Acknowledgments

I gratefully acknowledge the research and writings of all the authors cited in the Sources section of this book. Their talent and dedication in transcribing and compiling the old original records for the counties of North Carolina is worthy of the highest praise. They have made obscure, difficult-to-read records into published and indexed books that have made it possible for me to undertake the "all Clines in North Carolina" scope of research contained in this book.

The several published family histories cited in the Sources section have also been vital to my research. In particular, the Sebastian Cline family history started by Ciscero Cline in 1915 and augmented by John M. Ballard and George M. Ballard has been invaluable as a source for identifying the various branches of the Sebastian Cline family. Although the research documented in this book leads to some significant modification to the Ciscero Cline history of the Sebastian Cline family lineage, my research benefited greatly from that family "road map".

I thank my wife, Laura, for her encouragement and her contributions to this project. She performed some of this research starting in the late 1960s and then served as my editor and "devil's advocate" during the last four years of research and writing. This book would not have happened without Laura's involvement.

Finally, both Laura and I thank our two sons, Phillip and Michael, for their invaluable "technical assistance" in formatting and graphics. The presentation of the research benefits greatly from their assistance.

Introduction

Scope of this Book

The original intent of this research was to determine the parents and earlier lineage of my ancestor, David Cline of Rutherford county, who was born in 1766. It was soon apparent that no direct proof of his lineage exists in the records. The only available approach was to identify all Clines living in that area of North Carolina at that time and then to identify David Cline's father by a process of elimination. Fortunately, there were sufficient records for all the other nearby contemporary Clines, in Lincoln county, so that this process of elimination was effective.

The selected approach has been successful. However, to add more confidence in the conclusions reached for the Rutherford and Lincoln county area Clines, it was necessary to identify all other contemporary Clines elsewhere in North Carolina to eliminate each of them as a possible father of the subject David Cline. This then led to an expanding interest (actually perhaps an obsession!) in the 18th century Cline families more generally in the United States and their ancestors in Europe. Thus, the original project ended up quite expanded in scope, as reflected in the topics covered in this book.

Chapter 1 identifies 75 adult Clines appearing in the Pennsylvania records prior to 1750 and provides the European origins for 29 of them. Among these are three brothers Jacob, Sebastian and Michael Cline who are the first Clines to settle in North Carolina. They are sons of Moritz Klein of Postorff, Alsace. They came to North Carolina from Pennsylvania soon after 1750. They had previously emigrated from the Alsace region of Europe after 1738. Chapter 1 traces their European ancestry back four generations to the 16th century.

Another 40 adult Kleins arrived in Pennsylvania from Europe between 1750 and 1755, and many second-generation Clines are born in Pennsylvania by this time. Many of these are enumerated in Chapter 1 with the focus on identifying the other Cline families who migrated to North Carolina. Four other Kleins are identified who settle in North Carolina in the 1760-1780 time-period – Peter, Christopher and brothers Valentine and Martin Klein. Their European ancestry was not researched.

All the Clines in North Carolina from 1750-1860 have been identified and placed into family groups, using the data accumulated as described in the Methodology portion of this Introduction section. All except three of these Clines are descended from the original seven Clines. The results are discussed at length in Chapters 2 – 5.

In addition, the U.S. census data for 1790-1850 were analyzed to determine the number and location of all U.S. Cline families. This data is summarized at the conclusion of this Introduction section. The data shows the number of Cline households by state for each of the seven censuses during the 1790-1850 period. The 1850 census data are then analyzed in more detail to determine the place of birth for each of the Cline heads of household, as well as for the Clines residing in non-Cline households, throughout the U.S. From this 1850 census data, all households outside of North Carolina containing North Carolina-born Clines were identified and are included in Appendix H of this book. Appendix H contains 50 Cline entries in 12 states. Forty-two of these 50 are recognized as descendants of the original seven North Carolina Cline families. The other eight are probably from families that did not stay in North Carolina long enough to leave an enduring record.

Synopsis of Findings

There are three distinct original Cline families in the area that would become current-day Catawba, Lincoln and Cleveland counties. The male heirs of two of these – the families of the brothers Valentine Cline and Martin Cline – had left North Carolina by 1830. All remaining Cline surnames in this area up through 1860 are descendants of the Sebastian Cline family. These three families and their descendants are discussed in Chapter 2.

There are two distinct original Cline families in the area that became Cabarrus county and in the adjacent southern part of Rowan county. All subsequent Clines in this area (except for Jacob Cline – an 1833 Bavarian immigrant) are descendants of these original Jacob Cline and Michael Cline families. Jacob and Michael are brothers of Sebastian Cline of Lincoln/Catawba county. These families are discussed in Chapter 3.

There is one original Cline family, the Peter Cline family, in northern Rowan county and later also in the Stokes county area. The later Clines in this region are all believed to be descendants of Peter Cline, but this cannot be proved. This family group is discussed in Chapter 4.

There is only one other original Cline family, the family of Christopher Cline, in first the Stokes county (Moravian settlement) area and later in Guilford county. Christopher's descendants left the state of North Carolina by 1830. Christopher himself moved into Lincoln county around 1820 and apparently died there prior to 1830. Christopher and his descendants are discussed in Chapter 5.

The seven original North Carolina Cline families belong to only four European immigrant families. Valentine and Martin Cline are sons of Andrew Klein of Pennsylvania. Peter and Christopher Cline are not related to any of the other Clines in North Carolina. Jacob, Sebastian and Michael Cline are sons of Moritz Klein.

In 1850, there are 82 households containing Clines in the state of North Carolina:

47 households belong to descendants of Sebastian Cline.
13 households belong to descendants of Jacob Cline.
5 households belong to descendants of Michael Cline.

Thus, this one extended family accounts for 80% of the Clines in North Carolina in 1850. Descendants of Peter Cline account for 15 of the remaining 17 Cline households.

Another 11 Cline households of Boston Cline descendants are found in six other states in 1850. Another eight households of Jacob Cline descendants and five households of Michael Cline descendants are found in five other states in 1850.

By 1860, the descendants of Moritz Klein's sons Jacob, Sebastian and Michael account for 86 of the 100 households containing Clines in North Carolina. Descendants of Peter Cline account for 12 of the remaining 14 Cline households.

Data Sources and Methodology Utilized

All Cline households in each North Carolina census from 1790-1860 are reproduced in Appendices A-G and I. The entries are organized by family group within each county. The Comments column in these appendices is used to identify the members of each household, based on the accumulated knowledge from my research, even though such household members are not named in the census prior to 1850.

The methodology applied to the search for Cline records in the North Carolina counties was to first search all published books of records for each county. These books typically start with the earliest surviving records and progress forward in time, presenting either abstracts or reprints of all surviving court records, land records, wills and estate records, church records, marriage records or tax records. The completeness of these various sources is normally limited only by the number of records that survived. The time-periods covered by these sources are from the earliest surviving records to the latest records which the many dedicated authors have had the perseverance to research.

In addition to the above sources the original surviving land records and wills/estate records and selected original court records for all the counties of interest were researched at the North Carolina State Archives both to clarify certain items and to extend the time scope of the published sources. Also, selected sources at the state level for North Carolina and other states and at the United States National Archives were researched to find pertinent data for some Clines who originated in North Carolina and migrated elsewhere.

The results of all of this research is documented in Appendices J through N and in the Sources (bibliography) section which lists all sources found which contain Cline records. The four Appendices J through M organize the data from all the Cline records by the four geographic areas (county or counties) where the original seven North Carolina Cline families settled. Within the appendix for each geographic area, a sub-organization by family group and lineage is then presented to support the family lineage discussions in Chapters 2-5. The data for each individual is displayed in chronological order.

In the Appendices any data shown within brackets [ ] are my interpretative remarks, not part of the data in the record cited. Otherwise, the data entered are abstracts of the content of the cited records. The names of persons are spelled as they appear in each cited record. On a data sheet for any given subject person, the names of other Clines are in bold type to highlight the associated relatives.

The corresponding data for Clines in Pennsylvania and Europe are incorporated within Chapter 1, rather than in an appendix. The bibliography for the Chapter 1 data is included in the Sources section.

The methodology described above has resulted in the accumulation of all surviving North Carolina Cline records from the time of the first Cline arrivals in North Carolina about 1755 up through approximately 1820. This latter date varies for some counties with respect to court records, which if not available in abstract form were not researched – see footnotes in Sources section. This data taken together with the census data has enabled the identification of all adults with the Cline surname in North Carolina in this early time-period. When this complete data through 1820 is combined with the several Cline family history sources and the other selected data accumulated for the later 1820-1860 time-period, it is possible to determine the various Cline family lineage for almost all the Clines resident in North Carolina from 1750 through 1860.

Since all the data upon which these determinations rely are documented herein, the interested user of this book can use this included data base as a starting point for tracing later Cline descendants forward into the 20th century. It is my belief that all the data that still exists for the Clines prior to about 1820 in North Carolina (certainly prior to 1800) is now known and one must determine the family relationships for those older generations as best as one can from this existing data. My conclusions from this data, which is contained in Appendices A-N, are discussed at length in Chapters 2 through 5.

The family lineages determined herein are displayed in Chapters 2 through 5 utilizing a five-digit family numbering scheme, i.e. 1.2.3.4.5. The first digit is assigned to the European parent of an immigrant Cline. The second digit is assigned, in order of birth sequence, to the Cline immigrant and his siblings. The third digit is assigned to the children of these Cline immigrants, and so on. This book uses at most five digits of the identifiers to designate the first four generations of a Cline family in America. A fifth generation is listed but not numbered.

In describing the family lineage the terms "probable" and "possible" are used to indicate the degree of uncertainty in family relationship that may exist when no firm proof of relationship exists. "Possible" is defined as a postulated relationship supported by a few facts, but is speculative since other interpretations are perhaps equally possible. "Probable" is defined as a postulated relationship supported by multiple facts that make it the most likely relationship. If one of these two terms is not used, then the family relationship is either (1) based on firm proof such as data in a will, estate settlement, land record, church record or other record that explicitly cites the relationship; or (2) based on a documented family history source and/or substantiated by many facts that make the relationship almost certain.

Distribution of Cline Families in North Carolina

The North Carolina census data show that the Cline families resided only in the western half of the state. This is confirmed by searching published abstracted records from all the North Carolina counties. More specifically, records for Clines can be found only in the original old counties of Anson and Rowan (and their subsequent derivative counties) and to a much lesser extent in Orange county and its derivative, Guilford county. Figure 1 shows the evolution of county formation in North Carolina and highlights the western counties where the Clines lived.

Figure 2 shows both the time period of Cline residence in a given county and the predecessor county (or counties) of that county. This is useful for understanding why and when a given Cline in the data Appendices A-M can have records in several counties as the years progress and yet maintain perhaps the same residence. Thus, for example, a Cline in Cabarrus county after 1792 is previously found in Mecklenburg county between 1762-1791 and perhaps in Anson county between 1750-1761 since that is the order of formation of those counties.

If the time line for a county in Figure 2 terminates at the year of an indicated newly derived county formation, then the resident Clines were wholly within the area that formed the new county and therefore are traced only in that new county after that date. If the time line for a county terminates at a date not associated with formation of a newly derived county, then that termination date indicates the year that known Cline residence in that county ceased. Note that many counties of interest were derived from Rowan county including Burke county in 1777, a portion of which was ceded to Lincoln county in 1782. Subsequently all the farther west counties of interest (Buncombe, Haywood, Macon, Caldwell, Cherokee, and Alexander) were derived from Burke county.

Census Trends for Cline Families in the U.S., 1790-1850

The number of adult Clines in America grew from 75 in Pennsylvania by 1750, as identified in Chapter 1, to 216 heads of household that are identified in the entire U. S. census in 1790. Their numbers continued to swell, growing at a rate of about 45% for each successive census through 1840 due to continuing immigration and a high birth rate. The average family size was about seven in 1790. Figure 3 shows the number of Cline heads of household identified in each of those censuses.

Prior to the 1850 census, only the head of household was named, and the other household members were enumerated by gender and age group. The early census data for several states is incomplete since the census records were lost or destroyed. Most notably, the New Jersey census records are not available prior to 1830 and the Virginia census records prior to 1810 are not available. Similarly, the Tennessee and Georgia censuses prior to 1820 did not survive. Equivalent data has been reconstructed from tax lists and is shown for Georgia and New Jersey in 1790 and for Tennessee in 1800-1810.

The Clines identified in the data in Figure 3 used various spellings of the name, but all are included. The principal spellings are the group with first letters Kl with three main variants (Kline, Klein and Klyne) of the original German Klein. The other group are those with the first letters Cl (Cline or Clyne), who in most cases have had their original Klein spelling altered in the records by the English oriented record keepers.

An initial residence in Pennsylvania for most of the Clines is strongly evidenced in the Figure 3 data, which shows two-thirds of all Clines were in Pennsylvania in 1790-1800. By 1850, the Pennsylvania proportion of all Clines had fallen to about one-third as the newer immigrants and the younger generation sought better opportunities and more land in the western frontier states. Prior to 1820, most of the Clines were in the mid-Atlantic states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina. No Clines are found in the District of Columbia census data through 1850 and none were in the Minnesota territory in 1850.

The more than doubling of the number of Clines from 1840 to 1850 was due to two factors. There was accelerating immigration during the 1840s due to poor conditions in Europe. Also, the 1850 census lists all members of a household by name, so many Clines appear who were not heads of household but were living with another family or boarding in a hotel or school. The 1850 entries in Figure 3 include these additional non-head of household Clines who were not visible in earlier censuses. In order to preserve a comparable "family count" basis to the earlier censuses, Figure 3 entries do not include any family members in a Cline household, even though they are now visible in the 1850 census.

A close study of the 1850 census data shows that the above two factors are responsible for about 1450 Clines who are included in the 1850 census number. Thus, if the 1850 census had only named heads of household as the earlier censuses did, the result would have been about 2750 Cline heads of household of whom about 650 were post-1840 immigrants.

Figure 4 shows the birthplace as recorded in the 1850 census for each of the 3558 Cline entries. The residents of the newer states were predominately born outside of the state where they lived in 1850, as one would expect. In the older states a large proportion of the Clines were living in the state where they were born. It is interesting to note that North Carolina had the highest percentage of Clines living in the state where they were born, as follows:

98%	North Carolina
85%	Pennsylvania
83%	New Jersey
75%	Virginia
60%	Maryland
60%	New Hampshire

All other states had less than 50% and 18 of the 34 states had less than 15% living in their state of birth. As time passed, the older states that were settled early offered less attraction for potential migration than the newer states where plentiful land was available.

A large number of the Clines in 1850 were foreign-born (944 or 27%). Three-fourths of these were German-born and one-eighth were born in Ireland. The Irish Clines were probably descendants of the Germans who immigrated to Ireland starting in 1710. The ages of these foreign-born Clines and the birthplaces of their children enable an estimate that about two-thirds, or 650, immigrated after 1840, with the other 300 having immigrated prior to 1840. Many of these recent immigrants were artisans and craftsmen and were clustered in the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans and St. Louis.

In the 1850 census, nearly half of the Clines born in the US had been born in Pennsylvania, followed by Ohio-born (251), Virginia-born (239), New York-born (218), North Carolina-born (130) and Maryland-born (109). Of the 130 North Carolina-born Clines, 80 resided in North Carolina and the other 50 were in other states. The data for these 50 are reproduced as Appendix H in this book. The abbreviations used in Figure 4 for the various countries of origin of the immigrants are as follows:

A = Africa	NB = New Brunswick	Ger = Germany
B = Belgium	NF = New Foundland	Holl = Holland
Bo = Bohemia	Po = Poland	Ire = Ireland
D = Denmark	R = Russia	Prus = Prussia
Eu = Europe	St = Scotland	Swz = Switzerland
Hu = Hungary	Can = Canada	Othr = Other
J = Java	Eng = England	unk = unknown
L = Luxembourg	Fra = France

The District of Columbia is cited once as a birthplace in Figure 4 with the abbreviation DC.

Chapter 1

Early Kleins in America and their European Origins

This chapter discusses the earliest known Klein (Cline) immigrants to America and identifies the ancestry of the Klein families who come to North Carolina. The earliest Klein immigrants arrive in 1709, and by 1755 there are about 80 Klein families in America. This discussion enumerates most of these Kleins and the place of origin for some.

Historical Events Prompting Emigration from Europe

The Kleins are a portion of those early immigrants who came to America to escape the unstable and dangerous conditions in their region of Europe in the late 17th and early 18th centuries. Many of them lived in the area known as the Palatinate or the lands of the German Count Palatine (the title held by successive secular princes of the Holy Roman Empire). The Palatinate extended from the Moselle River on the north, along the Rhine River and south to Alsace (Fig 5). Unfortunately for the residents of this prime agricultural area, they were on the border between Catholic France and the Protestant part of Germany and were subjected to many invasions, pillage and plunder.

Other immigrants from this area to America were the Protestants called Huguenots, who were originally from eastern France and had fled to this part of Germany to escape Catholic persecution. The Huguenots, largely skilled artisans and weavers, were welcomed into the Palatinate as early as 1559. Their settlement there was interrupted by French incursions during the 17th century that kept them from being permanent residents in the western Palatinate. They periodically were forced to flee further east to avoid being punished and removed to France.

Some of the American immigrants originated in Switzerland, which was the home of the Calvinists or Reformed Protestants. After 1700, many of these Swiss migrated to the Palatinate when they were invited to help repopulate these war-devastated areas. They came primarily from Canton Bern.

The persecution of the Protestants in this part of Europe was constant from the time of Martin Luther's 95 Theses on October 31, 1517 up to and through the 18th century. The religious hatreds combined with politics and expansionist policies of the various royalties, particularly Louis XIV of France, led to devastating warfare in the Palatinate and surrounding regions. The Thirty Years War (1619-1648) was followed by occupations by the French and the Duchy of Loraine until 1670 and then the War of the League of Augsberg (1688-1697) resulting in the ceding of the entire region of Alsace to France. The War of the Spanish Succession (1702-1713) soon followed. All of this upheaval determined the religious practice in the region as evidenced by the absence of Protestant church records prior to 1698 in the Hirschland parish of Alsace researched for this book.

The inhabitants of the Palatinate regions had endured much hardship and loss of property and substance to the various invading armies, and many were eager to move elsewhere. With the impetus of the harshest winter in 100 years in 1708-1709 and the invitation from Queen Ann of England in the spring of 1709 to accept immigrants from the Palatinate region, thousands of Palatines sailed down the Rhine River to Rotterdam in 1709 to seek a new life. The trip down the Rhine took four to six weeks.

Queen Ann, under the auspices of William Penn, dispatched about 3200 people (500 families) of the early 1709 immigrants to America (New York) both direct from Rotterdam and via England, and another 3800 (600 families) were sent to Ireland to strengthen the Protestant population there (PA7). In 1710, another 3000 Palatines were sent to the New York colony from London. Another group was sent to the Carolina colony and many thousands more were sent to Ireland. In the following decades of the 18th century tens of thousands more immigrants from the Palatinate region would hear of the new land of opportunity and would find their way to the American colonies.

The 1710 group of Palatines dispatched to the Carolina colony were 100 families, mostly Swiss, and some later migrated north to Pennsylvania seeking companionship of fellow immigrants there of Germanic language and customs. The first Moravian immigrants came to Georgia in the early 1700s and later migrated to Pennsylvania for similar reasons. Some returned to found the Salem area Wachovia community of North Carolina later on in the 1700s. There are no Kleins among these early Carolina immigrants.

The large groups of immigrants from the Palatinate that were sent to Ireland were scattered as agricultural settlers over much of Ireland with some major accumulations in counties Limerick and Tipperary. Many of them and their descendants eventually immigrated to Pennsylvania or Canada as times grew difficult in Ireland in the 1840s. Possibly the Kleins (Clines) found in the 1850 U.S. census who state they were born in Ireland are descended from these early Palatines of Ireland.

Most of the early 18th century immigrants from the Palatine region came to the Pennsylvania colony, where William Penn was particularly receptive and allowed a great deal of personal freedom of choice. Even many of the first immigrant groups of 1709-1710 who went to New York soon migrated south to Pennsylvania and New Jersey, since they had been settled on the inhospitable northern frontier of New York as a buffer between the English and the opposing French and Indians.

The Earliest Klein Immigrants

The Kleins among the 1709-1710 immigrants to New York are (NY1):

> Adam Klein (b 7 Mar 1680 in Bubach, son of Johannes and Anna Klein) with his wife Catherine and two children settled at New Heidelberg. They were still there in 1748 (PA5, p 205).

Hieronymous Klein with his wife Maria Margareta and two children moved to the Cox and Kirkbride tract in Hunterdon county, New Jersey in 1720. Hieronymous came to New York in 1710 from the Earldom of Schinch-Hackenburg near Neuwied. Hieronymous's grandson migrated into Berks county, Pennsylvania (the part that later became Northumberland county) about 1780 (NJ1 and PA8).
John Herman Klein, son of Hieronymous Klein, first settles in Maydale, New York with his wife Anna and three children and they migrate to Hunterdon county, New Jersey with his father in 1720. His son Abraham migrates to Northumberland county, Pennsylvania.
Jacob Klein.
Koenraeth Kleyn.
Lodewyk Klein.
Michael Klein with wife and five children, but returned to Europe because they were Catholic rather than the invited Protestants.
Johan Willem Klein with wife and three children.
Philip Klein with wife and three children.
Jeronimus Klein with wife and three children.
Mattys Klein with wife and one child but returned to Europe because they were Catholic rather than the invited Protestants.
Peter Klein and wife.

The migration pattern for the early 18th century immigrants seems to have been to settle primarily in Pennsylvania, with a small number staying in New York and New Jersey, and then later to migrate south and west within America. Those Kleins who were to come to North Carolina can be found first in Pennsylvania and this discussion will now focus on Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia – the Primary Port of Entry for Kleins

The most comprehensive historical records for immigrants arriving in Pennsylvania are the passenger lists kept by the captain of each incoming ship and the companion signature sheets which the arriving immigrants signed upon their arrival in Philadelphia to pledge their allegiance to the English colony of Pennsylvania. These lists and the oath of allegiance were begun in 1727. The lists were transcribed and published by Ralph Beaver Strassburger and William John Hinke in Pennsylvania German Pioneers (PA2). Table A presents all the Klein entries on these ship lists from 1727-1749 along with ship of passage, date of arrival in Philadelphia, and age of immigrant, if known, and a comment column stating where the immigrant is found later in Pennsylvania, if known. Also shown in the first column of these tables is the region of origin. Table E, presented later in this chapter, records the same information for Klein immigrants from 1750-1763.

The ship lists data up through 1749 reveals 38 ship arrivals on which there were 68 Klein names, 25 of whom are in eight obvious family groups. Four excellent books by Annette Kunselman Burgert (PA3 through PA6 in the Sources section) present her comprehensive research of the origins of Germanic immigrants and their subsequent records here. Her work enables the identification of 16 of these 38 Klein arrivals consisting of 31 Klein names. These identifications are noted in the Comments column of Table A.

Civil and Church Records for Klein Immigrants in Pennsylvania

A comprehensive survey of the surviving early Pennsylvania church and civil records, published by various authors, has identified 32 pre-1750 Klein families living in Pennsylvania. Prior to 1752, Pennsylvania consisted of six counties as shown in Figure 6:

> Philadelphia, Bucks, and Chester counties – the three original 1682 counties
> Lancaster county – formed from Chester county in 1729
> York county – formed from Lancaster county in 1749
> Cumberland county – formed from Lancaster county in 1750

The survey shows that 16 of the 32 Klein families are living in the more northerly original Philadelphia and Bucks counties regions, from which these later counties were formed:

> Northampton county – formed from western Bucks county in 1752
> Berks county – formed from western Philadelphia county in 1752
> Montgomery county – formed from Philadelphia county, east of Berks county, in 1784

These 16 Klein families are displayed in Table B with source references shown in the last column. The first two families in Table B arrived before ship lists were instituted in 1727. Five of the 16 Klein families are identified by Burgert, but Table B offers further information for them and provides some information for the eleven families not identified in Burgert. Only four of these families reside in the area that is current day Philadelphia county. The other twelve are living in the frontier rural areas of Northampton, Berks and Montgomery counties.

The above survey of early civil and church records found that the remaining 16 of the 32 Klein families are living in the southern part of Pennsylvania in Lancaster and York counties, with none in Chester county. These 16 Klein families are displayed in Table C. Ten of these 16 entries are identified by Burgert. She shows that the first five entries are brothers and the next two entries are related to these brothers. They are all from Kirchardt, Germany and living in Lancaster county. Of the other three families identified by Burgert, two live in Lancaster county and one is in the part of Lancaster county that becomes York county in 1749.

Table C contains information for the six families not identified by Burgert. Four families, who are on the ship arrival list, are living in Lancaster county and two families not on the ship list are living in York county. The findings in Tables B and C are referenced in the Table A comments column.

The data in Tables A, B and C establish probable identification and later location in Pennsylvania for 28 of the 38 Klein arrivals by ship (Table A) into Philadelphia from 1727 through 1749. The 38 Klein arrivals encompass 68 named Kleins, and the 28 arriving Kleins identified in Tables A, B and C encompass 54 of those 68 individual Klein names.

Seven Klein families in the civil and church records (Tables B and C) are not on the ship lists. Four of these families arrive before ship lists began in 1727.

One of the other three, George Klein (#6 in Table C), immigrates as an adult in 1738 and dies prior to his son's birth in November 1738. He may have died at sea or been so sick upon arrival that he did not sign the surviving ship list. The other two, Heinrich and Caspar Klein (#14 and #15 in Table C) may have arrived as children and therefore did not appear on the ship lists.

As stated above, 54 of the 68 arriving Klein individuals are identified in Tables A, B and C. The remaining 14 unidentified Kleins could be missing from the Pennsylvania records for several reasons. Due to the exhausting sea journey and the hard life on the frontier, some may have died soon after arriving, leaving no other records in Pennsylvania. For example, one-third of the aspiring immigrants in 1738 perished during the journey and many survivors were very ill at arrival.

Alternately, their Pennsylvania records may not have survived – many early church records did not. Also, the survey done for this book may not have found all the surviving records.

Finally, some of the 14 unidentified Klein immigrants may have left the colony of Pennsylvania for other areas without establishing a record in Pennsylvania. It is tempting to dwell on identifying and tracing all the early Klein immigrants, but that would require a great deal more research and is beyond the scope and need of this book.

Instead, the information in Tables A through E is used solely to search for those Kleins who migrate to North Carolina. There are four early generation Kleins (i.e., born in the first quarter of the 18th century) who come to North Carolina by 1760. They are Sebastian (Boston) Klein, Michael Klein, Jacob Klein and Peter Klein.

Sebastian (Boston) Klein, son of Moritz Klein

The early Pennsylvania records and Table A show that only one Sebastian Klein (Table A, #14) appears in Pennsylvania up through at least 1760. This Sebastian Klein immigrates in 1739 and signs the oath of allegiance list as Bastian Klein. Burgert identifies his European origin as the village of Postorff, Alsace and names Sebastian's siblings and his father, Moritz Klein (PA3, p 297-300). Sebastian's brothers include Michael Klein and Jacob Klein and these three brothers go to North Carolina. Sebastian and his descendants are discussed in Chapter 2 of this book. Michael probably immigrates in 1747 (Table A, #27) and Jacob immigrates with his father Moritz in 1749 (Table A, #34). Michael, Jacob and their descendants are discussed in Chapter 3 of this book.

The extensive Moritz Klein family history is addressed last in this chapter. First, the other Pennsylvania Kleins who migrate to North Carolina are discussed. These are the immigrant Peter Klein and three younger Pennsylvania-born Kleins – Valentine Klein, Martin Klein and Christopher Klein. To facilitate their identification, the later arriving Kleins on ships entering Philadelphia from 1750-1763 are displayed in Table E. Table E is a continuation of Table A.

Peter Klein

The Peter Klein who migrates to North Carolina by 1770 has a son Peter Jr, who is born by 1750, per the North Carolina records discussed in Chapter 4 of this book. Thus, the senior Peter Cline is born by about 1725 and should appear as an adult in the Pennsylvania records prior to coming to North Carolina. In particular, this Peter would be a named adult, 16 years or older, on any ship arriving after 1740.

There are eight Peter Kleins found in the Table A and E ship lists up through 1763. In addition, there is a ninth, not listed, who comes with his father Jacob in 1732, and a tenth, not listed, who comes with his father Philip Wendel Klein in 1744. Only one other Peter Klein arrives prior to 1791. He arrives in 1767. No other adult Peter Klein is found in the Pennsylvania civil and church records prior to 1770. Each of these 10 Peter Kleins is discussed in Table D to identify the one who migrates to North Carolina with a son Peter Klein Jr.

The dates of the recorded events for the Peter Kleins in Table D enable the association of each Peter to a probable immigration date on the ship lists. That is, a Peter arrives and soon after shows evidence of owning land, marrying or having children. More importantly, these event dates establish that all but one of these 10 Peter Kleins are still in Pennsylvania past the time that the subject Peter Klein goes to North Carolina.

The data in Table D establish that five of these Peter Kleins stay in Pennsylvania and die there (#2, 4, 6, 7 and 9 in Table D). The data further show that four more of these Peter Kleins are settled in Pennsylvania up through at least 1767 and probably stay there rather than migrating to North Carolina (#1, 3, 5, and 8 in Table D).

The last of the ten Peter Kleins is the one who arrives 21 October 1754 (Table E, #66) with other immigrants said to be from Franconia and Hesse The survey of Pennsylvania records from his arrival in 1754 up through 1775 show no trace of this Peter Klein in Pennsylvania, so he is a good candidate to be the Peter Klein who moves to North Carolina.

Only one other Peter Klein arrives by ship to Pennsylvania after 1754 and up through 1791. He is Peter Michael Klein who arrives on the Ship Hamilton on 6 October 1767, but the North Carolina Peter Klein is probably already in North Carolina by then. There is no other evidence of a Peter Klein, born by 1725, in the Pennsylvania records other than those discussed in Table D. The Peter Klein and wife, noted previously to be in New York in 1710, would be too old to be the subject Peter Klein who is found in North Carolina.

Thus, the Peter Klein arriving in Pennsylvania in 1754 from Franconia or Hesse (Table D, #10) is the most probable Peter Klein who later is found in North Carolina. He is assigned tracking number (2.1) throughout this book. No further information about his origin has been sought and he leaves no record in Pennsylvania. He is also the least documented Klein in North Carolina. Peter and his descendants are discussed in Chapter 4 of this book.

Table D

Peter Klein

Conrad mar Anna Maria Huth on 21 Dec 1756, Tohickon Reformed Church, Northampton Co. They have four children born there, 1757-1769.

Pennsylvania-born Sons of Klein Immigrants Who Migrate to North Carolina

The three second-generation Pennsylvania Kleins who go to North Carolina are now addressed. Each of these three are born after 1750, but prior to 1760, per the North Carolina records, and they have non-common given names – Valentine, Martin and Christopher.

There is only one Valentine Klein (Table A, #1) on the ship arrival lists prior to 1769. Another adult Valentine Klein arrives in 1769. The first Valentine arrives in 1731 at age 20. Both are too old to be the Valentine who migrates to North Carolina.

Two Martin Kleins arrive as adults by ship in 1748 and 1751 (Table A, #28 and Table E, #44). There is only one other Martin Klein on the ship lists and he does not arrive until 1764. All three of these Martin Kleins are obviously too old to be the one who goes to North Carolina.

No Christopher Klein appears on the ship lists. Thus, it is clear that the Valentine, Martin and Christopher Klein who migrate to North Carolina either enter Pennsylvania as children or are born in Pennsylvania.

Martin Klein and Valentine Klein

The previously mentioned survey of Pennsylvania church records shows the birth of only one Valentine Klein and two Martin Kleins as follows:

> Valentine Klein (b 30 Nov 1753) and Joh Martin Klein (b 16 Sept 1758), sons of Andreas and Eva Maria Klein, are baptized at Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania (PA10).
> Martin Klein (b 13 June 1754) is the son of Andreas and Barbara Klein and is baptized (23 June 1754) at Christ Lutheran Church, Stouchsberg, Tulepehocken township in west Berks county, Pennsylvania (PA9). This Martin is also confirmed at this church in 1771.

The only other records found for Martin Klein in Pennsylvania are clearly for the older Martin Kleins who arrive by ship as adults:

> Martin Cline marries Anna Barbara Bilheimer 27 Jan 1771 at St James Episcopal Church, Lancaster (PA21, p 112). Barbara is named in Martin's will in Lancaster on 2 Oct 1784 (PA11, Will Book E, vol 1, p 91). This is probably the Martin Clain who arrives in Pennsylvania 25 August 1751 (Table E, #44).
> Martin Klein and his wife Regina Dorothea have a daughter Anna Margaretha baptized on 29 Dec 1765 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster (PA22, p 216 and PA10). This is probably the Martin Klein who arrives in Pennsylvania 5 Sep 1748 (Table A, #28).
> A Martin Klein is on the town of Lancaster tax list in 1771 and 1772.

The above events cannot be for the young Martin Klein born in 1754 in Berks county or for the Martin Klein born in 1758 in Lancaster county. Since no later records are found for either young Martin Klein, it is probable that they both migrated out of Pennsylvania when they grew up.

Similarly, there is no record in Pennsylvania for the young Valentine Klein, other than his birth in 1753 in Lancaster county, and it is concluded that he is the Valentine Klein who comes to North Carolina. Further evidence for this conclusion is found in the North Carolina records which show that Valentine names his first born son Andrew, after Valentine's father, Andreas Klein. This Andreas Klein is assigned the tracking number (4.1) in this book and Valentine, his first-born, is assigned the number (4.1.1).

Three Andreas Kleins are on the ship lists arriving by 1765 (Table E, #47, #54 and #62). (The Andreas in Table E, #52, is a Kleim, not a Klein). The latter two Andreas Kleins arrive in Philadelphia in September and November 1753 within two months of Valentine's birth in Lancaster county. Thus, Valentine's father Andreas Klein (4.1) is most likely the one arriving earlier on 16 Sep 1751 on the ship Brothers, which also had two Biebers from Hirschland, Alsace (Table E, #47). Perhaps Andreas Klein is from the Hirschland area. No further research has been attempted for Andreas, but it is noted that a 74 year old widow, Anna Maria Kubler, dies at his home in Lancaster on 2 May 1763. Perhaps this is his wife's mother.

It follows that the Martin Klein, who comes to North Carolina into the same county as Valentine Klein, is most probably Valentine's brother Martin, born in 1758, rather than the Martin Klein (b 1754) in Berks county. This other Martin (b 1754) may have moved elsewhere with his mother and father, who are not found again in the Pennsylvania records after the birth of their Martin in 1754. In contrast, the parents of the North Carolina Martin Klein continue to appear in the Lancaster county records; a daughter Maria Magdalena is born 2 June 1762 to Andreas and Eva Maria Klein in Lancaster.

The North Carolina Martin Klein is found transacting a land claim and petitioning the state in December 1778 in North Carolina when the chosen Pennsylvania-born Martin would be 20 years old. He probably should have been 21 to legally do this, but then no one in North Carolina could disprove his age if he claimed to be 21. Thus, the Martin Klein (4.1.2) and Valentine Klein (4.1.1) who are found in North Carolina are concluded to be sons of Andreas Klein (4.1) of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Martin, Valentine and their descendants are discussed in Chapter 2 of this book.

Christopher Klein

The search for the origin of the Christopher Klein who comes to North Carolina is much more straightforward than the search for Valentine and Martin Klein. Christopher Klein marries a Moravian in Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Vital Records (PA20) cite those Pennsylvania Moravians who go to the Moravian settlement in Wachau (Wachovia), North Carolina. These records state that:

> Margaretha Busch married Christopher Klein, a saddler, in May 1775 at Yorktown Moravian Church, York, Pennsylvania.
> Margaretha was born on 15 January 1756 to Joh. and A. Maria Busch.
> Christopher and Margaretha went to North Carolina on 27 June 1775 and both joined the Moravian Church in Wachau there on 3 Sept 1783.

A research memo by Henry Kline Hollinger (PA8) notes that Christopher's father is John Klein, a saddler, from Darmstadt, Germany who is among Moravian arrivals on 14 November 1754 in New York on the ship Irene.

Therefore, John Klein of Darmstadt is assigned tracking number (3.1) in this book and his son Christopher Klein is (3.1.1). Christopher and his descendants are discussed in Chapter 5 of this book.

Lineage Summary for Kleins Who Migrate to North Carolina

The majority of the preceding discussion in this chapter has focused on determining the place of origin and parents for each of the Kleins who migrate to North Carolina in the 18th century. The genealogical data are developed in some detail in the preceding pages. The findings are briefly summarized below, including the assigned family tracking numbers used throughout the rest of this book:

1. Moritz Klein (of Postorff, Alsace and Pennsylvania) has sons who come to Pennsylvania and later migrate to North Carolina:
   - (1.3) Jacob Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 3
   - (1.4) Sebastian Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 2
   - (1.8) Michael Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 3

   (The rest of this chapter is devoted to the greater Moritz Klein family and its ancestry in Alsace.)

2. _____Klein (of Hesse or Franconia, Germany) has a son, Peter, who comes to Pennsylvania in 1754 and then migrates to North Carolina:
   - (2.1) Peter Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 4

3. _____Klein (of Germany) has a son, John, who comes to Pennsylvania in 1754:
   - (3.1) John Klein (of Darmstadt and Pennsylvania) has a son who goes to North Carolina:
     - (3.1.1) Christopher Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 5

4. _____Klein (of Germany) has a son, Andreas, who comes to Pennsylvania in 1751:
   - (4.1) Andreas Klein (of Germany and Pennsylvania) has sons who go to North Carolina:
     - (4.1.1) Valentine Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 2
     - (4.1.2) Martin Klein (Cline) – see Chapter 2

Only the Moritz Klein family has been researched further in depth in this chapter. This emphasis is placed on this family because by 1830 almost 90% of the Cline families in North Carolina are descended from Moritz Klein.

Three Generations of Moritz Klein's Ancestors in Alsace

On a 1995 trip to the Alsace region, the author of this book had the good fortune to meet Mr. Robert Muller of Hirschland. Mr. Muller had spent many years researching the history of Hirschland and the nearby villages. He had recorded in his personal collection the genealogical data for all the families appearing in the early church and civil records of the region. He has determined the names of more than 200 people who emigrated from the Hirschland region to America between 1725 and 1925.

Mr. Muller's historical research for the village of Hirschland finds that in the earliest census (1542) there are 38 families in the village. There is only one Klein family, Valentine Klein, and one Bieber family, John Bieber, the "richest man in town". Twenty-one families are noted in Hirschland in 1610 – three Bieber families and one Klein family, Austelt Klein.

In addition, Mr. Muller has reconstructed the ancestral lineage of Mauritius (Moritz) Klein from the records for the nearby town of Steinsall, which today is the old part of the town of Niederstinzel (New Stinzel). Mr. Muller's lineage for Moritz Klein is included in Table F. Moritz Klein is the father of Sebastian, Michael and Jacob Klein who migrate to North Carolina. All of Moritz's children are found in the Hirschland church records and are discussed later in this chapter. The Hirschland church records also contain records for nine surrounding villages and these records are referenced frequently in this chapter as Alsace 1 (ALS1).

The ancestors of Moritz Klein lived in Steinsall, which is about three miles west of Hirschland (Figure 5). Several Klein families are believed to be in Steinsall prior to 1600. Moritz Klein's great-grandfather was Pieter (Peter) Klein born about 1575-1580, who lived in Steinsall and had six children. Only one son, Nicholas, born about 1608, survived in Peter Klein's family.

Nicholas Klein had a son Sebastian born in 1644 and possibly was the father of three other sons, Stephan, Bernhardt and Paulus. Stephan and Paulus are found in the Hirschland church records and lived in Weyer, which is about two miles north of Hirschland and three miles east of Steinsall. The information for Bernhardt Klein is limited to the fact that he had a son Heinrich in Eyweiler, also near Hirschland.

Stephan, Bernhardt and Paulus were of the generation to be sons of Nicholas, but instead could be sons of another Klein family in this region. There probably are one or two other Klein families in Steinsall at this time, but the complete Steinsall records were not researched for this book. There is one other known Klein family in the region. That is the family of Theobald Klein (b 1619, d 1679) of nearby Wolfskirchen who has sons Jacob and Sebastian born about 1650 (ALS2, vol 1, p 4, 37, 72, 75) . However, this family is not related to Stephan, Bernhardt and Paulus or to the other Kleins in Table F.

The children and grandchildren of Stephan and Paulus can be derived from the Hirschland church records (ALS1) and are shown in Table G. In some cases the father of a child is uncertain, which is indicated in the table as a possible relationship.

Nicholas' son Sebastian had six children who survived, as shown in Table F. The children and grandchildren of two of Moritz's brothers, Sebastian and Nicholas, are determined from the Hirschland church records and are shown in Tables H and I. Moritz, Sebastian and Nicholas all lived in Postorff, which is about a mile northwest of Hirschland and called Postroff today.

Members of two Klein families emigrate from Postroff to America prior to 1750. These are members of the Moritz Klein family and the family of Johannes Klein, the first-born child of Moritz's brother Nicholas Klein.

Johannes Klein Family from Postorff

Nicholas Klein's son Johannes and family are listed in the first entry in Table I. Johannes with his wife and their four children under age 16 immigrate to Pennsylvania on the ship Phoenix, landing on 20 October 1744 in Philadelphia, and settle in Longswamp township, Berks county (Table A, #24). Johannes' two older children do not appear on any ship list, but do immigrate to America, per the Hirschland church records.

Two of Johannes' five sons, Theobald and George, are naturalized in the fall of 1765 in Longswamp township (PA3, p 295). Johannes' son Theobald has a daughter Anna Margretha baptized at Longswamp Reformed Church on 21 May 1769 (PA9).

Johannes' son Nicholas may be the one on the Longswamp township tax list in 1768. Nicholas and Maria Elizabeth Mertz Klein have daughters Christina (born 1769) and Elisabeth (born 1775) baptized at Longswamp Reformed Church (PA9).

No record is found in Pennsylvania for Johannes' two other sons, Johannes (b 9 Apr 1733) and the one probably named Jacob or Peter (b 14 June 1725).

There is a Peter Klein who marries Christina Martz (Mertz ?) Klein, the widow of Theobald Klein, in Longswamp township about 1759. They administer Theobald's estate on 20 July 1759 (PA14). The deceased Theobald Klein may be Johannes' son (b 1733), but is probably the son (b Jan 1732) of Moritz Klein. Peter Klein Sr sponsors the baptism of Christina, daughter of Peter Klein Jr, on 11 December 1782 at Longswamp Reformed Church (PA16). Peter Klein (b 1 April 1731, d 9 June 1813) and Christina (b 1727, d 1789) are both buried in the Longswamp cemetery (PA17). This Peter Klein is probably the son of Philip Wendel Klein who arrives in Pennsylvania in 1744 with his family on the same ship as Johannes Klein (Table A, #24).

