

APPENDIX D

Genealogical notes -- Carroll Family

Extracts from original MS. of the pedigree of the Carroll family, Doughoregan Manor; confirmed collaterally by the official genealogy in the "Linea Antiqua" in Dublin Castle (See chart).

"The original of the foregoing genealogies of the O'Carrolls was brought by Charles Carroll into Maryland in a little Irish MS. book which he strictly charged his wife to deliver to me, his son Charles, and which when I was at Paris in the year, 1757, I got translated into English, as will appear by the Irish and English, in opposite pages, from page 1 to page 65; the original little Irish MS. book being still in my possession. The above Charles was second son of Daniel Carroll, Esq., of Litterluna, in the King's County, in Ireland. In some measure to corroborate the authenticity of the foregoing genealogies, the following are here added, which were lately transmitted to me from Ireland, viz.: Anno, 1765, by Anthony Carroll, son of Daniel, son of Anthony Carroll, of Lisheenboy, in the county of Tipperary, which Anthony of Lisheenboy was elder brother of Charles, the first settler in Maryland, and it likewise evidences the faithfulness of the foregoing translation." (Here follows an authentic and exact genealogy of the family of the O'Carrolls of Litter and Adamstown -- Litterluna and Cadamstown, or Baile-mic-Adam -- in the King's County Kingdom of Ireland).

The above is given as quoted in "Stemmata Carrollana", being the true version of the Pedigree of Carroll of Carrollton and correcting that erroneously traced by Sir William Betham, late Ulster King-of-arms." (See chart.)

Charles Carroll of Carrollton no doubt brought over for his father, this genealogy furnished by Anthony Carroll, on his return to America in 1765.

It will be seen that Anthony Carroll is here spoken of by Charles Carroll of Annapolis as son of Daniel, son of Anthony Carroll of Lisheenboy, County of Tipperary. By referring to the genealogy given by Anthony, it is found that Anthony of Lisheenboy, son of Daniel, had beside his eldest son, Daniel, three other sons, Michael, James, and Charles. According to the chart given in this book, James was a Captain in Lord Dongan's Regiment of Dragoons, from whom descend Carrolls of Dublin and New York. Who then was James Carroll of Ann Arundel, Maryland, apparently from Tipperary County, Ireland, who made his will in 1728? (See Appendix.) He was undoubtedly a relative of Charles Carroll, brother of Anthony of Lisheenboy. (See his will and will of Charles Carroll the Immigrant.) James mentions in his will two brothers, Daniel and Michael; he does not mention any brother Charles. But Charles, son of Anthony of Lisheenboy, died in 1724, therefore, of course, would not be mentioned in his brother's will. James makes Anthony Carroll, only son of his brother Daniel, his heir-at-law, and apparently was himself unmarried and childless.

Anthony Carroll, grandson of Anthony of Lisheenboy, speaks in his letters to Charles Carroll of Annapolis, of his uncle Michael, who died in 1762. He mentions no brothers of his own and was apparently an only son. His mother and sisters were living in 1763 as were children of Michael. In James Carroll's will, he speaks of his nephews, sons of his brother Michael, James, Dominick, Anthony and Daniel. This Anthony may have been the Anthony Carroll mentioned as one of the witnesses to James Carroll's Will.

In the Will of John Carroll of Ann Arundel County May 1st 1720, (Register of Wills office, Annapolis), both "Mr. James Carroll of Ann Arundel County" and "Mr. Dominick Carroll of Ann Arundel County, son of Michael Carroll of the Kingdom of Ireland, gentleman," are mentioned. Were not Dominick and his brothers the sons of Anthony's "uncle Michael?" Of these Carrolls, the descendants alone of Dominick have been traced, if we may assume that the latter is identical with Dominick Carroll of Cecil County, who married Mary, daughter of Major Nicholas Sewall, widow of ---- Lowe, Sept. 3rd 1725. She married thirdly William Frisby, and fourthly a gentleman named Baldwin. (Chancery suits, Land office.) Dominick and Mary Carroll had five daughters, Mary, Julian, or Julianna, Eleanor, Susanna and Anastasia. Mary born April 15th 1727 married Captain Michael Earle of Swan Harbor, and died childless, 1787. Julianna, born Jan. 3rd 1728, married Edward Tilghman 25th April 1759. Eleanor, born 23rd of March 1730, married James Earle. Susanna born 30th of June 1733. (Hanson's "Old Kent," and G. G. Eaton, genealogist, Washington.)

