald, known as "the Gentle Locheil," joined Prince Charles in 1745, and he will ever be honoured as one of the outstanding personalities of the '45. He escaped to France and died there in 1748. The family estates were forfeited, but on their restoration under the General Act of Amnesty of 1784, the Gentle Locheil's grandson, Donald, 22nd chief resumed possession. Auchnacarry Castle is the home of the chief.

From "A Short History of Scotland" by R. L. Mackie: p. 244-45: (ca 1745) Prince Charlie's army's standard raised in Glenfinnan, before a small army of MacDonalds and Camerons. etc. during battle, after darkness had fallen, the Camerons made a detour to the south of the city (Edinburgh) and crept in silently, etc..P. 242: Lochiel, head of Clan Cameron, one of the most faithful supporters of the exiled Stuarts, made up his mind to see the Prince and convince him that it was his duty to abandon the enterprise and go back to France. His brother, knowing his romantic and chivalrous disposition, advised him not to venture into the Prince's presence, but to carry on the debate by letter. Lochiel refused to take his advice, was granted an interview with the Prince, and explained to him why the expedition was certain to fail. Prince was determined., so Lochiel decided he and his followers would go with him. risking all, knowing they had no hope of success. P. 251: Prince hid for a time in a cave occupied by 7 robbers, til he was able to make his way to "Cluny's Cage", a hut hidden in a tangle of brushwood on the side of Ben Alder, where he dwelt some time with Macpherson of Cluny, the owner of the cage and Cameron of Lochiel. Prince escaped to France Sept. 1746. P. 182: 1680, some of the Coverters headed by Richard Cameron the preacher, rode into Sanquhar and at the market cross declared war against the King and all who supported him.Grim, unlovable men these Cameronians must have been, immovable in their opinions, certain that they were right and that the rest of the world was hopelessly wrong. Presbyterians....would not accept a compromise from a King who had not taken the Covenant. Wanted everyone, England & Scotland, to be Presbyterian. P. 184: The Cameronians formed a regular regiment, fought the Highlanders who outnumbered them 4 to 1, P. 261: the Reformed Presbyterians were the descendants of the Cameronians. 1876.

FAIRFIELD CAMERONS:

1790 Census:

James Cameron: 1 male over 16, 2 females

John Cameron: 2 males over 16, 2 females (next to Francis Kirkland, Wm. Robertson, Daniel McCoy).

Andrew Cameron: 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 3 females (next to James Rabb, not far from above John, not too far from John Richeson and John Gregg)

Another James Cameron: 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 3 females, 1 slave.

Simon Cameron (not far from above James) 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 4 females, near Wm. Robinson, Robert Phillips, Jun., Jean Phillips (2 males over 16, 1 female).

Thomas Cameron, Sr.: 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 4 females

Thomas Cameron, Jr.: 1 male over 16, 1 female.

Joseph Cameron: 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 2 females.

Possible heirs to Jean Jane Cameron Richardson: John Simon, possibly Thomas,

Andrew has a daughter named Jean, but doesn't say her married name, Richardson, which she was by the time of Andrew's death. Also, the other daughters of Andrew do not match with the other heirs of Archibald Phillips, and Andrew's wife's name was Jenner, apparently not a nickname for Jean, because he also has a daughter named Jennet.

From "Fairfield Co. Marriages, 1775-1879" implied in Fairfield Co., S.C. Probate Records by Barbara R. Langdon: Camerons married: Blair, Harrison, Peaster, Beard, Dodds, Yongue, Camble, Hall, Simonton, Laney, McEwen, McCormick.

(no date) Camerons bought from John Stewart estate.

1811, Dec. 27 & 28: Heirs, "cousins" of Archibald Phillips, who died intestate in bayou Beut Parish, Rapides Territory of Orleans with no wife, or offspring, appt. James Rogers their power of attorney, this done in 2 documents, 1st doc. is from John and Jean Jane Richardson of "Beauford Dist., S.C." Jane is the heir, by right of being daughter of Jean Phillips, sister of Archibald's father, Robert Phillips. Jean Phillips married name not stated, but she must be a Cameron, because of second document, other cousins who also appoint Rogers as p.o.a.: James & Jennet Cameron, Rebecca Dodd ("widow of John"), Margaret (Cameron) and Wm. Telford, Isabella (Cameron) & Robert Bryson, also mentioned, but did not sign, were Eleanor and Adam Blair. (Since marriage record shows Dodd married a Cameron, dau. of Andrew Cameron, this probably means our gr. gr. grandmother Jane Richardson was also a daughter of Andrew Cameron, and Jean Phillips, however, this does not prove out.)

Estate records in Fairfield Co. Museum: Archibald Phillips estate admin. was James Rogers, appraisement was done by Pamck and James (dau. of) and Archibald Paul

On Bond (dated 10-1-1812) was James Rogers, James Cameron, and Robert Bryson. Wit: William Telford (his mark). (James Cameron signature, and Robert Bryson signed his name as such- I have copy of document)

Deed bk U, p. 205, Aug. 16, 1811: James and Mary Rogers deeded to Robert Bryson also of Fairf. 136 acres, being part of a 350 acre tract orig. granted to James Dods in March 1768, on a branch of Jackson's Creek, bdd by Samuel Dods, wit: David Patton, James Sloan. Deed which follows this is James Rogers to William Telford, 50 acres, part of orig. to said James Rogers in 1797, on waters of Dumpers Creek, bdd by James Rogers, James Chadney, Robert Bryson, wit: David Patton, Robert Phillips, Jan 9, 1812.

next deed, P. 207: Rebecca Dods, James Rogers, Archibald Paul (Paul), sold to Robt Bryson, 193 acres part of 450 acres orig. granted Samuel Dods March 2, 1768, on a br. of Jacksons Creek, bdd by Robert Elison, Samuel Dods, James Dods and Bryson (looks like Bayson), Aug. 16, 1811, signed Rebeca Dods, James Rogers, Archibald Paul, exs of the estate of James? (Must be John) Dods, wit: James Sloan and David Patton.

Will of John Dods, 3-5-1807: wife Rebeckah got 1/5 of estate, remainder divided equally among his children, plantation to be appraised. Rebeckah, Archibald Paul and James Rogers named execs, wit: James Dods, Robert Bryson, Wm. Telford. Proved 4-14-1807. Will Bk 5, p. 186 (the above Robert is Bryson who married Cameron's(?) daughter, Isabella, and Wm. Telford must be Wm. Telford, who married ? Cameron's daughter, Margaret.)

Therefore, this would mean his wife's brothers-in-law were this man's witnesses.

Question: What relationship is James Rogers to all these people?

Note: Rev. James Rogers, born 1768 in County Monaghan, Ireland, died 8-21-1830 in Fairfield, S.C. at age 62, was minister of Ebenezer Presbyterian Church (old brick church) for 40 years. Also buried at Ebenezer are: Mrs. Celia Rogers, died 9-21-1818 age 30 (b. 1788) and Mrs. Jane Wilson Rogers, died 7-30-1803, age 22 (born 1778), and Mrs. Martha Fullerton Rogers, died 8-20-1827 at age 30 yrs, 2 mos, 25 days, (born 1797). Any one or all of these women could have been spouses of Rev. James Rogers.

No Camerons or Richardsons found marked in this cemetery.

(Note that the Young Yongsues came from Antrim Co., Ireland acc. to Andrew Young's tombstone in Fairf. Andrew born 1785, others born 1793 in Ireland)