Philip Wendel Klein had sons Peter, Adam, Jacob and Lorentz (PA12). Philip Wendel, Jacob and Adam are found in Lehigh county records. However, the Lorentz and Peter in the Lehigh county records are the sons of Bernhard Klein of Longswamp township (PA3, p 293-294). Wendel's son Peter seems to be the Peter Klein Sr who stays in Longswamp township, marries Christina Mertz Klein, widow of Theobald Klein, and is buried at Longswamp cemetery. Peter is on the Longswamp township tax list in 1752 and 1754 as a single man and then as a married man on the 1760-1783 tax lists. Wendel's son Lorentz is presumed to be the Lorentz Klein who marries Catharine Mertz (daughter of Nicholas Mertz) and dies by 1763, leaving an orphan son Bernhard Klein, born 16 December 1756 in Berks county (PA13). This Bernhard is a soldier in the Revolutionary War and later lives in Northampton county and has ten children (PA19).

Moritz Klein Family from Postorff

Mauritius (Moritz) Klein of Postorff, Alsace married Anna Catharina Martzloff on 19 October 1706, as recorded in the Hirschland church records (ALS1, p 39). The record notes that Moritz is the son of Sebastian Klein of Steinsal and that Anna Catharina is the daughter of Joh Theobald and Barbara Martzloff of Postorff. These same church records contain the baptism dates and sponsors for each of their 11 children. Additional information is in the Hirschland church records, such as confirmation dates and marriage and death events. All of this Moritz Klein family information is included in Table J.

Moritz's first child, Bernhard, is born in Steinsal, the others are born in Postorff. Both of these villages are near the village of Hirschland, which was the parish center for all the surrounding villages at this time. The third born child is presumed to be named Jacob after his sponsoring relative Joh Jacob Klein. Similarly, the unnamed twins are presumed to be Adam and Maria Barbara Klein, based on their baptismal sponsors' names.

Moritz's first-born daughter, Anna Magdalena Klein, married Peter Lentz in Postorff. Magdalena died in Postorff on 28 August 1769. Her surviving husband and several of their children came to America. Their son Nicholas Lentz married Catharina Magdalena Klein, a granddaughter of Moritz's brother Sebastian Klein in Postorff (Table H) and remained in Alsace. Peter Lentz's other three sons, who came to America, are:

> Joh Sebastian Lentz (b 26 Aug 1735) immigrated on the ship Edinburgh on 14 Sept 1753 and is naturalized in 1765. He and his wife Marcretha have three sons baptized at Mertz Church , Rockland township, Berks county: Peter (b 29 Mar 1762), Dewald (b 26 Jun 1766), Adam (b 2 May 1768) (PA3, p 337).
> Joh Theobald (Dewald) Lentz (b 18 Mar 1742) and wife Elisabetha have a daughter, Anna Marcretha (b 10 Jan 1768), baptized at Mertz Church (PA3, p 337 and Robert Muller correspondence).
> Peter Lentz (b 14 Nov 1755). Peter was a member of a Massachusetts regiment and dies on 16 Nov 1780 in the Revolutionary War (Robert Muller correspondence).

Moritz's daughter, Anna Margaretha, dies at age seven in 1728.

Moritz Klein and seven of his children are known to have immigrated to America, per later annotations added to their baptism records. Two of Moritz's other children are believed to also immigrate, leaving only Anna Magdalena Klein Lentz behind in Alsace. Moritz's children who immigrate are:

> Sebastian (Bastian) Klein arrives on 3 September 1739 on the ship Robert and Alice (Table A, #14).
> Bernhard Klein arrives on 29 September 1741 on the ship Lydia (Table A, #18).
> Michael Klein arrives on 20 October 1747 (Table A, #27). The church records state that Michael is a son of Moritz Klein and marries Catherine Schufert, daughter of George Schufert, on 17 June 1750 at Christ Church (Mertz Church) on Bieber Creek, in Rockland township, Berks county, Pennsylvania. Their first child, Christina Magdalena (b 13 Apr 1751), is baptized there (PA1, p 139, 185). Mertz Church is probably the church of Michael's wife and her family, since neither Michael nor the rest of the Moritz Klein family appear in the records of Mertz Church.
> Johannes Klein is perhaps the one who arrives on either 25 Oct 1748 or 2 September 1749 (Table A, #29, 31). He is on the Longswamp township, Berks county tax list in 1752 and 1754 as a single man and in 1762 and 1764-1765 as a married man. Johannes may be the one who as a widower marries a widow Mary Margaret Petsch on 28 April 1765 in Reading (PA26). Johannes has a daughter Louisa baptized on 11 June 1769 at Longswamp Reformed Church (PA9).
> Jacob Klein arrives with his father Moritz Klein on 15 September 1749 on the ship Phoenix (Table A, #34). Neither Jacob nor Moritz appear in the Pennsylvania records.
> Adam Klein and Maria Barbara Klein are twin son and daughter of Moritz and immigrate per the church record notation but are not found on any ship list or in any Pennsylvania records.
> Anna Christina Klein has no immigration notation in the church record. However, it is believed that she came to America with her father in 1749 at the age of 19. She is a sponsor for the baptism of her brother Michael's first-born child, Christina Magdalena Klein, on 13 April 1751 at Mertz Church. Anna Christina's name was misread as Christian Klein by the translator of the Mertz Church records (PA1, p 139).
> Theobald Klein has no immigration notation in the church record, but it is believed that he came to America with his father in 1749 at the age of 17, since he was too young to leave behind. Theobald is probably the one who is the first husband of Anna Christina Mertz in Longswamp township and then dies about 1759. Theobald Klein and wife Anna Christina of Longswamp sponsor a baptism on 17 March 1751 at Zion Lutheran Church in Lehigh county (PA15, p 3).

The information noted above is all that is found in the Pennsylvania records for Mortiz Klein and his children except for his sons Sebastian and Bernhard, who appear in the Pennsylvania land records.

Sebastian and Bernhard are jointly issued a warrant on 17 February 1743 (warrant #55 in Philadelphia county) for 238 acres on Saucon Creek in what is today the southwest corner of Longswamp township, Berks county (PA18). Bernhard and Sebastian's father Moritz and their brothers and sister probably also lived on this land when they arrived in 1747, 1748 and 1749. The family probably attended the Longswamp Reformed Church, but the early church records have not survived. Therefore, no marriages, deaths or baptism records are found for Moritz or his children, except for Michael at a different church (Mertz church). Moritz, may have died in Longswamp before 1760, the date of the earliest surviving records of the Longswamp Reformed Church.

The land records of Berks county, Pennsylvania show that Sebastian and his brother Bernhard Klein held several tracts of land adjoining their original 238-acre tract in the southwest corner of Longswamp township, acquired in 1743. Sebastian owned a 25-acre tract adjoining the north side of his 100-acre share of the 238-acre tract, as cited in land warrant #65 of Philadelphia county, Pennsylvania, dated 13 May 1745. Bernhard Klein owned 36 acres adjoining the east side of the 238-acre tract, per land warrant #18 of Berks county, Pennsylvania, dated 8 November 1752 (survey book C110, p 250). In the 1750s, Bernhard also acquired 19 acres adjoining his other land (undated warrant and survey in Berks county survey book A20, p 117).

Bernhard and his descendants continue to appear in the Pennsylvania records after his brothers Jacob, Sebastian and Michael migrate to North Carolina about 1752.

From the Hirschland, Alsace church records (ALS1 and PA3, p 293), it is determined that Bernhard married on 23 February 1734 in Hirschland to Anna Elizabetha Ludman Bieber, the widow of Christophe Bieber (a rope maker), who died on 23 June 1733 at age 31. The widow has three surviving children:

> Maria Elizabetha Bieber, baptized on 2 April 1720 in Eyweiler.
> Johannes Bieber, baptized on 19 February 1722 in Eyweiler, marries Anna Magdalena Heckel on 23 October 1742 in Eyweiler, and they immigrate to America in 1751.
> Mathias Bieber, born 1730 in Eyweiler.

Bernhard and Anna Elizabeth (Bieber) Klein have a son, Laurentius (Lorentz) Klein, born on 15 February 1735 in Hirschland.

Anna Elizabeth's daughter, Maria Elizabeth Bieber, marries Bernhard's brother Sebastian Klein, although it is not known where they married. No marriage record is found in either the Hirschland church records or the ones in Pennsylvania. Maybe Maria Elizabeth came with Sebastian in 1739 and married him on the ship, or maybe she came with her mother and Bernhard in 1741 and married Sebastian in Longswamp township after arriving. Maria Elizabeth's brother Mathias Bieber also migrates to North Carolina with Sebastian and Maria Elizabeth Klein. Mathias Bieber owns land next to Sebastian Klein in Lincoln county, North Carolina.

Bernhard and his wife Anna Elizabeth sponsor the baptism of her son Johannes Bieber's son Bernhard Bieber on 9 September 1751 (born 6 September 1751) at Christ (Mertz) church on Bieber Creek, Rockland township, Berks county, Pennsylvania (PA1, p 139).

Bernhard and Anna Elizabeth apparently have a son Peter born in Pennsylvania. He and his older brother Lorentz appear in the Northampton county (later Lehigh county) Pennsylvania records (PA3, p 294). The families of Lorentz and Peter follow:

Lorentz Kline is born 15 February 1735 and dies 6 July 1819. His wife Eva Stettler Kline is born 25 December 1740 and dies 21 November 1821. Both are buried at Jerusalem Church cemetery in West Salisbury township, Lehigh county, Pennsylvania. The spelling of the surname had transitioned to Kline in these records. Their children are (PA3, p 294 and PA12):

> Anna Margaretha Kline, baptized 27 March 1763 (Rev. Schumacher records). Lorentz's brother, Peter and his wife Margaretha, are sponsors (PA15, p 15)
> Christoph Kline, born 1 June 1765 (Jordan and Jerusalem Lutheran Church records).
> Maria Elizabeth Kline, born 28 October 1767 and baptized 22 November 1767, at three weeks old (Rev. Daniel Schumacher's records in Schmalzgass).
> Peter Kline, born 11 June 1769.
> Catharine Kline, born 28 November 1772 (Jordan and Jerusalem KB).
> Henrich Kline, born 16 August 1775, West Salisbury township, Lehigh county.
> Magdalena Kline, born 3 March 1779, Jordan and Jerusalem KB, West Salisbury township, Lehigh county.

Peter Kline is born 13 December 1741, dies 22 December 1819 and is buried at Jerusalem Church cemetery. Peter marries in 1763 to Margaret Stettler, born 27 April 1741. Their children are (PA3, p 294 and PA19):

> Anna Elizabeth Kline, baptized 18 November 1763 (Jerusalem Church records, Lehigh Co, PA).
> Margaretha Kline, born 10 April 1768 in Schmaltzgass. Her grandfather Christopher Stettler and Margaretha are sponsors. (Rev. Daniel Schumacher's records).
> Lorentz Kline, born 12 November and baptized 18 November 1773 (PA19).

Jacob Kline, born 23 January 1780, baptized 16 April 1780. Sponsor Bernhard Klein (PA15, p 38). (Bernhard Klein is son of Lorentz and grandson of Wendel Klein).

Jonathan Kline, born 18 June 1783 (PA19).

Henry Kline.

Maria Eva Kline, baptized 25 November 1764 (Jordan or Jerusalem Church records, Lehigh Co).

Peter Kline, baptized 10 August 1770 (Jordan or Jerusalem Church records, Lehigh Co).

Both Lorentz Kline of Lowhill township and Peter Kline of Maccungy township were naturalized in Northampton county in the autumn of 1765.

Also, Peter Klein, son of Bernhard Klein, is a sponsor at Mertz Church for the baptism on 8 April 1762 of Peter Lentz, the son of Bastian Lentz (PA1, p 147). Bastian Lentz (born 26 August 1735) is the son of Hans Petrus Lentz and Anna Magdalena Klein Lentz, the daughter of Moritz Klein.

No Pennsylvania records for Bernhard Klein after 1759 were sought for this book, but he did remain in Pennsylvania.

Seven Kleins (Clines) Who Migrate to North Carolina

The seven Kleins identified in this chapter who migrate to North Carolina are discussed in the remaining chapters of this book.

Three sons of Moritz Klein – Jacob, Sebastian and Michael – migrate to North Carolina in the early 1750s. Their lives in North Carolina and their descendants are discussed in Chapters 2 and 3.

Peter Klein migrates to North Carolina by 1770, perhaps earlier. His life in North Carolina and his descendants are the subject of Chapter 4.

The sons of Andreas Klein – Valentine and Martin – migrate to North Carolina in the late 1770s. Their lives in North Carolina and their descendants are included in Chapter 2.

Christopher Klein comes to North Carolina in 1775, right after his marriage in Pennsylvania. His life in North Carolina and his descendants are the subject of Chapter 5.

Chapter 2

Cline Families of Lincoln County North Carolina

Sources

The information in this chapter is drawn from 1790-1860 census records (tabulated in Appendix A-I), from civil and church records (summarized in Appendix J) and from invaluable family histories, particularly the one written by Ciscero Cline and J. M. Ballard (referenced throughout this book as FH2).

Much of the following discussion serves only to verify the family relationships of FH2. However, data from the records in the appendices offer clarification and in some cases significant revisions to FH2.

Three Early Cline Families in the County

It is useful to begin by focusing on the period from 1750-1800 to determine the first pioneer Cline families in the area that would become Lincoln county in 1782 and later, in 1842, Catawba county. Only three early Cline family groups are found in the 1790 and 1800 census records and are confirmed by other early records (Appendix J). The families are those of Sebastian Cline, Valentine Cline, and Martin Cline. The family of Sebastian Cline is the one addressed by FH2 and is the earliest pioneer Cline family in this area. The Sebastian Cline family arrives about 1752 among the earliest pioneer families. The other two families arrive a generation later.[1]

Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4) son of Moritz Klein

Lineage rationale. Sebastian Cline, born on June 17, 1716, is shown in Chapter 1 to be the fourth born child of Moritz Klein of Postorff in Alsace. Sebastian comes to Pennsylvania in 1739 and migrates to North Carolina prior to 1755.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix J, p 348-350) and FH2.

The earliest surviving North Carolina record for Sebastian Cline is from February 1755 when he receives a grant deed from the Granville proprietors in the colony of North Carolina for 640 acres on Elk Creek. Elk Creek later is called Lyles Creek and is in what was then Rowan county, but today is Catawba county.

[1] The first three generations of descendants of these families, as determined by the research in this chapter, are tabulated in Table L (p 471) and Table P (p 488) in Appendix O. A later fourth generation is discussed in this chapter, but not tabulated in Appendix O.

Boston is naturalized as a citizen of the crown colony of North Carolina on July 16, 1755 at the Rowan county court in Salisbury. In 1757, Boston requests reimbursement for a horse he lost in an Indian skirmish.

Boston receives another Granville deed on May 10, 1762 for 598 acres on Clarks Creek, in current day Catawba county. This land is adjacent to a 693-acre grant of same date to Mathias Beaver (Bieber, in German), Boston's brother-in-law. On March 29, 1764 Boston and his wife Elizabeth sell half of their Elk Creek land to George Smith with the deed witnessed by their son Boston Cline Jr. The other half of this Elk Creek land is sold to George Pope in November 1771.

The 1768 Rowan county tax list includes Boston Cline, another Boston Cline (who must be Boston Jr), Stuffle Cline (who is Boston's son Christoffel, or Christopher), and John Cline (who is another of Boston's sons). Boston's neighbor William Bost is on this tax list and is also a witness on Boston's November 1771 land deed to George Pope.

Boston files for 350 acres on Lyles Creek on October 20, 1767 in the Mecklenburg county jurisdiction. The use of Mecklenburg county to file a land claim for land in what was then Rowan county was, no doubt, due to the inability to file within Rowan county from 1763-1778. Lord Granville died in 1763 and his land office, controlling these lands, was closed. The fledgling state of North Carolina resumed land transactions in the former Granville area in 1778. Apparently, enterprising residents were managing to enter their claims and continuing to acquire land by going on "record" in Mecklenburg county. Boston obtains a grant to this 350 acres on November 6, 1771 and on that day sells 282 acres of it to George Smith.

On July 22, 1775, Boston and Elizabeth Cline sell 166½ acres of their 598-acre grant of 1762 on Anthony's Branch of Clarks Creek to their son John Cline. Also on that date, they sell 90½ acres of this grant to Henry Propst, husband of their daughter Elizabeth Cline Propst.

On August 11, 1778, Boston Cline claims 100 acres on Clarks Creek in then Burke county, which was formed from western Rowan county in 1777. Boston's son-in-law Henry Propst and his neighbor, William Bost, are chain bearers for the June 19, 1779 survey of Boston's 100-acre claim. The 100 acres is granted to Boston on March 14, 1780. Also on June 19, 1779, Boston's son, John Cline, and William Bost help survey 50 acres for Boston's son-in-law, Henry Propst. This land adjoins Henry's existing land and the land of Boston Cline, his son John Cline and the Killians'.

On December 22, 1791, just before his death, Boston sells his 100-acre grant of 1780 to Jacob Cline, his youngest son. This land adjoins the land of Boston's son, John Cline.

Also on December 22, 1791, Boston and Elizabeth Cline sell 151 acres of their 1762 grant of 598 acres on Clarks Creek to their son Jacob Cline. Boston's son Michael Cline witnesses this transaction. Boston and Elizabeth Cline are then left with 190 acres of their 1762 grant. The original 1762 grant land is noted in the 1791 record to be Boston and Elizabeth's plantation where they live.

In the North Carolina 1790 census (Appendix A), Boston Cline does not appear by name as a head of household, but the entry for his son Michael Cline shows an adult couple living with Michael and his wife. They are probably Michael's parents, Boston and Elizabeth Cline. It appears that Michael and his recent bride, Fanny Killian Cline, are probably living on his parents' 190-acre home place to care for Michael's elderly mother and father.

Michael is named as an executor in the will of his father Boston Cline, dated December 27, 1791. Boston's widow Elizabeth is also named as an executor. The will is probated in April 1792, indicating that Boston dies in February or March 1792, between the January quarterly court session and the April session.

Children of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Boston Cline's will names two of his sons, Christopher and Michael, and his deceased daughter Utilly Cline Hefner (wife of George Hefner) and Utilly's two children, Henry Hefner and Catherine Huyard. Michael Cline conducts the sale of the personal property in Boston Cline's estate on September 6, 1794. Since many of the items sold are furnishings and house wares that Boston's widow Elizabeth would have needed to continue to "keep house", it seems that she retained this estate until her death, probably in 1794.

The estate sale list of attendees includes many of Boston's heirs as well as his neighbors (Appendix N, p 453). His sons John, Stuffle (Christopher), Michael and Jacob Cline are present. His grandsons William Cline, Daniel Cline, John Cline Jr, and Henry Cline are present. His daughter Elizabeth's husband Henry Propst attends. John Yoder and David Yoder, the sons of Boston's daughter Christina Cline Yoder are present. Also present is Sally Cline, who is determined to be the wife of Christopher Cline (see Christopher Cline's section of this chapter).

Thus, the evidence of the records clearly shows Sebastian (Boston) Cline and wife Elizabeth living out their lives in North Carolina from 1755 to 1792 as well as the presence of their five sons Boston Jr, Christopher, John, Michael and Jacob Cline. There is nothing in any early North Carolina record to verify a sixth son Daniel as cited in FH2. However, there is evidence of a grandson named Daniel who is probably the source of the rumored son Daniel in FH2. Daniel is determined to be a son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1) in the following section entitled "Determination of the Children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline".

Christopher and Michael are documented as sons in Boston's will. Jacob is documented as Boston's son by his signed statement that he is Michael Cline's brother, as discussed later in Jacob Cline's section of this chapter. John is not directly documented as Boston's son, but FH2 says he is Boston's son and John has a documented son named Sebastian. In addition, Boston and Elizabeth Cline deed part of their home plantation to John Cline in 1775. Thus, it seems clear that John is a son of Boston. Boston Cline Jr is presumed to be a son of Boston because they share the same unusual first name and there is no other Cline in the area old enough to be Boston Cline Jr's father.

Per FH2, the daughters of Boston Cline are Utilly, Elizabeth, Mary, Christina and Catherine Cline. Utilly Cline Hefner is directly documented in Boston's will. FH2 states that Elizabeth Cline marries Henry Propst and that Christina Cline marries Conrad Yoder.

Boston Cline deeds part of his home plantation land to Henry Propst in 1775, at the same time that Boston deeds part of the home plantation to his son John Cline. Henry Propst is closely associated in other records with Boston Cline and his family and Henry's wife is named Elizabeth. Therefore, it is reasonable to presume that Boston Cline has a daughter Elizabeth who marries Henry Propst.

FH2 states that Christina Cline Yoder has sons John and David Yoder. John and David Yoder attend Boston Cline's estate sale in 1794. It is presumed that the oral family history of FH2 is correct and that Christina is a daughter of Boston Cline.

FH2 states that Boston Cline has a daughter Mary Cline, who marries William Bost. However, FH3 notes that Mary would have to marry William Bost prior to his 1762 marriage to Catherine Goodhart in Anson county. Since the Cline oral family history cited in FH2 says that Mary was the wife of William Bost, she is included here as a possible, but unlikely, daughter of Boston Cline.

The Catherine Cline, wife of Christopher Sigman, cited in FH2 as a daughter of Boston Cline is determined instead to be a documented daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.2) as discussed in his section of this chapter.

The records establish that the pioneer Boston Cline is the earliest Cline in Lincoln county and head of the largest of three Lincoln county Cline families. These records establish the identity of his five sons and one of his four possible daughters.

Sebastian (Boston) Cline's children are discussed in this chapter in the following sequence:

Children of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

(1.4.1) Boston Cline Jr, born about 1740-1745.

(1.4.2) Christopher Cline, born 1740-1745.

(1.4.3) Mary Cline, possible daughter, born about 1740-1745.

(1.4.4) Christina Cline, probable daughter, born 1745-1750.

(1.4.5) Otilla (Utilly) Cline, born about 1750-1755.

(1.4.6) John Cline, born 1750-1755.

(1.4.7) Elizabeth Cline, probable daughter, born 1755-1760.

(1.4.8) Michael Cline, born November 16, 1761.

(1.4.9) Jacob Cline, born 1765.

Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1)
son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Boston (Sebastian) is a unique name in the Cline families. Finding a Boston Jr in the records closely associated with the older Sebastian (Boston) Cline almost certainly assures that Boston Jr is the son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4). Boston Jr witnesses a deed by his father in 1764 indicating he is of legal age. This implies that Boston Cline Jr is born by 1743.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 351-352).

In September 1766, Boston Cline Jr files for land on Lyles Creek, which is granted on April 28, 1768. Boston and his wife Margaret then sell this 350-acre tract to John Leufever on April 6, 1769. These three transactions are recorded in Mecklenburg county during the 1763-1778 period when land transactions could not be done through the Granville office in Rowan county, which was closed after Lord Granville's death. Apparently, some enterprising residents of the Granville land area are managing to conduct their land transactions through Mecklenburg county, even though the land lies in the domain of Rowan county. The most intriguing thing about Boston Jr's April 6, 1769 transaction is that it utilizes a "lease and release" type of conveyance and that a Jacob Cline signs for the lease portion of this, while Boston and Margaret sign the release portion. The only Jacob Cline of legal age known in North Carolina in 1769 is the Jacob Cline in Mecklenburg county. This Jacob Cline is shown in Chapter 3 to be the probable brother of Sebastian (Boston) Cline and, therefore, Jacob is Boston Cline Jr's uncle. Presumably, Boston Jr had to execute this deed over in Mecklenburg county and needed a resident of Mecklenburg county to be a party to the transaction.

Boston Cline Jr appears in the 1768 Rowan county tax list along with his father Boston and brothers Christopher and John Cline. Boston Jr also appears in several court records as he is assigned to road projects in 1767, 1769 and 1771 in Rowan county. Boston Cline Jr is deeded 200 acres on Clarks Creek by Derrick Ramsour in September 1770 in Tryon county during the brief period that it existed (1769 to 1779) and included the area that would become Lincoln county. On June 6, 1771, this 200 acres is sold to Jacob Carpenter by Boston Cline Jr and his wife Margaret. Boston Jr is appointed as a local constable in 1772.

Boston Jr's wife Margaret is probably the daughter of Derrick Ramsour. On the same date that Derrick deeds the 200 acres to Boston Cline Jr, husband of Margaret, Derrick also deeds 200 acres to Jacob Carpenter, the husband of his daughter Catherine Ramsour. FH3 states that Margaret Ramsour Cline is born 1740-1744 and dies on January 5, 1789 in Lincoln county. This is consistent with the fact that she does not appear in the 1790 North Carolina census.

A court petition filed in October 1774 against Boston Cline Jr reveals that he has abandoned his wife and family of small children and has "run off to Georgia" with Hannah Fry Burns, wife of Conrad Burns. One record is found in Richmond county, Georgia in 1777, wherein Boston Jr signs a petition to the Continental Congress seeking removal of a General McIntosh as an incompetent officer.

Nothing further of Boston Jr's life and death in Georgia has yet been found. However, Lincoln county court records in 1787 and 1788 document Hannah Fry Burns' return to Lincoln county with a son Jacob Cline Burns, born in 1777. FH3 notes that Boston Jr and Hannah Fry Burns also have a daughter Elizabeth, born 1785-1786. Elizabeth's subsequent fate is unknown.

It is assumed that Boston Jr dies in Georgia prior to 1790, since he does not appear in any of the surviving 1790 Georgia tax lists. Perhaps Hannah Burns returned to Lincoln county in 1787, due to Boston Jr's death. Hannah Burns is found in Lincoln county court records in 1795 with an abuse complaint against her brother's wife for abusing her son Jacob Burns, and in 1799 contesting being disowned in her father's 1784 will.

It must be noted that the Sebastian Cline family history, FH2, does not recognize the existence of Boston Cline Jr and attributes his wife Margaret, as well as his children, to be those of Boston Jr's brother Christopher Cline. It is certainly understandable that the remaining Sebastian Cline family and descendants would not treasure the memory of this Boston Jr who abandoned his family and that they would not speak of him to the younger and succeeding generations. Therefore, by the time that Ciscero Cline is writing FH2 (1910-1915), he and his family history contributors have no recollection of Boston Jr. They probably remembered only Boston Jr's abandoned children and had come to believe that they belonged to Christopher Cline. This association is natural because Christopher was the only other son of Boston Cline old enough to have fathered these children.

Determination of the Children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline

FH2 does not recognize the existence of Sebastian's son Boston Jr. Therefore, FH2 attributes to Christopher all of Sebastian's grandchildren with a Cline surname, except those known to be the children of Christopher's brothers, John, Michael, and Jacob. The children of John and Michael are known from their fathers' wills. Jacob's children are too young to be confused with the children of either Boston Jr or Christopher.

The children identified as Christopher's in FH2, some of whom could actually be Boston Jr's abandoned children, are:

Solomon Cline	Henry Cline
Sarah Cline	David Cline
William (Devil Bill) Cline	John Cline
Leonard Cline	Easter Cline
George Cline	Susannah Cline
Michael Cline

Solomon Cline and Sarah Cline are actually children of Christopher Cline (3.1.1) of Guilford county (Chapter 5) and Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5) respectively as shown in the later discussions of those two individuals. It is noted that Solomon is born in 1801 per the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H), after the death of Christopher Cline (1.4.2) of Lincoln county.

William (Devil Bill) Cline and William (Long Bill) Cline are both discussed by FH2, but FH2 does not identify the father of William (Long Bill). Clearly the FH 2 authors had difficulty finding a father for William (Long Bill), since obviously Christopher did not have two sons named William. The answer is now clear when the existence of Boston Cline Jr is recognized. One William is Boston Jr's son and the other William is Christopher's son. The parent of each William is determined by deducing the birth date of each William.

Using the Lincoln county census data (Appendix A-E) it is found that William (Devil Bill) is born 1775-1780 (he is 26-45 years old in 1810, 36-45 in 1820, and 50-55 in 1830). Also, William (Devil Bill) receives his first communion in Lincoln county in 1793; which indicates a birth date of about 1779. William (Long Bill) is born 1770-1774 (he is 26-45 years old in 1800 and 56-60 in 1830).

Thus, William (Devil Bill) is a son of Christopher, being born to Christopher after Boston Jr leaves for Georgia in 1774 and William (Long Bill) is a son of Boston Jr. Further, this means that William (Devil Bill) is one of the three sons less than 16 years old in Christopher Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census (Appendix A).

Leonard Cline is born 1775-1784 (he is age 16-26 in the Lincoln county 1800 census and 36-45 in the 1820 census) and thus is age 6-15 in 1790 and is the second of the three sons under 16 in Christopher Cline's household in the 1790 census.

George Cline is listed as born in 1789 in the Catawba county 1850 census. Michael Cline is listed as born in 1793 in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). Thus, George is the third son under age 16 in Christopher Cline's 1790 household. George and Michael are then the two sons (one under 10 years old and one 10-16) in Sally Cline's Lincoln county 1800 census household (Appendix B). Sally is identified as Christopher's widow in the Christopher Cline section of this chapter.

Henry Cline is born on November 3, 1765, per his gravestone in Lincolnton. David Cline in the early Lincoln county records is the David Cline who moves to Rutherford county. David's gravestone shows a December 20, 1828 death date at age 62, or a birth date sometime in 1766, within one year of Henry Cline's birth date. Therefore, it is extremely unlikely that David and Henry have the same parents. Both Henry and David receive first communion in Lincoln county in October 1783, each presumably 17 years old. Henry lives out his life in Lincoln county and already has his own household in the Lincoln county 1790 census.

By the time of the 1790 census, David has his own household in Rutherford county where he lives out his life. David moves to Rutherford county in February 1789, the month after Margaret Ramsour Cline, Boston Jr's wife, dies. David names his first-born daughter Margaret. This suggests that David's mother is Margaret Ramsour Cline, wife of Boston Cline Jr.

Perhaps because of the stigma of his father's reputation and the lack of any inheritance from his grandfather or his absent father, David doesn't feel comradeship with the other Sebastian Cline grandchildren in Lincoln county. David does not attend his grandfather's 1794 estate sale, while Henry does.

Both Henry and David are definitely grandsons of Sebastian Cline because they are found maturing to young teenage boys in Lincoln county, when Sebastian's sons are the only possible resident fathers. The only issue is which son of Sebastian is their father. David is declared as Boston Jr's son and Henry as Christopher's son, due to David's estrangement from his siblings and his naming his first child Margaret, as noted above.

It is further noted that the David Cline described in FH2 is a different David Cline from the David Cline found in Rutherford county. The David Cline described in FH2 ends up in Georgia. He is born in North Carolina in 1777, per the Georgia 1850 census. He does not appear in Lincoln county records until 1805 and most likely is born in Cabarrus county. He then moves on west by 1820 to Burke county, then to Macon county by 1830 and on to Georgia by 1840. If this David were really Christopher's son, he would be 13 years old in 1790 and should appear as a fourth son in Christopher's household – which he does not. This David obviously is not Boston Jr's son, since he is born after 1774 when Boston Jr is in Georgia. Thus, this other David Cline clearly comes into Lincoln county from elsewhere and is the David Cline (1.3.1.2) of Cabarrus county. He is discussed in Chapter 3.

John Cline, who attends his grandfather Sebastian Cline's estate sale in 1794, could be either the son of Boston Jr or Christopher, according to his age. From the Lincoln county census data, he is born 1765-1770 (he is 26-45 years old in 1800, 36-45 in 1810, 46-55 in 1820, 60-65 in 1830). John receives his first communion in Lincoln county from Rev. Arends in May 1787, which implies that he is born about 1770. The fact that he remains in Lincoln county all his life near Christopher's other sons makes it most likely that he is Christopher's son. John is not in Christopher's household in the 1790 census. He appears to be living next door with Christopher's brother John in the 1790 census (Appendix A).

There are two other young Cline males who appear in the early Lincoln county records and are shown to be of an age to be grandsons of Sebastian Cline and sons of Boston Cline Jr. They are not identified as grandsons of Sebastian (Boston) Cline in FH2. These two young Clines are Daniel Cline and Samuel Cline:

Daniel Cline receives first communion from Rev. Arends in Lincoln county in May 1787. This implies a birth date of about 1770. Per analysis of the census data, he is born 1770-1774 (he is age 26-45 in 1800, 36-45 in 1810, and 56-60 in 1830). Daniel attends the estate sale of Sebastian Cline in September 1794. Daniel is later found successively in Buncombe county, Cabarrus county, Lincoln county, Burke county and finally in Georgia.

This Daniel's presence in Lincoln county as a young boy in 1787 and at Sebastian's estate sale in 1794 marks him as a grandson of Sebastian Cline. Daniel's father is either Christopher or Boston Jr because Daniel is not among the documented sons of Sebastian's son John, and Sebastian's other sons, Michael and Jacob, are too young to be Daniel's father.

Daniel is presumed to be a son of Boston Jr. The fact that Daniel drifts away from his Lincoln county relatives supports the presumption that he is Boston Jr's son. He may have felt an estrangement from his relatives due to his father's reputation and probably had no inheritance from either his father or grandfather.

Further, it seems clear that this Daniel spawned the recollection in FH2 that Sebastian had a son Daniel who chose to live in Cabarrus county rather than with his family. He wasn't a son. He was a grandson who did spend some time in Cabarrus county and eventually left the state. He is born too late to be Sebastian's son. Sebastian's wife Elizabeth was born in 1720 and would be over 50 when this Daniel was born. Daniel is almost certainly the son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1) – not Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4). The FH2 recollection is valid in attributing Daniel to a Boston Cline, but it is Boston Cline Jr who is Daniel's father.

Samuel Cline appears only once in the North Carolina records. He is appointed to the grand jury in Lincoln county in October 1786. He apparently is married but dies at a young age, since in the same time frame records appear for a widow Cline with two children, Daniel and Susanna Cline. This widow Rosannah Cline remarries to Martin Buff in Lincoln county in December 1789. Rosannah is the daughter of Peter Myers of Lincoln county. It is presumed that her first husband is Samuel Cline because no other Cline in Lincoln county is known to leave a widow prior to 1789. It is assumed that Rosannah Myers marries Samuel Cline about 1780, has two children, is widowed in 1789, and remarries to Martin Buff. Thus, Samuel is born about 1760.

The only possible father for Samuel in Lincoln county is Boston Jr or his father Sebastian because Boston's brother Christopher and his wife Sally are too young to be the parents of Samuel. Sebastian gives no recognition in his 1791 will of Samuel's orphans, as he does for those of his deceased daughter Utilly. He would probably have done this if Samuel had been his son.

Therefore, Boston Jr is the probable father of Samuel. If this speculative relationship is true, then Samuel Cline is the first-born child of Boston Cline Jr and Margaret Ramsour Cline.

As noted at the beginning of this section, Easter Cline and Susannah Cline are identified in FH2 as daughters of Christopher Cline. There are three other possible daughters of either Christopher or Boston Jr, who appear in early Lincoln county in Rev. Arends' confirmation records. These five potential daughters are discussed below to determine their most likely father:

Easter Cline marries Jonathan Starr in 1798 per FH2. Her listing in her son-in-law William Cline's household in the Catawba county 1860 census (Appendix I) states that she is born in 1778. Therefore, she is Christopher's daughter because she is born after Boston Jr is in Georgia. Easter is not in Christopher's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census, but is probably the unidentified female in the household of Christopher's brother, John Cline (Appendix A).

Susannah Cline could be the daughter of either Boston Cline Jr or Christopher Cline. The only record for her that exists is the marriage of Susannah Cline to John Lowry on November 8, 1785 in Lincoln county. This implies that she is born about 1765-1770. This makes her old enough to be the daughter of either Christopher or Boston Jr. FH2 states that Susannah is a daughter of Christopher Cline. FH2 does not know whom she marries and states only that there is a family tradition that she marries a Daniel Yoder. Susannah, who marries John Lowry, is presumed to be the daughter of Christopher Cline.

Salome (Sally) Cline receives her first communion in 1788. This event usually occurs about age 14, so she is born about 1774. Since Christopher's wife is named Sally, it is presumed that this Sally is Christopher's daughter. Also, Sally is unlikely to be Boston Jr's daughter because she is born about the same year that Boston Jr goes to Georgia. Sally is not in Christopher's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census, when she is about 16 years old, but she may be the unidentified female in her uncle Jacob Cline's household or living in a non-Cline household (Appendix A).

Elisabetha Cline receives her first communion in 1791 and therefore is born about 1777. Elisabetha is too young to be a daughter of Boston Jr because he is in Georgia by 1774, and thus she is presumed to be Christopher's daughter. Elisabetha is not in Christopher's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census. In fact, Christopher has only one female, presumably his wife, in his 1790 household. Two of Christopher's daughters seem to be living with his brothers in 1790. One is in John's household and one is in Jacob's household. Christopher's other unmarried daughter in 1790 must be living in a non-Cline household.

Catharina Cline receives her first communion in 1783 and therefore is born about 1769. She could be the daughter of either Christopher or Boston Jr. She is probably married by the 1790 census, which would explain why she is not found in any Cline household. Catharina is arbitrarily assumed to be a daughter of Boston Cline Jr. FH2 cites the recollection that Sebastian (Boston) Cline has a daughter Catherine who marries Christopher Sigman. In this book, Catherine Cline Sigman is shown to be the daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.2). Perhaps it is this Catharina, daughter of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1), who was being recollected in FH2 as a daughter of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4).

This concludes the determination of the children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline. This discussion has addressed all Clines found in the Lincoln county records who are not proven members of the other Cline families in Lincoln county in this time period. That is, they are not part of the Valentine Cline or Martin Cline families, nor do they belong to Sebastian Cline's other sons John, Michael or Jacob. The children considered are also too young to be children of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4). Therefore, the set of Clines discussed above have to be offspring of either Christopher Cline or Boston Cline Jr and are grandchildren of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4).

There is the possibility that some unrelated Cline entered Lincoln county in the pre-1800 period and was the parent of one or more of the above children. However, there is no indication in the records of such an unrelated Cline family.

The main effort in this discussion has been to sort out which of this set of Sebastian's grandchildren are children of Boston Cline Jr and which are children of Christopher Cline.

Based on the above discussion, the following family groupings are determined.

Children of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1)

Samuel Cline	born about 1760-1765 (only one record of his existence) (speculative relationship).
David Cline	born 1766 (probable son of Boston Jr)
Catharina Cline	born about 1769 (possible daughter of Boston Jr)
William (Long Bill) Cline	born 1770-1774
Daniel Cline	born 1770-1774 (probable son of Boston Jr)
Jacob Burns/Cline	born 1777, mother is Hannah Fry Burns
Elizabeth Burns/Cline	born 1785, mother is Hannah Fry Burns

Children of Christopher Cline (1.4.2)

Henry Cline	born November 3, 1765 (probable son of Christopher)
Susannah Cline	born about 1765-1770 (probable daughter of Christopher)
John Cline	born about 1770 (1765-1770) (probable son of Christopher)
Sally Cline	born about 1774 (probable daughter of Christopher)
Elisabetha Cline	born about 1777 (probable daughter of Christopher)
Easter Cline	born 1778
William (Devil Bill) Cline	born about 1779 (1775-1780)
Leonard Cline	born about 1784 (1775-1784)
George Cline	born 1789
Michael Cline	born 1793

The children of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1) are now discussed. The children of Christopher Cline (1.4.2) are discussed in the Christopher Cline section of this chapter.

Children of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1)

(1.4.1.1) Samuel Cline, possible son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 352). Samuel is born about 1760-1765. In October 1786, Samuel is appointed to the grand jury in Lincoln county. No other records are found for Samuel Cline. However, on December 22, 1789, a widow Rosannah Cline marries Martin Buff in Lincoln county. Rosannah is presumed to be the widow of Samuel Cline because no other Cline in Lincoln county, or elsewhere in North Carolina, is known who could leave this widow, prior to 1789. Samuel is assumed to have been born about 1760-1765 in order to have married Rosannah about 1780-1785. Samuel presumably dies in 1789, just prior to Rosannah's marriage to Martin Buff.

In July 1794, long time Lincoln county resident Peter Myers' will identifies his daughter Rosannah and his grandchildren Daniel Cline and Susanna Cline. In January 1796, Peter Myers' widow Margaret Myers leases 300 acres of land to Philip Benick with the condition that after her death he must relinquish it to the heir, Daniel Cline (her grandson).

In the Lincoln county 1790 census Martin Buff has in his household two females and two males under age 16. Martin Buff is found in the Buncombe county 1800 census with a wife born 1756-1774, a male (Daniel) born 1775-1785, a female (Susanna), born 1775-1785, and four other children, one born 1785-1790, and three born after 1790. It appears that Martin Buff was a widower with a child at the time of his marriage to Rosannah Cline in 1789.

Susanna Cline, daughter of Rosannah Buff, marries in July 1814 in Haywood county (formed from Buncombe county in 1808). Susanna is assumed to be born about 1785 and is about age 29 when she marries. Her brother Daniel is probably born a few years earlier.

Samuel Cline's children are:

(1.4.1.1.1) Daniel Cline, son of Samuel Cline (1.4.1.1). Daniel is born about 1780-1785. Daniel is in his stepfather Martin Buff's household in the Buncombe county 1800 census, but is not found in North Carolina after that. He is not in any state census in 1850 and presumably dies before then.

(1.4.1.1.2) Susanna Cline, daughter of Samuel Cline (1.4.1.1). Susanna is born about 1785 and marries James Williams on July 13, 1814 in Haywood county, North Carolina.

(1.4.1.2) David Cline, probable son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 353). David is born in 1766 and dies December 20, 1828, per his gravestone. He receives first communion from Rev. Arends at Warlick settlement in Lincoln county on October 26, 1783.

He marries Sally Carpenter (Zimmerman) in Lincoln county about 1785. Jacob Zimmerman's 1803 will identifies David Cline's wife, Sally, as his daughter. David's mother Margaret Ramsour Cline dies on January 5, 1789. Within a few months, David leaves Lincoln county. On February 20, 1789, he buys 300 acres on Knob Creek in Rutherford county from his wife's relative, Christian Carpenter. Both David Cline and Christian Carpenter live in Lincoln county at the time of this deed. David, in Rutherford county, claims 40 acres adjoining his own land on Knob Creek on July 1, 1790, and the land is granted on July 9, 1794. He claims another 100 acres on Knob Creek on April 10, 1804.

FH2 confuses this David with another David (1.3.1.2) from Cabarrus county, but does correctly identify the sons of this David (1.4.1.2) in Rutherford county as John Cline and Jacob Cline. Their father and son relationship is confirmed in the records. On April 30, 1821, David sells half of his original 300 acres to Jacob Cline, and John Cline witnesses the deed. David's sons, John and Jacob, are buried near him at Knob Creek Methodist Church.

David has the only Cline family in Rutherford county. Therefore, the three Cline women in the Rutherford county marriage records in 1812, 1820 and 1825 are David's daughters. In addition, the Lincoln county marriage records identify another probable daughter, Catherine, who marries in 1814. This Catherine is not a daughter of any Lincoln county Cline and is presumed to be David's fourth daughter who is enumerated as a child in his household in the Rutherford county 1800 and 1810 census. David's family of two sons and four daughters is verified in the Rutherford county 1790-1820 census (Appendix A-D).

David Cline dies on December 20, 1828 at the age of 62, per his gravestone at Knob Creek Methodist Church cemetery. The gravestone next to him, presumably his wife, is broken and no inscription can be seen. Also buried near him are the following members of his family:

> Sarah Cline Lackey (daughter), born October 25, 1793, dies June 20, 1845.
> Jacob Cline (son), dies August 16, 1842 at age 41.
> Sarah A. Cline (Jacob's daughter), born July 17, 1834, dies October 27, 1852.
> John Cline (son), dies October 13, 1845 at age 55.
> Catherine (John's wife), born April 15, 1796, dies July 22, 1881.
> Jacob Cline (John's son), dies September 16, 1845 at age 18.
> Mima Cline (John's daughter), dies about 1831, age 1 year 11 months.