James Carroll, living in Somerset County in the 1st half of the 18th century may have been the son of Michael Carroll, and brother of Dominick. He married Eleanor Van Swearingen, daughter of Garrett Van Swearingen of Holland, and his second wife Mary Smith of St. Mary's County, where Van Swearingen was then living. Garrett Van Swearingen emigrated from Holland to Delaware 1656, and from Delaware to Maryland about 1669. (Judge H. N. Goldsborough, and "The Tiernan Family in Maryland"). The son of James Carroll and Eleanor Van Swearingen, Henry James Carroll, married a Miss King of Somerset County, and they were the parents of Thomas King Carroll, Governor of Maryland, 1830.

Joanna Carroll, sister of James, Daniel and Michael Carroll married Richard Croxall, and though the Croxall name is nearly extinct, many of the descendants of Joanna Carroll Croxall are living, and are socially prominent at the present day. Among them may be mentioned the artist R. Le Grand Johnston, Washington D. C. and Mrs. Fielder C. Slingluff of Baltimore, Maryland.

Carroll Arms

Ar, two lions combatant gu, supporting a sword ppr. in pale hilted and pommelled or. Crest: On a stump of an oak sprouting new branches ppr. a hawk rising of the last belled or. Motto: Ubicunque cum libertate.

On the old bookplate of Charles Carroll the Immigrant, the hawk in the crest is resting with folded wings, and as a symbol of the flight of the family to America, he is represented later with his wings outspread, or rising to wing his way across the Atlantic. "A hawk rising" is the crest on the bookplate of Charles Carroll of Annapolis.

All of the oldest silverplate at "Doughoregan Manor" has the older crest upon it, and the more recent silver has the rising hawk. In the Maryland Gazette, published at Annapolis, there is the following advertisement, under date of November 9th, 1749: "Lost or stolen from the dwelling house of Charles Carroll Esq: in the city of Annapolis, about ten days ago, one old silver mug, holding above half a pint; with a coat of arms engraved thereon, being a sword erect, between two Lyons rampant. Likewise three silver spoons, with a crest engraved on each, being a Falcon, with wings expanded, standing on a stump having a branch on each side. (A reward of £ 5 offered).

Charles Carroll".

In Burke's "General Armory" the Carroll Arms of Ireland are given as follows:

Ar, two lions combatant gu, supporting a sword or hilt and pomel or. Crest: On the stump of an oak, sprouting new branches ppr. a hawk of the last belled or.

Carroll, as borne by Henry Carroll of Ballynure, Co. Wicklow, 1828, the same with motto, In fide et in bello forte.

Charles Carroll the founder of the Maryland family of "Carrolls of Carrollton", changed the crest and motto, on coming to America.

Darnall Family, of London and Hertfordshire, England, and of the "Woodyard", Prince George's Co., Maryland.

Arms: Argent, on a bend two fleurs de luce sable, between three leopards faces or.

