Paul,
Passing this on to the genealogy researchers upstairs. We have recently had some inquiries on Chapman and can also perhaps connect you with the individuals who were seeking Chapman family information. Interesting that Baughman may have been Bookman as there is a Bookman Loop Road in the SW part of county. I know we have information on that family also. Have you also seen it as Buchman and other German variations? Just across the Broad River is an area called the Dutch (Deutsch) Fork where many German settlers came in the 1700s. The SW area of Fairfield had many families who came from those migrations settling and migrating into this county. If you are also following the earlier generations of Michael Joseph, you might want to contact the Newberry County Genealogy Chapter, Lexington County, and Dutch Fork Gen. Chapters. I believe they have active websites. Chapmans were also in Newberry early. In the meanwhile, Eddie Killian or one of the volunteers can start looking for the specific individuals. You might want to relay to them what sources you have already checked, such as Ancestry.com, census records, etc.

Pelham:

Do you happen to have anything there on:

Michael Joseph Baughman (name could have been Bookman at one time)? Michael Joseph Baughman was born on 27 April 1826 in Fairfield County, South Carolina, and died on 18 November 1886 in Farmerville, Union Parish, Louisiana. He married Emeline Chapman in Fairfield County, South Carolina, on 29 January 1852.

Also, do you have anything there on the Chapmans?

Emeline Chapman (born: 25 July 1835, Fairfield County, South Carolina died: 16 February 1886, Farmerville, Union Parish, Louisiana). Emeline Chapman's parents were: William Chapman (born: 6 January 1808 in Fairfield County, South Carolina and died about 1849 in Fairfield County, South Carolina) and Mary Hill (1817-1895).

Thanks,