David's widow, Sally (Salomey) Carpenter (Zimmerman), is listed in the Cleveland (formerly Rutherford) county 1850 census as Sally Cline, born 1766 (Appendix G). In the Cleveland county 1860 census, Sally is listed as born in 1768, is an invalid, but still lives in her own household (Appendix I).

David and Sally Cline's children are in the Rutherford county civil and church records and the census of Rutherford county and Cleveland county (Appendix A-G, I). They are the only Cline families in Rutherford county.

David Cline's children are:

(1.4.1.2.1) Margaret Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 353). Margaret is born 1784-1790 and is named after her father's mother, Margaret Ramsour Cline. Margaret is in her father David's household in the Rutherford county 1790-1810 census. She marries Jacob Ivester in Rutherford county on December 24, 1812.

(1.4.1.2.2) Catherine Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 353). Catherine is born 1784-1790 and is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1790-1810 census. She marries William Hull in Lincoln county on November 8, 1814. Three of their children are in their household in the Cleveland county 1850 census:

John Hull, born 1827.

William Hull, born 1830.

Jacob Hull, born 1832.

(1.4.1.2.3) John Cline, son of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 354). John is born in 1790 and dies on October 13, 1845, per his gravestone. He is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1800 and 1810 census and has his own household in the Rutherford county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). John marries Catherine Mull in Lincoln county on September 19, 1816. John acquires 58 acres on Knob Creek in Rutherford county on May 1, 1824. His brother Jacob witnesses the deed. John claims another 150 acres on Knob Creek on July 15, 1830, bordering his own land and that of his brother Jacob.

In 1834 John helps lay out a widow's dower for a neighbor Isabella Peeler, widow of Joseph Peeler. John is on the 1835 voters' list at Warlick's precinct in Rutherford county, and in 1844 and 1845 he is the election manager at that precinct. John and his wife Catherine Mull Cline sell her share of her father John Mull's estate land to her mother Sarah Mull and to Catherine's brother Henry Mull on July 16, 1839 in Lincoln county.

John Cline dies on October 23, 1845, per the court record, and his son David is the estate administrator. Samuel and Francis Lattimore and John Carpenter are appointed to lay out the widow's allowance for Catherine. John's death date on his gravestone is October 13, 1845.

FH2, FH4, FH5 and the Rutherford county 1820-1840 and Cleveland county 1850 and 1860 census establish John Cline's children (Appendix D-G, I):

Susanna Cline, born November 25, 1819 and dies May 19, 1908 in Caldwell county per FH5. She is one of two daughters born 1815-1820 in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1820 and 1830 census. She is not in her father's 1840 household and presumably marries by then. She marries Ambrose Lutz and they live in Burke county per FH4. FH2 and FH5 also identify Susanna (Susan) and her husband Ambrose Lutz. FH5 identifies Susanna and Ambrose's 11 children.

Margaret Cline, born 1820, per the Cleveland county 1850 census. In that census Margaret Cline is living with John Peeler, four young Cline children and her cousin David, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.1.2.5). Margaret and John and the children are all listed as Peelers on page 373 of the Cleveland county 1860 census. Three additional Peeler children are present in 1860. It appears that Margaret Cline marries John Peeler. They may have married prior to 1850 and the surnames of Margaret and the children were listed as Cline in the census in error, or they may have married after 1850. FH2 names Margaret as a daughter of John, but does not name her husband. Margaret is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1820-1840 census. In the 1840 census, John Peeler may also be living in Margaret's father's household.

David Cline, born January 1, 1823 and dies June 9, 1894 per FH5. David is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1830 and 1840 census. He marries Rachel Charlotte Lattimore on July 23, 1846 per FH5. David has his own household in the Cleveland county 1850 and 1860 census. FH2 incorrectly lists Henry Sylvester Cline as David's brother. Eventually a Henry Sylvester is in the family, but he is this David Cline's son. FH5 has additional information for David's children.

Elizabeth Cline, born February 4, 1825, dies April 12, 1885 and marries Alfred Graves Peeler per FH5. She is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1830 and 1840 census. FH2 also names Elizabeth and her husband. FH5 has information for their children.

Jacob Cline, born 1827, dies September 16, 1845, per his gravestone at Knob Creek Methodist Church cemetery. Jacob is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1830-1840 census.

Mima Cline, born about 1829, dies about 1831, age 1 year 11 months, per her Knob Creek Methodist Church cemetery gravestone. She is not in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1830 census. Therefore, Mima dies prior to the 1830 census and the reading of her gravestone is not accurate.

John Cline, born April 15, 1832, dies April 26, 1900, and marries Catherine Elizabeth Hoyle on October 2, 1851, per FH5. John is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1840 census and in his widowed mother's household in the Cleveland county 1850 census. FH2 also names John and his wife, and states that he was in the Civil War in Captain Peter Mull's F company, 55th regiment. FH5 covers John's Civil War service in depth. In the Cleveland county 1860 census John is in his own household with his wife Catherine and their children. FH2, FH4 and FH5 have additional information for John Cline's children.

Catherine Cline, born April 21, 1835, dies August 6, 1915 and marries John Alexander Self on January 23, 1855 per FH4 and FH5. FH2 also names Catherine and her husband as a son of Lemuel Self. Catherine is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1840 census. Per the Cleveland county 1850 census Catherine (Katherine) is living in the household of her widowed mother with brothers John, Henry, and Ambrose and also is listed in her grandmother Sally Cline's household next door. FH5 states that John Self dies on August 30, 1855, just prior to the December 21, 1855 birth of his daughter Martha. Catherine and her daughter Martha are living with Catherine's mother Catherine Cline in the Cleveland county 1860 census.

Henry Cline, born November 7, 1837, dies April 28, 1928 and marries Mary Willis about 1856, per FH4 and FH5. FH2 also names Henry and his wife and states he was in the same Civil War company as his brother John. Henry is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1840 census. In the Cleveland county 1850 census Henry is living in the household of his widowed mother with his siblings John, Catherine, and Ambrose. Henry, his wife Mary and their first-born child are listed in the Cleveland county 1860 census. FH4 and FH5 have additional information for Henry's children.

J. Ambrose Cline, born in 1839, marries Eliza Chapman on February 4, 1860 and dies on October 14, 1864 in the Civil War per FH5. Ambrose is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1840 census. Ambrose's two children are Bell Zora Elizabeth Cline and John Ambrose Cline per FH5, which also notes that a third child, Peter Sanford Cline, is a son of Peter Mull and Ambrose's widow in 1868.

Louise Cline and/or Sally Cline, possible daughters of John. Only FH2 mentions Louise and Sally with the notation that Sally marries John Wright and has no children. Census analysis for John's household shows only four daughters living to maturity: Susanna, Margaret, Elizabeth and Catherine Cline. Therefore, Louise and Sally, if they exist, are not daughters of John Cline.

(1.4.1.2.4) Sarah (Sally) Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 355). Sally is born on October 25, 1793 and dies June 20, 1845 per her gravestone. Sally is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). Sally and her husband are buried near her parents. She marries Samuel Lackey on October 7, 1820. Per FH4, their children are:

James Lackey, born 1818, marries Mary Reep September 22, 1845.

David Lackey, born January 23, 1820, dies June 4, 1901, marries first Mary Boggs August 29, 1843, and marries second Sarah S. Taylor October 6, 1866.

John Samuel Lackey, born June 4, 1825, dies September 14, 1898 and marries Mrs. Anna C. Bingham Wilson September 21, 1847.

William Lackey, born about 1825, dies 1858 and marries Susan Wortman.

Jacob Cline Lackey, born March 11, 1827, dies April 12, 1894 and marries Martha Love Falls in 1858. FH4 lists Jacob's four children.

Alexander Lackey, born April 23, 1830, dies January 21, 1917 and marries Sarah Burchfield July 14, 1881.

Samuel Lackey, marries a Hartsell.

Sarah Lackey, born February 22, 1837, dies June 9, 1912, and marries Caleb Weishunt (Whisenhunt) July 21, 1859.

(1.4.1.2.5) Jacob Cline, son of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 355). Jacob is born in 1800 and dies on August 16, 1842, per his gravestone. Jacob is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). After marrying Sally Shuford in Lincoln county on March 4, 1821, Jacob buys 150 acres on Knob Creek in Rutherford county from his father on April 30, 1821. Jacob witnesses the will of James Wilson Sr in Rutherford county on March 29, 1829, serves as a juror in 1835, posts the security bond for James Chaffin as the new constable in October 1834, and is a poll inspector for Warlick district in April 1841. Jacob, his wife and his children are in the Rutherford county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). In August 1842, Jacob's widow Sarah (Sally) is appointed guardian of their minor children David, Elizabeth and Sarah. Jacob's children are per FH2, FH4 and the Cleveland county 1850 census (Appendix G):

John Cline, born 1828, per his listing in the Cleveland county 1850 census. John is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1830 and 1840 census. FH2 states that John is the older of Jacob's two sons. FH4 cites a February 17, 1849 deed identifying John as a son of Jacob Cline (Lincoln county, Book 43, p 39). FH2 also states that John ends up in Texas. Per the Cleveland county 1850 census John is living with a Lucinda Cline (born 1809) and six Lattimore children, ages 5-16. This Lucinda is probably misidentified as a Cline by the census taker.

She is probably the widow Lucinda Lattimore. John is not in the North Carolina 1860 census.

David Cline, born July 8, 1830 and dies November 23, 1901 per FH2. David is in his father's household in the Rutherford county 1830 and 1840 census. He is living with John Peeler, as is his cousin, Margaret Cline, in the Cleveland county 1850 census. There is an estate record for a David Cline in Cleveland county in 1862, which could imply that he dies in the Civil War per FH4. However, this estate record is probably a continuation of the 1845 settlement of his uncle John Cline's (1.4.1.2.3) estate by John's son David and not for the estate of this David, son of Jacob (1.4.1.2.5). Per FH2, David marries Jane Young and moves to Blacksburg, South Carolina. This is confirmed by the South Carolina census. David Cline, born 1830 in North Carolina, and his wife Jane are found on page 482 of the York county, South Carolina 1860 census and on page 504 of the York county 1870 census. FH2 discusses David's eight children. They are also named in the 1860 and 1870 census.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1833, per the Cleveland county 1850 census where she is listed as living with her widowed mother, Sally Cline, born 1800.

Sarah A. Cline, born July 17, 1834 and dies October 27, 1852, per her gravestone at Knob Creek Methodist Church in Cleveland county. In the Cleveland county 1850 census, she is listed as living with her widowed mother, Sally Cline, born 1800.

(1.4.1.2.6) Sophia Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 355). Sophia is born 1800-1804 and is in her father's household in the Rutherford county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Sophia marries Thomas Owins on April 12, 1825.

(1.4.1.3) Catharina Cline, possible daughter of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 352). Catherina receives first communion from Rev. Arends at Warlich settlement in Lincoln county on October 26, 1783. This implies her birth date is about 1769. FH2 identifies a Catherine Cline, who marries Michael Sumner (Sumrow or Summerow), as a daughter of Christopher Cline's son Henry (1.4.2.1). However, the discussion of Henry's children in his section of this chapter shows that he does not have such a daughter Catherine. The only Michael Sumrow found in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census is a widower, born 1750-1760, with five children, born 1795-1810, in his household. It is speculated that the Catherine Cline who marries Michael Sumrow, as recalled in FH2, is really this Catharina Cline, daughter of Boston Cline Jr. If this is the case, then Catharina marries Michael Sumrow about 1790, has at least five children by 1810 and dies prior to 1820.

(1.4.1.4) William (Long Bill) Cline, son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 356-358). William is born 1770-1774 and his wife is born 1780-1784 per census analysis. In the Lincoln county 1800 census, William, born before 1775, appears in his own household with his wife, born 1774-1784, and has no children (Appendix B). In the Lincoln county 1830 census William is listed as born 1770-1780, and his wife is listed as born 1780-1790 (Appendix E). William is in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G) and his widow is in the Macon county 1860 census (Appendix I). William is not found in the North Carolina 1810, 1820 or 1840 census. However, there is a William Cline in the Lincoln county, Tennessee 1820 census, and the ages of that William and his family match the ages of the William (Long Bill) Cline family. Only two of William's three sons are with him in that census. His son John is still in Lincoln county, North Carolina and is a young head of household there, probably on his father's property, in the 1820 census (Appendix D). Perhaps William moves to Tennessee for the years 1816-1820, which is consistent with his land transactions.

FH2 states that William Cline marries Susannah Blackburn and has sons, William and Nathaniel, and a daughter Fanny. An article by a descendant, Mrs. Nancy Green Garrison, uses family Bible and other personal data to identify the above children and also a son John, who marries Margaret Sullivan, and daughters Malinda, Mary Magdalene (Polly) and Joanna. Mrs. Garrison states that William (Long Bill) Cline is born about 1770, that his father is unknown, and that William is probably a grandson of Sebastian (Boston) Cline. Mrs. Garrison believes that William (Long Bill) marries Susannah Blackburn about 1795 and that they first live on the east side of Clarks Creek about four miles east of Newton and then later live on Pinch Gut Creek. William (Long Bill) moves to Macon county in 1835.

The Lincoln county records show William claiming 20 acres in May 1792 on the east side of Clarks Creek, but this claim is "discontinued". He then acquires 116 acres on the east side of the Catawba South Fork in March 1796. His brother-in-law, William Blackburn, and his cousin, Henry Cline (1.4.2.1) witness the deed. William is a juror in January 1798 and is noted as being adjacent to Andrew Wilson on Clarks Creek in November 1800. William witnesses a deed from John Sigman to Andrew Wilson on May 1, 1802.

William attends the estate sale of his mother-in-law Martha Blackburn in October 1803, and he is identified as the husband of Robert Blackburn's daughter Susanna in the Robert Blackburn (deceased 1793) estate settlement of May 1805. William is also identified as the husband of Susannah Blackburn in her brother James Blackburn's will of April 17, 1808, and they, with her other brothers, deed 400 acres to James' widow Susannah on January 7, 1809.

William acquires 176 acres on Bets Branch of Clarks Creek from Lewis Huert in March 1810 and sells this land to Jacob Smyre in May 1816. William deeds 150 acres to Andrew Wilson, adjacent to Andrew's land, in January 1813. William (Long Bill) is on a court panel in January 1812 along with his cousin William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). It is noted in Appendix J that several of the records found for William Cline could belong to either William (Long Bill) or William (Devil Bill). The most probable attribution is made.

William deeds 185 acres on the east side of Clarks Creek to John Reinhardt on February 26, 1825. He acquires 180 acres on Pinch Gut Creek in November 1826, where his son William Jr had acquired 40 acres a month earlier, in October 1826. William Sr sells part of his Pinch Gut Creek land in April 1834, and the rest in September 1835. William is next seen on the Iredell county tax list, holding 189 acres in 1837.

William and his son Nathaniel of Macon county deed 114 acres on Horney Creek in Haywood county to James Hicks of Macon county in January 1839. William sues John Schuler at Morgan district superior court on September 20, 1848.

William (Long Bill) Cline's children are determined from the cited article by Mrs. Garrison, with additional data from FH2, the civil records and the census.

William (Long Bill) Cline's children are:

(1.4.1.4.1) William Cline Jr, son of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). (Appendix J, p 357, 400). William is born on January 13, 1803 per FH2. He marries Susannah Starr (1.4.2.6.2) on July 27, 1825. On October 2, 1826, William Cline Jr buys 40 acres on Pinch Gut Creek in Lincoln county. William Cline Jr's children are per FH2 and the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I):

Jonathan Davidson Cline, born April 13, 1826, marries Emmelin Miller September 20, 1850 and has 10 children born from 1851- 1871. They and their descendants are discussed in FH2.

Francis Marion Cline, born December 15, 1827, marries Caroline Abernethy and has eight children identified in FH2.

William Pinkney Cline, born February 28, 1829. However, in the Catawba county 1850 census Pinkney is in his father's household and is listed as born in 1835. He marries Catherine Summit about 1855 and has five children. They and their descendants are in FH2. William Pinkney dies from wounds in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Linnie Roxanah Cline, born February 21, 1830, marries Jonas Killian and has six sons identified in FH2.

Easter Mahala Cline, born August 9, 1832 and marries Sidney Elkanah Huitt. Easter has one out-of-wedlock son, John Hillary Cline, with Hillary Summit. Easter and Sidney have seven children. They and their children are discussed in FH2.

Julius Calvin Cline, born July 15, 1837 and marries Rebecca Fisher. They have two children, Henry and Margaret, who are discussed further in FH2. Julius Calvin is killed at the Battle of Gettysburg on July 3, 1863.

Ruth Elizabeth Cline, born March 7, 1840 and marries Phillip Drum about 1860. They have eight children who are identified in FH2.

Patsy Lovina Cline, born March 11, 1847, does not marry, but has one son by William Martin named Charlie Cline, who marries his first cousin Mattie Cline, daughter of John Hillary Cline (out of wedlock son of Easter Cline above) and Charlie has five children who are named in FH2.

FH2 also identifies a Perry Robert Cline, born February 17, 1843, as a son of William Cline Jr and Susannah Starr Cline. However, the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G) shows no such child in the household of this William Cline Jr. Perry Cline goes to Illinois after the Civil War and marries there. Later he goes to Texas where he dies about 1915. His input to FH2 must be in error. His real father has not been determined.

(1.4.1.4.2) John Cline, son of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). (Appendix J, p 358, 400). John Cline is born in 1805 in North Carolina per the Polk county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H). John marries Margaret Sullivan on April 27, 1821 in Lincoln county, and his father is bondsman. He appears in his own household in the 1820 Lincoln county census (Appendix D), but then goes west to Macon county, briefly to Georgia, and settles in Tennessee.

John is in Macon county in 1823 and 1829, where he witnesses and proves a deed. He is on the voter list in 1835 at Franklin, in Macon county. John marries a second wife, Elizabeth Hyde, in Macon county on October 21, 1837, after the birth of his first four children by his first wife, Margaret Sullivan. John is in Macon county, North Carolina in the 1840 census (Appendix F). In the 1850 census John and his wife, Elizabeth, born in North Carolina, have five children born 1827-1839 in North Carolina, one child born in Georgia in 1840, and two younger children born in Tennessee. The children of John Cline are listed in the Polk county, Tennessee 1850 census:

Maston A. Cline, born 1827 in North Carolina. He and his probable wife, Louisa A. Cline, born 1827, are living with Maston's parents in the 1850 census. Also in the household is Maston's probable daughter, Frances M. Cline, born 1849.

John F. Cline, born 1831 in North Carolina.

Miles Cline, born 1834 in North Carolina.

Sarah C. Cline, born 1835 in North Carolina.

William M. Cline, born 1838 in North Carolina.

Amon C. Cline, born 1840 in Georgia.

James D. Cline, born 1843 in Tennessee.

Rhoda E. Cline, born 1846 in Tennessee.

(1.4.1.4.3) Mary Magdalene (Polly) Cline, daughter of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). (Appendix J, p 356, 403). Mary is born on July 13, 1808 and dies on July 24, 1895 in Iredell county. She marries Daniel Deitz on April 8, 1830. Mrs. Garrison's article traces her lineage back to this Mary Cline and she names the following ten children:

Julia Malinda Deitz, born December 10, 1829.

William Franklin Deitz, born August 6, 1832 (died in infancy).

Michael Pinckney Deitz, born June 6, 1834.

Matthew Julius Deitz, born March 21, 1837.

John Sidney Deitz, born September 30, 1839.

Daniel Aquilla (Tom) Deitz, born July 8, 1842.

Marquis LaFayette Deitz, born January 7, 1845.

Mary Susan Deitz, born May 21, 1847.

Martha Diana Deitz.

Lucas Socrates Deitz, born September 4, 1851.

(1.4.1.4.4) Fanny Cline, daughter of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). (Appendix J, p 403). Fanny is born about 1810, per census analysis. She marries Jacob Frye on September 26, 1825. Fanny and Jacob appear on page 350 of the Lincoln county 1850 census and on page 215 of the Lincoln county 1830 census and on page 93 of the 1840 census. Fanny's children, all born in Catawba county, are per the census:

child Fry, daughter of Jacob, born 1825-1830.

Linna Fry, born 1829. She marries Elkanah Jones and has six children named in FH2.

Susan Fry, born 1832 and does not marry.

Neanda (Amanda) Fry, born 1833. She marries Pinkney Parker.

Joanna Fry, born 1835, marries Benjamin Allen and has three children named in FH2.

Lucetta Fry, born 1837.

William Fry, born 1842. Does not marry and dies in Civil War.

Margaret Fry, born 1844. She marries Jeptha Stewart. They have eight children named in FH2.

Philecta Fry, named by FH2, does not marry.

Harriet Fry, named by FH2, marries William Keever, has no children.

Salome Fry, named by FH2, marries Perry Fry and has nine children named in FH2.

(1.4.1.4.5) Nathaniel Cline, son of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). (Appendix J, p 356, 358, 400). Nathaniel is born in 1812 per the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He marries Barbara Fry on September 23, 1830 in Lincoln county. Nathaniel is identified as the husband of Barbara Fry in her father Jacob Fry's will of September 13, 1834. Nathaniel and his father are in Macon county in January 1839, where they deed land in Haywood county to James Hicks of Macon county. Nathaniel and family are in the Lincoln county 1840 census (Appendix F).

The Catawba county 1850 census shows Nathaniel without a wife (she is deceased) and six children (Appendix G):

Elizabeth Cline, born 1831 and marries Miles Throneburg.

Susannah Cline, born 1833 and marries George Reese. They have no children.

Mary (Polly) Cline, born October 14, 1834. She marries Marion Starr, grandson of Easter Cline Starr (1.4.2.6). They have seven children named in FH2.

Margaret Cline, born 1839 and marries Sorenius Hudson.

Henry L. Cline, born June 17, 1841 and dies September 6, 1861 in the Civil War. (Appendix J, p 405).

Louise Cline, born 1844 and living with the William Reinhardt family, who adopt her after her mother's death.

(1.4.1.4.6) Malinda (Linnie) Cline, daughter of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). Malinda is born in 1825 and is living in her parents' household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). However, she is born 1815-1820 per her listing in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census (Appendix E). She does not marry but the child, Thaddeus Cline, born in 1843 and living with her parents in 1850, may be her son. Her parents are too old to have such a young child.

(1.4.1.4.7) Joanna Cline, daughter of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). Joanna is born in 1828 and is living in her parents' household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). However, she is born 1820-1825 per her entry in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census (Appendix E). She does not marry.

(1.4.1.5) Daniel Cline, son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 359-360). Daniel is born 1770-1774 per census data analysis. He receives first communion on May 27, 1787 in Lincoln county. He attends his grandfather Sebastian Cline's (1.4) estate sale on September 6, 1794.

On March 4, 1794, Daniel claims 70 acres on Indian Creek in Lincoln county. This land is granted to Daniel on June 27, 1797. Per the Cabarrus county 1800 census, Daniel is born prior to 1775 and appears with his wife, three sons and two daughters in his household (Appendix B). In 1803 Daniel sells his Indian Creek land, with its "small improvement", while he is a resident of Buncombe county. After residing in Cabarrus county and Buncombe county Daniel returns to Lincoln county.

In Lincoln county Daniel claims 75 acres bordering Phifer on Macklins Creek in 1805. He buys 200 acres on Hagins Fork from Caleb Phifer of Cabarrus county in July 1806. In 1807 Daniel claims 40 acres on Lyles Creek and also buys 200 acres on Lyles Creek. He appears in the Lincoln county 1810 census with his wife and two additional sons born since the 1800 census (Appendix C).

Daniel serves with the Lincoln county 8th company in the War of 1812. In 1818, Daniel sells his Hagins Fork land and moves to Burke county where he appears in the 1820 census with one son and no wife (Appendix D). Daniel is then in the Rabun county, Georgia 1830 census where he is listed as single and born 1770-1780.

Daniel obtains land in Murray county, Georgia in the 1832 Georgia land lottery. He is a juror in Murray county in 1837 and 1839. Daniel apparently dies prior to 1840 since he is not located in the 1840 or 1850 census.

Daniel Cline's children are per the census:

(1.4.1.5.1) child Cline, probable son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). He is born 1790-1800 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 census, but is not in his household in the Lincoln county 1810 census.

(1.4.1.5.2) child Cline, probable son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). He is born 1790-1800 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 census, but is not in his household in the Lincoln county 1810 census.

(1.4.1.5.3) child Cline, probable daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). She is born 1790-1800 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 census, but is not in his household in the Lincoln county 1810 census.

(1.4.1.5.4) Sarah Cline, probable daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). (Appendix J, p 360). Sarah is born in 1797 per the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). Sarah Cline marries Absalom Raby in Burke county about 1820, and they move to Macon county with other members of the Raby family. Sarah Cline Raby is the probable daughter of Daniel Cline because he is the only known Cline in Burke county in about 1820 who has a daughter of marrying age. Daniel's second cousin, David Cline (1.3.1.2), is also in Burke county in 1820, but he does not have a daughter of Sarah's age (see David Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census, Appendix C).

In the Macon county 1850 census, Sarah Raby, born 1797, is in the household of Absalom Cline, his wife Rhoda and their children. Sarah and Absalom's living in the same house indicates that they are brother and widowed sister. In 1855, Sarah Cline Raby's niece, Lucy Ann Raby, marries Absalom Cline's son Alfred. Although the census states that Sarah and Absalom are both born in Burke county, their ages match those of children in Daniel Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. Daniel and his family move to Burke county about 1818.

Since most of the pre-Civil War Burke county records were destroyed by Union troops, it is not possible to confirm the above lineage by showing that no other Cline family was active in Burke county in this time frame. However, the Burke county census records survive and show no Clines there prior to the 1820 census. Therefore, two of Daniel's children are probably Sarah and Absalom.

(1.4.1.5.5) Jacob Cline, possible son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). (Appendix J, p 360-361). Jacob is born 1800-1801 in North Carolina per the Polk county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H). If Jacob is born in 1800, he could be one of the three sons in Daniel's household in both the Cabarrus county 1800 census and the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix B, C). The three sons in Daniel's household in each census are age 10 and under.

Jacob marries Elizabeth Messor on February 3, 1823 in Haywood county, North Carolina. Jacob and his probable father, Daniel Cline, both win land in Murray county, Georgia in the 1832 Georgia land lottery and both are jurors there in 1837 and 1839. Jacob appears on page 274 of the Murray county, Georgia 1840 census with his wife, four sons and three daughters.

Jacob buys land in Cherokee county, North Carolina in 1849, while living in Murray county, Georgia. He sells his interest there in 1851 by designating a third cousin, Daniel William Cline (1.3.1.2.5), to represent him in Cherokee county, North Carolina. At that time, Daniel William Cline is living in Murray county, Georgia with his father, but returns to North Carolina shortly thereafter.

In the Polk county, Tennessee 1850 census, Jacob and his wife Elizabeth, both born 1800-1801 in North Carolina, have three of the seven children of their 1840 census household still living with them and one child born after 1840:

child Cline, son born 1820-1825.

child Cline, son born 1825-1830.

child Cline, daughter born 1825-1830.

James Cline, born 1833 in Georgia.

William Cline, born 1835 in Georgia.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1837 in Georgia.

child Cline, daughter born 1835-1840, apparently dies young.

Naomi Cline, born 1842 in Georgia.

(1.4.1.5.6) Thomas Cline or Joe Cline, possible son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). (Appendix J, p 360, 400). Thomas is born 1800-1810, per the Gwinnett county, Georgia 1830 census and could be one of the three sons born 1800-1810 in Daniel Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. He marries Sally Mitchum on October 18, 1825 in Lincoln county. Thomas appears to be a son of Daniel because all the other Cline males of marrying age in Lincoln county at this time are known and none are named Thomas. In fact, no other Thomas Cline is found in North Carolina at this time.

On page 376 of the Gwinnett county, Georgia 1830 census, Thomas and his wife are listed as born 1800-1810 and have in their household two sons and one daughter under age 5, and an older male born 1760-1770. In the Georgia document entitled Whites Among Cherokee – 1830, Thomas A. Cline is noted as living in Hightower with a Cherokee wife and three children, and in 1830 he "has enrolled for Arkansas". Thomas is not found in any state in the 1840 or 1850 census, so nothing more is known of him.

Joe Cline might instead be this fourth son of Daniel Cline. He appears in the Rabun county 1830 census one page before Daniel Cline's listing. In that census Joe is shown as born 1800-1810 and has a son and a daughter, each under the age of 5. This is the only record of this Joe Cline. He does not appear in any state in the 1840 or 1850 census. The relationship between Joe and Daniel is speculative.

(1.4.1.5.7) Absalom Cline, probable son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5). (Appendix J, p 361). Absalom is born in 1807 per the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). Absalom is probably one of the three sons under age 10 in Daniel's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. Absalom marries Rhoda Kirkland in Macon county on March 19, 1831. In 1835, Absalom appears on the Macon county voting list. Records of Jackson county, formed in 1851 from Macon county, show Absalom is granted 100 acres on November 25, 1856. In the 1850 census Absalom's widowed sister, Sarah Cline Raby, is living with him. Absalom's children, all born in Macon county, appear in his household in the Macon county 1850 census:

Alfred Cline, born 1831. He marries Lucy Ann Raby about 1851 at Bryson City, North Carolina. Lucy is the niece of Sarah Cline Raby, sister of Alfred Cline's father. See Macon county 1860 census (Appendix I).

Sally Cline, born 1834.

Seth Cline, born 1836.

William Cline, born 1838.

John Cline, born 1840.

Angeline Cline, born 1842.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1844.

Nancy Cline, born 1846.

Andrew Cline, born 1849.

(1.4.1.6) Jacob Burns/Cline, son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). (Appendix J, p 352 and G. M. Yoder's The History of the Frye Family). Jacob Burns is born in Georgia in 1777 to Boston Cline Jr and Hannah Fry Burns. Jacob Burns returns to North Carolina with his mother, marries, has children and lives near the old Bost schoolhouse. Jacob Burns dies in Catawba county on September 5, 1857, and his wife is buried in April 1867 at Hauss Church cemetery, per the diary of Rev. P.C. Henkle. The children of Jacob Burns have not been researched for this book.

(1.4.1.7) Elizabeth Burns/Cline, daughter of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). Elizabeth is born in Georgia in 1785-1786 to Boston Cline Jr and Hannah Fry Burns per FH3. Elizabeth marries Abraham Cook in Lincoln county on July 17, 1823 and her brother Jacob Burns is bondsman, per the Lincoln county marriage records. Their children, if any, are unknown.

Christopher Cline (1.4.2)
son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage Rationale. Christopher is documented as a son in Sebastian (Boston) Cline's will of December 27, 1791. Christopher is an adult by 1768 when he appears on a property tax list. Christopher's first child is born in 1765. Therefore, Christopher is probably born 1740-1745. He dies about 1798.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 362-364) and census records (Appendix A, B).

Christopher first appears in the records in 1768 on the Rowan county tax list with his father Boston Cline and brothers Boston Cline Jr and John Cline. In 1772, Christopher attends two estate sales in Mecklenburg county. He attends one of these sales with his mother's brother Mathias Beaver, who has moved to that county. He attends the second estate sale with his cousin John Cline (1.3.1) of Mecklenburg county. In 1785, Christopher returns to Mecklenburg county for Mathias Beaver's estate sale.

On November 20, 1779, Christopher claims 300 acres on a branch of Clarks Creek, including the improvement whereon he lives. Christopher executes only 144 acres of this claim and this is granted on November 9, 1784. Christopher may have been on this land as early as 1763, when the Granville land office closed, since in-process claims for Granville lands were not processed again until 1779. This 144-acre tract is sold in December 1786 to satisfy an 18-pound court judgement against Christopher. The buyer is his brother John Cline.

No other land transaction records survive for Christopher Cline. However, in 1791 and 1795, Christopher is noted as holding land on Clarks Creek adjoining lands deeded to John Yoder and Thomas Punch. Christopher may have acquired this other Clarks Creek land during 1777-1782 when the Clarks Creek area was part of Burke county. Many of the early Burke county records were destroyed in the Civil War. Also, Christopher may have regained some of his 144-acre tract from his brother John Cline. When John resells the 144-acre tract in October 1815, it is noted as 102 acres, not 144 acres. Perhaps John informally deeded back to Christopher the 42 acres containing Christopher's home. In any event Christopher and his brother John are found living next to each other in the Lincoln county 1790 census.

In 1782, Colonel Charles McDowell is on trial for alleged Tory leanings. In that trial Christopher is a witness and is required to prove he is not a Tory and was not given "easy" duty by Colonel McDowell. Christopher's brothers John and Michael are also called as witnesses in this trial and all three are described as enlistees who served at Fort Charles during the Revolutionary War.

Christopher appears six times in the Burke county records from 1781 through 1783. Even after the Clarks Creek region is transferred from Burke county to Lincoln county in 1782, there are still some records for Christopher in Burke county. He appears on a "delinquents" tax list in Burke county in 1788 and again in 1797. He also is assigned to two road projects in Burke county in January 1797 and October 1798. It appears that Christopher may have held some additional land or interest in Burke county in those years in addition to his residence in Lincoln county. In 1794 Christopher is a witness in a horse stealing case in the Morgan district Superior Court in Morganton, Burke county.

Christopher is a co-administrator in July 1784 in Lincoln county for the estate of Conrad Burns, husband of Hannah Fry Burns. Christopher appears again in the Lincoln county court records in September 1785.

After 1798 there are no further records found for Christopher Cline in Lincoln county or Burke county, until a different Christopher Cline (3.1.1) moves there about 1813 from Guilford county. That Christopher Cline is discussed in Chapter 5.

Christopher Cline (1.4.2) apparently dies about 1798. The Burke county October 1798 court was probably unaware that he was deceased when they assigned his name to a road project. Christopher's death year is inferred from the following census data.

Christopher appears in the Lincoln county 1790 census with a wife and three sons under the age of 16, but Christopher is not in the 1800 census (Appendix A, B). Except for Christopher, all of the other married Cline heads of house appearing in the 1790 Lincoln county census appear again in the 1800 census. In the Lincoln county 1800 census the only entry that matches Christopher's family is for a widow Sally Cline, born prior to 1755, with two sons in her household. The two sons with Christopher's presumed widow, Sally, match the ages for his two youngest sons, George and Michael. Sally Cline also purchases items at the 1794 Sebastian Cline estate sale, implying she is a member of the family. There is no adult Cline daughter with the name, Sally, except Christopher's daughter Sally, born about 1774. This 20-year old Sally is not likely to be the one who purchases items at the 1794 estate sale. The only other Sally who is a wife of a Sebastian Cline son or grandson is Sally Carpenter Cline, wife of David Cline (1.4.1.2). However, David does not attend the 1794 estate sale and, presumably, neither does his wife Sally. Therefore, the Sally Cline who purchases items at the 1794 estate sale is most likely Christopher Cline's wife.

On May 28, 1798, Sally Cline buys 40 acres on Lyles Creek from her Clarks Creek neighbor, John Smire. The witness is Johannes (John) Cline, Christopher's brother. Sally Cline is on this Lyles Creek land in the 1800 census. Christopher Cline must be deceased prior to May 1798 because Sally Cline is buying land in her own name, which can only be done by a woman in this era if she is a widow.

Christopher's children are distinguished from Boston Jr's children in the section entitled Determination of the Children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline presented earlier in this chapter. Based upon that determination the children of Christopher are discussed below.

Christopher Cline's children are:

(1.4.2.1) Henry Cline, probable son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 364-368, 399, 408). Henry is born on November 3, 1765 and dies December 24, 1843, per his gravestone at the Old White Church cemetery in Lincolnton. He is confirmed by Rev. Arends on October 26, 1783. Henry Cline marries Elizabeth Carpenter, daughter of Jacob Carpenter, on January 11, 1787. Elizabeth is born March 16, 1767 and dies August 27, 1839 per her Old White Church gravestone.

Henry acquires a lot in Lincolnton in October 1786 and a license to sell liquor there in January 1787. On November 19, 1787, he acquires 250 acres on Lockharts Creek that he resells to Peter Finger on August 18, 1788. Henry acquires 100 acres on Clarks Creek from John Sigman on July 7, 1789 and another 103 acres there from John Sigman on September 28, 1789. On July 20, 1789, he also claims 24 acres on Clarks Creek, including the house where he lives. In September 1792, Henry buys another lot in Lincolnton, and part of his Lincolnton lots are sold in January 1800.

Henry acquires 240 acres on Bets Branch of Clarks Creek in October 1795, claims 100 acres in the area in January 1793, and again in September 1801 and January 1811. In July 1811, he has 256 acres surveyed on Bets Branch adjoining Andrew Wilson. In September 1812, another 120 acres is surveyed for Henry. Henry continues to claim land on Bets Branch and Clarks Creek in 1818, 1819 and 1825. Henry also appears in the Lincoln county court records as a juror and litigant in 1788, 1791, 1793-1797, 1800, and 1808-1809.

Henry appears in his own household with his wife and two daughters in the Lincoln county 1790 census. He and his family continue to appear in the Lincoln county 1800-1830 census. In the 1840 census, Henry's wife is no longer living and he is living with his son John (Appendix A-F).

Henry Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.2.1.1) Susanah Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). Susanah is born on November 7, 1787 and dies on September 23, 1832. She is one of the two daughters in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census. Susanah marries a hat maker, John Butts, on February 21, 1808. FH2 names her children:

Sarah Butts, born December 30, 1808 (1807 ?), dies 22 June 1827.

Elizabeth Butts, born May 26, 1809, marries Thomas Shuford in 1827.

Jacob Butts, born January 20, 1811.

David Butts, born June 8, 1813, marries Angie Foster.

J. M. Butts, born August 27, 1815.

Daniel Butts, born February 8, 1818, moves to Tennessee.

M.A. Butts, born January 27, 1821, dies unmarried.

Susan C. Butts, born June 2, 1823, marries a Moore.

Margaret Eliza Butts, born June 22, 1827, marries John Cameron Cobb. More information about the Cobb family is in FH2.

(1.4.2.1.2) Sarah Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). (Appendix J, p 366, 402). Sarah is one of the two daughters born 1784-1790 in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census. Sarah marries John Rudisill on January 1, 1811 per FH2, and her marriage is verified in the Lincoln county records. No other information is found.

(1.4.2.1.3) Henry Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). (Appendix J, p 368). Henry Cline is born in 1790 in North Carolina per the Pope county, Arkansas 1850 census, where Henry has a wife Nancy, born in 1790 in North Carolina (Appendix H). However, FH2 says that Henry marries Elizabeth Butts, who may have been a wife prior to Nancy, or perhaps Elizabeth is an incorrect recollection. Also there is a marriage bond for a Henry Kline marrying Polly Sullivan on January 12, 1813 in Lincoln county, although the abstractor expressed some doubt about his interpretation of the name Kline, and this is probably not a Cline marriage.

Henry appears briefly in the Lincoln county records when he transacts a buy and resale of two lots in Lincolnton in 1814.

Henry is one of four sons, born 1790-1800, in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census. Henry is in his own household with his wife and young son in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D). He is not found in the 1830 census, but apparently is the Henry Cline on page 92 of the 1840 Madison county, Tennessee census.

Henry and his wife are in the 1850 Pope county, Arkansas census with one son, Thomas Cline, born in Tennessee. In that 1850 census Henry has two probable sons residing in Yell county, which is adjacent to Pope county. The birth date of the oldest son matches that of Henry's firstborn son in the Lincoln county, North Carolina 1820 census. Henry and his family appear to have gone to Tennessee about 1825 and then to Arkansas prior to 1850. Henry Cline's children are per the 1820 and 1840 and 1850 census:

> William H. Cline, born 1811 in North Carolina. His wife and children are listed in his household in Yell county, Arkansas (Appendix H).
> child Cline, daughter born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Madison county, Tennessee 1840 census.
> child Cline, daughter born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Madison county, Tennessee 1840 census.
> Thomas Cline, born 1825 in Tennessee. Thomas is living in his father's 1850 household with probable wife Paulina, born 1830 in Arkansas, and daughter Eliza, born 1849.
> Chestuie Cline, probable son born in 1828 in North Carolina. His wife and child are listed in his household in Yell county, Arkansas (Appendix H).

(1.4.2.1.4) William Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). (Appendix J, p 368). William is born in 1792 in North Carolina and is a hat maker per the Warren county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix H). In that census William has a wife, Mary, born in 1796 in North Carolina and two children born in Ohio.

It seems likely from the ages, birthplaces and the uncommon occupation of hat maker, that this William Cline is the son of Henry Cline. Henry's son John and son-in-law, John Butts, are also hat makers in Lincolnton, North Carolina. This appears to be the son William Cline cited in FH2, who disappears from the North Carolina records after 1823. FH2 states that William is unmarried and "went west".

William is one of the four sons, born 1790-1800, in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). William appears in the Lincoln county records in 1817 when he buys a lot in Lincolnton, which he sells to his brother John in 1821. William also appears in 1819 and 1823 as a loaner of money to Jacob Brim in Lincolnton. Two of William's children are in his household in the 1850 census:

Henrietta Cline, born 1836 in Ohio.

C. H. Cline, son born 1840 in Ohio.

(1.4.2.1.5) John Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). (Appendix J, p 369, 408). John is born on June 13, 1796 and dies on April 12, 1857 per his gravestone at Old White Church cemetery in Lincolnton. Buried beside him is his wife Elizabeth who is born on December 18, 1793 and dies on November 4, 1874.

John is a hat maker and marries Elizabeth Cathey per FH2. John's marriage bond was interpreted by the abstractor as a marriage to Elizabeth Cockran, viz., Elizabeth Cathey, on 16 July 1826. This year is not consistent with the birth date of John's three older children; perhaps 1820 was misread as 1826.

John is one of four sons, born 1790-1800, in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D).

John first appears in the Lincoln county records as a chainbearer in an 1812 survey of 100 acres for his father, Henry. John acquires a lot in Lincolnton on April 13, 1821, from his brother William Cline, who acquired it in 1817. John Butts, the husband of John Cline's sister Susanah, is a witness.

John continues to acquire property – 20 acres on Leopards Creek near Lincolnton in November 1834, another 15 acres on Clarks Creek in December 1839, and five more lots in Lincolnton in 1842, 1843 and 1845. John is on the Lincolnton town council in 1841.

John is in the Lincoln county 1850 census with his wife Elizabeth, two daughters and two sons (Appendix G).

John Cline's will, probated April 17, 1857, identifies his wife Elizabeth, daughters Margaret Heime (her second marriage), Nancy (wife of William Hoke), Harriet Cline and sons William A. Cline and Marcus Cline. John Cline's will notes that he leaves his home in Lincolnton and 100 acres on Island Ford road, 2 ½ miles outside Lincolnton. John Cline's children are per his will, the 1850 census, and FH2:

Nancy C. Cline, born 1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census (Appendix E). She marries Louis Hoke December 15, 1841 (Appendix J, p 404).

Margaret A. Cline, born 1823, marries first William Cobb in 1845 and marries second Mr. Heime (Appendix J, p 404). FH2 calls her Adeline Cline. Margaret A. Cobb and her son William, born 1847, are living with her father in the Lincoln county 1850 census.