Henry¹ Darnall of Birels-Place, Essenden, Herts, Esq., Counsellor of Law, Grey's Inn, b. 1564, d. 1607. (Armorial tombstone at Essenden, Herts, with list of his children). He had five sons, John², Henry², Sir Thomas², Philip², and Ralph². The fourth son, Philip², barrister of London, m. Mary ----. His portrait and that of his wife are at "Poplar Hill", Maryland. John³, youngest son of Philip², and Mary Darnall, was Secretary to Lord Baltimore, and died in 1684. He married Susannah, daughter of Richard Bennett, Esq. and his wife Henrietta Maria Neale. She married secondly, Henry Lowe, nephew of Lady Baltimore. Henry³, eldest son of Philip² and Mary Darnall, "Collector of the Port of St. Mary's", came to the Province of Maryland in 1672, was commissioned Justice of the Peace in 1681. He was Colonel of Horse, Agent of the Lord Proprietor, and at one time Deputy Governor of Maryland. His estates were: "Portland Manor" Ann Arundel Co., and "The Woodyard", Prince George's Co., also "The Girls Portion" near Georgetown and "My Lord's Kindness". He died in 1711. Col. Henry³ Darnall married twice, it is said, but of his first wife nothing is known. His second wife was Elinor, daughter of Richard Hatton and widow of Col. Thomas Brooke, of "Brookfield", Calvert Co. The will of Elinor Hatton (Brooke), Darnall was probated February 21st, 1724. The children of Henry³ and Elinor Darnall were Philip⁴, Henry⁴, Mary⁴, Anne⁴, Elizabeth⁴. Philip⁴ Darnall married Elinor Brooke and died in 1705, leaving a son, Henry⁵ Darnall of "Portland Manor" who married Elizabeth Lowe. Mary⁴ Darnall, b. 1678, married February 14th 1693, Charles Carroll, the Immigrant. Anne⁴ Darnall married Clement Hill in 1696, and Elizabeth⁴ Darnall married Edward Digges. Henry⁴ Darnall of "The Woodyard", born 1682, married, Anne, daughter of Col. William Digges and his wife Elizabeth Sewall of Mattapony. He sold "The Woodyard" in 1728, to pay a debt. The children of Henry⁴ Darnall and Anne Digges were Henry⁵, Elinor⁵, John⁵, and Mary⁵. Elinor⁵ Darnall married 1727-28, Daniel Carroll of Upper Marlboro', Prince George's Co., Md., (son of Kean Carroll, native of Ireland). Mrs. Elinor Darnall Carroll d. May 23, 1796, in her 93rd year. Daniel and Elinor Darnall Carroll were the parents of Daniel Carroll, statesman, and Archbishop John Carroll. John⁵ Darnall lived in Frederick Co. Md., and his will was probated 1768.

Henry⁵ Darnall of "Poplar Hill" (then called "My Lord's Kindness",) which place was conveyed to him by his father in 1729, was born in 1703, was Attorney General of the Province 1754, was at Bruges, Flanders in 1771, and was living in 1788. He married Anne, daughter of -----Talbot, Esq., "niece and ward to George, 14th Earl of Shrewsbury", (see Land Office Records). The children of Henry⁵ and Anne Talbot Darnall were Robert⁶, Henry⁶, John⁶, Katharine⁶, Anne⁶ and a daughter who married Nicholas Sewall of St. Mary's Co. Robert⁶ Darnall of "Poplar Hill", married twice but died childless, leaving "Poplar Hill" to his nephew Robert Sewall. Henry⁶ Darnall married Rachel, daughter of Henry Brooke, and these were the parents of Mary Darnall, wife of Charles Carroll of Carrollton. John⁶ Darnall lived in Culpeper Co., Virginia, and died in 1819. He has descendants living in Kentucky and Arkansas. Katherine⁶ Darnall married a Digges. (Condensed from chart pedigree prepared by Mrs. Vernon Dorsey, Genealogist, Washington, D. C.)

There was a relationship between the Calverts and Darnalls and in a Letter-Book extant of Charles Calvert's (this was the 3d Lord Baltimore) he writes from "Maryland, 10th July, 1697", to "Mrs. Mary Darnall, at the Lady Summersetts house near Herne Stile, In London", calling her his "Cosen Darnall". He thanks her for several letters, and for her "trouble and pains" in letting him know how his children were. Mrs. Darnall seems to have charge of Lord Baltimore's children, as he and his wife thank her, in this letter for her great kindness to their children, begging its continuance, and that she will write by all opportunities. He is sorry to hear of her husband's indisposition, and will send him some money; "as a small token of my kindness to yourself". Lady Summersett was Charles Calvert's aunt, and Mrs. Mary Darnall who was staying with her, was the wife of Philip Darnall, -- evidently the Philip² Darnall of the above pedigree. "The Calvert Papers", Number One, p. 310. (Publications of the Maryland Historical Society).