Jane Elizabeth Cline, born July 20, 1825 and dies August 12, 1842, per her gravestone at Old White Church cemetery (Appendix J, p 408).

George M. Cline, born 1828. He moves to Florida, marries Julia Scarborough and has a large family, per FH2. He is called Marcus Cline in FH2.

Harriet Cline, born 1832. She is listed as Margaret Cline in her father's household in the 1850 census. Harriet marries William Ballew of Caldwell county in 1850 (Appendix J, p 404).

William Cline, born 1836 and marries Sally Martin on November 5, 1860 (Appendix J, p 401).

(1.4.2.1.6) Jacob (Charlie) Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). (Appendix J, p 408). One of Henry's sons, Charlie, dies young per FH2. There is a Jacob Cline, who dies on January 11, 1823 and is buried with Henry Cline at Old White Church. Jacob's gravestone was interpreted to say he dies at age 26 years, ?? months, 10 days. This conflicts with the birth date of Henry's son John Cline. If the difficult-to-read age at death on the gravestone is actually 28 years, then Jacob is born 1794-1795 and is one of the four sons born 1790-1800 in Henry's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). Perhaps he is the son called Charlie Cline in FH2.

Catherine Cline, alleged daughter of Henry Cline (1.4.2.1). Catherine is stated by FH2 to be a daughter of Henry Cline who marries Michael Sumner. However, the 1790-1840 census records for Henry Cline show no such third daughter in his household, and there is no marriage record for her marriage to Michael Sumner (Sumrow or Summerow) or to anyone else. Also the only Michael Sumrow found in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census is a widower, born 1750-1760, with only two apparent daughters, born 1800-1805 and 1810-1815, and three sons in his household. It is presumed that the Catherine Cline who marries Michael Sumrow is actually Boston Cline Jr's daughter, Catharina Cline (1.4.1.3), who is born about 1769 (see Catharina Cline's section in this chapter).

(1.4.2.2) Susannah Cline, probable daughter of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 402). Susannah is stated by FH2 to be a daughter of Christopher Cline. FH2 does not know whom she marries, other than an oral family tradition that she marries a Daniel Yoder. The Lincoln county records show that Susannah Cline marries John Lowry on November 8, 1785. They are not in the Lincoln county 1790 census, and probably have moved elsewhere. There is a John Lowry family in the 1790-1830 Stokes county census with a wife born about 1770-1774. Nothing further is known.

(1.4.2.3) John Cline, son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 370). John is born 1765-1770 per analysis of his entries in the Lincoln county 1800-1830 census (Appendix B-E). John Cline receives first communion from Rev. Arends in May 1787, so he is probably born about 1770.

FH2 states that John's first wife is Catherine Shuford. On October 20, 1822, John marries his second wife, Rachel Holman (Hallman).

John appears in the Lincoln county court records in May 1795. John claims land on Lyles Creek in 1798 and 1802. The 1802 claim is granted in 1803, and John sells this land in 1804. In 1818, John claims 150 acres on the South fork of the Catawba River. This land is granted to John in November 1819.

On December 11, 1834, just prior to his death, John deeds to his youngest, minor daughter Emeline Cline 85 acres of the 150-acre grant of 1819. Emeline is his only child with his second wife Rachel.

John's estate records in 1835 name his eight children. The two youngest children, Amon Cline and Emeline Cline have guardians appointed. There is another child, Abel, who dies young, per FH2.

John Cline's children are per John's estate records, FH2, and the census:

(1.4.2.3.1) Polly Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 402). Polly is born in October 1796, per FH2. She marries Joseph Whitener on April 27, 1824. Polly and Joseph buy her father John Cline's farm from the other heirs after John's death in 1835. On that farm, they rear their three children, named in FH2:

> Marcus Whitener, marries first Fanny Gilbert, marries second Miss Douglas, lives in South Carolina and has eight children discussed in FH2.
> Hosea Whitener, born November 22, 1826, marries first Miss Adams, marries second Sarah Reep and has eight children discussed in FH2.
> John Whitener, born April 6, 1828, marries Mary Adeline Flanagan August 9, 1853 and has five children discussed in FH2.

(1.4.2.3.2) Abel Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.2.3). Abel dies young per FH2. A young male is in John's house in the Lincoln county 1800-1820 census who could be Abel (Appendix B-D). There is also a second unidentified young male in John's house in the 1800 and 1820 census.

(1.4.2.3.3) John Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 370). John, born in 1800, is in the Macon county 1850 census with a wife Elizabeth, born 1815 (Appendix G). John is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census. He has his own household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix B-D). John is not found in the 1830 and 1840 North Carolina census. John marries Betsy Peacock and moves to Tennessee and then Missouri per FH2. Betsy Peacock is presumed to be the wife, born 1795-1805, in John Cline's household in the 1820 census.

John Cline marries a widow, Elizabeth Sorrells, in Macon county on December 2, 1845. He also witnesses deeds in Macon county in September 1835 and April 1845. The 1835 deed is proved by John in court in December 1846. It appears that John's first wife Betsy dies and he moves to western North Carolina and remarries. If John goes on to Tennessee and Missouri, it is after 1860 when he is still in the Macon county census. In that census, John has in his household his wife's two children from her previous marriage. The children of John and his first wife Betsy, if any, are unknown; but the Lander Cline, born 1832, and living with L. M. Angel, near John, in the Macon county 1850 census may be their son. Only one child of John and his second wife, Elizabeth, is known from the Macon county 1860 census (Appendix I):

David R. Cline, born 1853 in Macon county.

(1.4.2.3.4) Catherine Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 403). Catherine is born 1810-1820 per her listing in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D). Catherine marries Matthew Hudson on March 8, 1832 per FH2 and the marriage records. FH2 names one child of Catherine:

John Franklin Hudson marries Catherine Asherbranner and has two daughters whose families are discussed in FH2.

(1.4.2.3.5) Anna Lucintha Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 371, 403). Anna Lucintha is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She sells her share of her deceased father's estate on January 16, 1837. Anna marries Jacob Townsin on February 16, 1837.

(1.4.2.3.6) Joseph Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 371). Joseph is born in 1815 in North Carolina, per his listing in the Marion county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H). Joseph is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Joseph sells his inherited share of his father John's estate in March 1835 in Lincoln county. For Joseph to be of legal age for this transaction, he is probably born by 1814, versus his stated birth date of 1815 in the census. Joseph marries Nancy Furgeson and moves to Tennessee per FH2.

Joseph is on page 227 of the Washington county, Tennessee 1840 census with a wife and two young daughters. In the Marion county, Tennessee 1850 census Joseph Cline has in his household a wife Margaret, born 1816 in Tennessee, and six children, all born in Tennessee. The Joseph Cline found in Tennessee is certainly Joseph, son of John, even though his wife's name is Margaret, viz., Nancy. There is no marriage record for Joseph Cline found in North Carolina to confirm the FH2 recollection that he marries a Nancy. Joseph's children are per the 1850 census:

Nancy Cline, born 1837.

Axa Cline, daughter born 1839.

Clark Cline, born 1842.

Mary Cline, born 1845.

Lucetta Cline, born 1847.

Albert Cline, born 1849.

(1.4.2.3.7) Elkanah Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 401). Elkanah is born in 1815 in North Carolina per his listing in the Lumpkin county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). Elkanah is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D and E). Elkanah marries Joanna Green on May 14, 1836 in Lincoln county, and his father is bondsman. In the Lumpkin county, Georgia 1850 census, Elkanah has in his household his wife Joanna, born in 1817 in North Carolina, and seven children:

Elijah Cline, born 1836 in North Carolina.

Robert Cline, born 1838 in North Carolina.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1840 in Georgia.

Sarah Cline, born 1842 in Georgia.

Martha Cline, born 1845 in Georgia.

William Cline, born 1846 in Georgia.

George Cline, born 1848 in Georgia.

(1.4.2.3.8) Amon Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 401). Amon is born in 1818 per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D). Amon marries Nancy Scott Harris on April 17, 1841 in Lincoln county. In the Catawba county, North Carolina 1850 and 1860 census, Amon has in his household his wife Nancy Cline, born 1823 in Georgia, and their children (Appendix G, I). FH2 also names these children, all born in Catawba county:

William Thornton Cline, born 1841.

Martha Cline, born 1843.

Marcus L. Cline, born 1845.

Sarah Cline, born 1846.

Mary Cline, born 1848 and dies before 1860.

Phina (Patinna) Cline, born 1850.

John Cline, born 1853.

Rufus Cline, born 1858.

Fanny Cline, born 1860.

(1.4.2.3.9) Emeline Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.2.3). (Appendix J, p 370). Emeline is born in 1823 per the Lincoln county 1840 census, where she is in her widowed mother Rachel's household, and the Lincoln county 1860 census (Appendix F, I). Emeline receives 85 acres from her father, John, on December 11, 1834 just prior to his death. She marries George Summerow and has three daughters per FH2. FH2 states that these daughters marry P. D. Hinson, Logan Shuford and a Mr. Saine. See the Lincoln county 1860 census (Appendix I) which lists a son, Julius, and daughters Francis and Martha in the Summerow household.

(1.4.2.4) Salome (Sally) Cline, probable daughter of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 363, 402). Salome is confirmed by Rev. Arends at Killian settlement in Lincoln county on April 23, 1788, implying that she is born about 1774. There are no daughters living in Christopher Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census (Appendix A). Presumably Sally is living in a non-Cline household in 1790.

However, Sally appears to be living with Christopher's brother, Michael Cline, in the Lincoln county 1800 census (Appendix B).

On February 3, 1818, Sally Cline marries Peter Fulbright in Lincoln county. On page 328 of the Lincoln county 1820 census and on page 76 of the Lincoln county 1840 census, Peter Fulbright and his wife are listed as born 1770-1780. In the 1820 census, they have seven children who appear to be Peter's children by a prior marriage. Sally appears to be Peter's second wife, and she is about 44 years old when she marries Peter.

(1.4.2.5) Elisabetha Cline, probable daughter of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 363, 402). Elisabetha receives her first communion from Rev. Arends in Lincoln county on May 13, 1791. This implies that she is born about 1777. Elisabetha is not in Christopher Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census. She may be living with Christopher's brother John or Jacob, who both have an unidentified female in their households in 1790.

Elisa (Elisabetha) Cline marries Daniel Earnest in Lincoln county on January 6, 1797. There is a Daniel Earnest family in the Lincoln 1790 and 1800 census, but this Daniel Earnest appears to be born prior to 1755. Perhaps Elisa is this Daniel's second wife or maybe Elisa and Daniel move out of North Carolina after their marriage.

(1.4.2.6) Easter Cline, probable daughter of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 384). Easter is born in 1778, per her listing in her son-in-law William Cline's (1.4.1.4.1) household in the Catawba county 1860 census (Appendix I). She marries first Jonathan Starr in 1798 per FH2 and is in his household in the Lincoln county 1800 census.. Jonathan dies about April 1808, and Christopher's brother Michael Cline administers the estate. Easter marries second John Miller in October 1809 per FH2.

Christopher Cline has no daughters in his household in the Lincoln county 1790 census. However, Christopher's brother John, who has only two daughters born by 1790, has another female in his household, in addition to his wife in the 1790 census (Appendix A). In addition, Christopher's brother, Jacob Cline, has only one daughter born by 1790 but has another female in his household in addition to his wife in the 1790 census. It is presumed that Easter is living with either her uncle John Cline or her uncle Jacob Cline in 1790. John Cline lives next door to Christopher Cline and Jacob Cline lives nearby.

Easter Cline Starr Miller's children are per FH2:

(1.4.2.6.1) Eli Starr, son of Easter Cline Starr (1.4.2.6). Eli is born in 1799 and marries Elizabeth Frye on August 15, 1822 and they have four children per FH2:

> Marion Starr, born March 29, 1828 and dies July 3, 1886. He marries Polly Cline, born October 14, 1834 and dies February 19, 1893. Polly is a daughter of Nathaniel Cline (1.4.1.4.5), son of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). FH2 names seven children.
> Connor Starr marries Malinda Starr, daughter of Jacob Starr. Connor Starr is killed in the Civil War.
> Fedamy Starr marries Jonas Starr, son of Jacob Starr. FH2 names four children.
> Eliza Starr marries Sidney Frye. FH2 names one child.

(1.4.2.6.2) Susannah Starr, daughter of Easter Cline Starr (1.4.2.6). (Appendix J, p 400). Susannah is born in 1803 and dies about 1883. On July 27, 1825, Susannah marries William Cline, son of William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4). Susanna Starr Cline has eight children who are discussed in William Cline's (1.4.1.4.1) section of this chapter.

(1.4.2.6.3) Polly Starr, daughter of Easter Cline Starr (1.4.2.6). Polly is born in 1805 and marries George Throneburg on May 23, 1822. FH2 names eight children:

Jonathan Throneburg.

Miles Throneburg marries Betsy Cline, daughter of Nathaniel Cline (1.4.1.4.5). FH2 discusses two children.

Mathias Throneburg, marries a Miss Detter of South Carolina.

M. Augustus Throneburg marries a daughter of Elam Starr. FH2 names four children. M. Augustus dies 1910.

Kate Throneburg.

Louise Throneburg.

Ciscily Throneburg.

Elizabeth Throneburg marries Louis Huitt. FH2 names eight children.

(1.4.2.6.4) Mathias Miller, son of Easter Cline Starr Miller (1.4.2.6). Mathias is born 1804-1810 per his listing in his father's household on page 408 of the Lincoln county 1820 census. He marries in South Carolina and FH2 names two children:

John Miller.

Sally Miller.

(1.4.2.6.5) Jonathan Miller, son of Easter Cline Starr Miller (1.4.2.6). Jonathan is born 1810-1820 per his listing in his father's household on page 408 of the Lincoln county 1820 census. Jonathan marries Eliza Coulter in September 1835. FH2 names three children:

Kate Miller, born 1841, does not marry and dies in 1863.

Lou Miller, does not marry.

Sally Miller, does not marry.

(1.4.2.6.6) Rhoda Miller, daughter of Easter Cline Starr Miller (1.4.2.6). She is born in 1813 and marries Lawson Sigman in 1840. FH2 names six children:

Calvin C. Sigman, marries Nancy Bragg of Franklin county.

Sarah J. Sigman, marries David Bragg and has a son and three daughters, names unknown.

Miles S. Sigman, born about 1847 and marries Lou Setzer. FH2 names 10 children.

Adolphus Sigman, marries Fanny Deal. FH2 names seven children.

Susan Sigman, marries Alfred Heffner and has no children per FH2.

Perry K. Sigman, marries Lizzie Frye. Perry has no children per FH2.

Ellen Sigman, marries Pinkney Travis. Ellen has no children per FH2.

(1.4.2.7) William (Devil Bill) Cline, son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 371-372). William (Devil Bill) Cline is born 1775-1780 per his listings in the Lincoln county 1820 census (born 1775-1794) and 1830 census (born 1770-1780)

(Appendix D, E). William receives his first communion from Rev. Arends on September 1, 1793 in Lincoln county, which implies his birth date is about 1779. He marries Sally Rader on May 6, 1809.

William claims 50 acres on Clarks Creek near George and Frick Sigman in June 1809. On January 6, 1813, John Ikerd deeds to William Cline 92 acres on the east side of upper Clarks Creek next to George Ikerd and Reinhardt's bridge. On February 26, 1825, William Cline sells 185 acres on the east side of Clarks Creek to John Reinhardt. This is more land than William holds, per the surviving records. Perhaps, one or more of his land transaction records did not survive. However, it is more likely the 1825 land sale is that of William's cousin, William (Long Bill) Cline (1.4.1.4).

Both William (Devil Bill) Cline Jr and his older cousin William (Long Bill) Cline Sr (1.4.1.4) are on a court appointed road panel in 1812. Also in 1812, William is found not guilty of assaulting his Cabarrus county cousin David Cline (1.3.1.2). William dies in early 1831, but his heirs are not identified in the meager estate records that survive.

The data for William Cline's household in the Lincoln county 1810-1830 census, and for his widow Sarah in the 1840 census, show two sons and six daughters (Appendix C-F). Two additional daughters are named in FH2, but are not found in the census. Perhaps they are born and die young between census years.

William (Devil Bill) Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.2.7.1) Mary Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Mary is born in 1809 or 1810 and is one of the two daughters, born 1800-1810, in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix C). Her father marries in May 1809. Thus, Mary is born 1809 or 1810. Mary marries Conrad Scronce and has 10 children, per FH2:

Logan Scronce.
Charles Scronce.
Albert Scronce.
William Scronce.
Martha Scronce.
Adolphus Scronce.
Linnie Scronce.
Jack Scronce.
Sidney Scronce.
Sarah Scronce.

(1.4.2.7.2) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Elizabeth is born in 1809 or 1810 and is one of the two daughters, born 1800-1810, in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix C). Her father marries in May 1809. Thus, Elizabeth is born 1809 or 1810. She marries Elijah Bolick and has two children per FH2:

Frances Bolick.
Isiah Bolick.

(1.4.2.7.3) Ishmael Cline, son of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Ishmael is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). He is killed in a construction accident in South Carolina in 1832. He was a carpenter and a scaffold collapsed. He was unmarried.

(1.4.2.7.4) Margaret (Peggy) Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Margaret is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). FH2 states that Margaret is born in 1818. She has her own household in the 1840 census (Appendix F). Margaret does not marry but has six children with Jacob Scronce:

William Scronce Cline, born 1840 per his listing in the Lincoln county 1860 census (Appendix I). He marries Miss Cobb per FH2.

Elkanah Scronce Cline.

Robert Scronce Cline.

Molly Scronce Cline.

Margaret Scronce Cline.

Laban Scronce Cline.

(1.4.2.7.5) Logan Cline, son of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Logan is born in 1817 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (born 1810-1820) and the 1830 census (born 1815-1820) (Appendix D, E). He marries in Missouri and later goes to Mississippi according to FH2. Logan does not appear in his widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1840 census. However, Logan, born in 1817 in North Carolina, appears in the Union county, South Carolina 1850 census with his wife Nancy, born in 1823 in South Carolina, and two children (Appendix H). Logan and his family are not in the 1860 South Carolina census. Logan's children are per the 1850 census:

Adolphus Cline, born 1844 in South Carolina.

Amanda Cline, born 1850 in South Carolina.

(1.4.2.7.6) Catherine Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). (Appendix J, p 403). Catherine is born about 1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (born 1810-1820) and the 1830 census (born 1820-1825) (Appendix D, E). She marries Andrew Setzer on January 1, 1836 and has two children prior to moving on to Missouri per FH2:

Martha Setzer.

Dianah Setzer.

(1.4.2.7.7) child Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). She is born 1820-1825 per her entry in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census. She is in her widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1840 census (Appendix E, F). She is one of the three sisters, Susan Cline, Sally Cline and Rosanah Cline, named as daughters of William Cline in FH2. The other two never appear in his census household and may have been born and died young between census years.

(1.4.2.7.8) Emmaline Cline, daughter of William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7). Emmaline is born in 1828 and is in her widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1840 census and the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Per FH2, Emmaline is born in 1826 and dies in 1918. She marries Eli Bumgarner and has one child per FH2:

> Mary Jane Bumgarner, marries Perry Cloniger and they move to Gastonia, North Carolina, where Mary Jane's mother Emmaline eventually lives with them.

(1.4.2.8) Leonard Cline, son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 372). Leonard is born about 1784 per the following census data. In the Lincoln county 1800 census, Leonard, born 1774-1784, seems to be living with his uncle Michael Cline (1.4.8), brother of the deceased Christopher Cline (1.4.2). Leonard, born 1784-1794, appears to be living with his uncle John Cline (1.4.6) in the Lincoln county 1810 census. In the Lincoln county 1820 census, Leonard, born 1775-1794, has his own household with his wife and eight children (Appendix B-D). Assuming that it is Leonard in his uncles' households in 1800 and 1810, then the census data indicates a birth date of 1784.

Leonard marries Elizabeth Deal per FH2. It appears from the ages of his children that Leonard and Elizabeth are married about 1810. He claims 100 acres on Mulls Creek in March 1813. Leonard and Elizabeth sell her part of her father Jacob Deal's estate land in October 1820. Leonard sells 110¼ acres on Mecklins Creek in May 1821 that originally belonged to his cousin Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5), son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1). Leonard dies in 1822.

Seven children of Leonard are identified in FH2. Six of these children appear in Leonard's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census. Also in his 1820 household are two other possible daughters. One of these, born about 1820, is still in the household of Leonard's widow, Elizabeth, in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

Leonard Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.2.8.1) Mathias Cline, son of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). (Appendix J, p 372, 401). Mathias is born in 1810 per the Iredell county 1860 census (Appendix I). He marries Polly Sigman on January 6, 1831. He appears in the Iredell county land records and tax records in 1837. Mathias' ten children are identified in FH2, with supporting data from the Iredell county 1860 census:

> Amanda Cline, born 1832 and marries a Mr. Johnson.
> Elkanah Cline, born 1833. He is called C. L. Cline in FH2 and marries Emeline Fulbright.
> Eangeline Cline, born 1835. She is called Louise Cline in FH2 and marries M. D. Fink.
> Julius Cline, born 1837. He is called Silas M. Cline in FH2 and does not marry.
> Mary S. Cline, born 1835-1840. Her birth date is surmised from the Iredell county 1840 census. She is identified by name in FH2 and does not marry.
> Jane Cline, born 1842. She is Jane E. Cline in FH2 and marries first Nicholas Stikeleather and marries second Eli Benfield.
> Reuben Cline, born 1844. He is Reuben F. Cline in FH2 and marries Susan Lineberger.

Sarah Cline, born 1846. She is Sarah C. Cline in FH2 and does not marry.

Miles Cline, born 1848. He is Malas S. Cline in FH2 and marries first Ann Ervin and marries second a Mrs. King.

Harriett Cline, born 1854. She is Harriett E. Cline in FH2 and marries first Marcus Hooper and marries second Willow Fulbright.

(1.4.2.8.2) Betsy Cline, daughter of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). Betsy is born in 1811 per the Catawba county 1850 census. She marries first a Mr. Barger, has a son, Hosea, and then marries second a Mr. Fry per FH2. Elizabeth, born 1811, and Isaac Barger, born 1810, are found on page 328 of the Catawba county 1850 census with their children:

Allen Barger, born 1838.

Hosea Barger, born 1842.

Masiah Barger, born 1845.

Urssila Barger, son born 1847.

Given Betsy Cline Barger's age, she probably has no children from her subsequent marriage to Mr. Fry.

(1.4.2.8.3) Amon Cline, son of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). (Appendix J, p 401). Amon is born in 1812 per the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He marries Malinda Bolick on October 3, 1838. Amon has seven children per the 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix I). FH2 names an additional three children, who are actually children of Amon's brother Franklin Cline.

Calvin Cline, born 1843. He dies in the Civil War per FH2.

Eliza Cline, born October 8, 1845. She is Eliza Dianah Cline and marries Noah Barringer Sr on December 29, 1872 per FH2. Their ten children are discussed in FH2.

Sarah A. Cline, born 1847. She is Camilla Cline and marries a Mr. Eldridge per FH2.

Logan S. Cline, born 1849.

F. E. Cline, daughter born 1851. She is Feriby Cline and does not marry per FH2.

M. E. Cline, born 1856. She is Martha Cline and does not marry per FH2.

W. D. Cline, born 1858. He is William D. Cline and marries Ella Miller per FH2. Their nine children are named in FH2.

Rhoda Cline.

Mary Cline.

Pinkney A. Cline.

Note that the last three children (Rhoda, Mary and Pinkney Cline) cited by FH2 are not found in Amon's household in the 1850 or the 1860 census and actually are the children of Franklin Cline (1.4.2.8.7).

(1.4.2.8.4) Paul Cline, son of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). (Appendix J, p 401, 405). Paul is born in 1813 per the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). Paul is born on March 13, 1812 and dies on March 18, 1859 per his gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. He marries Selina Bost on May 3, 1835. Paul is deceased by 1860 and his widow Selina is listed in the Catawba county 1860 census as head of house (Appendix I). Paul's seven children are per FH2 and the 1850 and 1860 census:

Cysela Cline, born 1836 and marries Sylvanus Rader. She is Norcisly Cline in FH2. Two children are named in FH2.

Ephraim Cline, born 1838 and is not mentioned in FH2.

William Cline, born 1841.

Jane Cline, born 1843 and marries first John Seabock and marries second Allen Settlemire. FH2 names two children.

Labon Cline, born 1846 and marries Sally Hoover. FH2 names two children.

Adolphus Cline, born 1849 and dies young per FH2, but is still present in his mother's household in the 1860 census.

Sarah Cline, born 1851. She is Caroline Cline per FH2 and marries William Shell.

(1.4.2.8.5) child Cline, daughter of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D). She is assumed to be the unnamed daughter who marries Henry Bowman and has three sons per FH2. Henry Bowman, found on page 150 of the Alexander county 1850 census, has a wife Anna, born 1815, and seven children, one of whom is Elkanah Bowman, born 1835. These children of Anna and Henry Bowman are shown below along with those named by FH2:

Luther Bowman, marries a Miss Abernathy per FH2.

Linna Bowman, born 1834 per the census.

Elkanah Bowman, born 1835 per the census. He marries a daughter of Henry Propst per FH2.

Eli Bowman, marries a daughter of Jonas Deal per FH2.

Rhoda Bowman, born 1837 per the census.

Franklin Bowman, born 1840 per the census.

Susan Bowman, born 1842 per the census.

William Bowman, born 1845 per the census.

Catherine Bowman, born 1847 per the census.

(1.4.2.8.6) child Cline, daughter of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census. She is probably born about 1815 and perhaps dies prior to the 1830 census because she is not in her widowed mother's 1830 household (Appendix D, E).

(1.4.2.8.7) Franklin Cline, son of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). Franklin is born in 1818 per the Catawba county 1850-1860 census (Appendix G, I). He marries Rhoda McGee and has nine children per FH2 and the census:

Anna Cline, born 1841. FH2 mentions a daughter Bettie Cline who marries Monroe Miller. Perhaps Bettie is Anna's middle name.

Maxwell Cline, born 1842.

John Cline, born 1844.

Lucinda (Fanny) Cline, born 1846. She is Lucinda Cline, born 1846, in the 1850 census and Fanny Cline, born 1848, in the 1860 census.

Mary Jane Cline, born 1849. She is Jane Cline in the 1850 census and Mary Cline in the 1860 census. She does not marry per FH2.

Daniel Cline, born 1852. FH2 mentions a son Charlie Cline who marries Bessie Sigmon. Since FH2 and the census both name the sons Maxwell, John and Pinkney, it is assumed that Daniel is the remaining son Charlie Cline.

Rhoda Cline, born 1853. She does not marry per FH2.

Pinkney Cline, born 1857 and marries Aphey Harwell.

M. C. Cline, daughter born 1860. She is Mary Cline in FH2.

FH2 attributes the last three children, Rhoda, Pinkney and Mary, to Franklin's brother, Amon Cline. FH2 also states that two of Franklin's daughters (names unknown in FH2) marry Fisher twins.

(1.4.2.8.8) child Cline, daughter of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). She is born about 1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census. She is in her widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix D-F).

(1.4.2.8.9) Noah Cline, son of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8). Noah is born in late 1822 or early 1823 per the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). He is born after his father dies in 1822. Noah is in his widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Noah marries Sarah Anna Barger on July 28, 1846, per the Catawba county marriage records. Noah appears in the Catawba county 1850 census with a wife Anna, born in 1827, and two daughters. In the 1860 census, Noah appears with a second wife Sophia, born in 1835, along with his previous two daughters and two additional children. Only Sophia Bolick is named as Noah's wife in FH2. Noah is killed in the Civil War per FH2. Sophia Cline is a widow in the Caldwell county 1870 census. Noah's children are per FH2 and the 1850 and 1860 census:

Susan Cline, born 1847.

Sarah Cline, born 1849 and called Caroline in FH2.

Julius Cline, born 1858.

Rebecca Cline, born 1859 and called Emeline in FH2

Jefferson Cline, born after 1860 and named in FH2.

Robert Cline, born after 1860 and named in FH2.

(1.4.2.9) George Cline, son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 373). George is born in 1789 per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 census. George is bound out to Jacob Burns to learn the saddler's trade in April 1808 when he is about 18 years old. He is a juror in Lincoln county in January 1813. George marries Polly Peterson on March 7, 1813. He and his wife Polly sell their quarter share of her father Mathias Peterson's estate to her brother Daniel Peterson on April 17, l819. George is on the Burke county 1815 tax list and is present at an estate sale in Burke county in October 1832. George is on the 1835 voter list at Franklin in Macon county. The census records show George and his family in Lincoln county in 1820-1840 and in the successor Catawba county in 1850 and 1860 (Appendix D-G, I). These census records show a family of three sons and five daughters. FH2 identifies two sons and three daughters of George and Polly.

George Cline's children are:

(1.4.2.9.1) Lawson H. Cline, son of George Cline (1.4.2.9). (Appendix J, p 373). Lawson is born in 1814 per his household in the Cherokee county 1840-1860 census (Appendix F, G, I). He marries Rebecca Mingus on September 16, 1839 in Haywood county. Per the Cherokee county 1850 and 1860 census, Rebecca is born 1813-1815 and she and Lawson have five children:

Sarah Cline, born 1841.

Nancy Cline, born 1843 in Cherokee county.

Mary Cline, born 1847 in Cherokee county.

Ann (Amy) Cline, born 1850 in Cherokee county.

John M. Cline, born 1853 in Cherokee county.

(1.4.2.9.2) child Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9). (Appendix J, p 403). She is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She may be Anna Barbara Cline who marries Daniel Bost on February 21, 1832. There is no known Anna Barbara Cline in the other Cline families of Lincoln county in the 1832 time frame. It is likely that Anna Barbara is this daughter of George Cline. Daniel Bost, on page 9 of the Cabarrus county 1840 census, has a wife born 1810-1820 and has three children born 1835-1840 and one child born 1830-1835.

(1.4.2.9.3) Laney Cline, son of George Cline (1.4.2.9). He is born 1815-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). FH2 names Laney as a son of George and states that he moves to Cherokee county. No further record is found for Laney in North Carolina or adjacent states (but see possible widow on p 342).

(1.4.2.9.4) child Cline, son of George Cline (1.4.2.9). He is born 1815-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). No name or further record is found. Presumably, he dies young.

(1.4.2.9.5) child Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9). She is born about 1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (born 1810-1820) and the 1830 and 1840 census (born 1820-1825) (Appendix D-F). She marries James Denton, lives in Burke county and has three children per FH2:

George Denton.

Jefferson Denton.

Caroline Denton.

(1.4.2.9.6) child Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9). (Appendix J, p 403). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census (Appendix E), but is not in his household in the 1840 census. It is presumed that she is one of two Cline daughters who appear in the marriage records in 1838. Nancy Cline marries Thomas Spratt on April 27, 1838. Aday Cline marries Jesse Sigman on May 17, 1838. Only George Cline and William Cline (1.4.6.5), among all the Lincoln county Cline families, have daughters of this marriageable age whose names are not known in the records. William Cline (1.4.6.5) has an unidentified daughter born 1815-1820. Therefore, Nancy Cline is a daughter of either George Cline or William Cline, and Aday Cline is the daughter of the other.

On page 247 of the Lincoln county 1850 census, Thomas Spratt's wife Nancy is listed as born in 1820. Nancy is presumed to be George Cline's daughter, born 1820-1825, per his census household.

On page 79 of the Lincoln county 1840 census, Jesse Sigman's wife is listed as born 1810-1820. Jesse Sigman's wife Aday Cline Sigman is presumed to be William Cline's (1.4.6.5) daughter, born 1815-1820, per his census household.

The children of Thomas and Nancy Cline Spratt, all born in North Carolina, are in the 1850 census:

Catherine Spratt, born 1840.

Margaret Spratt, born 1842.

John Spratt, born 1846.

F. Spratt, daughter born 1848.

(1.4.2.9.7) child Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9). She is born in 1825 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). She is not in her father's household in the 1850 census and presumably marries prior to 1850.

(1.4.2.9.8) Mary Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9). Mary is born in 1830 and is in her father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). FH2 identifies Mary as a daughter of George Cline. In the 1850 census Mary Hollus is living in the George Cline household, and she has a one- month old daughter. Mary Hollus is presumed to be George Cline's married daughter, who is perhaps widowed. Mary Cline Hollus's daughter is:

Offa M. Hollus, born 1850.

(1.4.2.10) Michael Cline, son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). (Appendix J, p 373-374). Michael is born in 1793 per his listing in the Macon county 1850 census. Apparently, he is living with his widowed mother, Sally Cline, at the time of the 1800 census and with his brother William (Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7) for the 1810 census. Michael marries Susan Amburn on August 18, 1819 and is in the Lincoln county 1820 census with his wife. Michael appears in the Burke county 1830 census and in Macon county for the 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix B-G).

Michael is appointed to road projects by the Burke county court 1830-1832. He acquires land in Macon county on November 11, 1839 and sells this land to his son Levi on February 2, 1847.

Michael marries a second time in Macon county on February 13, 1849 to Catherine Hyde.

Michael dies about 1853. His widow Catherine claims 50 acres in January 1854, which is granted in June 1854. This 50 acres is in Jackson county, newly formed from Macon county. Catherine sells this land on September 17, 1861.

Catherine is a widow in the Macon county 1860 census (Appendix I). FH2 names nine of Michael's children. Six additional children are found in the 1820-1850 census.

Michael Cline's children are:

(1.4.2.10.1) William Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). William is born 1819-1820. FH2 states that William is born about 1823 and marries Martha Ann Pitman. The Lincoln county 1820 census and the Burke county 1830 census for Michael Cline's household show his first son is born 1815-1820 (Appendix D, E). This is probably William, born 1819-1820 shortly after his father's marriage. William is not found in the North Carolina 1840 census or in any state 1850 census.

(1.4.2.10.2) child Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census and the Burke county 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She is probably born 1819-1820 shortly after her father's marriage.

(1.4.2.10.3) John Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). John is born in 1822 in North Carolina, per his listing in the Menard county, Illinois 1850 census (Appendix H). In the 1850 census John has in his household his wife Nancy, born 1825 in Illinois, and three children, all born in Illinois:

William N. Cline, born 1846.

James H. Cline, born 1848.

Mary E. Cline, born 1850.

(1.4.2.10.4) Amon Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Amon is born 1820-1825. FH2 states that Amon is born about 1828 and marries Frances Manders. The Burke county 1830 census and the Macon county 1840 census show a son in Michael's household who is born 1820-1825 (Appendix E, F). This is probably Amon. He is not found in any state 1850 census.

(1.4.2.10.5) Levi Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). (Appendix J, p 373). Levi is born in 1830. FH2 states that Levi is born in 1821 and marries Patsy Cagle. Levi, born 1825-1830, is in his father's household in the Macon county 1840 census (Appendix F). Levi buys 100 acres from his father in Macon county in February 1847. Levi, born 1830 in North Carolina, is on page 672 of the Cherokee county, Georgia 1860 census and on page 173 of the Cherokee county 1870 census. He and his wife Patsy, born 1835 in North Carolina, and their first seven children, all born in Georgia, are in the 1860-1870 census:

Mary Cline, born 1854-55.

John Cline, born 1857.

William Cline, born 1859.

James Cline, born 1861.

Martha Cline, born 1863.

Elias Cline, born 1865.

Salena Cline, born 1869.

(1.4.2.10.6) child Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Burke county 1830 census and Macon county 1840 census (Appendix E, F).

(1.4.2.10.7) Emiline Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Emiline is born in 1830 in Lincoln county and is in her father's household in the Macon county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Emiline marries James Land per FH2.

(1.4.2.10.8) Avery Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Avery is born in 1832 in Lincoln county and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). Avery marries Caroline Pitman per FH2.

(1.4.2.10.9) Wesley Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). (Appendix J, p 374). Wesley is born in 1836 in Macon county and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). Wesley might also be known as David Cline and be the David Cline who marries Jane Jenkins in Jackson county in 1855. Wesley's sister Elizabeth Ann Cline marries Thomas Jenkins in Macon county.

(1.4.2.10.10) child Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). He is born 1835-1840 and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1840 census only (Appendix F). He probably dies young.

(1.4.2.10.11) Juletta Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Juletta is born in 1838 in Macon county and is in her father's household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). FH2 apparently refers to this daughter as Polly, born about 1837.

(1.4.2.10.12) Pendleton Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Pendleton is born in 1842 in Macon county and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G).

(1.4.2.10.13) Elizabeth Ann Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Elizabeth is born in 1844 in Macon county and is in her father's household in the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). She marries Thomas Jenkins per FH2.

(1.4.2.10.14) Keener Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10). Keener is born in 1848 in Macon county and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1850 census and in his widowed mother's household in the Jackson county 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.4.2.10.15) James Manley Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10) and his second wife Catherine. James is born on April 13, 1850 per FH2, in Macon county and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1850 census. James is in his widowed mother's household in the Jackson county 1860 census (Appendix G, I). FH2 states that James marries Joanah Josephine Sherrill, who is born on May 25, 1851 and dies on August 28, 1913. FH2 names one son:

> William Aseph Cline, marries Ida Dogenes in 1896. They live in Swain county and have six children named in FH2.

FH2, apparently in error, names another three children of Michael Cline (1.4.2.10) and his second wife Catherine. Michael dies prior to 1854. These three children are born after Michael's death and do not appear in the household of his widow Catherine Cline in 1860 in Jackson county, North Carolina:

Narcissus Cline, born about 1853.

Solomon Leander Cline, born about 1855.

Hazeltine Cline, born about 1858.

(Catherine has in her 1860 household a six-month old female, M. Cline).

Mary Cline (1.4.3)
possible daughter of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Oral family history, cited in FH2, states that Sebastian Cline has a daughter Mary who marries William Bost. Although William Bost lives next door to Sebastian Cline and interacts closely with the Sebastian Cline family, including attending Sebastian's estate sale in 1794, there is no other evidence attesting to this Mary Cline Bost's existence. The Bost family researchers do not agree that Mary Cline is William Bost's wife, unless she is a first wife who dies prior to his 1762 marriage to Catherine Goodhart, which is unlikely. William Bost's will names his wife as Catherine. FH2 discusses several of William Bost's children (William, Elias, Utilla and Catherine Bost). Nothing further is recorded here since these Bost children are not descendants of Sebastian Cline. Sebastian Cline possibly has a daughter Mary, but she does not marry William Bost and, therefore, nothing is known of her.

Sources. FH2 and FH3.

Christina Cline (1.4.4)
daughter of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Oral family history, cited in FH2, declares Christina to be a daughter of Sebastian Cline who marries Conrad Yoder about 1763 and dies about 1771 after having three sons, John, Jacob and David Yoder. John and David Yoder are present at Sebastian Cline's 1794 estate sale, which could indicate that they are his grandsons. Jacob Yoder is stated to be the son of Conrad and Christina Cline Yoder by the authors of Lincoln (5). No direct proof has been found that Christina is Sebastian's daughter, but the Cline and Yoder families believe that she is. Christina is probably born about 1745.

Sources. FH2 and October 1802 record from Lincoln (5), Appendix J, p 350.

Christina and Conrad Yoder live on 200 acres on Jacob's Fork of the Catawba River near Henry Weidner. Conrad is born in Switzerland, immigrates to Pennsylvania in 1751 and then migrates to North Carolina by 1760. Conrad buys his North Carolina land from Henry Weidner in 1762.

Christina Cline Yoder's children are per FH2:

(1.4.4.1) John Yoder, son of Christina Cline Yoder (1.4.4). He is born in 1764, marries Barbara Reep and dies in 1836.

John Yoder's children are:

(1.4.4.1.1) Christina Yoder, daughter of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). Christina is born in 1791 and marries Jacob Weaver (1.4.6.1.2) on December 21, 1823. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.1.2) Molly Yoder, daughter of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). Molly is born in 1793 and marries Caleb Deitz. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.1.3) John Yoder, son of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). John is born in 1795 and marries Sally Whitener in May 1819. John's children are:

Belle Yoder.

Lovina Yoder.

Daniel Yoder.

Anna Yoder.

Levi Yoder.

William Yoder.

Molly Yoder.

Andrew Yoder.

(1.4.4.1.4) Jacob Yoder, son of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). Jacob is born in 1797, marries Catherine Hahn in June 1824 and dies in 1864. Jacob's children are:

Reuben Yoder.

Moses Yoder.

Marcus Yoder.

Amzie Yoder.

Amey Yoder.

Eliza Yoder.

(1.4.4.1.5) Michael Yoder, son of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). Michael is born in 1799, marries Magdalena Deitz in November 1824 and dies in January 1874. Michael's children are:

George Monroe Yoder, marries first Rosanah Herman and marries second Eliza Yoder in 1877.

Laban Yoder, dies as a child.

Cyrus Yoder.

Absalum Yoder, dies as a child.

(1.4.4.1.6) Peter Yoder, son of John Yoder (1.4.4.1). Peter is born in 1805, marries Rachael Hahn on May 8, 1832 and moves to Missouri after his marriage. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.2) Jacob Yoder, son of Christina Cline Yoder (1.4.4). Jacob is born in 1767 and marries Catherine Dellinger. They move to Indiana. No further information is found in FH2, but see October 1802 item (Appendix J, p 350).

(1.4.4.3) David Yoder, son of Christina Cline Yoder (1.4.4). David is born in 1769 and marries Elizabeth Reep.

David Yoder's children are:

(1.4.4.3.1) Conrad Yoder, son of David Yoder (1.4.4.3). Conrad is a soldier in the War of 1812. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.3.2) Adolphus Yoder, son of David Yoder (1.4.4.3). Adolphus is a soldier in the War of 1812. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.3.3) David Yoder, son of David Yoder (1.4.4.3). David marries Ruth Wilson on January 16, 1827. No further information is found in FH2.

(1.4.4.3.4) Solomon Yoder, son of David Yoder (1.4.4.3). Solomon marries Sally Seagle on September 25, 1832. Their children are:

Alfred Yoder.
Daniel Yoder.
David Yoder.
Adolphus Yoder.
John Yoder.
Laban Yoder.
William Yoder.
Robert A. Yoder.
and four daughters, names not known.

Otilla (Utilly) Cline (1.4.5)
daughter of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Otilla is named as a deceased daughter in Sebastian Cline's will of December 27, 1791. The will says that Otilla marries George Hefner and that they have a son Henry Hefner and a daughter Catherine Hefner Huyard (or Huitt/Hewitt). There is a George Hephner in the Lincoln county 1790 census with a son born after 1775 and three females in his household. This George is not found after 1790. However, Henry Hepner, born by 1775, is listed in the Lincoln county 1800 census and has a wife and three young children. George Hefner is probably also deceased at the time of Sebastian's will, which would explain why Sebastian provides for Otilla's children, Henry and Catherine, in his will. The children appear to be born 1770-1775, which is consistent with a birth date for Otilla of about 1750. Nothing more is known about Otilla's children.

Sources. FH2 and Appendix J, p 350.

John Cline (1.4.6)
son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage Rationale. John Cline appears in close association in the records with Sebastian (Boston) Cline and his other sons. Sebastian deeds part of his plantation to John in 1775. John attends Sebastian's 1794 estate sale with the other known Sebastian Cline heirs. John's youngest son is named Sebastian Cline.

John is born 1750-1755, since he is listed as born prior to 1755 in the Lincoln county 1800 census and as born 1750-1760 in the Lincoln county 1840 census. He is old enough (at least 16) to be enumerated on the 1768 tax list with Sebastian and his other sons, Boston Jr and Christopher.

Sources. Civil records and church records (Appendix J, p 374-378), census records (Appendix A-F), and FH2.

John Cline is on the 1768 Rowan county tax list along with his father Sebastian Cline and brothers, Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline. On July 22, 1775, Sebastian Cline sells to his son John 166 ½ acres on Anthony's Branch of Clarks Creek. This land is part of Sebastian's plantation where he lives, which was granted to him in 1762. On June 5, 1779 John claims 200 acres, which he already occupies, on Hoyles Creek in Lincoln county. In the same month, John Cline and William Bost survey 50 acres for John's brother-in-law Henry Propst. That 50 acres adjoins John and his father Sebastian's lands.

In 1779, John and Barbary Cline are noted as husband and wife in the Burke county records. From later records, Barbary is known to be Barbara Traffelstrat, daughter of Peter and Barbara Traffelstrat. Also in 1779 John and Barbara Cline and Elizabeth Cline, wife of Sebastian Cline, are called as witnesses in a Burke county court case. In 1782, John and his brothers Michael and Christopher are involved in the trial of Colonel Charles McDowell, who is charged with having Tory leanings in the Revolutionary War. John and his brothers are noted as enlistees in the militia at Fort Charles. John is appointed constable for a year in Captain Killian's district in 1785.

In December 1786, John buys his brother Christopher's 144-acre tract as the high bidder at the sheriff's sale to satisfy John Benefield's debt judgement against Christopher Cline. John sells 102 acres of this tract to George Sigman on October 20, 1815, and it is noted that this was originally a grant to Christopher Cline on November 9, 1784.

John is identified as a son-in-law in the September 1793 will of his wife's mother, Barbara Traffelstrat.

William Bost sells 79 acres on Clarks Creek to John Cline in April 1797, and John's brother Michael is a witness. In June 1798, John buys 15 acres from his brother Jacob Cline. Again, their brother Michael is a witness. This 15 acres borders John's brother Jacob Cline and brother-in-law Henry Propst.

In the settlement of Barbara Traffelstrat's estate in July 1803 and September 1806, John Cline acquires four tracts of land totaling 511½ acres. This includes 42 acres on Lyles Creek and 244 acres on Mecklins Creek. John sells the 244 acres tract to his son John Jr on February 18, 1806. John Yoder witnesses and proves the sale in court. He is the son of John's sister Christina Cline Yoder.

In October 1805, John's daughter Barbara sues and wins support from Jacob Burns for his "natural child", and in January 1811 John is appointed guardian of the illegitimate child Joseph Burns.

In April 1808, John and Jacob Cline sign their report to their brother Michael Cline, Justice of the Peace for the court, with respect to the Killian estate.

In August 1810, John claims 130 acres bordering his land and Philip Rudisill's land. In October 1810 and July 1811, John disputes surveys along his property lines for land entries by Jacob Burns, Phillip Cansler and Phillip Rudisill. John wins these disputes by showing his June 1765 land patent, originally granted to James Wilson Sr. John then sells 22 acres to Phillip Rudisill on June 7, 1812.

On July 18, 1820, John Cline Sr claims "173 acres on waters of Catawba River, land where his son William lives". This is the documented evidence that John Cline has a son William. John Cline's will dated June 2, 1840 and probated in March 1842, documents his children, except for William who predeceases his father. John Cline's heirs are identified in his will:

> Henry Cline and his children, Liddy and Mary.
> John Cline.
> Jacob Cline.
> Boston Cline.
> Barbara Cline and her three daughters Fanny, Barbara and Susanna.
> Caty Cline Weaver and her daughter Catherine Weaver.

At John's estate sale on April 1, 1842, his only living brother Jacob Cline attends with his son David. Other attendees are: John's sons Sebastian Cline and Henry Cline Sr; his deceased brother Michael's sons Henry Cline Esq and Michael S. Cline; John's grandsons (sons of Jacob) Jesse Cline, Joseph Cline and George Cline; and John's granddaughters (daughters of Henry) Mary Cline and Lydia Cline.

FH2 identifies John's wife as Barbara Traffelstrat, who is born about 1758 and dies on January 17, 1824, the daughter of Peter Traffelstrat. Her gravestone says she is born on January 13, 1758 (Appendix J, p 405). FH2 identifies John's four surviving sons and daughter Barbara as in John's will above. FH2 also identifies John's fifth son William and two additional daughters, Dolly Cline and Mary M. Cline. FH2 states that Dolly Cline marries William Myers and moves to Indiana, and Mary M. Cline marries Jacob Weaver. Clearly, Mary M. Cline is the daughter Caty who is identified as having a daughter Catherine Weaver in John Cline's will. Dolly Cline Myers does not appear in John's will and therefore dies before the date of John's 1840 will.

In the discussion of John's children below, it is shown that only two of the three daughters are in his Lincoln county 1790 household. The additional female in that household is thought to be a daughter of John's brother Christopher Cline.

Information for John's children comes from the civil and church records, John's will, FH2 and the census.

John Cline's children are:

(1.4.6.1) Caty Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6). (Appendix J, p 375, 378). Caty is born about 1774. Caty is identified as a daughter in her father's will and in FH2 where she is called Mary M. Cline. FH2 states that she marries Jacob Weaver, a crock maker, and her father's will notes that Caty has a daughter Catherine Weaver. Jacob Weaver, in the Lincoln county 1800 census, has a wife, born 1755-1774, and one daughter. On page 368 of the Lincoln county 1810 census, Jacob Weaver has a wife, born 1765-1784, and five children.

Mary M. (Caty) Cline is probably the Maria Cline who receives first communion from Rev. Arends in Lincoln county on May 13, 1791, implying that she is born no earlier than 1774. Caty is one of two daughters in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census (Appendix A). She is not in his household in the 1800 census, as she is with her husband Jacob Weaver.

It appears that Caty dies prior to 1830 per the following census data. Jacob Weaver, on page 237 of the Lincoln county 1830 census and on page 30 of the Lincoln county 1840 census, seems to have his oldest daughter, born 1790-1800, or a second, younger wife in his household rather than his wife Caty, born about 1774.

Caty Cline Weaver's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.6.1.1) Catherine Weaver, daughter of Caty Cline Weaver (1.4.6.1). Catherine is born 1794-1800 per the Jacob Weaver household data in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census. Catherine is identified as a daughter of Caty in her grandfather John Cline's will. Catherine is presumed to be the young woman living in her widowed father's household in the 1830 and 1840 census.

(1.4.6.1.2) Jacob Weaver, son of Caty Cline Weaver (1.4.6.1). Jacob is born about 1800. He is born 1800-1810 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. FH2 also names Jacob as a son of Mary M. (Caty) and says that he is a crock maker as is his father. On page 238 of the Lincoln county 1830 census, Jacob is listed as born 1790-1800 and is living near his father. Jacob marries Christina Yoder (1.4.4.1.1) on December 21, 1823 per FH2.

(1.4.6.1.3) Susanna Weaver, daughter of Caty Cline Weaver (1.4.6.1). Susanna is born 1800-1810 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. Susanna marries John Miller per FH2.

(1.4.6.1.4) child Weaver, daughter of Caty Cline Weaver (1.4.6.1). She is not identified in FH2, but appears as an additional daughter born 1800-1810 per the Jacob Weaver household data in the Lincoln county 1810 census. FH2 states that a daughter of Mary M. (Caty) Cline Weaver marries Benedict Lafon. This daughter is presumed to be the one who marries Benedict Lafon.

(1.4.6.1.5) child Weaver, son of Caty Cline Weaver (1.4.6.1). He is not identified in FH2, but appears as an additional son born 1800-1810 per the Jacob Weaver household data in the Lincoln county 1810 census.

(1.4.6.2) Barbara Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6). (Appendix J, p 376, 377, 378). Barbara is born in 1776 per the census. John Cline's will states that he has a daughter Barbara and that she has three daughters Fanny, Barbara, and Susanna. Barbara is one of two daughters in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census and continues to appear in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix A-C). FH2 states that Barbara Cline becomes the second wife of Conrad Pitts. Conrad Pitts, born 1773 in Catawba county, and Barbara Pitts, born 1776 in Catawba county, appear on page 325 of the Catawba county 1850 census. Living with them is a Susan Bolich, born in 1805 in Catawba county.

Barbara has an out-of-wedlock son Joseph Burns, born in 1805. Barbara's father John Cline is appointed Joseph's guardian in January 1811. Joseph's father is Jacob Burns. FH2 discusses two of the daughters of Conrad and Barbara Pitts.

Barbara Cline Pitts's children are:

(1.4.6.2.1) Joseph Burns, son of Barbara Cline (1.4.6.2) and Jacob Burns. Joseph is Barbara Cline's out of wedlock son, born in the summer of 1805. No further information for Joseph was sought.

(1.4.6.2.2) Susanna Pitts, daughter of Barbara Cline Pitts (1.4.6.2). Susannah marries Abel Winkler and has four children per FH2:

> twins Winkler, daughters, names unknown. One of the twins marries Monroe Fry.
> Sidney Winkler, son.
> Margaret Winkler, marries Mark Fry, brother of Monroe Fry above.

(1.4.6.2.3) Barbara Pitts, daughter of Barbara Cline Pitts (1.4.6.2). Barbara is mentioned in her grandfather John Cline's will as a daughter of Barbara Cline Pitts. Nothing further is found.

(1.4.6.2.4) Fanny Pitts, daughter of Barbara Cline Pitts (1.4.6.2). Fanny is born in 1820 per the census and marries Simon Barger per FH2. Fanny and Simon appear on page 328 of the Catawba county 1850 census. FH2 states that Fanny and Simon have at least two children:

> Babel Barger.
> Max Barger, served in the Civil War.

(1.4.6.3) John Cline Jr, son of John Cline (1.4.6). (Appendix J, p 378). John is born in 1781 and his wife Elizabeth is born in 1794 per their household in the Caldwell county 1850 census (Appendix G). In that census, they have six daughters in their household. John Cline is identified as a son in his father's will.

In February 1806, John acquires 206 acres from Daniel Rinehard and 244 acres on Mecklins Creek from his father John Cline Sr. In October 1806, John claims 173 acres on Snow Creek. John Cline Jr sells 50 acres of his Mecklins Creek land to his brother William Cline in October 1810. For this 1810 sale, John Yoder (1.4.4.1) and John Jr's brother Jacob Cline are witnesses. FH2 states that John marries Betsy Huffman. John and Betsy appear in their first household with no children in the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix C).

In March 1820, John Jr deeds the income from his tenement lands to his son Andrew Cline. John is found on voter lists in Burke county in 1835 and 1840. FH2 says that John lives for about 20 years in a little hut, which later becomes the Hickory Tavern in Hickory. John then moves north into Burke county and later into Caldwell county, where he is murdered sometime between 1850 and 1860.

John Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.6.3.1) Andrew Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.6.3). Andrew is born in 1813 in North Carolina per his listing on page 740 of the Walker county, Georgia 1860 census. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census and in the Burke county 1840 census (Appendix D-F). Andrew marries Rebecca Bandy, born 1832, per the 1860 census, and they have four children per FH2, three of whom are named in the above census:

> Nichious Cline, born 1853 in Georgia. He may be the son that FH2 identifies as L. W. Cline.
> John D. Cline, born 1856 in Georgia and dies young per FH2.
> Babe Cline, born 1859 in Georgia and dies young per FH2.
> Joseph Cline, is not listed in the 1860 census, but is identified in FH2 as a child who dies young.

(1.4.6.3.2) Susan Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6.3). Susan is born in 1813 per data in her parents' household in the Caldwell county 1850 census (Appendix G). She is living with her sister Fanny White in the Caldwell county 1860 census and states that she is born in 1820 (Appendix I).

(1.4.6.3.3) Nancy Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6.3). Nancy is born 1810-1815 per analysis of her census data in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census and the Burke county 1840 census (Appendix D-F). Nancy dies in an accident; her fiancé shoots her, per FH2.

(1.4.6.3.4) Catherine Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6.3). Catherine is born in 1819 per the Burke county 1850 census where she is married to David Wilson Jr (Appendix G). In their household in the 1850 census is Catherine's sister, Lydia Cline. In the Burke county 1860 census David and Catherine Wilson have in their household Catherine's widowed mother Elizabeth, born 1794 in Virginia (Appendix I). FH3 cites a Morganton, North Carolina newspaper obituary for Elizabeth Cline that states she dies on July 18, 1880 and that she is the mother of Mrs. Catherine Wilson. Catherine and David Wilson have no children in the 1850 and 1860 census.

(1.4.6.3.5) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6.3). She is born about 1820 per analysis of her census data in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census and the Burke county 1840 census (Appendix D-F). Nothing further is known of her.

She does not marry, per FH2, but has a son per the Burke county 1850 census (Appendix G). Lydia and her son are living with her married sister Catherine Wilson in 1850. Lydia appears to have married J. A. Houk by 1860 and is in his household in the Burke county 1860 census (Appendix I). Also in their household is Lydia's sister Barbara Cline. Lydia's son is still living with her married sister Catherine Wilson in this 1860 census:

David Cline, born 1844.

(1.4.6.3.9) Sally (Sarah) Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6.3). Sally is born in 1831 per her listing in her father's household in the Caldwell county 1850 census (Appendix G). He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). He marries Ruphena Miller per FH2. The Catawba county marriage records show that Joseph Cline marries Lovena Miller on November 13, 1843. Joseph dies prior to the Catawba county 1860 census, with only his widow, listed as Trussena Cline, and three children in that census (Appendix I):

Sylvanus Cline, born 1845, marries Lizzie Link and has four children discussed in FH2.

Joseph T. Cline, born 1846. He is called J. Timothy Cline who marries Mahalah Harbinson per FH2. Their three children are discussed in FH2.

(1.4.6.4.6) Barnett Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.6.4). Barnett is born in 1828 and is living with his wife in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). Barnett is in his own household in the Catawba county 1860 census with his wife Rhoda, two children and his widowed mother, Molly Eckard Cline (Appendix I). Barnett is called Barnard Cline who marries Rhoda Bolick per FH2. Their children are named in both the census and FH2:

Gilbert Cline, born 1852, marries Dona Townsend and has nine children discussed in FH2.

Amanda Cline, born 1860, marries Levi Bollinger and has four children, two of whom are named in FH2.

(1.4.6.4.7) Catherine Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.6.4). Catherine is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). child Mayes, daughter who marries O. C. Bostian.

(1.4.6.5) William Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.6). (Appendix J, p 378, 379). William is documented as a son of John Cline in John's land claim of July 1820. William is born 1784-1790 per analysis of his data in the Lincoln county 1790-1830 census (Appendix A-E). William is in his father's household in the 1790-1810 census. In the 1820 and 1830 census William has his own household.

In October 1810, William buys 50 acres on Mecklins Creek from his brother John Jr, and his brother Jacob Cline witnesses the deed. William marries Polly Huffman on April 11, 1816. Polly is born in 1802 per the Catawba county 1850 census, where she is living with her son Noah Cline (Appendix G). FH2 states that this William Cline is the one, among the several William Clines, who is in the Lincoln county militia in the War of 1812. In March 1817, William sells his Mecklins Creek land and then claims 150 acres on Long Shoal Creek in July 1817. He is noted in April 1820 and April 1822 as holding land on Snow Creek, which is his home east of Hickory near Catawba Springs as stated in FH2. William is killed by unknown parties, per FH2. This occurs between 1830 and 1840 because his wife Mary appears as a widow in the Lincoln county 1840 census (Appendix F).

William Cline's children are per FH2, with birth dates from the census:

(1.4.6.5.1) child Cline, daughter of William Cline (1.4.6.5). (Appendix J, p 403). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She is not in the family household after the 1830 census.

It is presumed that she is one of two Cline daughters who appear in the marriage records in 1838. Nancy Cline marries Thomas Spratt on April 27, 1838. Aday Cline marries Jesse Sigman on May 17, 1838. Only George Cline (1.4.2.9) and William Cline, among all the Lincoln county Cline families, have daughters of this marriageable age whose names are not known in the records. George Cline (1.4.2.9) has an unidentified daughter born 1820-1825. Therefore, Nancy Cline is a daughter of either George Cline or William Cline, and Aday Cline is the daughter of the other.

On page 247 of the Lincoln county 1850 census, Thomas Spratt's wife Nancy is listed as born in 1820. Nancy is presumed to be George Cline's (1.4.2.9) daughter, born 1820-1825, per his census household (see the section for George Cline's sixth child in this chapter).

On page 79 of the Lincoln county 1840 census, Jesse Sigman's wife is listed as born 1810-1820. Aday Cline Sigman, Jesse Sigman's wife, is presumed to be this William Cline's daughter, born 1815-1820, per his census household.

(1.4.6.5.2) Barbara Cline, daughter of William Cline (1.4.6.5). Barbara is born in 1825 per her listing in the Catawba county 1850 census where she is in her brother Noah Cline's household (Appendix G). However, Barbara appears to be born in 1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She marries first Samuel Patton on July 10, 1845 in Ashe county, North Carolina per FH2. Barbara and Samuel have two children, per FH2 and the 1850 census. Barbara marries second Elkanah Drum and has one child per FH2. Barbara's children are:

Barbary B. Patton, born 1847. FH2 calls her Mary Rebecca Patton who marries Levi Heffner.

Sarah S. Patton, born 1849.

Joshua Drum.

(1.4.6.5.3) Joseph Cline, son of William Cline (1.4.6.5). Joseph is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census (Appendix E). Joseph is born in 1822 and his wife Mary is born in 1827 per Joseph's listing in the Burke county 1850 census (Appendix G). Joseph's first three children appear in the 1850 census. In the Burke county 1860 census, Joseph's wife is Mahaly, born in 1830, and they have an additional four children (Appendix I):

Sidney Cline, son, born 1846.

Angeline Cline, born 1848.

William Cline, born 1850.

Map Cline, born 1853.

Sarah Cline, born in 1855.

Philip Cline, born 1857.

Isaac Cline, born 1860.

(1.4.6.5.4) Malinda Cline, daughter of William Cline (1.4.6.5). Malinda is born in 1823. She probably does not marry per FH2. She and her sister Catherine are living with their brother Noah Cline and mother Polly Cline in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G).

(1.4.6.5.5) Noah Cline, son of William Cline (1.4.6.5). Noah is born in 1827 per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). In 1850, Noah is listed as single and head of household with his mother Polly Cline, his sisters Malinda, Barbara and Catherine, and his brother William living with him. Noah is not found in the North Carolina 1860 or 1870 census. FH2 states that Noah marries and has a family but cannot name them.

(1.4.6.5.6) Catherine Cline, daughter of William Cline (1.4.6.5). Catherine is born in 1829. She probably does not marry per FH2. She and her sister Malinda are living with their brother Noah Cline and mother Polly Cline in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G).

(1.4.6.5.7) William Cline, son of William Cline (1.4.6.5). (Appendix J, p 379). William is born in 1832 per the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). William dies in 1885 per FH2. William is living with his brother Noah in 1850. William is declared a lunatic in 1853 and John Cline is appointed his guardian. This John Cline could be either his uncle John (1.4.6.3) or his cousin John (1.4.2.1.5).

Per FH2, William is a brick mason, marries first Rosabell Rowe on February 24, 1859 and marries second a Miss Lafon. William and Rosabell, born in 1835, appear in the Catawba county 1860 census.

FH2 names four children of William's first marriage and one child of his second marriage.

James Cline.

Copeman Cline, born December 10, 1873 and dies 1885.

Franklin V. Cline, marries Biddie Hunsucker. Franklin has ten children discussed in FH2.

William L. Cline, marries Eudora Yount and they have seven children named in FH2.

John H. Cline, son of William's second marriage. John marries Bessie Sigman and they have a son Clarence.

(1.4.6.6) Dolly Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.4.6). Dolly is born 1790-1794 per the data for her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). FH2 states that Dolly is a daughter of John Cline, that she marries William Myers and moves to Indiana about 1810, and that they have several children there, of whom only a son William Fulbright Myers is mentioned. Dolly is not mentioned in her father's will, having probably died before the 1840 date of his will. William Myers is on page 186 of the Marion county, Indiana 1830 census, with a wife born 1790-1800, six daughters and one son. Neither William Myers nor a widow is found in the Indiana 1840 census; supporting the assumption that Dolly dies prior to her father's will.

Dolly Cline Myers' children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.6.6.1) child Myers, daughter of Dolly Cline Myers (1.4.6.6). She is born 1810-1815 per the Marion county, Indiana 1830 census.

(1.4.6.6.2) William Fulbright Myers, son of Dolly Cline Myers (1.4.6.6). William is born 1815-1820 per the Marion county, Indiana 1830 census.

(1.4.6.6.3 – 1.4.6.6.5) Myers children, daughters of Dolly Cline Myers (1.4.6.6). They are born 1820-1825 per the Marion county, Indiana 1830 census.

(1.4.6.6.6 – 1.4.6.6.7) Myers children, daughters of Dolly Cline Myers (1.4.6.6). They are born 1825-1830 per the Marion county, Indiana 1830 census.

(1.4.6.7) Henry Cline, son of John Cline (1.4.6). (Appendix J, p 379, 399, 405). Henry is identified as a son in his father's will. Henry is born on November 8, 1793 and dies December 23, 1877 per his gravestone at Old St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Catawba county. Henry marries Elizabeth Eckard on March 28, 1819. Elizabeth is born on January 29, 1801 and dies on January 1, 1877 per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. In May 1827, Henry witnesses the will of Johannes Miller.

FH2 states that Henry has a large family of 15 children, two of whom die, unnamed, in infancy. Henry Cline's surviving children are identified in FH2 and corroborated by the Catawba county 1820-1860 census (Appendix D-G, I).

Henry Cline's children are:

(1.4.6.7.1) Jonas Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.6.7). Jonas is born on Oct 1, 1819 and does not marry. Jonas is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). He is not found in the North Carolina census thereafter and is not in any state in the 1850 census.

(1.4.6.7.2) Lydia Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.4.6.7). Lydia is born on January 1, 1822, marries Mark Harbinson about 1843 and has four children. Lydia stays in Catawba county and rears her family there after Mark moves to Haywood county. Lydia is living with her son Jonas Harbinson when she dies in 1912. Lydia's children are per FH2:

> Melinda Harbinson, marries John Hull and has two children named in FH2.
> Henry Harbinson, killed in the Civil War.
> Jonas Harbinson, marries Martha Whitener and has eight children named in FH2.

Elizabeth Cline (1.4.7)
probable daughter of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Elizabeth Cline is a daughter of Sebastian Cline and marries Henry Propst, per FH2. Henry Propst lives next door to Sebastian Cline and interacts closely with the Cline family, including his attendance at Sebastian Cline's 1794 estate sale. Sebastian sells some of his Clark's Creek land to Henry Propst in 1775, about the time that Elizabeth Cline and Henry Propst marry. Henry Propst's will of February 1799 identifies his wife Elizabeth Propst, a daughter Caty Propst and four sons: John, Michael, Jacob and Daniel Propst. These facts support the presumption that Elizabeth is a daughter of Sebastian Cline.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix J, p 349, 381), Appendix N, p 455, and FH2.

Elizabeth is born about 1755 and marries Henry Propst about 1775. The Henry Propst family appears in the Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census. In the 1800 census Elizabeth is listed as born 1755-1774. Elizabeth appears as widow Propst, born 1750-1760, on page 152 of the Lincoln county 1830 census. These census entries establish that Elizabeth is born 1755-1760 and the birth dates of her children suggest that her birth date is about 1755. Elizabeth and Henry Propst live on the 90 acres on Anthony's Branch of Clarks Creek that her father and mother sold to them on July 22, 1775.

Henry wills to his sons Jacob, Michael, and Daniel Propst 270 acres on Big Pigeon River in Buncombe county. He wills to his son John two pieces of land on Clark's Creek, consisting of the 90 acres that Henry obtained from Sebastian (Boston) Cline and 50 acres that are Henry's by a state grant.

Catherine is called Caty in her father's will, which grants her father's personal property to Caty.

Michael Cline (1.4.8)
son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Michael is documented as a son in Sebastian (Boston) Cline's will of December 27, 1791. Michael appears as a young man in Lincoln county and lives his whole life there.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 380-386, 406), census records (Appendix A-E), and FH2.

Michael Cline is born on November 16, 1761, per FH2, with confirmation from his gravestone, which shows his death date as January 2, 1840, at age 78. Michael's Revolutionary War pension application of October 30, 1832 is a key document because it establishes Michael's birth in Cabarrus county in 1761 and states that these facts are in his father's family Bible. Michael bought this Bible at his father's estate sale in 1794. Presumably, Michael is born in Cabarrus county because his family was staying there with his uncle Michael Cline (1.8). There were Indian skirmishes in Lincoln county at that time and the family may have sought respite in Cabarrus county.

In August 1776, Michael receives first communion at age 14, from Rev. Arends in Lincoln county. Michael serves in the Revolutionary War from November 1778 to April 1779 in North Carolina and South Carolina, and in 1780 and in 1781 in the Blue Ridge against the Cherokee. He and his brothers, Christopher and John, are called to testify in the 1782 trial of Colonel Charles McDowell for his Tory leanings, where it is noted that Michael was in the battle of Ramsour's Mill.

Fanny Cline states her wedding date as June 27, 1785 in her 1840 widow's application for a Revolutionary War pension for her husband Michael's service. FH2 identifies Michael's wife as Fanny Killian, who is born on October 5, 1764 and dies in 1844. However, she is still alive in 1850, living with her son Michael per the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G).

The Lincoln county court and land records for Michael are numerous because he is frequently an agent for the court. He begins a long series of court duties as a juror in 1789, 1791, and 1794, a road layout panel member in 1795, and Justice of the Peace in 1797 and 1805-1808. In April 1805, Michael is appointed Captain of his tax district and in July 1805 is appointed Lincoln county coroner. Many other items are recorded for Michael Cline serving the court from 1809 through 1812. Michael and his wife Fanny both collect fees for court services in April 1806. It is obvious that Michael Cline is an active and respected member of his community.

Michael is executor for his brother-in-law Henry Propst's will of February 16, 1799. He is involved in estate settlements for Henry Sigman in April 1805, Henry Yount in January 1807, Jacob Rosaman in March 1807, and Joseph Hartle in April 1808. In April 1808 Michael is executor for the estate of Jonathan Starr, husband of Michael's niece Easter Cline Starr (1.4.2.6).

Michael and his brother Jacob are witnesses to the will of their neighbor William Bost in April 1811. This will is probated in January 1823.

Over a period of 27 years, Michael appears 13 times in the land records of the county. In December 1791, Michael's land on Clarks Creek is noted as adjoining the land his father sells to Michael's brother Jacob. In January 1797, Michael claims 60 acres on Clarks Creek and in February 1797 claims another 50 acres on Clarks Creek. In October 1798, Michael claims 200 acres on Falling Creek. In December 1801, Michael Cline and William Bost witness a deed from Henry Hepner to Elias Bost. Henry is the son of Michael's sister Utilly Cline Hefner (Hepner) (1.4.5).

In April 1806, the Lincolnton road from Bollinger's Mill to Captain (Michael) Cline's company line is described as crossing Clarks Creek at Anthony's Bridge. Michael claims nine acres bordering his other Clark Creek lands in April 1810. In October 1811, the road from Henry Carpenter's property to the Dutch meeting house in the neighborhood of Michael Cline Esq. is ordered to be no longer a public road. Michael claims another 22 acres in October 1816. In May 1819, Michael buys land on Falling Creek and Snow Creek that borders his brother Jacob.

Michael's will of August 3, 1839 is probated in January 1840 and identifies his wife Fanny and his sons Henry and Michael S. Cline. Also the will identifies the family of son Michael S. Cline as his wife Salome and sons Logan B., Wallace A., Maxwell, Laben, Michael P., Eli, and Jonathan. Henry Cline and Logan B. Cline are executors. One of the estate inventories notes that Joseph Cline (1.4.6.4.4) is paid for shoes he made for Michael.

Michael appears in the Lincoln county 1790 census with no children, but seems to have his parents living in his household (Appendix A). In the Lincoln county 1800 census, Michael has his wife and two sons in his household and two other older children who are presumed to be the son, Leonard, and daughter, Sally, of his deceased brother Christopher Cline (Appendix B). Michael and his family continue to appear in the Lincoln county 1810-1830 census (Appendix C-E).

Michael Cline's children are per his will, FH2, and the census:

(1.4.8.1) Michael S. Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.8) (Appendix J, p 386, 406). Michael is born on November 22, 1796 and dies on November 20, 1866 per his gravestone. He marries Salome Bost in 1817 per FH2. She is born on October 9, 1797 and dies on March 7, 1855 per her gravestone. Both are buried at St. Paul's Church near Newton, North Carolina.

Michael S. Cline is documented as a son in his father Michael's will. Michael S. Cline's wife and seven of his eight sons are also named in this will. Michael's eighth son, Henry Franklin Cline, is not born at the time of the will. Michael S. Cline's widowed mother Fanny is in his household in the 1840 and 1850 census. Michael and his family appear in the Lincoln county 1820-1840 and the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix D-G, I).

Michael S. Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.8.1.1) Logan B. Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). (Appendix J, p 386). Logan is born in 1818 in North Carolina per his listing on page 415 of the Greenville county, South Carolina 1860 census. Logan marries Margaret Carolina Cunningham on September 1, 1846 in South Carolina per FH2. There is a Logan Cline in Cleveland county, North Carolina who acquires land in August 1844 from James Love and who also participates in a debtor insolvency case in November 1844. In the 1860 census, Logan's wife is listed as Margaret C. Cline, born in 1822 in South Carolina, and Logan's brother Franklin Cline, born in 1843 in North Carolina, is living with them. Logan has only one child per FH2 and the 1860 census:

> Alice Cline, born 1849 in South Carolina, marries Major Thomas Ferguson November 5, 1868 and has six children named in FH2.

(1.4.8.1.2) Wallace A. Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Wallace is born in 1820 per his listing in the Newberry county, South Carolina 1850 census (Appendix H). He marries Frances Housael at Newberry, South Carolina per FH2. Wallace and his family are on page 297 of the Newberry county, South Carolina 1860 census which lists W. A. Cline, his wife Henellia F. Cline, born in 1832 in South Carolina, and three children. Wallace is on page 657 of the Newberry county, South Carolina 1870 census, where his wife is listed as Frances and they have five children, all born in South Carolina:

> Benedict Cline, born 1854.
> Alice Cline, born 1857.
> Catharine Cline, born 1859.
> Mary Cline, born 1863.
> Carrie Cline, born 1868.

(1.4.8.1.3) Leah Cline, daughter of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Leah is born 1820-1825 per analysis of her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). She marries Joseph F. Bollinger and has ten children per FH2:

> Sidney L. Bollinger, marries first Jane Murphy and later he and his second wife move to Virginia.
> Isabelle Bollinger, marries Alfred Huffman.
> James F. Bollinger, marries Sarah Caroline Fulbright.
> Logan Bollinger, no further information in FH2.
> Peter Bollinger, dies at age 8.
> Wallace A. Bollinger, marries Dora Ann Cline, daughter of Ciscero Cline (1.4.6.7.10).
> Margaret Bollinger, marries Avery Fry.
> Mary Bollinger, marries Frank Bumgarner. FH2 names one child.
> Candace Bollinger, marries Junius Yoder.
> Frances Bollinger, marries Emanuel Hahn.

(1.4.8.1.4) Maxwell Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Maxwell is born in 1826, marries Emmaline Settlemire, goes to Tennessee and then serves in the Civil War per FH 2. In the Caldwell county 1850 census, Maxwell has in his household his wife Elizabeth, her two brothers William and Thomas Settlemire, and a daughter (Appendix G). Maxwell, his wife and the same daughter are in the Marshall county, Alabama 1860 census:

Mary Cline, born 1849.

(1.4.8.1.5) Laban Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Laban is born 1825-1830 per analysis of his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Laban volunteers for service and dies in the 1846 Mexican War per FH2.

(1.4.8.1.6) Michael Pinkney Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Michael is born in 1830 per analysis of his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). He is not in his father's household in the 1850 census. There is an M. P. Cline, born in 1830 in North Carolina, listed on page 268 of the Newberry county, South Carolina 1860 census. Per FH2, Michael enlists at Newberry, South Carolina for service in the Civil War, is taken prisoner in South Carolina, goes to Texas after the war, dies of yellow fever on September 17, 1867, and is unmarried.

(1.4.8.1.7) Mary Cline, daughter of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Mary is born 1830-1835 per analysis of her father's household in the Lincoln county 1840 census (Appendix F). In the Catawba county 1860 census, Mary C. Rees and her husband George Rees have Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1), widower, and four children living in their household (Appendix I). This Mary C. Rees is probably Michael's daughter, even though her birth date in the 1860 census conflicts with her birth date in the 1840 census.

(1.4.8.1.8) Eli P. R. Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Eli is born on December 18, 1834 and dies on March 1, 1901 per FH2. There is a listing for Eli P. Cline, born in 1830, in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). However, the birth year is that of Michael S. Cline's son Michael P. Cline. Therefore, Eli's birth date is in error in this 1850 census. Eli is not found in the North Carolina 1860 census, but is on page 324 of the Burke county 1870 census. Eli marries Ellen Settlemire and has seven children per FH2:

Robert Cline, marries a Mull and lives in Burke county.

William Cline, marries and lives in Burke county.

Vance Cline, marries and moves to Alabama.

Charles Cline, marries a daughter of Fred Mull and lives in Burke county.

Addie Cline, marries a Mr. Williams.

(1.4.8.1.9) Johnathan Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). (Appendix J, p 406). Johnathan is born about 1837 and is living in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G).

Johnathan is called Calvin in FH2, which is probably his middle name. J. C. Cline is living near Michael S. Cline in the Catawba county 1860 census (Appendix I). J. C. Cline's gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church shows he is born on October 21, 1836 and dies on April 21, 1862.

(1.4.8.1.10) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Elizabeth is born in 1840 and is living in her father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). (1.4.8.1.11) Henry Franklin Cline, son of Michael S. Cline (1.4.8.1). Henry is born in 1842 and is living in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He serves in the Civil War, goes to Texas after the war and dies of yellow fever on September 17, 1873 per FH2.

(1.4.8.2) Henry Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.4.8). (Appendix J, p 386, 406). Henry is documented as a son in his father Michael's will. Henry is born on March 28, 1799 and dies on May 8, 1886 per his gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. His wife Sally Boovey is born on February 1, 1801 and dies on September 1, 1847 per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. Henry marries first Sally Boovey on April 25, 1820 and marries second Sarah Louise Bandy in 1849.

FH2 is the source for Henry's information in this paragraph. Henry is a carpenter and helps rebuild Old St. Paul's Church in the early 1820s, reusing the logs from the original one-story church in the new two-story church. He is a Justice of the Peace for 40 years, is selected as the first clerk of the newly formed Catawba county court in 1843, and is a member of the Select Court. He first lives on one of his father's farms on Snow Creek, a few miles from Hickory, and then on another of his father's farms four miles south of Newton. His father had bought the latter land from George Ikerd, acting as agent for David Lutz. Henry moves from Catawba county to Lincoln county about 1870.

Henry and his first wife Sally have thirteen children, and Henry and his second wife Sarah have three children. Henry's children are per FH2, the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census and the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix E-G, I).

Edna B. Hartzoge, unmarried, but has one son, Murril.

Robert A. Hartzoge, marries Miss Null.

(1.4.8.2.14) Melvina Genelia Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.4.8.2) and his second wife Sarah Louise Bandy. Melvina is born on March 12, 1850, marries Adam Heavner, and has no children.

(1.4.8.2.15) Henry Franklin Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.8.2) and his second wife Sarah Louise Bandy. Henry is born in October 1853, marries Ann Thornton, and has seven children:

Ada Cline, marries Alonzo Newton and has no children.

Ella Cline, marries Henry Weaver and has three children.

Ora Cline, unmarried.

Lyda Cline, marries John Reinhardt; moves to Morristown, Tennessee.

Carl Cline.

F. Lee Cline, marries, but his wife's name is unknown.

(1.4.8.2.16) John Kelly Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.4.8.2) and his second wife Sarah Louise Bandy. John is born on May 1, 1856 and dies in 1931. He marries Dora Hill and has two children:

Guy Cline, marries a Miss Wood.

Michael Hugh Cline, does not marry.

Jacob Cline (1.4.9)
son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

Lineage rationale. Jacob Cline identifies himself as a brother of Michael Cline in his supporting statement for the Revolutionary War pension application by the widow of Michael Cline in 1840. Michael Cline is named as a son of Sebastian Cline in Sebastian's will of December 27, 1791. Therefore, Jacob is also a proven son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 387-390), census records (Appendix A-G) and FH2.

Jacob is born in 1765, per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). In 1779, Jacob receives his first communion at age 14 from Rev. Arends in Lincoln county. Jacob marries Elizabeth Wilfong on November 28, 1786.

On December 22, 1791, Jacob acquires, from his parents, 151 acres and another 100 acres, both on Clarks Creek,. The records note he is still on this land on April 29, 1793. This land adjoins that of his brothers John and Michael Cline.

In 1797, Jacob claims two additional tracts of land, 100 acres and 140 acres, both on Clarks Creek. In June of 1798, Jacob sells to his brother John Cline 15 acres of his original 100 acres acquired from his parents.

Jacob Cline and Andrew Hoyle buy a lot in Lincolnton in March 1799, which they sell in July 1808. Jacob acquires another 200 acres on Clarks Creek from John Killian on July 6, 1806 (this tract is surveyed December 29, 1810) and another 200 acres on Snow Creek on July 14, 1810. Jacob claims another 50 acres on Clarks Creek in January 1810. He sells 144 acres to John Miller on November 5, 1812.

In May 1810, Jacob sells 150 acres in Burke county, which he had bought in November 1803. It is not known if he actually farmed this land. Jacob appears on the Burke county 1815 tax list as owning 100 acres. Jacob's land holdings in Burke county are not well documented, since many of the early Burke county records did not survive the Civil War.

Jacob appears frequently in the early court records in Lincoln county. He serves as a juror 14 times from 1791 to 1812. He is appointed to a road project along with his brother Michael in January 1795 and is appointed as a patroller in Michael's company in July 1805. Jacob is noted in John Benefield's court complaint in October 1799 against John Anthony for stealing Benefield's hat in Jacob's house in Lincolnton.

In 1808, Jacob helps his brothers John and Michael administer the estates of Hartle and Killian. On April 29, 1811, Jacob and his brother Michael witness the will of William Bost, probated in January 1823. Jacob is appointed to oversee the road from the east side of Clarks Creek to Sherrill's Ford road in January 1812.

On March 18, 1817 Jacob's wife Elizabeth is mentioned as Jacob Cline's wife in her father George Wilfong's will. A newspaper obituary notes that Elizabeth dies on April 12, 1827 at age 59. Jacob marries a second time to Barbara Halman on October 23, 1841.

In January 1853, F. L. Herman is appointed guardian of Jacob Cline, a lunatic (probably meaning senile). Jacob dies about 1854, and his second wife Barbara petitions for her allowance and dower in July 1854. Henry Cline (1.4.8.2), son of Jacob's brother Michael (1.4.8), is the estate administrator. No will is found for Jacob Cline, nor any estate papers naming heirs of Jacob Cline.

However, the children of Jacob Cline, as named in FH2, can be confirmed by seeing that their age group entries appear in Jacob's census household from 1790-1840 and then seeing them appear by name, as they form their own households, in the 1820-1860 census. The children of Jacob Cline are distinguished from all their Cline cousins in the area in one of two ways:

First, the children of Jacob's brothers John (1.4.6) and Michael (1.4.8) are known from their fathers' wills and, therefore, these children can be identified distinctly from Jacob's children in the census.

Second, the children of Jacob's only other brothers Boston Jr (1.4.1) and Christopher (1.4.2) are born prior to Jacob's 1786 marriage. The only exceptions here are Christopher's two youngest children born in 1789 and 1793. However, these two children, George and Michael, are clearly in the household of Christopher's widow, Sally Cline, in 1800 before having their own households in the 1820 census, as discussed in Christopher Cline's section of this chapter.

The children of the only other Clines in the area, Valentine and Martin Cline, are all known from their fathers' estate papers. Therefore, Jacob's children are clearly distinguished in the census from the other Cline children of their generation.

Jacob Cline's children are per FH2 and confirming census data:

(1.4.9.1) Ambrose Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). Ambrose is named as Jacob's son by FH2, which offers nothing further than his name. It is presumed that Ambrose dies before reaching maturity. There is a young male in Jacob's house in the 1790 census, who then disappears by the 1800 census, as if he dies young (Appendix A, B). This son is arbitrarily identified as Ambrose.

(1.4.9.2) Daniel Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 390, 399). Daniel is born in 1788, per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He dies on February 19, 1867 per FH2. He marries Susanna Wike on May 25, 1813. She is born on November 23, 1793 and dies on June 19, 1867 per FH2.

Daniel and Susanna are both buried at St. John's Church near Conover. They live on the Catawba River near the old Island Ford per FH2. Daniel appears in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1790-1810 census and then has his own household in 1820 and thereafter (Appendix A-G, I). On December 29, 1810, Daniel witnesses a sale of Killian land bordering his father, Jacob Cline.

Daniel Cline's children are per FH2 and confirming census data:

Daniel Cline

(1.4.9.2.1) Jonas Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Jonas is born on April 15, 1815, and dies on October 21, 1895. Jonas is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). Jonas is the sheriff of Catawba county for about 30 years. Jonas marries first E. Caroline Gandt about 1842. After Caroline's death about 1852, Jonas marries second Lousina Gandt, his first wife's sister. There are no children from Jonas' second marriage. In the Catawba county 1850 census there are four children in Jonas' household (Appendix G). In the Catawba 1860 census there are five children in Jonas' household (Appendix I):

Lawson Cline, born 1840, mulatto.

A. Kelly Cline, born March 14, 1845, dies April 1, 1872. He marries Alice Setzer and has one child, Edward, per FH2.

Jerome Cline, born 1848, marries Laura Sherrill and has six children named in FH2.

Robert Cline, born on February 2, 1850, dies October 17, 1931. He marries first Laura Ann Sherrill and has eight children discussed in FH2. He marries second Mary Catherine Seagle and they have no children per FH2.

Francis Cline, daughter born 1852.

(1.4.9.2.2) Jemima Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Jemima is born on July 1, 1817 and dies on November 2, 1906. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Jemima marries Franklin A. Yount in February 1840 and has seven children per FH2:

Suphronia Yount, marries John Sherrill and has no children.

Olivia C. Yount, marries Henry P. Rudasill and has eleven children discussed in FH2.

Sue C. Yount, marries J. R. Mayberry.

I. Alex Yount, born 1854 and marries first Sally Brady and marries second Ella Morrin Wike, widow. He has no surviving children per FH2.

Baldy H. Yount, marries Molly Douglas and moves to Washington state.

Elijah Cline

(1.4.9.2.3) Elijah Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Elijah is born on December 11, 1819 and dies on April 28, 1879. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). Elijah marries Elizabeth Eckard about 1845. She is born on March 10, 1824 and dies on August 19, 1899. They are both buried at St. John's Church, Conover. Elijah's children are per FH2 and his household in the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I):

William P. Cline, born 1845 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 and 1860 census. He is in the Civil War, marries Elizabeth Rowe and has four children named in FH2. William is called Patrick Cline in FH2.

Julius P. Cline, born 1846-1847, per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 and 1860 census. Julius is not identified in FH2.

Marcus L. Cline, born 1849, per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 and 1860 census. He marries California (Forney) Fry and has seven children named in FH2.

Jason J. Cline, born 1851, per his listing in his father's household in the 1860 census. He marries first Candace Miller and has eight children named in FH2. He marries second Hattie Bolick, widow of Frank Bolick.

Jason Jerome Cline

C. M. Cline, daughter, born 1853 per her listing in her father's household in the 1860 census. She is not identified in FH2.

F. M. Cline, daughter, born 1855 per her listing in her father's household in the 1860 census. She is not identified in FH2.

L. E. Cline, daughter, born 1859 per her listing in her father's household in the 1860 census. She is called Laura Cline in FH2.

Albert (Bert) Cline, marries Linnie Barringer and has nine children named in FH2. Albert is not in his father's household up through the 1860 census, presumably born after 1860.

Perry Cline, born October 20, 1864 and dies January 27, 1953. He marries Laura Bumgarner and has three sons named in FH2.

(1.4.9.2.4) Kizzia Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Kizzia is born in 1822 per her listing in her father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). The following information for Kizzia has been provided by one of her descendants, Mrs. Fred (Connie) Schneider of Lake Providence, Louisiana. Kizzia Cline marries first John Marcus Hefner, son of Jacob and Margaret Hefner, on March 4, 1855 and they have three sons. John Marcus, born January 5, 1832, dies July 27, 1864 in a Union prison at Point Lookout, Maryland. Kizzia marries second a Mr. Horn and they move to Virginia. Mr. Horn apparently dies there. Kizzia's sons marry there and Kizzia moves to Saline county, Arkansas in September 1883 with her sons Lawrence and James Hefner and their families. Kizzia dies in Pulaski county, Arkansas on September 7, 1886. The children of Kizzia Cline Hefner are:

Lawrence Alexander Hefner, born July 19, 1855 in Catawba county and dies March 16, 1942 in Little Rock, Arkansas. He marries Margaret Larkey on August 24, 1883 in Virginia and they have sons Willie Marion and Joseph Alex and daughters Cara and Bertha Hefner.

Jonas Alfred Hefner, born September 9, 1857 in Catawba county and dies in May 1935 in Lebanon, Indiana. He marries Ellen Catherine Sims in January 1882 in Mendota, Virginia and they have three sons (John, William, James) and three daughters (Sarah, Kate, Blanche).

James Harper Hefner, born January 25, 1861 in Catawba county and dies November 10, 1951 in Little Rock, Arkansas. He marries Frances Virginia Sims on December 26, 1881 in Mendota, Virginia and they have three sons (Carson Edward, Curtis Lawrence, James Garnet) and four daughters (Ada Tabitha, Sally Ellen, Lillie May, Pearl Octava).

(1.4.9.2.5) Daniel W. Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Daniel is born in 1824 per his listing in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix G). He marries Adaline Deal, born in 1837, and has three children per FH2. Daniel is in his own household in the Catawba county 1860 census and has two children (Appendix I):

Alfred Cline, born 1857 and goes to Illinois per FH2.

Tilford Cline, born 1859 and goes to Illinois per FH2.

Charles Cline, identified in FH2, presumably born after 1860.

(1.4.9.2.6) Jefferson Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Jefferson is born in 1826, per his own household in the Catawba county 1860 census (Appendix I). A son of this age appears in Daniel Cline's household in both the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). The Catawba county 1850 census does not list this Jefferson Cline in Daniel's household. Jefferson does not appear in any state 1850 census; he must have been missed by the Catwaba county census-taker.

FH2 states that Jefferson marries twice and has no heirs. However, the 1860 census shows Jefferson with his wife Sarah, born 1823, and three children all born in North Carolina:

Julia Cline, born 1847.

Andrew Cline, born 1850.

Felix Cline, born 1853.

(1.4.9.2.7) Manuel M. Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Per FH2 Manuel is born on September 29, 1829 and dies on March 19, 1910. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census and the Catawba county 1850 census (Appendix E-G). He marries Linnie Barringer, who is born on Oct 18, 1831 and dies on June 13, 1896. Manuel has his own household in the Catawba county 1870 census. FH2 discusses Manuel's children:

Martha Cline, marries W. Adolphus Hewitt and has five children named in FH2.

Robert Cline, moves away from Catawba county.

Katie Cline, marries William Rankin of Greensboro and has no children.

Thomas Cline, dies as a young man.

Sallie Cline, marries Rev. Robert Henry Cline, son of Eli Cline (1.4.9.8.1). They live in Virginia and have eight children named in FH2.

Belle Cline, marries Judson D. Albright.

Mary Cline, marries a Mr. Warren and lives in Wilmington, North Carolina.

Charles F. Cline, born January 20, 1869, dies February 25, 1912 and does not marry.

Jennetta Cline, marries James Smith. They move to Wilmington, North Carolina and have no children per FH2.

Dezzie Cline, marries a Mr. Merritt of Wilmington, North Carolina.

(1.4.9.2.8) Barbara Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Barbara is born 1830-1835 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1840 census (Appendix F). She apparently marries prior to the 1850 census. Per FH2, she marries a Mr. Deal and has four children:

Ed Deal.

Katie Deal.

Lillie Deal.

Robert Deal.

(1.4.9.2.9) Laban Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2). Laban is born in 1835, per his father's household in the Catawba 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). Per FH2, Laban does not marry, dies in the Civil War and is buried at St. John's Church. However, in the 1860 census there is a young woman, Susan B. Cline, born 1838, living with Laban in his father's house. This is probably Laban's wife, newly married, since she is too young to be the daughter of Daniel Cline (1.4.9.2).

(1.4.9.3) Catherine Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 402). Catherine is born about 1789 and dies about 1830 per FH2. She marries David Killian on January 10, 1809 and has four children per FH2. However, David Killian is on page 350 of the Lincoln county 1810 census and on page 183 of the 1830 census with his wife, born 1780-1790, and nine children. Catherine is the oldest daughter in her father's Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census household, prior to her marriage (Appendix A, B). The named children below are those known from FH2, and the others are implied from the census.

Catherine Cline Killian's children are:

(1.4.9.3.1) child Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). He is born about 1809-1810, since he appears as one of two young sons, born 1800-1810 (but after Catherine's 1809 marriage date), in his father's 1810 census household. This son is not present in his father's 1830 census household and maybe died young or has already left his father's household.

(1.4.9.3.2) Ephraim Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). Ephraim is born about 1810-1815 per data for the eldest son in his father's household in the 1830 census. However, this son is already born in the 1810 census and thus is born in 1810. Ephraim marries Mary Killian in August 1835 and has children:

Nancy Killian, born 1836 and marries Elisha Smith who dies in the Civil War.

Monroe Killian, does not marry and dies in the Civil War.

Susan Killian, marries Alonzo Lutz and has no heirs.

John Killian, dies in the Civil War.

Amzie Killian, marries Barbara Coon (Kuhn).

Laban Killian, presumed to be the William L. Killian, born 1839, discussed in FH2. He marries Eva Baker in 1871 and they have three children discussed in FH2.

(1.4.9.3.3) Susanah Killian, daughter of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). Susanah is possibly the daughter, born 1810-1815, in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.4) child Killian, daughter of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). She is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.5) child Killian, daughter of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.6) Abel Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). Abel is possibly the son, born 1815-1820, in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.7) Logan Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). Logan is possibly the son, born 1820-1825, in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.8) child Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). He is born 1825-1830 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.3.9) child Killian, son of Catherine Cline Killian (1.4.9.3). He is born 1825-1830 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1830 census.

(1.4.9.4) Mary Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). Mary is born 1790-1794, per analysis of her father and husband's households in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census. Mary is born 1790-1800 per her entry in her father's 1800 household (Appendix B). She marries Henry Bollinger per FH2. Henry Bollinger is in the Lincoln county 1810 census with his wife born 1784-1794, and at that time they have two young daughters.

Mary Cline Bollinger's children are per FH2:

(1.4.9.4.1) Rosanah Bollinger, daughter of Mary Cline Bollinger (1.4.9.4). Rosanah is born about 1809, marries first David Deal in April 1830 and has one child whose name is not found. David dies and Rosanah marries second Andrew Bolick in April 1835, and they have three sons and five daughters:

child Deal, born of Rosanah's first marriage.

George Bolick.

Henry Bolick.

Gerard Bolick.

Mattie Bolick.

Genelia Bolick.

child Bolick, daughter.

child Bolick, daughter.

child Bolick, daughter.

(1.4.9.4.2) Leah Bollinger, daughter of Mary Cline Bollinger (1.4.9.4). Leah is born about 1813, marries Elijah Huffman in November 1831 and has several children whose names are unknown.

(1.4.9.4.3) Mary Bollinger, daughter of Mary Cline Bollinger (1.4.9.4). Mary is born about 1818, marries Anthony Hallman in March 1837 and has children per FH2:

Monroe Hallman.

Sidney Hallman, son.

child Hallman, daughter who marries a Mr. Montgomery and lives in Caldwell county.

Martha Hallman, marries Morris R. Bost and has five children named in FH2.

(1.4.9.4.4) Elizabeth Bollinger, daughter of Mary Cline Bollinger (1.4.9.4). Elizabeth marries George Deal on August 15, 1838 and has children, six of whom are named in FH2:

David Deal.

Henry Deal.

Reuben Deal.

Carrie Deal.

Mahalah Deal.

Leah Deal.

(1.4.9.5) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 402). Elizabeth is born 1794-1800, per analysis of her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). She is born about 1797 per FH2. Elizabeth marries Jacob Wike on March 21, 1813. They move to Watauga county and some of their descendants are in Jackson county near Sylva per FH2. Jacob Wike is on page 396 of the Lincoln county 1820 census and on page 255 of the 1830 census with his wife born 1794-1800 and seven children. FH2 has no information about Elizabeth's children.

Elizabeth Cline Wike's children are per the census:

(1.4.9.5.1) child Wike, son of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). He is born 1810-1820 and is not in the 1830 census. Maybe he dies young.

(1.4.9.5.2) child Wike, son of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). He is born 1815-1820.

(1.4.9.5.3) child Wike, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). She is born 1815-1820.

(1.4.9.5.4) child Wike, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). She is born 1820-1825.

(1.4.9.5.5) child Wike, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). She is born 1820-1825.

(1.4.9.5.6) child Wike, son of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). He is born 1825-1830.

(1.4.9.5.7) child Wike, son of Elizabeth Cline Wike (1.4.9.5). He is born 1825-1830.

(1.4.9.6) David Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 400, 406). David is born on February 5, 1795 and dies on April 7, 1845 per his gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 and 1810 census and in his own household in the Lincoln county 1820-1840 census (Appendix B-F). On October 12, 1819, he marries Barbara Holman who is born in 1799 and dies on December 31, 1858 per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. David has no children per FH2. Those that appear in his 1820 and 1830 census household are too old to be his children and may be siblings of his wife. In the Catawba county 1850 census, David's widow Barbara has her deceased husband's brother, Jacob Cline (1.4.9.7), in her household (Appendix G).

(1.4.9.7) Jacob Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 390). Jacob is born in 1798 per the Catawba county 1850 census where he is living with Barbary Cline, the widow of his deceased brother David Cline (1.4.9.6) (Appendix G). Jacob does not marry per FH2. He is in his father Jacob's household in the Lincoln county 1800-1820 and 1840 census, but is not listed in the 1830 census (Appendix B-D, F). Jacob buys 140 acres in Iredell county in February 1843. He is not found in the 1860 census. Maybe he is deceased.

(1.4.9.8) Eli Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). Eli is born about 1800 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). He is not found in the 1830 census. In 1840, he is on page 297 of the York county, South Carolina census as E. J. Cline, single and born 1800-1810. He is not found in any 1850 census and is not in the North Carolina or South Carolina 1860 census. FH2 states that Eli has an out-of-wedlock son, Eli, with Elizabeth Deal Cline, widow of Leonard Cline (1.4.2.8) and later marries in South Carolina and has a son, James.

Eli Cline (WP's g'dad)

Eli Cline's children:

(1.4.9.8.1) Eli Cline, son of Eli Cline (1.4.9.8). (Appendix J, p 407). Eli is born in 1829 per his listing in the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). Eli's gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church states only his death date in the Civil War on February 1, 1863 at Richmond, Virginia. FH2 states that Eli is born on September 30, 1830. He appears to be reared by his mother Elizabeth Deal Cline because he can be seen in her household in the Lincoln county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Eli marries Roxanah Starr about 1850 per FH2. Roxanah is born on September 13, 1830 and dies on December 10, 1885 per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. Their children are per FH2 and are confirmed by the census:

Dr. WP Cline

They appear on page 281 of the Catawba county 1850 census and have four children in their household.

Sally Cline Hallman's children are per FH2 and the 1850 census:

(1.4.9.9.1) Lizzie Hallman, daughter of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Lizzie does not marry. She is not in her parents' household in the 1830 census and may have died young.

(1.4.9.9.2) Noah Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Noah is probably the son, born 1815-1820, in his father's household in the 1830 census. No further information is found.

(1.4.9.9.3) Laban Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Laban is probably one of the three sons, born 1820-1825, in his father's household in the 1830 census. Laban marries, but his wife's name is not found. Two of Laban's children are named in FH2:

Noah Hallman.

Robert Hallman.

(1.4.9.9.4) Ephraim Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Ephraim is probably one of the three sons, born 1820-1825, in his father's household in the 1830 census. Ephraim marries Suphronia Killian, moves to Kansas, has several children, but only one child is named in FH2:

Dora Hallman, marries Noah Settlemire and moves to Kansas.

(1.4.9.9.5) Hosae Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Hosae is probably one of the three sons, born 1820-1825, in his father's household in the 1830 census. Hosae marries and moves to South Carolina, near Spartanburg. FH2 names only one child for Hosae:

Lizzie Hallman.

(1.4.9.9.6) Elkanah Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Elkanah is probably the son, born 1825-1830, in his father's household in the 1830 census. Elkanah probably does not marry. He dies in the Civil War.

(1.4.9.9.7) Francis Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Francis is born in 1833 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census.

(1.4.9.9.8) George C. Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). George is born in 1836 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. FH2 calls him Calvin Hallman and says he moves to South Carolina, near Spartanburg.

(1.4.9.9.9) Vardrie Hallman, son of Sally Cline Hallman (1.4.9.9). Vardrie (Vardry) is born in 1840 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. Vardrie probably does not marry. He dies in the Civil War.

Ephraim marries Mary Eckard on April 22, 1835. Ephraim and his wife and children are listed in the Catawba county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I) .

Ephraim Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

Mayor EE Cline

(1.4.9.10.1) Elkanah Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Elkanah is misnamed as Ephraim Cline in his father's household in the 1850 census. Elkanah is born in 1833 per his own household listing in the 1860 census. FH2 states that Elkanah fights extensively throughout the Civil War. Elkanah marries first Malinda Rader and has five children and marries second Mary Abernethy and has another five children per FH2:

Pink L. Cline, born 1859-1860 per the 1860 census. He is called Lee in FH2.

child Cline, son, goes to California.

child Cline, marries John Smyer.

child Cline, marries Poley Huffman.

(1.4.9.10.3) Abel Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Abel is born in 1837 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. FH2 names Abel as a son of Ephraim, but has no further information.

(1.4.9.10.4) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Elizabeth is born in 1838 per her listing in her father's household in the 1850 census. Elizabeth does not marry per FH2.

(1.4.9.10.5) Ambrose Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Ambrose is born in 1840 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. FH2 states that Ambrose marries Adeline Turner on August 24, 1863, and that he is killed near Richmond, Virginia in the Civil War. Ambrose has one child per FH2:

child Cline, daughter, marries a Mr. Humble.

(1.4.9.10.6) Alfred Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Alfred is born in 1844 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. He marries Cedia Miller, and the names of his several children are unknown per FH2.

(1.4.9.10.7) Gemima Cline, daughter of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Gemima is born in 1846 per her listing in her father's household in the 1850 census. FH2 calls Gemima Harriet Cline and says she does not marry.

(1.4.9.10.8) Jefferson Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Jefferson is born in 1847 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. He marries Dona Eckard, serves in the Civil War and has children per FH2:

child Cline, son, dies in infancy.

Lula Cline, marries Ephraim Cline, son of Sylvanus, and grandson of Joseph Cline (1.4.6.4.4).

Minnie Cline, marries Sidney Bolick.

Cora Cline.

Lottie Cline.

Pinkie Cline, daughter.

(1.4.9.10.9) Sidney Cline, son of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). Sidney is born in 1850 per his listing in his father's household in the 1850 census. He is not in his father's household in the 1860 census; he probably dies young.

(1.4.9.10.10) M. M. Cline, daughter of Ephraim Cline (1.4.9.10). M. M. is born in 1854 per her listing in her father's household in the 1860 census. FH2 identifies her as Mary Cline and says she does not marry.

(1.4.9.11) Abb (or Abbie) Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). FH2 identifies Abb as a son of Jacob and states that Abb does not marry. There is such a young male, born 1804-1810, in Jacob's household in the 1810 and 1820 census, but he is not found afterward in the North Carolina census (Appendix C, D). He probably dies young, since he is not found in any state in the 1850 census.

(1.4.9.12) Polly Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). (Appendix J, p 403). Polly is named in FH2 and is born 1804-1810 per analysis of her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810-1830 census (Appendix C-E). Polly might be the Margaret Cline who marries John Shell on April 19, 1833 in Lincoln county. If Margaret and Polly are not the same person, then the relationship of this Margaret Cline to the other Clines in Lincoln county is unknown.

(1.4.9.13) Lawson Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.4.9). Lawson is born in 1813 per his listing in his father's household in the Catawba county 1850 census. Lawson is living in his father Jacob's household in the 1820-1850 census (Appendix D-G). In the 1840 census, he seems to have a wife and no children. FH2 states that Lawson marries first Elizabeth Propst and has two children. Lawson's first wife Elizabeth dies, and he marries second Peggy Reese per FH2.

In the 1850 census, Lawson has a Margaret Spencer, born 1812, and three Spencer children living with him in his father's household. In the Catawba county 1860 census, however, Lawson is in his own household with his wife Margaret Cline and four Cline children. Three of these Cline children seem to be the three children listed as Spencer children in the 1850 census.

Thus, it appears that Lawson Cline marries Elizabeth Propst about 1840 and they have two children, Jonas Monroe Cline and Julia Cline. Then Lawson's wife Elizabeth dies, and about 1850 Lawson marries Peggy Reese Spencer. She is a widow with a daughter Martha (or Margaret) Spencer, born 1839-1840.

The 1850 census incorrectly labels all three children as Spencer children, but the 1860 census more correctly names these children as Clines, including Martha. Maybe Lawson adopts her. Lawson and Margaret then have their own child Mary Cline.

Lawson Cline's children are per FH2 and the census:

(1.4.9.13.1) Jonas Monroe Cline, son of Lawson Cline (1.4.9.13). Monroe is born in 1842 and is a son of Lawson and his first wife. Monroe dies in the Civil War.

(1.4.9.13.2) Julia E. Cline, daughter of Lawson Cline (1.4.9.13). (Appendix J, p 407). Julia is born on May 8, 1845 and dies on January 17, 1920 per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. She is a daughter of Lawson and his first wife. Julia does not marry, but has a daughter, whose name is not found.

(1.4.9.13.3) Mary A. C. Cline, daughter of Lawson Cline (1.4.9.13). (Appendix J, p 407). Mary is born 1852-1853 and dies on February 2, 1870 at age 17, per her gravestone at Old St. Paul's Church. Mary is the daughter of Lawson and his second wife.

Valentine Cline (4.1.1)
son of Andreas Klein (4.1)

Lineage rationale. Chapter 1 identifies Valentine's probable father as Andreas Klein of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. Andreas remains in Lancaster county. Valentine is born there on November 30, 1753. Valentine is once referred to as Felty, which is a Germanic nickname for Valentine, possibly of Swiss origin.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 391-394, 402), census records (Appendix A-D), FH2 and FH3.

The earliest record for Valentine in North Carolina is in January 1789 when he is noted as owning land bordering James Bryson on Keenors Creek in Lincoln county. Valentine acquired this land earlier, perhaps prior to 1780, but his early land acquisition records may have been recorded in the portion of Burke county that became Lincoln county after 1782. Most of those Burke county records were destroyed in the Civil War. FH2 states that in 1789, Valentine buys a lot, 12 poles square, in Crowder Town, the town proposed by Ulrick Crowder.

Subsequently, Valentine has another 27 entries in the land and court records of Lincoln county up to 1805, when Valentine is deceased. The records show his community involvement and his growing land holding in the eastern part of the county on Balls Creek, Leepers Creek and Mountain Creek. For example, in 1793 Valentine Cline and Philip Huart claim 1000 acres on Leepers Creek for the erection of an iron works. The court condemns this land and awards it to them for their use as an iron works in 1796.

Some researchers have stated that several Clines in Lincoln county changed their name from Cline to Little. The only example of this found in the records is a deed from Valentine Little to Adam Kysler in May 1799. However, Valentine signs this deed as Valentine Cline and all other records for Valentine are in the name of Valentine Cline.

Valentine's estate settlement record in 1808 and the 1820 will of his widow Gertrout (Charity) Cline identify their three sons and seven daughters. Valentine had accumulated substantial land holdings that provided 310 acres to each of his ten heirs, in addition to his widow's dower land. Valentine's widow Charity marries a second time to Henry Butts on January 21, 1820. She dies in July 1822. Catherine Cline is identified as the daughter of Philip Cancelor in his will of 1801. Catherine Cline is Gertrout (Charity) Cline, per FH3.

The presence of the Valentine Cline family in Lincoln county up through 1820 is confirmed by the census data (Appendix A-D). The Lincoln county marriage records show the marriage of each of Valentine's three sons and three of his daughters.

Prior to 1830, each of Valentine's three sons leaves North Carolina and thus Valentine has no Cline surname descendants remaining in North Carolina. The information found for Valentine and his children definitely distinguishes the Valentine Cline family from the other Cline families of North Carolina.

The ten children of Valentine are proven by his estate record and his widow's will. Further information for Valentine's children is from the civil and church records and census records.

Valentine Cline's children are:

(4.1.1.1) Uly Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 393). Uly is born 1774-1784 per the census. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census (Appendix A). Uly marries Henry Finger per FH3. They appear on page 854 of the 1800 Lincoln county census and on page 376 of the Lincoln county 1810 census, which state she is born 1774-1784. FH3 states that they move to Madison county, Tennessee.

Uly Cline Finger's children are per the 1810 census:

(4.1.1.1.1) child Finger, daughter of Uly Cline Finger (4.1.1.1). She is born 1794-1800.

(4.1.1.1.2) child Finger, son of Uly Cline Finger (4.1.1.1). He is born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.1.3 – 4.1.1.1.7) Finger children, daughters of Uly Cline Finger (4.1.1.1). They are born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.2) Andrew Cline, son of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 394). Andrew is born in 1780 per census data analysis. He marries Mary Taylor on June 13, 1801. The husband of Andrew's sister Uly, Henry Finger, is bondsman. Andrew is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census. He has his own household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix A-D). In those census listings, Andrew is born 1774-1784 and has three children.

Andrew appears in land and court records seven times from 1802 to 1820, when he sells his land holdings and leaves North Carolina.

Andrew takes his family to Missouri, where he appears on page 433 of the Cape Girardeau county 1830 census. In that census he is listed as born 1770-1780 and has a wife and no children in his household.

He appears on page 9 of the Stoddard county, Missouri 1840 census. In that census hs is listed as born 1780-1790. Andrew's wife Mary is a widow in the Stoddard county 1850 census (Appendix H). Andrew's probable son Benjamin is living near Andrew in the 1830 and 1840 census and living near his widowed mother Mary in the 1850 census.

Andrew Cline's children are per the Missouri census:

(4.1.1.2.1) Benjamin Cline, probable son of Andrew Cline (4.1.1.2). Benjamin is born in 1806 and has a wife Arilla, born in 1813, and four children in his household in the Stoddard county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H). Both Benjamin and Arilla are born in North Carolina and are living near Andrew Cline's widow in 1850.

Benjamin is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D) and is living near his father in Missouri in the 1830 and 1840 census. Benjamin appears on page 433 of the Cape Girardeau county, Missoui 1830 census with a wife born 1800-1810 and a young son. He also appears on page 11 of the Stoddard county 1840 census with a wife born 1810-1820. Thus, it appears that Benjamin's first wife dies prior to 1840 and that Arilla is his second wife. This is substantiated by a gap in the birth dates of his children.

Littleton Cline, probable son living in Benjamin's household in the 1840 census and living near Benjamin in the 1850 census. He is born in 1830 in Missouri and has a wife Fanny, born 1828 in Tennessee.

child Cline, daughter born 1830-1835 and is in her father's household in the 1840 census.

Martin Cline, born 1840 in Missouri and is in his father's household in the 1840 and 1850 census.

Mary Cline, born 1843 in Missouri and is in her father's household in the 1850 census.

Nelson Cline, born 1848 in Missouri and is in his father's household in the 1850 census.

Christenia Cline, born 1850 in Missouri and is in her father's household in the 1850 census.

(4.1.1.2.2) Gertrout Cline, daughter of Andrew Cline (4.1.1.2). Gertrout is mentioned as a daughter of Andrew in the 1820 will of Andrew's mother Gertrout (Charity) Cline. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census and listed as born 1804-1810 (Appendix C, D).

(4.1.1.2.3) Christinia Cline, probable daughter of Andrew Cline (4.1.1.2). Christinia is born in 1810 in North Carolina and marries Christopher Bess of North Carolina, per their listing in the Stoddard county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H). She is presumed to be a daughter of Andrew Cline because Mary Cline, who is Andrew's widow, is living in Christinia and Christopher Bess' household in 1850. Christinia is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D).

(4.1.1.3) Catherine Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 394). Catherine is born 1780-1784 per census data analysis. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 census (Appendix A). FH2 states that Catherine marries first Peter Lineberger and has a daughter Susannah. Peter dies and she marries second Nicholas Miller. During 1805, Nicholas is guardian for Philip Cline, who is his wife's brother. Nicholas and Catherine move to Virginia. They appear on page 370 of the Lincoln county 1810 census, where she is listed as born 1765-1784. On page 161 and page 40 of the Russell county, Virginia 1830 and 1840 census, she is listed as born 1780-1790. Russell county is in the western part of Virginia. These census listings show that Catherine and Nicholas have eleven children. The name of one child, Gertrout, is known because she is mentioned in the 1820 will of Catherine's mother Catherine Gertrout (Charity) Cline.

Catherine Cline Lineberger Miller's children are:

(4.1.1.3.1) Susannah Lineberger, daughter of Catherine Cline Lineberger (4.1.1.3). Susannah is born 1794-1800 per her listing in her mother's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. She marries John Drum in August 1822 and they have eleven children discussed in FH2:

> Peter Monroe Drum, born April 5, 1824, marries first Catherine Turbyfill and has seven children. He marries second Fannie Hallman and has five children. Peter's twelve children are discussed in FH2.
> Rufus Drum, born October 1825, marries Mary Turbyfill and they have two sons named in FH2.
> Mary Drum, born October 1828, marries Calvin King and they have eight children discussed in FH2.
> Thomas F. Drum, born 1830, marries Sarah C. Wilkinson and they have thirteen children discussed in FH2.
> Catherine Drum, born 1833 and marries first William Loftin who is killed in the Civil War. She marries second Logan King and has four children named in FH2.
> Phillip D. Drum, born March 6, 1836, marries Ruth E. Cline, daughter of William Cline (1.4.1.4.1), and they have eight children identified in FH2.
> Joseph Drum, born August 1837, does not marry and dies in the Civil War.
> Elizabeth Drum, born 1839, marries John J. Caldwell and they have seven children named in FH2.
> Rebecca Drum, born 1841, marries John Turbyfill and they have nine children named in FH2.
> Rhoda Drum, born 1843, marries Abel Caldwell and they have eight children named in FH2.
> Susan Drum, dies in infancy.

(4.1.1.3.2) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.3.3) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.3.4) child Miller, son of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). He is born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.3.5) child Miller, son of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). He is born 1800-1810.

(4.1.1.3.6) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1810-1815 and is probably the daughter Gertrout Miller mentioned in her grandmother Gertrout Cline's will of 1820.

(4.1.1.3.7) child Miller, son of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). He is born 1810-1815.

(4.1.1.3.8) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1815-1820.

(4.1.1.3.9) child Miller, son of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). He is born 1815-1820.

(4.1.1.3.10) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1820-1825.

(4.1.1.3.11) child Miller, daughter of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). She is born 1825-1830.

(4.1.1.3.12) child Miller, son of Catherine Cline Miller (4.1.1.3). He is born 1825-1830.

(4.1.1.4) Eve Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 402). Eve is born about 1784 per census data analysis and knowledge of her marriage date. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census and listed as born 1784-1790 (Appendix A, B). Eve marries Nathan Abernathy on January 28, 1808. Her brother Andrew Cline is bondsman. Eve and Nathan appear in the Lincoln county 1810, 1820 and 1830 census. They are found on pages 374, 362 and 205 of these three censuses, respectively. This census data shows that Eve is born 1780-1784 and has 11 children by 1830.

Eve Cline Abernathy's children are:

(4.1.1.4.1) child Abernathy, daughter of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). She is born 1805-1810.

(4.1.1.4.2) child Abernathy, daughter of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). She is born 1810-1815.

(4.1.1.4.3) child Abernathy, son of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). He is born 1810-1815.

(4.1.1.4.7) child Abernathy, son of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). He is born 1820.

(4.1.1.4.8) child Abernathy, daughter of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). She is born 1825-1830.

(4.1.1.4.9 – 4.1.1.4.11) Abernathy children, sons of Eve Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.4). They are born 1825-1830.

(4.1.1.5) Mary (Polly) Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 402). Polly is born 1784-1790 per census data analysis. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census and is listed as born 1784-1790 (Appendix A, B). Mary marries Seth Abernathy on February 12, 1803. Her sister Uly's husband, Henry Finger, is bondsman. Mary and Seth appear in Lincoln county on page 352 of the 1810 census and page 374 of the 1820 census. Mary and Seth are living next door to her brother Martin Cline in 1820. In the 1810 census, Mary is listed as born 1784-1794, and there are three young children in the household. They have seven children in their household in the 1820 census.

Mary Cline Abernathy's children are per FH2 and the census:

(4.1.1.5.1) Phillip Abernathy, son of Mary (Polly) Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.5). Phillip is born about 1804. He marries Polly Arndt on May 26, 1836 and they have eight children:

Franklin Abernathy, marries Nancy Bumgarner. Nancy is the daughter of Philecta Bumgarner (4.1.1.5.2). FH2 names eight children.

Pauline Abernathy, marries Langford Summit who dies in the Civil War. FH2 names three children.

Usley Abernathy, daughter, dies young, unmarried.

(4.1.1.5.2) Philecta (Pheltie) Abernathy, daughter of Mary (Polly) Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.5). Philecta is probably the daughter born 1804-1810 in her father's household in the 1820 census. She marries John A. Bumgarner. FH2 names six children:

Camilla Bumgarner, marries Pinkney Abernathy, son of Nathan Abernathy (4.1.1.5.4). FH2 names two children.

(4.1.1.5.6) Gertrude Abernathy, daughter of Mary (Polly) Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.5). Gertrude is probably born about 1820. She is one of the two daughters born 1810-1820 in her father's household in the 1820 census, but probably is born after her grandmother Gertrude (Gertrout) Cline's January 1820 will. Gertrout Cline mentioned her other two granddaughters named Gertrude in her will and probably would have mentioned this Gertrude if she had been born by January 1820.

(4.1.1.5.7) child Abernathy, son of Mary (Polly) Cline Abernathy (4.1.1.5). He is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the 1820 census. He is not identified in FH2 and perhaps dies young.

(4.1.1.6) Philip Cline, son of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 395). Philip is born in 1790 per census data analysis. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1790 and 1800 census. He has his own household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix A-D). Philip marries Betsy Abernathy on August 12, 1808. His sister Polly's husband, Seth Abernathy, is bondsman. In 1805, after the death of his father, Philip chooses Nicholas Miller as his guardian. Nicholas is the husband of Philip's sister Catherine. In April 1806 Jacob Tommey becomes Philip's guardian, replacing Nicholas Miller who is facing financial difficulties. Philip appears in the 1810 court record, and in 1811 he sells his inherited land. He leaves North Carolina prior to the 1830 census.

Philip takes his family to Owen county, Indiana, where he appears on page 94 of the 1840 census, is listed as born 1780-1790, and has nine children in his family. His widow Elizabeth (Betsy) is in the Owen county 1850 census (Appendix H).

Philip Cline's children are per the 1840 and 1850 Indiana census:

(4.1.1.6.1) Miles Cline, son of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). (Appendix J, p 400). Miles is born in 1810 in North Carolina per the Owen county, Indiana 1850 census, where he is living near Philip Cline's widow (Appendix H). He is also living next to his father Philip in the Owen county 1840 census, where he is listed on page 94 as born 1800-1810 and has his wife and four children in his household.

Miles is in his father's household in the Lincoln county, North Carolina 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Miles marries Susannah Abernathy in Lincoln county on March 26, 1829. Susannah apparently dies between 1849 and 1850. Miles Cline, a widower, has seven children, all born in Indiana, listed in the Owen county, Indiana 1850 census (Appendix H).

Jeremiah Cline, born 1832.

William Cline, born 1834.

John Cline, born 1836.

Linsey Cline, son born 1838.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1840.

James Cline, born 1842.

Miles Cline, born 1849.

(4.1.1.6.2) Valentine Cline, probable son of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). Valentine is born in 1814. He is presumed to be Philip's son because he shares the unusual name of Philip's father, and he lives in Indiana in the county adjacent to Philip. Also, Philip has a son of this age in his Lincoln county 1820 household (Appendix D). Valentine is born in 1814 in North Carolina per the Monroe county, Indiana 1850 census. In that census he has in his household his wife Catherine, born in North Carolina in 1819, and three children, all born in Indiana (Appendix H).

William A. Cline, born 1840.

Rufus O. Cline, born 1843.

Ann C. Cline, born 1846.

(4.1.1.6.3) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1810-1820 in North Carolina and is in her father's Lincoln county 1820 household (Appendix D).

(4.1.1.6.4) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1810-1820 in North Carolina and is in her father's Lincoln county 1820 household (Appendix D). She is also in her father's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.5) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1810-1820 in North Carolina and is in her father's Lincoln county 1820 household (Appendix D). She is also in her father's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.6) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1820-1825 in North Carolina and is in her father's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.7) child Cline, possible son of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). He is born 1820-1825 in North Carolina and is in Philip's household in the Owen county 1840 census. There is no Cline, born in North Carolina and of this age, found in any state in the 1850 census who could be this son. The several young Clines who are found in 1850 are known to have parents other than Philip. Thus, this child found in Philip's 1840 household may not be Philip's son, or he is a son who dies prior to the 1850 census.

(4.1.1.6.8) Rufus Cline, probable son of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). Rufus is born in 1824 in North Carolina per his listing in the Owen county, Indiana 1850 census and is living next door to Philip's widow (Appendix H). There is a son of this age in Philip's household in the Owen county 1840 census. In the 1850 census, Rufus has a wife Nancy, born 1827 in Indiana, and one child in his household.

Verloncia E. Cline, born 1849.

(4.1.1.6.9) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.10) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.11) Phileata Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). Phileata is born in 1830 in North Carolina, is single in 1850 and is in her widowed mother's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1850 census (Appendix H). Phileata is in her father's household in the Owen county 1840 census.

(4.1.1.6.12) Lenona Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (4.1.1.6). Lenona is born in 1838 in Indiana and is in her widowed mother's household in the Owen county, Indiana 1850 census (Appendix H). Lenona is in her father's household in the Owen county 1840 census.

(4.1.1.7) Margaret (Peggy) Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 402). Margaret is born after 1790 but before 1795 per analysis of census data and knowledge of her marriage date. She is not in her father's Lincoln county 1790 census household. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census and is listed as born 1790-1800 (Appendix A, B). She marries George Tucker on April 25, 1810. The only George Tucker in the North Carolina census is on page 372 of the Stokes county 1820 census, and on page 213 of the Cabarrus county 1830 census. If this is the George Tucker who marries Margaret Cline, then Margaret is born 1790-1794 per the census data. They have five children in 1830.

(4.1.1.8) Martin Cline, son of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 395). Martin is born in 1794 in North Carolina per the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H). His sister Peggy's husband, George Tucker, is his guardian in 1811. Martin marries Elizabeth Fresham on February 15, 1814, with Jacob Tommey as bondsman. Jacob Tommey is the guardian for Martin's brother Philip. Martin sells his inherited land in 1814. He claims 50 acres in November 1816 but later leaves North Carolina. Martin is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census and is in his widowed mother's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. Martin is in his own household in the Lincoln county 1820 census with his wife and three children (Appendix B-D).

Martin moves to Tennessee and appears on page 29 of the Greene county, Tennessee 1840 census with his wife and nine children. In the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H) Martin has four of those children still living with him and another three living nearby.

Martin Cline's children are per the census:

(4.1.1.8.1) child Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). He is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census and in the Greene county, Tennessee 1840 census. There is no Cline, born in North Carolina and of this age, found in any state in the 1850 census who could be this son. The several young Clines who are found in 1850 are known to have parents other than Martin. Thus, this child found in Martin's 1820 and 1840 household seems to be a son who dies prior to the 1850 census.

(4.1.1.8.2) child Cline, daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census, but is not in his household in the Tennessee 1840 census.

(4.1.1.8.3) Charity Cline, daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). Charity is born in 1819 in North Carolina, is single and is in her father's household in the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census and the Tennessee 1840 census.

(4.1.1.8.4) Valentine Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). Valentine is born in 1823 in North Carolina per the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census. Valentine is in his father's household in the Greene county, Tennessee 1840 census. In the 1850 census, Valentine has in his household his wife Margaret, born in 1828 in North Carolina, and a son. Valentine's father lives nearby. Valentine appears on page 395 of the Cocke county 1860 census and has four more children, all born in Tennessee.

Andrew J. Cline, born 1849.

Mary Cline, born 1853.

Joseph M. Cline, born 1854.

Mareah Cline, born 1856.

Harriett Cline, born 1857.

(4.1.1.8.5) Israel Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). Israel is born 1825-1826 in North Carolina per the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census. He is in his father's household in the Greene county 1840 census and is listed as born 1820-1825. In the 1850 census, Israel has in his household his wife Amelia, born in 1828 in Tennessee, and two sons. He is living next to his father. Israel appears on page 396 of the Cocke county 1860 census with a wife Penelope, born in 1830, and has five more children in his household:

Andrew Cline, born 1846. He is called William Cline in the 1860 census.

Philip Cline, born 1849. He is called Caleb A. Cline in the 1860 census.

George W. Cline, born 1851.

He is in his father's household in the Tennessee 1840 census and is listed as born 1825-1830. In the 1850 census, he has in his household his wife Leah, born in 1824 in Tennessee, and one child. George's father is living next door. George appears on page 402 of the Cocke county 1860 census with five more children in his household.

(4.1.1.8.9) Catherine Cline, daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). Catherine is born in 1834 in Tennessee and is living in her father's household in the Cocke county, Tennessee 1850 census.

(4.1.1.8.10) child Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.1.8). He is born 1835-1840 and is in his father's household in the Greene county, Tennessee 1840 census. He does not appear in his father's house in the 1850 census and is presumed to die young.

(4.1.1.9) Anna Maria Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). Anna is born on June 2, 1798, per FH3. She is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census and is not in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix B, C). Ann (Anna Maria) shares in her father's 1808 estate settlement, but dies before the 1810 census.

(4.1.1.10) Emelia Cline, daughter of Valentine Cline (4.1.1). (Appendix J, p 395). Emelia is born 1794-1800 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census and in her widowed mother's household in the 1810 census where she is listed as born 1794-1800 (Appendix B, C). Emelia dies about 1815 and does not marry.

Martin Cline (4.1.2)
probable son of Andreas Klein (4.1)

Lineage rationale. Martin Cline is a probable son of Andreas Klein of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, as discussed in Chapter 1. Martin is born on September 16, 1758 and is the brother of Valentine Cline (4.1.1)

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix J, p 396-397) and census records (Appendix B).

In December 1778, Martin Cline claims land on Snow Creek in the part of Burke county that is annexed to Lincoln county in 1782. Martin signs a petition in December 1778 requesting that annexation. Martin's wife, Rachael, is a Burke county juror in September 1782.

Martin holds land in Mecklenburg county in 1786-1787. It is not clear that Martin moves to Mecklenburg county. He may have resided there temporarily after having served a six months jail term in 1785 in Lincoln county for trespassing and stealing a pig. He is back in Lincoln county by 1792, when his daughter Catharina receives first communion from Rev. Arends.

Martin appears in the 1800 Lincoln county census with his wife and three sons, two born 1774-1784 and one born 1784-1790 (Appendix B). Martin's land on Lyles Creek is noted in the records three times from 1799 to 1804. His Lyles Creek neighbors are his son-in-law Christopher Sigman and other Sigmans.

In October 1804, Martin sells his Lyles Creek land, which was deeded to him on June 30, 1786, and moves to Sumner county, Tennessee. Martin sells his Mecklenburg county land also. That deed is not recorded until April 1806. Martin's wife Rachel is cited by the nickname Froney in that deed.

Martin Cline and his three sons appear in the Sumner county, Tennessee land and tax records on Drakes Creek from 1812 through 1825, when Martin dies. Martin's estate records of July 1828 identify his heirs as his widow Rachel, sons Michael, John and Adam Cline and daughter Catherine Sigman, residing with her husband, Christopher Sigman, in Lincoln county, North Carolina. Martin's son Michael administers the estate.

Martin Cline's children are:

(4.1.2.1) Catherine Cline, daughter of Martin Cline (4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 396). Catherine receives her first communion from Rev. Arends on November 12, 1792, indicating she is born about 1778. She marries Christopher Sigman and remains in Lincoln county. Martin's estate settlement records in Sumner county, Tennessee contain the written concurrence of Catherine and Christopher Sigman. Their agreement to the estate settlement is authenticated by the Lincoln county court.

The fact that Catherine is a daughter of Martin Cline requires a significant revision to FH2, which states that the Catherine Cline who marries Christopher Sigman is a daughter of Sebastian Cline (1.4).

Catherine and Christopher Sigman appear in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census. Catherine's birth date in the census is 1775-1784, and Catherine and Christopher are listed as having six sons and three daughters. FH2 names eight children.

Catherine Cline Sigman's children are per FH2 and the census:

(4.1.2.1.1) Barnad Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Barnad is born 1790-1794 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census. FH2 states that he is born in 1790, that he marries Christina Eckard in 1817 and that he dies on April 4, 1863. FH2 names four children:

Washington Sigman.

Eli Sigman.

Martin Sigman.

Julius Sigman.

(4.1.2.1.2) Henry Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Henry probably is one of two sons born 1794-1800 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census.

(4.1.2.1.3) Polly Sigman, daughter of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Polly probably is the daughter born 1794-1800 in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. FH2 states that Polly marries Phillip Baker in 1821.

(4.1.2.1.4) Eli Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Eli probably is one of the two sons born 1794-1800 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census.

(4.1.2.1.5) Catherine Sigman, daughter of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Catherine probably is one of the two daughters born 1800-1810 in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census. Catherine marries Tobias Moser in 1829 per FH2.

(4.1.2.1.6) Adaline Sigman, daughter of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Adaline probably is one of the two daughters born 1800-1810 in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 census and the daughter born 1804-1810 in her father's household in the 1820 census. Adaline marries Fredrick Smith in 1834 per FH2.

(4.1.2.1.7) Martin Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). Martin probably is one of two sons born 1804-1810 in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census.

(4.1.2.1.8) child Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). He is one of two sons born 1804-1810 in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1810 and 1820 census. He is not identified in FH2.

(4.1.2.1.9) child Sigman, son of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). He is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census. He is not identified in FH2.

child Sigman, daughter of Catherine Cline Sigman (4.1.2.1). She is identified in FH2 as a daughter who marries a Mr. Hoke. However, she does not appear in Christopher Sigman's household in the 1810 or the 1820 census.

(4.1.2.2) Adam Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 397). Adam is born 1780-1784 per his census data analysis. He is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census and is shown as born 1774-1784 (Appendix B). He is in Burke county in 1798 and 1803 and is assigned by the court to road maintenance projects. Adam marries Sarah Black in Sumner county, Tennessee on November 29, 1813, with his brother John as bondsman.

Adam is on the 1820 Sumner county, Tennessee tax list and is also in the Sumner county 1820 census with a young son and two young daughters. Adam is found on page 57 of the Allen county, Kentucky 1830 census and on page 47 of the Allen county 1840 census. Allen county is just across the state line from Sumner county, Tennessee. In these census listings Adam is born 1780-1790 and has five sons and four daughters by 1840.

Adam's widow Sarah, born in 1797, is on page 119 of the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census with four children living with her, all born in Kentucky 1830-1840.

Adam Cline's children are per the census:

(4.1.2.2.1) child Cline, daughter of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). She is born 1815-1820 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.2.2) child Cline, daughter of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). She is born 1815-1820 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.2.3) child Cline, son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). He is born 1815-1820 in Tennessee and is in his father's household in the 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.2.4) child Cline, son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). He is born 1820-1825 in Tennessee and is in his father's household in the 1830 census.

(4.1.2.2.5) George Cline, probable son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). George is born in 1824 in Tennessee per the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census, where he is living next to Adam Cline's widow, Sarah. George is in his father's household in the 1830 and 1840 census. In the 1850 census George has his wife, A. J. Cline born 1830 in Kentucky, and two children in his household, both born in Kentucky:

P. A. Cline, daughter, born 1848.

E. F. Cline, daughter, born 1850.

(4.1.2.2.6) child Cline, son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). He is born 1825-1830 and is in his father's household in the 1830 and 1840 census.

(4.1.2.2.7) M. Cline, daughter of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). She is born in 1830 in Kentucky and is living with her widowed mother, Sarah, in the 1850 census.

(4.1.2.2.8) E. Cline, daughter of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). She is born in 1833 in Kentucky and is living with her widowed mother, Sarah, in the 1850 census.

(4.1.2.2.9) J. W. Cline, son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). He is born in 1836 in Kentucky and is living with his widowed mother, Sarah, in the 1850 census.

(4.1.2.2.10) A. J. Cline, son of Adam Cline (4.1.2.2). He is born in 1840 in Kentucky and is living with his widowed mother, Sarah, in the 1850 census.

(4.1.2.3) Michael Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 398). Michael is born 1780-1784 per his census data analysis. He is born 1774-1784 per his listing in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1800 census (Appendix B). He appears on page 56 of the Allen county, Kentucky 1830 census, born 1780-1790, and may be the Mitchell Cline on page 45 of the Allen county 1840 census, born 1770-1780. In 1804, he is a witness to a land sale on Lyles Creek adjacent to his father's land in Lincoln county.

Michael then appears in Sumner county, Tennessee where he buys land on Drakes Creek from his father Martin in 1812 and is on the tax lists there for 1816-1820. Michael administers his father's estate in 1825.

Michael marries Margaret Ogle, widow of William Ogle, in Sumner county, Tennessee on November 26, 1818. In the 1830 census they have two sons and one daughter, born 1810-1815, in their household who are probably children of the widow Ogle. They also have a daughter born 1820-1830. Margaret is probably a second wife of Michael because he already has a probable son Michael, born in 1805. This young Michael Cline (4.1.2.3.1) appears on page 185 of the Sumner county, 1830 census. He and his wife are both born 1800-1810 and have two sons under five years old. Since Martin Cline and his family are the only Clines in Sumner county, Tennessee, this young Michael must be a son of either Michael (4.1.2.3) or his brothers Adam or John. The household census data does not indicate such a son for Adam or John.

Michael Cline (4.1.2.3) dies prior to 1850 because he is not in any state 1850 census. Nothing is known of the daughter of Michael and his second wife Margaret. Only the one probable son of Michael and his first wife is known.

Michael Cline's son is per the census:

(4.1.2.3.1) Michael Cline, probable son of Michael Cline (4.1.2.3). (Appendix J, p 398). Michael is born in 1805 in Tennessee per his listing on page 120 of the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census. He marries Nancy Rippy on February 27, 1827 in Sumner county, Tennessee. Michael and Nancy have nine children listed in the 1850 census:

M. Cline, son, born in 1828 in Tennessee.

H. C. Cline, son, born in 1829 in Tennessee.

G. Cline, son, born in 1831 in Tennessee.

D. Cline, daughter, born in 1833 in Tennessee.

S. C. Cline, daughter, born in 1836 in Tennessee.

A. Cline, son, born in 1838 in Tennessee.

A. Cline, daughter, born in 1840 in Tennessee.

J. W. Cline, son, born in 1845 in Kentucky.

M. J. Cline, daughter, born in 1847 in Kentucky.

(4.1.2.4) John Cline, son of Martin Cline (4.1.2). (Appendix J, p 398). John is born in 1785 in North Carolina per his listing in the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census (Appendix H). In that census, John's wife is listed as born in 1785 in North Carolina. John's wife is identified as Catherine (Caty) in his father's estate papers.

On September 3, 1812, John acquires land in Sumner county, Tennessee on Drakes Creek adjoining his father. John is bondsman for his brother Adam's marriage on November 29, 1813. John is on the tax list in Sumner county from 1816-1821.

John is in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 census and on page 165 of the Sumner county 1830 census with a family of four surviving sons and seven daughters. Three of John's sons are found in their own households on pages 411-413 of the Sumner county 1840 census and on pages 387, 396 of the Sumner county 1850 census. John's fourth son is living near his father in Allen county, Kentucky and is, on page 119 of the Allen county 1850 census. Only the youngest of John's seven daughters is identified by name. She is still in John's household in the 1850 census.

John Cline's children are per the census:

(4.1.2.4.1) Andrew Cline, son of John Cline (4.1.2.4). (Appendix J, p 398). Andrew is born in 1805 in Tennessee per his listing on page 396 of the Sumner county, Tennessee 1850 census. He marries Polly (Mary) Sikes on December 3, 1833. Per the 1850 census, Mary is born in 1812 in Tennessee, and she and Andrew have six children, all born in Tennessee:

Emalin Cline, born 1834.

Martha Cline, born 1836.

Mary J. Cline, born 1838.

Malinda F. Cline, born 1840.

Isabella Cline, born 1842.

Eliza Cline, born 1847.

(4.1.2.4.2) William Cline, son of John Cline (4.1.2.4). (Appendix J, p 398). William is born in 1810 in Tennessee per his listing on page 396 of the Sumner county, Tennessee 1850 census. He marries Hetty Rippy on February 2, 1832. In the 1850 census, William is listed with his wife Catherine, born in 1815 in Tennessee, and has eight children, all born in Tennessee:

Josiah Cline, born 1834.

John W. Cline, born 1836.

Elizabeth Cline, born 1838.

William C. Cline, born 1838.

Isaac Cline, born 1840.

Felix G. Cline, born 1846.

James H. Cline, born 1848.

Cintha F. Cline, born 1849.

(4.1.2.4.3) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.4.4) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.4.5) child Cline, son of John Cline (4.1.2.4). He is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 census only. He is presumed to die young.

(4.1.2.4.6) John Cline, son of John Cline (4.1.2.4). (Appendix J, p 398). John is born in 1816 in Tennessee per his listing on page 119 of the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census. He is in his father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 and 1830 census. John marries Lydia Hunter on February 7, 1831 in Sumner county. In the 1850 census, John has a wife E., born in 1820 in Tennessee, and two children, both born in Tennessee:

M. Cline, daughter, born 1839.

J. J. Cline, son, born 1841.

(4.1.2.4.7) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.4.8) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born in 1820 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county, Tennessee 1820 and 1830 census.

(4.1.2.4.9) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born 1820- 1825 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county 1830 and 1840 census.

(4.1.2.4.10) Alfred Cline, son of John Cline (4.1.2.4). Alfred is born in 1825 per his listing on page 387 of the Sumner county 1850 census. In that census, Alfred has a wife Malinda, born in 1828 in Tennessee, and one child:

Sarah Cline, born 1848 in Tennessee.

(4.1.2.4.11) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Sumner county 1830 and 1840 census.

(4.1.2.4.12) F. Cline, daughter of John Cline (4.1.2.4). She is born in 1830 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the Sumner county 1830 and 1840 census and in his household in the Allen county, Kentucky 1850 census.

Clines of Lincoln County of Uncertain Lineage

A few Cline names found in the early records (Appendix J) are difficult to place in lineage relationships to the Sebastian (Boston) Cline, Valentine Cline and Martin Cline families in the Lincoln county area. These records are reviewed here for completeness and to highlight the Cline lineage uncertainties.

First, there are four young Cline women who appear in the confirmation records of Rev. Arends and/or the marriage records of Lincoln county:

> Catharina Cline, Salome (Sally) Cline, Elisabetha (Elisa) Cline and Susannah Cline. They are discussed in the section of this chapter, "Determination of the Children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline". Their ages mark them as granddaughters of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4) and as daughters of either Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1) or Christopher Cline (1.4.2). The choice of Catharina as the daughter of Boston Cline Jr and the other three as daughters of Christopher Cline is essentially arbitrary.

Second, there is a record for a Samuel Cline in Lincoln county.

> He is speculated to be a son of Boston Cline Jr (1.4.1) and the husband of Rosannah Kline as discussed in the section "Determination of the Children of Boston Cline Jr and Christopher Cline".

Third, there are six Lincoln county marriage records (Appendix J, p 399, 400, 403) for Clines whose lineage is determined by circumstantial evidence or speculation.

> A reported Henry Kline marriage in January 1813 is considered as a misinterpretation of the surname in the record and not really a Cline. The Thomas Kline who marries in October 1825 is speculated to be the son of Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5) and is discussed in that section of this chapter. The Anna Barbara Cline who marries in February 1832 is discussed as a possible daughter of George Cline (1.4.2.9) in that section. Nancy Cline, who marries in April 1838, and Aday Cline, who marries in May 1838, are discussed as possible daughters of George Cline (1.4.2.9) and William Cline (1.4.6.5), respectively, in those sections. The Margaret Cline who marries in April 1833 is considered to be Polly Cline (1.4.9.12), daughter of Jacob Cline (1.4.9) and is discussed in that section of this chapter.

Fourth, there are two marriage records in western North Carolina for Clines whose lineage is uncertain:

> David Cline who marries in Jackson county in December 1855 is speculated to be Wesley Cline (1.4.2.10.9), a son of Michael Cline, based on circumstantial evidence.

Margaret Cline who marries in Haywood county in January 1828 (Appendix J, p 408) is of unknown lineage and is probably not a child of any of the Cline families of North Carolina.

Fifth, there are three Cline entries in the North Carolina 1850 census (Appendix G), two in Catawba county and one in Gaston county, for whom the lineage is uncertain:

Polly D. Cline, born in 1835 in Catawba county and living with the Solomon Shell family in the 1850 census.

Barbary Cline, born in 1839 in Catawba county and living with the Noah Miller family in the 1850 census.

James M. Cline, born in 1778, and Jane Cline, born in 1779, are living with the James Ferguson family in the Gaston county 1850 census. Gaston county was formed from Lincoln county in 1846. James and Jane Cline state that they are born in Gaston county. However, there is no such James Cline in any prior U.S. census, so they seem to be recent immigrants and their birthplace seems to be stated in error by the census enumerator. It is noted that this census enumerator listed almost everyone as born in Gaston county.

Sixth, there are five Cline children who die young and are buried at Old St. Paul's Church in Catawba county whose parents are undetermined (Appendix J, p 407):

Susanna Cline, born March 16, 1809 and dies at age 6.

Rueben Cline, born 1814 and dies 1826.

Francis C. Cline, born June 25, 1844 and dies at age 6 years 8 months.

Martha A. Cline, born September 2, 1858 and dies September 12, 1858.

Alfred Clien (probably Cline), born May 10, 1832 and dies December 3, 1834.

All other members of the Cline families of Lincoln county have more certain lineage, ranging from will or estate documentation to multiple pieces of circumstantial evidence in the records, as discussed in this chapter.

Chapter 3

Cline Families of Cabarrus County North Carolina

Sources

The information in this chapter is drawn from 1790-1860 census records (tabulated in Appendix A-I), from civil and church records (summarized in Appendix K), and from a family history by A. Campbell Cline (referenced as FH1 in this book).

Two Early Cline Families in the County

Early records reveal two pioneer Cline families living near each other in what would become Cabarrus county, formed from old Mecklenburg county. One of these is the Jacob Cline family and the other is the Michael Cline family discussed in FH1.[1] Some records for the Jacob Cline family are found in the southern Rowan county area just north of the Cabarrus county line.

One other possible pioneer Cline family is found in the extreme southern part of old Mecklenburg county. This part of Mecklenburg county later became part of South Carolina. It is determined that the surname of this family is actually Clime, although one of the abstracted records says Cline, so for completeness this family is also discussed in this chapter.

Jacob Cline (1.3) son of Moritz Klein

Lineage Rationale. Jacob Cline, born on October 8, 1713, is shown in Chapter 1 to be a probable son of Moritz Klein of Postorff, Alsace. Jacob and Moritz come together from Alsace to Pennsylvania in 1749. Moritz Cline's proven son Michael (1.8) comes to Cabarrus county. Jacob Cline (1.3) lives near him and witnesses Michael Cline's 1784 will. This association with Michael in Cabarrus county indicates that Jacob is Michael's brother. This presumption is therefore utilized in this book.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 410-412).

Jacob Cline appears in the early records of Mecklenburg county, in the part which becomes Cabarrus county in 1792. On November 9, 1764, Jacob is the recipient of a 130-acre grant on Lick Branch of Buffalo Creek. Two years later Jacob and his wife Catherine sell this land to Jacob Tagget on August 20, 1766. This land is "about one mile above" Paul Barringer's land. Witnesses to this deed of sale are John and Caleb Phifer and William Hay.

[1] The first three generations of descendants of these two families, as determined by the research in this chapter, are tabulated in Table K (p 468) and Table M (p 479) in Appendix O. A later fourth generation is discussed in this chapter, but not tabulated in Appendix O.

Jacob claims 150 acres on Lick Branch of Buffalo Creek on October 20, 1767, which is granted to him on December 22, 1768. Neighbors are Paul Barringer and Jacob Leiget (Tagget ?). Nine years later, Jacob and Catherine sell this land to Peter Duff on November 23, 1776.

On April 6, 1769, Jacob signs for the lease portion on the "lease and release" type conveyance by Boston Cline Jr of 350 acres on Lyles Creek in Rowan county (the part that is later Lincoln county). Boston Cline Jr sells this Rowan county land, apparently utilizing his uncle Jacob Cline, as a Mecklenburg county resident to gain access to the Mecklenburg county court for the deed. At that time, the Rowan court was not processing deeds for this Granville land grant area after the 1763 closure of the Granville land office.

This connection between Jacob and Boston Jr supports the presumption that Jacob Cline (1.3) is a son of Moritz Klein and therefore a brother of Boston Cline (1.4), father of Boston Cline Jr. The presumption that Jacob Cline is a son of Moritz Klein is further supported by his connection to Michael Cline, a proven son of Moritz Klein. Jacob Cline witnesses Michael Cline's will on December 1, 1784. Also, both Jacob and Michael Cline attend Martin Peninger's estate sale in 1770 in Cabarrus county.

On April 6, 1770, Jacob enters for 100 acres on Lick Branch of Dutch Buffalo Creek, bordering his own land and on January 30, 1773 is noted as adjoining Jacob Teeig's 100-acre grant at the head of Little Cold Water Creek.

In 1774, Jacob Klein is noted as a member of the Organ Church in Rowan county and as one to help in its construction. This church was on Second Creek in the southern part of Rowan county and was only a few miles from Jacob's Cabarrus county lands. Jacob's lands lie on the border of the two counties (see Appendix K, p 411-412 where the December 15, 1787 Christman land transaction adjoins both the Rowan county line and Jacob Cline's land and the September 3, 1777 sale by Jacob is for 16 acres on the county line).

In continuing land transactions, Jacob and his wife Catherine sell 130 acres on Lick Branch to Jacob Suit on December 27, 1774. They acquire 288 acres adjoining Christopher Bliss (Bless) from Jacob and Ann Kook of Craven, South Carolina on February 6, 1775 and sell 191 acres to Peter Stigenwalt on April 8, 1775. On September 3 and 4, 1777, Jacob and Catherine sell two pieces of land on Dutch Buffalo Creek to John Staggerwalt of Rowan county. One of these tracts is 79 acres on Lick Branch of Dutch Buffalo Creek adjoining Paul Barringer. The other is 55 acres on the west side of Dutch Buffalo Creek.

On January 24, 1777, Jacob Cloyn (Cline) witnesses a deed for 110 acres on the Yadkin River in Rowan county and proves it in the Salisbury court August 1792.

In 1780, a Clara Klein receives first communion (confirmation) at Second Creek (Organ Church) from Rev. Arends. Clara is not a daughter of Michael Cline and thus is probably Jacob and Catherine Cline's daughter, born about 1766 (confirmation usually occurs about age 14). Chloe Cline, cited as born about 1766, who marries George Clontz in 1783 in Cabarrus county (Appendix K, p 411) is probably Clara Cline. George Clontz appears to be associated with Jacob Cline because he buys 100 acres from Jacob Cline's son Jacob Jr in 1796 on Buffalo Creek in the immediate area where Jacob Cline Sr (1.3) and Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) live (Appendix K, p 412).

An Esther Cline marries Fredrick Getchy in 1787 in Rowan county. She is a possible daughter of Jacob Cline. The orphans of a Mr. Getchy are noted as living near Jacob Cline's probable son Michael Cline in 1796 (Appendix K, p 418).

Another possible daughter of Jacob is Sally Cline who, in April 1793, deeds some personal goods to Andrew Sides, a neighbor of Philip Cline. Philip Cline (1.3.4) is later shown to be a probable son of Jacob. However, this Sally is more likely the wife of Jacob's son Michael Cline (1.3.2), for whom no record of his wife's name is found. The presumption here is that Sally is the wife of Michael Cline (1.3.2).

In 1782, Jacob is on the list of taxables in Captain F. Smith's company in Rowan county. The value of his taxables is 22 pounds.

Jacob and his wife Catherine continue in the land records through the 1780s. However, evidence is found that now there are both the original pioneer Jacob Cline as well as a younger Jacob Cline, who is presumably the son of Jacob Cline Sr (1.3).

This evidence begins with the December 29, 1793 entry in Rev. Storch's diary that the wife of Jacob Klein is buried. Yet on January 2, 1796, a Jacob Cline and wife Catherine sell to George Klontz part of the 214-acre tract on Buffalo Creek next to Henry Long that Jacob acquired on August 4, 1787 from George Tucker.

There is a Jacob Klein who marries Catherine Gobble on March 18, 1794 in Rowan county. This is probably Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) marrying and not a remarriage of his 80 year old father Jacob Cline (1.3), whose wife died in December 1793. Therefore, the January 1796 land transaction by a Jacob and Catherine Cline is by Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) and his wife Catherine Gobble Cline.

Further evidence for the co-residency of Jacob Cline and a son Jacob Jr is found in the October 9, 1797 sale by Jacob Cline Sr to Peter Kauble of 205 acres on Dutch Buffalo Creek adjoining George Klontz. This deed explicitly cites "Jacob Cline Sr", whereas all previous deeds by Jacob Cline (1.3) cite Jacob Cline and wife Catherine. This is further proof that it is Jacob's wife Catherine who has died in December 1793 and that a new Jacob Jr has appeared with his own wife Catherine. This Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) must be the seller of the 214 acres on Buffalo Creek on January 2, 1796 to George Klontz and this land adjoins the land that Jacob Sr sells in 1797. This shows that Jacob Jr is a landholder adjacent to Jacob Sr. This provides a strong probability that Jacob (1.3.3) is the namesake son of Jacob Cline (1.3).

Jacob Cline Sr (1.3) seems to be the one receiving a grant of 20 acres on Dutch Buffalo Creek on August 7, 1787, and receiving 11 pounds from the Christopher Goodman estate in October 1787. However, the Jacob proving Christian Goodman's will in court on October 15, 1798 is probably Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3), since his father Jacob (1.3) is now 85 years old. There are additional land and court records for Jacob from 1798 through 1803 in this Cabarrus county region and then from 1805 through 1834 in a different region, northern Rowan county. These records must all pertain to Jacob Jr (1.3.3), since the aging Jacob Sr would not be active enough to be laying out a road in 1798 or suing in court in 1800, for example. It is likely that Jacob Sr dies before 1800. The records after 1797 are attributed to Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) and are discussed in his section of this chapter.

It is noted that a third Jacob Cline appears in the Cabarrus county records from 1812 through about 1820. This Jacob (1.8.9.1) is identified in FH1 as a son of George Cline and grandson of Michael Cline (1.8) and this Jacob Cline (1.8.9.1) is discussed in his section of this chapter.

It is not known exactly when Jacob Sr dies or how large his family is. No will or estate records exist. The census is of no help since neither he nor any of his probable sons appear in the 1790 or the 1800 census in Cabarrus county or elsewhere. Their somewhat remote location near the Rowan county border may have caused them to be missed or perhaps the census was not thoroughly conducted in Cabarrus county in those years. A proven resident, George Cline Sr (1.8.9), also was missed in 1800.

Thus, pioneer Jacob Cline Sr (1.3) is well documented in early Cabarrus county region life and times and is shown to have two probable daughters, Clara and Esther, and a son Jacob Jr. There are four other Cline men in the records of the Cabarrus county and southern Rowan county region, where Jacob Sr lives, who would seem to be his sons. Jacob is the only Cline in the area of sufficient age to have fathered such sons, other than his brother Michael (1.8), whose sons are known and do not include these four Cline men. These other probable sons of Jacob Cline Sr are John, Michael, Philip and David Cline.

Jacob Cline's children are discussed in this chapter in the following sequence:

Probable children of Jacob Cline Sr (1.3)

(1.3.1) John Cline, born 1745-1750.

(1.3.2) Michael Cline, born 1745-1750.

(1.3.3) Jacob Cline Jr, born prior to 1765.

(1.3.4) Philip Cline, born about 1760-1765.

(1.3.5) Clara (Chloe) Cline, born about 1766.

(1.3.6) Esther Cline, born about 1765-1770, marries in 1787.

(1.3.7) David Cline, born 1770-1775.

John Cline (1.3.1)
probable son of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage rationale. There is no direct proof that John is a son of Jacob Cline (1.3). However, there is some evidence that he is.

John's transactions in the records imply a birth date no later than 1754, making him of an age to be Jacob Cline's child. In fact, since John's first son is born in 1774, John is probably born prior to 1750.

John's land on Adams Creek is near the residences of both Jacob Cline and Jacob's brother Michael Cline. Jacob and Michael are the only Clines in the county old enough to have fathered John. John's heirs later hold land on Coldwater Creek near the heirs of Michael Cline.

John is also linked to the Jacob and Michael Cline family by his association with Michael Cline's nephew, Christopher of Lincoln county, at a 1772 estate sale.

All of the above implies that John is a son of either Jacob or Michael Cline. Michael Cline has a proven son, John, but he is considerably younger than this John. Therefore, this John Cline (1.3.1) is the probable son of Jacob Cline (1.3).

Sources. Civil Records (Appendix K, p 412).

The earliest record for John Cline is his attendance at the estate sale of Valentine Weaver in Cabarrus county in 1772. Sebastian (Boston) Cline's son Christopher (1.4.2), of Lincoln county, also attends this sale.

For John to be recorded in attendance at this 1772 estate sale and to be on the 1778 tax list and a landowner in 1779, as discussed below, he has reached in each case his age of maturity – 18 to 21 years old. This means he is born prior to 1754. John's first son is born in 1774. Therefore, John is probably born prior to 1750 in order to marry prior to 1774.

In August 1778, John Cline is on the tax list of Captain D. Smith's district in Rowan county. This is the same district where Peter Cline (2.1) and Philip Harmon are listed in 1778. This district is believed to be near the Uary (Uwharrie) River in eastern Rowan county. Later, Peter Cline and Philip Harmon are in northern Rowan county on Potts Creek. Jacob Cline (1.3) is on Captain F. Smith's 1782 tax list in Rowan county, so it seems that both Jacob and his son, John, have a taxable presence in Rowan county about 1780 as well as in Cabarrus county. It is interesting to note that Peter Cline, a grandson of Peter Cline (2.1), is bondsman for the 1812 marriage of Jacob Cline's (1.3) son Philip. If there is any family relationship between Jacob (1.3) and Peter (2.1), it is not yet uncovered. Their respective heirs do not live near each other. Peter's heirs are in northern Rowan county and Stokes county and Jacob's heirs are in Cabarrus county or further west.

On May 29, 1779, John Cline appears as a landholder adjacent to George Fisher's claim on Adams Creek in Cabarrus county. This places John near both Jacob Cline (1.3) and Michael Cline (1.8) and indicates that John is related to them. John's age is that of a son rather than a brother of Jacob or Michael. John (born about 1745-1750) is the probable son of Jacob Cline (born 1713). Michael Cline (born 1725) has a proven son John Cline (1.8.14), but that John is much younger, born 1770-1774.

John Cline (1.3.1) dies in 1786 and his widow Mary Cloin (Cline), in December 1786, relinquishes her right of estate administration to Conrad Sterns and Fredrick Plyler (head of the district that includes Michael Cline). John Cline's estate settlement papers, in October 1792, identify two minor sons, Henry Cline and David Cline and their guardian, Michael Weaver.

John Cline's children are:

(1.3.1.1) Henry Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.1). (Appendix K, p 413). This Henry is the only Henry Cline in the Cabarrus county records. His 1774 birth date, per the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix G), shows him to be the correct age to be the proven son of John Cline, referenced in John's estate papers as a minor in 1792.

Henry is in the Cabarrus county 1800 census and has a young woman and a child in his household (Appendix B). On December 9, 1800, Henry marries first Elizabeth Furr. The Furrs are neighbors of the Clines. Henry's brother, David Cline, is noted to be living next door to Paul Furr in October 1803 (Appendix K, p 415). Paul Furr also gives surety bond in 1786 for the administrator of the estate of John Cline (1.3.1), Henry's father.

On October 20, 1806, Henry deeds land on Little Coldwater Creek to Moses Harden and opposes him in court on October 23, 1806. Henry is a successful plaintiff in the Mecklenburg county court in January 1811 and is assigned road maintenance duty by the Cabarrus county court on January 21, 1812. Henry is appointed overseer of the road from Shank's old field to the Rowan line on January 16, 1815.

Henry marries second a neighbor, Elizabeth Shank, on September 3, 1821.

Henry and his family are in each Cabarrus county census from 1800 through 1850 (Appendix B-G). However, there are four unidentified children in his household, two males and two females. These four children must have died prior to Henry's 1853 will, which does not identify them.

Henry's will is dated October 27, 1853 and is probated in April 1854. His will identifies his eight surviving children. From Henry's will and from Cabarrus county census records (Appendix C-G, I), the names and birth dates for these eight children are known. Court records, church records and gravestones (Appendix K, p 413-414) also add to the information below for these children. Henry's first five surviving children are from his first marriage and the other three are from his second marriage.

Henry Cline's children are:

(1.3.1.1.1) child Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). He is born 1794-1800, somewhat prior to Henry's first marriage. He is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). He is not in his father's will of 1853 and presumably dies prior to the 1830 census.

(1.3.1.1.2) Joseph Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 413). Joseph is born in 1801 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Joseph marries Leah Fink on May 14, 1830. Joseph acquires 50 acres on Little Coldwater Creek on October 29, 1831 from Joseph Barnhart, the husband of his sister Polly.

Still in his lifetime, Joseph gifts (grants) to his heirs his 50 acres on Coldwater Creek on February 27, 1837. This land adjoins the property of four other people, two of whom are George Cline (1.8.9.4) and Joseph Cline (1.8.9.7) deceased. This George and Joseph are sons of George Cline (1.8.9) and grandsons of Michael Cline (1.8).

Joseph and his family are in the Cabarrus county 1840-1860 census (Appendix F, G, I) and in the baptism records of St. John's Lutheran Church:

John M. Cline, born May 4, 1831.

Matilda (Tilly) Cline, born January 22, 1833.

Esther Cline, born 1835 per the 1850 census.

child Cline, son, born 1835-1840 and dies before 1850 census.

(1.3.1.1.3) Polly Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 413). Polly is born on April 5, 1805 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Polly marries Joseph Barnhart on April 15, 1822 and dies August 16, 1871.

(1.3.1.1.4) James Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). James is born on December 15, 1808 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). James marries first Sally Barnhart on December 17, 1828 and then marries second Margaret A. Shinn on February 18, 1846. James dies on September 4, 1891. He is buried at New Gilead Church with his second wife, Margaret, his son Rufus Cline and Rufus' wife, Georgia.

James administers the estates of Jacob Wright in 1841 and of Alexander Wentsell in 1842. Alexander Wentsell is the husband of James' sister, Esther. In July 1845, James is named as guardian of two orphan daughters of Silas Shinn. Silas may be the deceased husband of James' second wife.

James has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1830-1860 census (Appendix E-G, I). James has nine children in his household in the 1850 census and three additional children in the 1860 census. The first seven are James and Sally's children, and the last five are James and his second wife Margaret's children:

Mary A. Cline, born 1830.

Margaret Cline, born 1835.

George Cline, born 1837.

Adam Cline, born 1839. He has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix I).

Sarah Cline, born 1841.

Thomas Cline, born 1842.

Rilla Cline, daughter, born 1844.

Rufus Cline, born 1847.

Esther (Easter) Cline, born 1849.

Mathew Cline, born 1853.

Bernice Cline, born 1857.

Allison Cline, born 1859.

(1.3.1.1.5) child Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). He is born about 1810 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). He is not in his father's will of 1853 and presumably dies prior to the 1840 census.

(1.3.1.1.6) Tobias Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). Tobias is born on March 26, 1813 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Tobias marries Margaret Isahour on October 1, 1833 and dies on April 11, 1852. Tobias has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Tobias' widow Margaret is head of household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix I).

In July 1844, Tobias is appointed guardian for Tobias Wensell (Wienzell), orphan of Alexander Wensell and Tobias' sister Esther. Tobias and Margaret have six children in their household in the 1850 census and one additional child in the 1860 census:

George A. Cline, born 1835. He has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix I).

John N. Cline, born 1837.

Henry J. M. S. Cline, born 1838.

Daniel M. Cline, born 1840.

Elizabeth M. Cline, born 1845.

Laydon B. Cline, son, born 1848.

Caleb C. Cline, born 1850.

(1.3.1.1.7) Esther Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). Esther is born in 1817 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She marries first Alexander Wensell on February 29, 1836 and marries second John Cook on May 28, 1845. One son is known from Esther's first marriage:

Tobias Wensell, born between 1837 and 1842.

(1.3.1.1.8) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). She is not identified in her father's will of 1853 and presumably dies prior to the 1850 census.

(1.3.1.1.9) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). She is not identified in her father's will of 1853 and presumably dies prior to the 1850 census.

(1.3.1.1.10) H. Burton Cline, son of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). Burton is born on September 15, 1828 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Burton marries Leah Krimminger on September 24, 1850. Burton is living in the household of Nathaniel Krimminger in the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix G).

(1.3.1.1.11) Sentha Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). Sentha is born in 1828 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Sentha does not marry, and is listed as "idiotic" in a pauper home in the Cabarrus county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.3.1.1.12) Sarah Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (1.3.1.1). (Appendix K, p 414). Sarah (Sally) is born in 1830 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830-1850 census (Appendix E-G). Sarah marries Allison Overcash on May 9, 1853.

(1.3.1.2) David Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.1). (Appendix K, p 415-416). From 1799 through the year 1805 there are two David Clines of nearly the same age in Cabarrus county. It is presumed that John Cline's son David is the younger of these two Davids. This younger David is born in 1777 which is consistent with the David cited in 1792 as a minor son of the deceased John Cline (1.3.1). This David's birth year is from his listing in the Murray county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). This David Cline leaves Cabarrus county after 1805 for other parts of North Carolina.

The other David Cline is born 1770-1775 per the Cabarrus county 1810-1840 census (Appendix C-F) and lives his whole life in Cabarrus county. This older David is presumed to be a son of Jacob Cline (1.3), since no other parent for him is evident at that time in Cabarrus county. He is discussed later in this chapter as David Cline (1.3.7), son of Jacob Cline (1.3).

David Cline (1.3.1.2), son of John Cline (1.3.1) is first found in the land records of Cabarrus county as he acquires 200 acres (less an unstated piece) on Back Branch of Little Coldwater Creek from John Culpepper on January 23, 1799. This land (179 acres) is later sold to Daniel Boger (Bolger) by deed dated October 19, 1799 and recorded in January 1805. David's land is described as being between Coldwater Creek and Dutch Buffalo Creek and next to Paul Furr in an October 1803 road route description.

Joh. Klein, confirmed at Dutch Buffalo Creek Church in 1796, might be David (1.3.1.2) as he is the only Cline of near confirmation age in the area in 1796. Joh. Klein might be David if the Joh. is simply the often-used first name Johan, and the omitted middle name is David.

David receives a state grant of 22 acres on Coldwater Creek on December 16, 1803. David is a juror from Paul Barringer's company in 1802 and 1803. Paul Barringer is noted as living one mile from Jacob Cline (1.3) in 1766. After David's deed to Daniel Boger is recorded in January 1805, no more records for David are found in this northern area of Cabarrus county. There are only records for a David Cline on Rocky River in southeast Cabarrus county. These records start in 1801 and the David of these records is presumed to be the other, older David (1.3.7). This David stays in the southeast part of Cabarrus county until he dies in 1845.

The younger David (1.3.1.2) moves to Lincoln county where he marries Mary A. Conrad on March 9, 1806 and is deeded 200 acres by John Gladen in Lincoln county on October 2, 1807. David is in the Lincoln county 1810 census (Appendix C) with his wife and first-born child, a son, in his household. David serves in the 7th company of the Lincoln county militia in 1814 in the War of 1812. Also in that unit is his 2nd cousin, Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2) from Cabarrus county. In January and July 1812 in Lincoln county, David litigates and loses an "assault and battery' case against William (probably Devil Bill) Cline (1.4.2.7), his second cousin.

David leaves Lincoln county soon after this and is in adjacent Burke county in the 1820 census and has four sons and one daughter (Appendix D). David's stay of more than ten years in Lincoln county apparently left the mistaken impression among Lincoln county Cline descendants that David was born in Lincoln county and was a son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2). This misinformation found its way into the family history (FH2) of the Lincoln county Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4) family. The FH2 information is clearly incorrect, as is discussed in the Lincoln county Cline chapter of this book, Chapter 2. This David is 13 years old at the time of the 1790 census, but no such child is present in any of the Lincoln county Cline households in the 1790 census.

There is an older David Cline (1.4.1.2) who is born in 1766 in Lincoln county and is a grandson of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4). This older David moves to Rutherford county. FH2 thinks this older David (1.4.1.2) is the same as the David (1.3.1.2) from Cabarrus county. FH2 discusses the David of Rutherford county and then mistakenly attributes the life of Cabarrus county David as a continuation of the life of the Rutherford county David (1.4.1.2). Rutherford county David (1.4.1.2) actually stays in Rutherford county and dies there in 1828.

FH2 then recounts the history of David (1.3.1.2) as he migrates to western North Carolina and Georgia, thinking that he is the older David (1.4.1.2) of the Lincoln county Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4) family. However, FH2 has information learned from descendants of David (1.3.1.2), which identifies this David's children and some of his grandchildren.

David Cline, his wife Mary and all their children are in his household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E). On page 8 of the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census, David and Mary have only their four youngest sons and their youngest daughter still living at home. In 1850, David and Mary are living with their son David A. Cline in Murray county, Georgia (Appendix H). David's sons Leonard and William are also living nearby.

By March of 1853, David is living in Tennessee. He applies for bounty land available to War of 1812 veterans. In his application, David states he is a resident of Chilhowee, Blount county, Tennessee, that he is 76 years old and that he mustered in at Salisbury, North Carolina for six months service in the Creek Nation.

In August 1855, David applies again for bounty land from Blount county, Tennessee but saying this time he is a resident of Jackson county, North Carolina, is 79 years old and conveyed the warrant from his previous bounty land claim. His son J. (Jesse) A. Cline signs an affidavit of support. In August 1858, a follow-up letter notes that an application was also made for his son, Daniel W. Cline. In 1860, David is listed as living with his son Jesse on page 143 of the Blount county, Tennessee census.

On April 1, 1872, David applies from Fannin county, Georgia for a pension for his service in the War of 1812, pursuant to an 1871 act of Congress, but states he resides at Kelle Mills in Gilmore county, Georgia (the nearest post office is in Fannin county). David states that he married Mary Conrad on March 9, 1806 in Lincoln county, North Carolina. Prior to approval of his pension, the processing paperwork notes that David dies on August 15, 1873.

The children of David Cline (1.3.1.2) identified by FH2 are Rudolph, Jesse Abel, Anthony, Daniel, Leonard, George, Dock, Sarah, and Lynda. Knowing these names and using the 1810-1850 census data, the family of David and Mary Conrad Cline is established.

David Cline's children are:

(1.3.1.2.1) Rudolph Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). This son of David named in FH2 is never found by name in the census or other records. He is present in David's household as the first-born child, born 1807-1810 in the Lincoln county 1810 census, the Burke county 1820 census, and the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix C-E). Rudolph is not found in the 1840 census or in any state in the 1850 census. Presumably he dies prior to 1850, and perhaps does not marry.

(1.3.1.2.2) Lynda Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.1.2). Lynda is one of two daughters named in FH2 and is presumed to be the older of the two, born 1810-1815. She is in her father's household in the Burke county 1820 census and the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix D, E).

(1.3.1.2.3) Jesse Abel Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). (Appendix K, p 416). Jesse is born in Lincoln county in 1815 per his listing in the Macon county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Jesse is in his father's household in the Burke county 1820 census and the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix D, E). In 1838, he and two brothers are members of the Cherokee Indian Removal militia in the North Carolina regiment; he is with the Yancey county volunteers. While living in Macon county, Jesse marries Adeline Amburn (Ausburn) of Burke county on March 28, 1838. Jesse leaves Macon county after 1850 and is in Blount county, Tennessee in the 1860 census. His father, David Cline, is living with him in 1860. Jesse's brother, Daniel William Cline, is living with him in 1850.

Jesse dies in October 1861 in the Civil War at Manassas, Virginia, per FH2. Jesse's children are per FH2, the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G) and page 143 of the Blount county, Tennessee 1860 census. Some birth dates vary from census to census, so a range of years is indicated below:

David V. Lafayette Cline, (David Vanburen Cline per FH2) born 1839-1840 and does not marry.

Marion P. Cline, born 1840-1841 and marries Melvina Karr.

Cansada Cline, born 1842-1844 and marries Lineus Rampley.

William Jasper Cline, born 1843-1845 and marries a Miss Bright.

James K. P. Cline, born 1845-1848 (born May 1847, per FH2). He marries Hattie McKee. FH2 includes a biographical sketch for James' life and names his seven children.

Edwina Cline, (Elmina Cline per FH2) born 1847-1849 and marries Joseph Pitman.

Daniel Dallas Cline, born 1850 and marries a Miss Johnson of Granville county.

Doctor Prince Cline, (Dock Pierce Cline per FH2) born 1853 in Tennessee. He marries Florida Cornelius.

Scottia Cline, born 1854 in Tennessee. FH2 does not name Scottia. Perhaps she dies young.

Sarah Cline, born 1856 in Tennessee. She marries Hill Pitman.

(1.3.1.2.4) David A. Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). (Appendix K, p 416). David A. Cline (Anthony Cline per FH2) is born in 1815 per his listing in the Murray County, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). David is in his father's household in the Burke county 1820 census and the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix D, E). In 1838, he and two brothers are members of the Cherokee Indian Removal militia in the North Carolina regiment; he is with the Macon county volunteers. David A. is in the Cherokee county, North Carolina 1840 census and has a young man of an age to be his brother, Leonard, in his household (Appendix F). However, a child of Leonard's age also appears in his father David's household just across the state line in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. Perhaps Leonard was counted in each household.

In June and December of 1844, David A. Cline is found conducting land sale transactions in Cherokee county, North Carolina while living in Murray county, Georgia. David is still living in Murray county, Georgia in the 1850 census and his father and mother are living with him (Appendix H). David A. Cline's wife apparently has died as she is not present in the 1850 census. David A. is on page 313 of the McMinn county, Tennessee 1860 census, apparently with a second wife, Edith, born in 1827. David A. Cline's children are per the 1850 and 1860 census. The first seven children are David A. Cline's by his first wife, name not known, and the last two are David and Edith's children:

Eda B. Cline, born 1833-1835.

Mary M. Cline, born 1840.

Benjamin F. Cline, born 1842-1843.

Martha J. Cline, born 1844-1845 in Georgia.

Amanda C. Cline, born 1846-1848 in Georgia.

James Joseph Cline, born 1848-1850 in Georgia.

Gina M. Cline, born 1850 (Sinai Cline in the 1860 census and born 1852) in Georgia.

Nancy Cline, born 1854 in Tennessee.

David A. B. Cline, born 1859 in Tennessee.

(1.3.1.2.5) Daniel W. (William) Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). (Appendix K, p 417). Daniel is born in 1819 in Burke county per the Macon county 1850 census (Appendix G). He is in his father's household in the Burke county 1820 census, the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix D, E) and the Gilmer county Georgia 1840 census. In 1838, he and two brothers are members of the Cherokee Indian Removal militia in the North Carolina regiment; he is with the Yancey county volunteers. Daniel applies for bounty land along with his father David in 1855. He is single and living with his brother Jesse Abel Cline in Macon county in 1850. Daniel is in Murray county, Georgia in 1851 where he is given power of attorney by Jacob Cline (1.4.1.5.5) to represent his land interest in Cherokee county, North Carolina. Daniel marries Polly in North Carolina about 1855. Daniel's widow Polly, born 1834, applies in Georgia for a widow's war pension on April 28, 1893. Daniel's children, all born in North Carolina, are in his household in the Jackson county, North Carolina 1860 census (Appendix I):

M. Cline, daughter born 1856.

A. Cline, daughter born 1857.

G. B. Cline, son born 1859.

(1.3.1.2.6) Sarah Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.1.2). She is one of two daughters named in FH2 and is presumed to be the younger of the two, born 1820-1825. She is in her father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census.

(1.3.1.2.7) Leonard Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). Leonard is born in 1824 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. Leonard has his own household in the Murray county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He is living near his mother, father and brother David A. Cline. His brother Dactor Cline is living in Leonard's household in the 1850 census. Leonard is in the Morgan county, Alabama 1860 census and on page 552 of the Murray county, Georgia 1870 census with his wife Sarah (born 1827 in North Carolina) and children:

William A. Cline, born 1849 in Georgia.

Nancy M. Cline, born 1852 in Georgia.

Margaret Cline, born 1859 in Georgia.

David K. Cline, born 1861 in Alabama.

Annie Cline, born 1862 in Alabama.

Sarah Cline, born 1868 in Georgia.

(1.3.1.2.8) George Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). George is born in 1826 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. George has his own household in the Cherokee county, North Carolina 1850 census (Appendix G) with has wife Bethia (born in 1828 in Tennessee) and two daughters:

Susan Cline, born 1847 in Tennessee.

Frances J. Cline, daughter, born 1849 in North Carolina.

(1.3.1.2.9) Dactor (Dock) Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.1.2). (Appendix K, p 417). Dactor is born 1828-1829 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. Dactor is living in the household of his brother Leonard in the Murray county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). There is a G. W. Cline who marries Nercisa Neweton in Haywood county on January 4, 1852. The bondsman is Dactor's brother Jesse A. Cline. This G. W. Cline and Nercisa appear in the Jackson county 1860 census, where G. W. Cline states he is born in 1828 (Appendix I). His age matches that of Dactor and it is probable that Dactor is a nickname for this G. W. Cline. No Dactor Cline is found in the 1860 census. The children of G. W. (Dactor) Cline are per the 1860 census:

D. W. Cline, son, born 1852 in North Carolina.

D. A. Cline, son, born 1854 in North Carolina.

M. M. L. Cline, daughter, born in 1857 in North Carolina.

Michael Cline (1.3.2)
probable son of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage Rationale. There is no direct proof that Michael is a son of Jacob Cline. Michael is born prior to 1755 per the Rowan county 1800 census. In fact, Michael is probably born prior to 1750 because his first child is born in 1773. Michael's age indicates that he is a son of one of the two pioneer Clines in the area, Jacob Cline (1.3) or Michael Cline (1.8). In 1781, Michael is living near Jacob Cline on Adams Creek. Michael's neighbors are also neighbors of both the Jacob and Michael Cline families. This Michael is not the son of Michael (1.8), whose son Michael (1.8.8) dies in 1782 in the Revolutionary War. Therefore, Michael (1.3.2) is probably the son of Jacob Cline, the only other Cline in the area old enough to have a son born prior to 1755.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix K, p 417-418) and census records (Appendix B, C).

Michael is first found in the Cabarrus county records on September 22, 1781 when he claims 200 acres on the South Fork of Adams Creek, including the place where he lives. In 1785, his land on Adams Creek is noted as adjoining Caleb Blackwelder, Jacob Misenheimer, Mathias Mayar and George Radling. This land of Michael's is noted again in 1793 and 1796.

Michael is in the Cabarrus county records as a juror from Captain John Melchor's company along with Martin Blackwelder in July 1794. He serves as a grand juror with Charles and Martin Blackwelder in October 1794. In April 1795, an orphan child, William Long, is bound to Michael by the Cabarrus court to be taught the mason's art. The Henry Long family is identified in 1785-1787 as a neighbor of Jacob Cline Jr (1.3.3) (Appendix K, p 419). The names of these neighbors and associates of Michael seem to establish him as part of the Jacob Cline (1.3) family, who are in the Adams Creek and Dutch Buffalo Creek area of Cabarrus county.

In April 1793, in Cabarrus county, Sally Cline sells some personal goods to Andrew Sides, a neighbor of Michael's brother Philip Cline (Appendix K, p 421). Sally is presumed to be the wife of Michael Cline. There is no record establishing the name of Michael Cline's wife. However, the names of all the other Cline wives in the area are known, and none of them are named Sally.

Michael Cline acquires land on the Middle Fork of Crane Creek in Rowan county on December 8, 1795 and moves to Rowan county. Rowan county land records of 1796, 1799 and 1806 show his continuing presence there. Crane Creek is in the southern part of Rowan county near the part of Cabarrus county where Michael and his father Jacob had lived. After 1796, no more Michael Cline land records appear in Cabarrus county for 23 years until another younger Michael (1.8.9.2), son of George, appears in 1819.

Michael is in the Rowan county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C) with a wife, both born by 1755. Also living in his 1800 household are one son and four females, presumed to be his daughters.

By September 23, 1815, Michael dies and his estate is being settled. His heirs are named as his son Michael Jr and three daughters, Elizabeth (wife of John Mull), Cathrin (wife of John Leffler) and Polly (unmarried). The 282-acre home place, which Michael had bought in 1795, is sold by his heirs to their neighbor Thomas Mull. Thomas Mull may be the brother of Elizabeth's husband John Mull. These heirs then seem to leave Rowan county.

Michael is believed to have two other daughters who do not appear in his 1815 estate settlement. They are Hannah Cline and Rachel Cline.

In Rowan county on February 19, 1798, a Hannah Cline marries John Mull. On the same date in Rowan county, a Hannah Cline marries Nathan Morgan. One of these Hannah's is recorded in error. The first marriage should read Elizabeth, not Hannah, per Michael's estate record. The Hannah Cline who marries Nathan Morgan in 1798 is presumed to be Michael's daughter, but if so, she must have died prior to Michael's 1815 estate settlement.

Rachel Cline marries John Lentz on July 9, 1806 in Rowan county and they are in the Rowan county 1810 census, both born 1785-1795. Rachel is presumed to be a daughter of Michael Cline who dies prior to 1815. Rachel and John Lentz are not found in the 1820 census and this is consistent with Rachel's dying prior to Michael's 1815 estate settlement.

The four daughters in Michael's 1800 census household do not include Elizabeth or Hannah who both marry in 1798. Two of the four daughters in Michael's 1800 household are cited in Michael's estate record as Catherine and Polly. The other two are either not daughters or are daughters who die before Michael's 1815 estate record.

Further information for Michael's daughters was not researched for this book. However, the son Michael Jr is found in FH1 and that information is utilized here. FH1, the history of the Michael Cline (1.8) family, includes this Michael Jr (1.3.2.7) and his family in the mistaken belief that he is the Michael (1.8.9.2), son of George Cline. This misidentification is proven in this chapter's section for George Cline (1.8.9).

Michael Cline's children are:

(1.3.2.1) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). (Appendix K, p 417, 418). Elizabeth is identified as a daughter of Michael Cline in his 1815 estate settlement. Elizabeth is confirmed by Rev. Arends on April 18, 1787, which implies Elizabeth is born about 1773. She marries John Mull on February 19, 1798.

(1.3.2.2) Hannah Cline, probable daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). (Appendix K, p 418) Hannah marries Nathan Morgan on February 19, 1798. Nathan Morgan has land on the south fork of Crane Creek, near Hannah's father. She and Nathan appear in the Rowan county 1800 and 1810 census, which show that they are born 1774-1784. They are not in the 1820 census, which is consistent with her not being included in her father's 1815 estate settlement.

(1.3.2.3) Cathrin Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). Cathrin is identified as a daughter of Michael Cline in his 1815 estate settlement. Cathrin is probably one of the two daughters born 1784-1790 in her father's household in the Rowan county 1800 census (Appendix B). Cathrin marries John Leffler.

(1.3.2.4) Rachel Cline, probable daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). (Appendix K, p 418). Rachel is probably one of the two daughters, born 1784-1790, in her father's household in the Rowan county 1800 census (Appendix B). Rachel marries John Lentz on July 9, 1806. They are on page 86 of the Rowan county 1810 census, both born 1784-1794. This John Lentz family is not found in the 1820 census, which is consistent with Rachel not being included in her father's 1815 estate settlement.

(1.3.2.5) Polly Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). Polly is named in her father's estate settlement in 1815, as a daughter who is unmarried at that time. Polly is presumed to be one of the two daughters in Michael's 1800 census household, born 1790-1800 (Appendix B).

(1.3.2.6) child Cline, possible daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2). She appears in her father's household in the Rowan county 1800 census as one of the two daughters born 1790-1800 (Appendix B). If she is a daughter, it is presumed that she dies young; she is not in Michael's household in the Rowan county 1810 census. She is not named in her father's 1815 estate settlement.

(1.3.2.7) Michael Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2). (Appendix K, p 418). Michael is born on August 1, 1799 and dies on August 5, 1887. He is in his father's household in the Rowan county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). He marries Sophia Lentz in Rowan county. She is born on March 7, 1800 in Rowan county and dies on May 3, 1883. Sophia is a daughter of Peter and Susanna Brown Lentz. Michael and Sophia are buried in the Camp Ground cemetery, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The information above is from FH1.

Only Catarina, the first child of Michael and Sophia, is born in Cabarrus county. She is born about 1820. Per the birth data for their other children, Michael and Sophia apparently move to Tennessee about 1825, although they do not appear there in the 1830 or 1840 census. They move on to Alabama where they appear in the Tuscaloosa county, 1850 census (Appendix H). Their children still living at home are listed in that census as all being born in Tennessee.

Michael Cline's children are per FH1 and the census:

(1.3.2.7.1) Catarina Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Catarina is born about 1820 in North Carolina and marries David Clayton per FH1, which also identifies Catarina's children in the Tuscaloosa county 1850 census:

John M. Clayton, born 1834.

Felix R. Clayton, born 1836.

Hannibal Clayton, born 1845.

Mary A. Clayton, born 1847.

Sarah S. Clayton, born 1849.

(1.3.2.7.2) Jacob Hobert Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Jacob is born on October 1, 1822 per his gravestone in Liberty cemetery, Lamar county, Alabama. Jacob marries Mary Gwynn in Alabama and they have children per FH1:

Susan Cline, born February 1, 1835, (possible birth date transcription error). She marries Gus Johnson, brother of Jake.

Adaline Cline, born October 7, 1844.

Clementine Cline, born March 14, 1845 (birth date conflicts with Adaline's; possible transcription error). Clementine marries Ervin Tomlin in Lamar county, Alabama.

Jane Cline, born January 3, 1849, marries Jake Johnson.

Louis Andrew Cline, born March 4, 1851 in Fayette county, Alabama. He marries first Emily Hardy. They have eight children named in FH1. Louis marries second Biddy Lawrence and they have five children named in FH1. Louis marries third Sue Yarbough in Arkansas and they have one child named in FH1.

Benjamin Franklin Cline, born October 4, 1851 (possible birth date transcription error). He marries Missouri Angeline Johnson and they have seven children named in FH1.

Parethenia Cline, born 1855.

Lavanda Cline, dies young.

Willie Cline, marries Margaret Gillian. FH1 names their nine children.

Ephraim Cline, born May 24, 1863 and dies at age 24.

Luther Cline, born August 3, 1866 and dies at age 17.

(1.3.2.7.3) Mahala Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Mahala is born about 1824 and marries William "Cope" Tierce in Alabama. Mahala has six children named in FH1:

Mattie Tierce, born 1848 and marries Marion Taylor. They have two children named in FH1.

Will Tierce, marries Mattie Jones. FH1 names their five children.

Dick Tierce, marries first a Kuykendal and marries second Molly Jones.

Jane Tierce, marries William Fondling.

Ann Tierce, marries Tobe Wallis (Wallace).

Susan Tierce, marries Dicky Jones.

(1.3.2.7.4) Andrew Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Andrew is born on July 29, 1826 in Tennessee. He marries first Mary Jane Davis in Alabama and marries second Mrs. Katie Crump Dunn. FH1 includes a biographical sketch for Andrew and names his children. The first thirteen children are Andrew's by his first wife and the last two are by his second wife:

Francis C. Cline, born 1847 and dies young.

Willis J. Cline, born November 17, 1850 and marries Celesta Hasseltine Davis. They move to Hill county, Texas in 1876 and have ten children named in FH1.

Andrew Cline Jr, marries Virginia Johnson and they have four children named in FH1.

Jane Cline, marries Leroy Nichols and they move to Wharton county, Texas.

Clementine Cline, marries Tom Kemp and they move to Oklahoma.

Michael Cline, dies young.

Lavanda Cline, marries Tom Davis.

Mollie Cline, marries J. D. Taylor and they move to Bankton, Texas.

Eva Cline, marries W. W. Poe and they move to Itaska, Texas. This Eva Cline seems to be the same as the following daughter Jerusha Eva Cline discussed separately in FH1.

Jerusha Eva Cline, born January 29, 1868 and marries William Wyatt Poe in April 1885 and they have eight surviving children named in FH1.

Addie Cline, born June 6, 1869, marries James R. Dobbs and they have seven children named in FH1.

Mattie Cline, marries George Washington Johns.

Luther Cline, marries first Catherine Alzada Dobbs and marries second Sarah Bell Johnson Duke.

Aster Cline, son, marries Mertie Appling.

Ola Mae Cline, marries Frank Alexander.

(1.3.2.7.5) Sarah (Sally) Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Sarah is born in 1827 in Tennessee. She marries Thomas B. Tyner Jr on December 28, 1846 in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Thomas is killed in Arkansas in 1851 and Sally dies soon after the birth of her fourth child. Her four children are named in FH1:

Clara Tyner, born September 4, 1847 and marries B. F. West.

Kate Tyner, born September 4, 1847 and marries Ed Olive. They move to Bell county, Texas.

Columbus Walter Tyner, born 1849 and dies young.

Andrew Jackson Tyner, born 1851 in Arkansas. He marries his first cousin Fannie Hodges and they move to Hill county, Texas where he dies from a ruptured appendix on August 26, 1889. They have seven children named in FH1.

(1.3.2.7.6) Jane Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Jane is born in 1828 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census (Appendix H). She marries first James Hodges in Alabama and marries second a Mr. Fielder. Jane dies in 1864 of malaria in northeast Arkansas. Her children are per FH1:

Susan Frances (Fannie) Hodges, born September 19, 1854 and marries Andrew Jackson Tyner. He is the son of Sarah Cline Tyner (1.3.2.7.5) above.

Jimmie Fielder.

Nancy Fielder.

(1.3.2.7.7) John Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). John is born in 1831 in Tennessee. He is listed as living with the Pierce (Tierce ?) family, neighbors of his parents, in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census. He marries a Sarah in Tuscaloosa, Alabama on September 14, 1852, and they move to Arkansas.

(1.3.2.7.8) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Elizabeth is born in 1832 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census (Appendix H). Elizabeth marries

William Martin Watson on September 24, 1851 and they move to Hill county, Texas. Two of their children are named in FH1:

Sam Watson, killed in a shotgun fray about 1880.

Ben Watson, marries and rears a large family in Hill county, Texas.

(1.3.2.7.9) Della Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Della is born in 1834 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census (Appendix H). She marries Dick Broadway and they move to Arkansas. Only one of their children is named in FH1:

Calvin Broadway, moves to Little Rock, Arkansas.

(1.3.2.7.10) Susan Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Susan is born in 1836 in Tennessee and is in her father's household in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census (Appendix H). Susan dies of fever about 1852 in northeast Arkansas.

(1.3.2.7.11) Jackson Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Jackson's birth date is unknown and he dies young.

(1.3.2.7.12) Samuel T. Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.3.2.7). Samuel is born in 1840 in Tennessee and is in his father's household in the Tuscaloosa county, Alabama 1850 census (Appendix H). Samuel marries Angeline Elizabeth Olive on July 18, 1860 in Tuscaloosa county, Alabama and then returns to Arkansas.

Jacob Cline (1.3.3)
probable son of Jacob (1.3)

Lineage rationale. There is no direct proof that Jacob is a son of Jacob Cline. However, Jacob (1.3.3) appears in the records from 1785 through 1803 in the immediate neighborhood of Jacob Cline (1.3), who in 1797 is referred to as Jacob Cline Sr when he sells land. This indicates that this younger Jacob Cline (1.3.3), of legal age, is also in the area as previously discussed in the Jacob Cline (1.3) section of this chapter. Jacob (1.3.3) acquires land in 1785, so he must have been born by 1764 to be of legal age in 1785. Jacob Cline Sr (1.3) is his only evident father. The only other candidate Cline of sufficient age in the area is Michael Cline (1.8), whose children are proven and do not include a Jacob.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix K, p 419-420) and census records (Appendix F).

On February 14, 1785, Jacob claims 215 acres on which he already lives, adjacent to Henry Long in Mecklenburg county. On August 4, 1787, Jacob is deeded 214 acres adjacent to Henry Long on Buffalo Creek in Cabarrus county (Mecklenburg county prior to 1792). The land deeded in 1787 may be the same land claimed in 1785. Jacob marries first Catherine Gobble on March 18, 1794 in Rowan county with Bastian Lentz as bondsman. The Lentz family is also associated with the family of Jacob's older brother Michael (1.3.2). Two of Michael's children marry into the Lentz family.

Jacob and Catherine sell 100 acres of their 1787 tract to George Klontz on January 2, 1796. Jacob is in the Cabarrus county court records in 1798, 1800 and 1801. He receives a 100-acre grant on Little Dutch Buffalo Creek in Cabarrus county on November 19, 1802 and sells an unstated amount of land there on October 18, 1803.

His wife Catherine is a sponsor for Sarah Kabel's baptism at nearby Organ Church in Rowan county on December 25, 1803. Catherine apparently dies soon after and Jacob marries second Nancy Doty on April 25, 1804 in Rowan county. Philip Harmon acts as bondsman. After 1803, no more records for Jacob are found in Cabarrus county. It is noted that records for a different Jacob (1.8.9.1), son of George Cline, appear in Cabarrus county after 1811.

All other records for Jacob Cline (1.3.3) are in the Sandy Creek area of Rowan county, which becomes part of Davidson county in 1822. Sandy Creek is just south of Gobble Creek. Both flow west into the nearby North Yadkin River, across from Davie county near the joining of the South Yadkin and North Yadkin.

Jacob acquires 100 acres on Sandy Creek on January 19, 1805 from Philip Harmon, part of a state grant to Harmon. References to Jacob's land as being adjacent to Barnet Young and Philip Swicegood are found in 1805, 1806 and 1809. Jacob Cline sells two acres and then 12 acres of his 100-acre Sandy Creek land to Barney Young on December 4, 1809 and to Philip Swicewood on December 14, 1810, respectively. Jacob's remaining 86 acres is shown on the 1815 tax list in Captain Gobble's district of Rowan county. Jacob Cline and Philip Swicegood are appointed patrollers in Captain Walser's company in Rowan county in February 1815.

Jacob Cline is deceased in 1834 and his estate papers in Davidson county identify only his widow Nancy. Jacob is not found in any census, but his widow Nancy is found in the Davidson county 1840 census, born 1770-1780. The only other person in her household is an unknown little girl, born 1830-1835. This girl may be the Patsy Cline, born 1835 in North Carolina, in the household of Catherine Burrow in the Davidson county 1860 census (Appendix I). Perhaps Patsy is the daughter of an unknown son of Jacob Cline (1.3.3).

It is not known if Jacob Cline (1.3.3) had any children with either of his two wives, since he is never found in the 1790-1830 census.

There is a Susannah Cline associated with Jacob in the land records of Rowan county. Philip Harmon sells 50 acres to this Susannah Cline on Turners Branch, near Sandy Creek, on January 15, 1805 and Jacob Cline proves the deed in court in August 1805. Jacob also witnesses a deed for a land sale by Philip Harmon for property adjoining Susannah Cline on Turners Branch on January 19, 1805. Susannah Cline sells her 50 acres on Turners Branch to Barnet Young on August 1, 1811.

The relationship between Jacob and Susannah Cline is not known. At the time of these records, the only women acquiring land were widows. Single women did not have the legal standing to conduct land transactions. Therefore, it is likely that Susannah is a widow of a Cline who is a relative of Jacob Cline (1.3.3). She is possibly the widow of Jacob's brother John (1.3.1) who dies in 1786 at about age 35. John's widow is cited as Mary in the court record in 1786, but she may have been Maria Susannah. Among the Germans, the religious name Maria often preceded a secular middle name, which became the commonly used name. The English-oriented court may not have been aware of this custom when it referred to her as Mary. Susannah may have decided to leave Cabarrus county after her younger son David moved to Lincoln county in 1805. This association of Susannah with John Cline (1.3.1) is quite speculative, but no other possible widow Cline is known in this area in the early 1800 time-period.

Philip Cline (1.3.4)
probable son of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage rationale. There is no direct proof that Philip is the son of Jacob Cline. However, Philip's age and location in Jacob Cline's neighborhood indicate that he is Jacob's son. Philip is a Cabarrus county landowner by 1786, which places his birth prior to 1765. Philip is in the War of 1812, which suggests that he is born no earlier than 1760. Jacob Cline is the only Cline in the area old enough to be Philip's father, other than Michael Cline (1.8) whose sons are proven and do not include Philip.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 421).

Philip is born prior to 1765, since he is a landowner in 1786 and therefore at least age 21 then. On May 11, 1786, his land is mentioned as adjoining the land claimed by Conrob Bliler (Conrad Plyler). Other neighbors mentioned are Moses Fogleman, Andrew Sides and Philip Lydecker.

Several of Philip's neighbors cited above are also closely associated with other members of the Jacob Cline (1.3) family. Jacob's son, Jacob Cline (1.3.3), proves the Philip Lydecker will in court in 1801 (Appendix K, p 419). In 1779, Jacob's son John (1.3.1) also has a Fogleman neighbor, Michael Fogleman (Appendix K, p 412). Philip's nephew David Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.1), is a juror in 1802 along with Christian Fogelman from Paul Barringer's company, which is the Buffalo Creek district where the Jacob Cline family lives (Appendix K, p 410, 415).

Philip's connection to the Jacob Cline (1.3) family is further supported by a 1788 record, in which both Philip and his brother Michael Cline (1.3.2) are mentioned in Mark House's estate papers in Cabarrus county.

On January 22, 1795, Philip Cline marries Barbara Safrit in Cabarrus county. George Safrit is bondsman for their marriage. Barbara seems to be from the Jacob Cline family neighborhood. Early-day Safrits are buried at Prosperity Evangelical Lutheran Church on the Rowan and Cabarrus county line, just two miles east of Dutch Buffalo Creek, where Jacob Cline lives.

Apparently, Barbara dies somewhat young, since Philip marries a second time to Polly Rial in Rowan county on September 17, 1812. His bondsman is Peter Cline (2.1.1.1), indicating some unknown connection between Philip and this Peter Cline, who is discussed in his section of the northern Rowan county Cline part of this book, Chapter 4.

Philip is in the North Carolina militia from Rowan county in the War of 1812. He is not found in the 1790-1810 North Carolina census.

Philip apparently dies before 1820, since his wife Polly is found as head of household in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). She is listed as born 1775-1794 and has two sons and two daughters in her household. The oldest son and oldest daughter are born prior to 1812 and therefore are children of Philip's first marriage to Barbara Safrit. The two younger children are born from Philip's marriage to Polly Rial.

Polly remarries in 1822 to Lemuel Elliot in Rowan county. They are on page 384 of the Rowan county 1830 census with Philip's younger son and daughter from Polly's 1820 household with them. This younger daughter living with Polly in both the 1820 and 1830 census is probably the Rachel Cline who marries Mathew Harrison on March 28, 1838 in Rowan county.

No record survives that establishes the children of Philip. However, there are two Cline males in the Cabarrus county and southern Rowan county records that could be his sons. They are Abraham Cline and Benjamin Cline. With two exceptions, all other possible Cline fathers for these two males have proven sons that do not include Abraham (born about 1800) and Benjamin (born 1818).

These exceptions are Philip's brother Jacob (1.3.3) and his cousin Jacob (1.8.9.1). Jacob Cline (1.3.3) moves to northern Rowan county about 1805, and it is unlikely that he leaves behind either of these young males. Jacob (1.8.9.1) appears in the Cabarrus county 1820 census (Appendix D) with a young wife. They have two young sons and two young daughters, all born after 1810. This Jacob and his family leave North Carolina prior to the 1830 census and it is unlikely that they would have left a younger than 12 year old Benjamin behind. This leaves Philip Cline (1.3.4) as the probable father of Abraham and Benjamin.

Philip Cline's children are:

(1.3.4.1) Abraham Cline, probable son of Philip Cline (1.3.4). (Appendix K, p 421-422). Abraham is born about 1800 per his listing as head of household in the Cabarrus county 1830 census and the Rowan county 1840 census (Appendix E, F). His birth date shows that his mother is Barbara Safrit Cline, Philip's first wife.

Abraham's first appearance in the records is his marriage to Lea Barger on April 16, 1822, in Rowan county. She is the daughter of John Barger and she is baptized on October 15, 1802 at Organ Church. This shows she is reared in Philip's neighborhood. Philip's father, Jacob Cline, was a founding member of Organ Church and Philip and his son Abraham also live within a few miles of Organ Church.

In August 1823, Abraham and his wife Leah sell the land she inherits from her father on Dutchmond Creek in current Davie county. Apparently, her father moves there sometime after Leah marries Abraham.

In October 1829, Thomas Lewis is bound to Abraham Cline in the Cabarrus county court. This indicates that Abraham, living in Rowan county near the Cabarrus county line, also associates with the people in Cabarrus county as did his father Philip.

In January 1836, Abraham mortgages his 50 acres on Grants Creek in Rowan county to secure a debt to his brother-in-law. Grants Creek is west of Crane Creek and north of China Grove. Abraham mortgages his horse and wagon to secure another debt in January 1840 at China Grove.

In November 1842, Abraham mortgages his land and all his personal property to secure a debt in Rowan county. In July 1843, John Hartman, with land on Crane Creek, sells 100 acres which in the past belonged to Abraham. In January 1845, Abraham mortgages land in Iredell county to secure a debt.

Abraham apparently dies after 1845 and before 1850. His widow Leah Cline and sons John and George are in the Union county, Illinois 1850 census (Appendix H).

Abraham Cline's children are per the Organ Church records and the census:

(1.3.4.1.1) John Cline, son of Abraham Cline (1.3.4.1). (Appendix K, p 422). John is born on March 26, 1822 per the Organ Church baptism records. He is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 census and the Rowan county 1840 census (Appendix E, F). In the Union county, Illinois 1850 census, John is married with a wife Mary, born in North Carolina, and two children (Appendix H):

Nancy Cline, born 1848 in Arkansas.

Margaret Cline, born 1849 in Illinois.

(1.3.4.1.2) George Cline, son of Abraham Cline (1.3.4.1). (Appendix K, p 422). George is born on February 25, 1825 per the Organ Church baptism records. He is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 census and the Rowan county 1840 census (Appendix E, F). In the Union county, Illinois 1850 census, George is married with a wife Mary, born in Illinois (Appendix H). Also living with George is his widowed mother Leah Barger Cline. George and Mary Cline do not have any children in 1850.

(1.3.4.2) child Cline, daughter of Philip Cline (1.3.4). She is born 1804-1810 and is in her stepmother Polly Rial Cline's household in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). Her mother is Barbara Safrit Cline, Philip's first wife.

(1.3.4.3) child Cline, son of Philip Cline (1.3.4). He is born 1804-1810 per his entry in the household of Philip's widow, Polly Cline, in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). All male Clines of this age found in subsequent North Carolina census records belong to other known Cline families. In all state census records in 1850 for Clines born in North Carolina, there is no such Cline born 1804-1810, who is not attributed to other Cline families (Appendix H). This son must have died before 1850 and perhaps before 1830. His mother is Barbara Safrit Cline, Philip's first wife.

(1.3.4.4) Rachel Cline, probable daughter of Philip Cline (1.3.4). (Appendix K, p 421). Rachel is born 1810-1815 and is in the household of her father's widow, Polly Cline, in the Rowan county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D). She marries Mathew Harrison on March 28, 1838 in Rowan county.

(1.3.4.5) Benjamin Cline, probable son of Philip Cline (1.3.4). (Appendix K, p 422). Benjamin is born in 1818 per the Iredell county 1850 census (Appendix G). His birth date is consistent with the age of the younger son in Philip's widow's household in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). Benjamin's mother is Phillip's second wife, Polly Rial Cline, whom Philip marries in 1812.

He is first found in the Cabarrus county records in July 1836 when he is bound out to James Morris, a carpenter. On July 2, 1839, Benjamin marries Margaret Bond in Cabarrus county. Solomon Misenheimer is the bondsman. Per the Iredell county 1850 and 1860 census, Benjamin's wife is called Lucretia Cline (Appendix G, I).

On January 29, 1842, Benjamin mortgages his land in Iredell county to secure a debt. His older half-brother, Abraham Cline, also lives in Iredell county in 1845.

Benjamin is listed in the Iredell county 1850 census as a cabinet maker, a trade learned no doubt from the carpenter to whom he was bound as an 18 year old in Cabarrus county.

Benjamin Cline's children are per the Iredell county 1850 and 1860 census:

(1.3.4.5.1) Sophia C. Cline, daughter of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). She is born in 1840.

(1.3.4.5.2) Mary L. Cline, daughter of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). She is born in 1842.

(1.3.4.5.3) Isabella A. Cline, daughter of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). She is born in 1843.

(1.3.4.5.4) David J. Cline, son of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). He is born in 1847.

(1.3.4.5.5) Martha Cline, daughter of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). She is born in 1851.

(1.3.4.5.6) Drucilla Cline, daughter of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). She is born in 1854.

(1.3.4.5.7) Millard G. Cline, son of Benjamin Cline (1.3.4.5). He is born in 1857.

Clara Cline (1.3.5)
probable daughter of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage rationale. Clara Cline is born about 1766 and is confirmed at Second Creek (Organ) Church in Rowan county in 1780. Jacob Cline is a member of this church. Jacob Cline is the only Cline in the area old enough to have a daughter of this age, other than Michael Cline (1.8) whose daughters are proven and do not include a Clara. This Clara is presumed to be the Chloe Cline who marries George Clontz in 1783. George Clontz buys 100 acres from Jacob Cline (1.3.3) on Buffalo Creek in 1796. In 1803, Chloe and George move to Burke county and on to Buncombe county after 1830.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 411).

Esther Cline (1.3.6)
possible daughter of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage rationale. Esther Cline is found only once in the records. In 1787, she marries Fredrick Getchy in Rowan county. In 1796, Michael Cline (1.3.2), son of Jacob Cline (1.3) lives adjacent to land owned by the Getchey orphans. It is speculated that Esther is a daughter of Jacob Cline because she seems to marry and live in the southern Rowan and Cabarrus county area, where only Jacob and his brother Michael Cline (1.8) are old enough to be her father. The daughters of Michael Cline are proven and do not include an Esther. The Getchy family was not researched for this book.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix K, p 411).

David Cline (1.3.7)
probable son of Jacob Cline (1.3)

Lineage rationale. There is no direct proof that this David is a son of Jacob Cline. David is born 1770-1775 and is presumed to be a son of Jacob Cline rather than a son of any of the other Clines in the area. The sons of Michael Cline (1.8) are proven and do not include a David; nor are Michael's sons old enough to be David's father. Only two of the sons of Jacob Cline, John (1.3.1) and Michael (1.3.2), are old enough to be David's father. Their sons are proven from estate settlements and only John has a son David. However, John's David is a minor in 1792 and he is determined to be the other, younger, David Cline (1.3.1.2) in Cabarrus county, born in 1777. Presuming that the older David is born in the Cabarrus county area, rather than migrating to North Carolina as an adult, then Jacob Cline (1.3) is the only possible father for David Cline (1.3.7).

All the identified sons of Jacob move away from Jacob's homestead area except his eldest son, John (1.3.1) and his heirs – Henry (1.3.1.1) and David (1.3.1.2). Thus, it is reasonable that Jacob's youngest son David (1.3.7) also is found as an adult in another part of Cabarrus county.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 422-423) and census records (Appendix C-G).

David is born 1770-1775 per his entries in the Cabarrus county 1820-1840 census. His age in the Cabarrus county 1810 census is in error (Appendix C-F).

David Cline (1.3.7) is distinguished from the other, younger, David (1.3.1.2), son of John Cline (1.3.1), by the location of his property within Cabarrus county and his continuing occupancy there. The younger David Cline has property on Coldwater Creek, near his brother Henry, which he acquires in 1799 and 1803. He then sells his property about 1805 and moves to Lincoln county. There are no more records for David Cline in the Coldwater Creek area after 1805.

David Cline (1.3.7) acquires 150 acres on Hambee Run of Rocky River in March 1801. He is there in November 1802 and receives a grant in November 1822 on Hambee Run. This Hambee Run, Rocky River area is in the southeast part of Cabarrus county, some 10 miles from the north central Coldwater Creek area of the other Clines. The descendants of David Cline are buried at the Rocky River Presbyterian Church south of his family lands.

When David decides to marry, he goes to the Coldwater Creek area of his father to marry Susanna Dry on April 20, 1805, with John Misenheimer as bondsman. Both the Dry and Misenheimer families are in the same neighborhood as David's father, Jacob Cline (1.3) and David's uncle, Michael Cline (1.8)

David is a juror from Faggart's company in July and October 1805. In October 1824, David Cline and Jacob Faggart are security for Jacob Yorton, administrator of Daniel Yorton, deceased.

David dies about April 1845, and his estate settlement in January 1846 identifies his children as John, Mathias, Moses, David W., Edmund, Elizabeth, Sophia, Sarah and Jacob.

Additional information for David's children is found in the civil and church records of Cabarrus county and the census.

David Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.1) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 423). Elizabeth is born on February 20, 1805 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810-1840 census (Appendix C-F). She marries Philip Fink after 1843. Elizabeth is Philip's second wife. Elizabeth dies on December 30, 1878.

(1.3.7.2) child Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.7). She is born 1805-1810 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix C) and is not in his household in any later census. Presumably, she dies young.

(1.3.7.3) John Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 423). John is born in 1808 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810-1830 census (Appendix C-E). He marries Eleanor Joiner on May 18, 1833, and they are in their own household in the Cabarrus county 1840 census (Appendix F). They are in the Cabarrus county 1850 census and Eleanor, born in 1814 in South Carolina, is a widowed head of household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix G, I). John and Eleanor have eight children, all listed in the 1850 census.

John Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.3.1) Susan C. Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Susan is born in 1835 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G).

(1.3.7.3.2) Mary R. Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Mary is born in 1836 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). She marries William A. Whisanhunt on September 15, 1858, with Mathias Cline as bondsman.

(1.3.7.3.3) Clementine Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Clementine is born in 1840 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G).

(1.3.7.3.4) Israel Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Israel is born in 1840 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census and in his widowed mother's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix F, G, I). He and Clementine are twins.

(1.3.7.3.5) William H. H. Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.7.3). William is born in 1841 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1850 census and in his widowed mother's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.3.7.3.6) Leah S. Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Leah is born in 1844 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1850 census and in her widowed mother's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.3.7.3.7) Martha Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.3.7.3). Martha is born in 1846 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1850 census and in her widowed mother's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.3.7.3.8) John C. Cline, son of John Cline (1.3.7.3). John is born in 1850 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1850 census and in his widowed mother's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix G, I).

(1.3.7.4) Mathias Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 423). Mathias is born in 1810 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). He marries Mary Joiner on February 1, 1834. Elizabeth Carter is bound to Mathias Cline by the court in January 1838. Mathias has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1840-1860 census (Appendix F, G, I) and his children are listed in the Cabarrus county 1850 and 1860 census.

Mathias Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.4.1) Moses E. Cline, son of Mathias Cline (1.3.7.4). Moses is born in 1837 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). He marries Catharine Bost on October 5, 1858 and they move to Panola county, Mississippi.

(1.3.7.4.2) Jane R. Cline, son of Mathias Cline (1.3.7.4). Jane is born in 1838 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840-1860 census (Appendix F, G, I). She marries William H. Bost on April 15, 1861, and he dies in the Civil War. Jane later marries again; her second husband's name is not known.

(1.3.7.4.3) James F. Cline, son of Mathias Cline (1.3.7.4). James is born in 1841 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). He marries Jemima S. Raimer on January 30, 1861.

(1.3.7.5) Moses Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 423). Moses is born on August 16, 1811 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Moses marries Nannett E. Word on February 9, 1837 in Mississippi. They and four of their children are in the Pickens county, Alabama 1850 census as M. C. Cline and Nancy Cline (Appendix H). In that census Nancy's birth place is listed as South Carolina. The children of Moses are per the family group sheet prepared by Edward and Bonnie Reach of Alba, Texas, dated February 28, 1998, found at Cannon Memorial Library, Concord.

Moses Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.5.1) Mary Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Moses Cline (1.3.7.5). Mary is born on April 13, 1838 in Lowndes county, Mississippi and dies June 25, 1845.

(1.3.7.6) Jacob Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 423). Jacob is born in 1813 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). He moves to Mississippi and is in the Lowndes county, Mississippi 1850 census with his wife, Tesasy, born in 1822 in Alabama and three children (Appendix H).

Jacob Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.6.1) Fannie S. Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (1.3.7.6). Fannie is born in 1844 in Mississippi.

(1.3.7.6.2) Henry Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.3.7.6). Henry is born in 1846 in Mississippi.

(1.3.7.6.3) Joseph Cline, son of Jacob Cline (1.3.7.6). Joseph is born in 1848 in Mississippi.

(1.3.7.7) Edmund Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 424). Edmund is born in 1816 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Edmund has his own household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Edmund marries Clarissa White on June 13, 1843. Edmund is administrator for his father David Cline's estate in April 1845. Edmund has two children listed in the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix G).

Edmund Cline's children are:

(1.3.7.7.1) James D. Cline, son of Edmund Cline (1.3.7.7). James is born in 1847.

(1.3.7.7.2) Franklin L. Cline, son of Edmund Cline (1.3.7.7). Franklin is born in 1849.

(1.3.7.7.3) J. David Cline, son of Edmund Cline (1.3.7.7). (Appendix K, p 424). David is born in 1850 and is buried at Rocky River Presbyterian Church in Cabarrus county along with his two wives and his mother, Clarissa White Cline.

(1.3.7.8) Daniel Cline, possible son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 424). There is a birth record for a Daniel Cline born to Daywald Cline and baptized at St. Johns Church on March 18, 1819. Daywald could be German for either Theobald or David. There is no Theobald Cline in Cabarrus county. Therefore, the father of Daniel Cline is presumed to be David Cline (1.3.7). There is evidence of such a son in David's household in the Cabarrus county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). Daniel is not in the 1850 census, and he is not in his father's 1846 estate settlement. Daniel may have died by then.

Daniel's wife may be Catherine. A young widow, Catherine Cline (born 1815 in North Carolina) with a daughter Sarah (born 1845-1846), is living in Franklin county, Alabama in the 1850 census (Appendix H). She is living there as a housekeeper for Thomas Johnson, age 62 (born in North Carolina). The widow Catherine might be the widow of Daniel. Many people from Cabarrus county did move to Alabama. Daniel's brother Moses Cline (1.3.7.5) is one.

(1.3.7.9) Sarah Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 424). Sarah is born on July 29, 1821 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Sarah's birth date is listed as 1824 in the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix H) and she is living in the household of her widowed mother, Susanna Dry Cline.

(1.3.7.10) Sophia Cline, daughter of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 424). Sophia is born March 1, 1824 and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Sophia marries first Jonathan Robbins on May 20, 1846 and marries second Charles Bost on November 17, 1860. Sophia Cline Robbins's first child is found in the Cabarrus county 1850 census.

Sophia Cline Robbins' child is:

(1.3.7.10.1) Charles D. Robbins, son of Sophia Cline Robbins (1.3.7.10). Charles is born in 1847.

(1.3.7.11) Wilson D. Cline, son of David Cline (1.3.7). (Appendix K, p 424). Wilson D. is called David W. in his father's estate settlement. Wilson D. is born on April 15, 1828 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). Wilson D. is living with his widowed mother Susanna Dry Cline and his sister Sophia Cline in the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix G). Wilson marries first Elizabeth Joiner on July 19, 1852. He marries second Elizabeth Faggart who is born on November 6, 1846. Wilson D. serves in the Civil War. In the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix I), Wilson has in his household his wife Elizabeth, two children and his widowed mother, Susanna Dry Cline.

Wilson D. Cline's children in the 1860 census are:

(1.3.7.11.1) Adam F. Cline, son of Wilson D. Cline (1.3.7.11). Adam is born in 1858.

(1.3.7.11.2) David C. Cline, son of Wilson D. Cline (1.3.7.11). David is born in 1860.

Michael Cline (1.8) son of Moritz Klein

Lineage rationale. As discussed in Chapter 1, Michael Cline is born on May 27, 1725 in Alsace and immigrates to Pennsylvania in 1747. Michael Cline is identified as a son of Moritz Klein in the 1750 record of Michael Cline's marriage to Catherine Schuffert in Berks county, Pennsylvania. Michael and Catherine's migration to Cabarrus county is confirmed by the record of Catherine Schuffert Cline's burial by Rev. Markard in 1798, which also notes they have 14 children.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 425-426) and the census (Appendix A).

Michael Cline, later of Cabarrus county, is first found in Berks county, Pennsylvania, where he marries Catherine Schuffert on June 17, 1750 at Christ Lutheran Church in Dryville. In the marriage record, Michael is identified as a son of Moriz (Moritz) Klein. At the same church in Pennsylvania, Michael and Catherine's first child, Christina Magdalena Cline, is baptized on April 13, 1751.

Michael is next found in North Carolina in the records of Anson county. He receives a crown colony land grant in Anson county on June 24, 1762 for 121 acres on Blackwelders Branch of Little Coldwater Creek. This part of Anson county becomes Mecklenburg county in 1762 and then becomes Cabarrus county in 1792.

On June 25, 1764, Michael receives a second grant in what was then Mecklenburg county for 107 acres on Adams Creek near his earlier grant. Michael and his wife Catherine sell this 107 acres to Jacob Misenheimer on August 17, 1775. Other land transactions in the Cabarrus county area for Michael show that he claims 150 acres on Little Coldwater Creek on May 13, 1779, which is granted on November 2, 1784. From the description of these land transactions, Michael Cline's adjacent neighbors are identified as Martin Slough and Jacob Misenheimer.

Michael and his family are noted as members at the Coldwater Reformed Church in 1766.

Michael attends the estate sale of Martin Peninger in 1770. His presumed brother, Jacob Cline also attends that sale. Michael also attends other estate sales in Mecklenburg county: that of Nicholas Walter in 1775, John Bost in 1778, Augustine Reap in 1781, Henry Goldman in 1782, and a second John Bost estate sale in 1782. Michael's wife Catherine also attends the latter 1782 sale.

Michael appears in the Mecklenburg county court minutes in 1782 and 1786 and as a grand juror from Plyler's company in 1789. Michael Cline is in the Mecklenburg county 1790 census with his wife and four other females (Appendix A). He has no unmarried daughters at this time, so the other four females must be granddaughters or not members of his family.

Michael's will, dated December 1, 1784, identifies his wife Catherine and three living sons George, Daniel and John, who are given all the land, in equal shares. The land is described as 100 acres deeded and 100 (actually 150) acres entered. Michael's will also identifies his seven living daughters Christina, Medlina, Barbel, Mary Magdeline, Anna Elizabeth, Anna Mary and Anna Margaret. Michael Lewis also appears in his grandfather Michael's will (Appendix N, p 465). Michael Lewis is the son of Michael Cline's daughter Catherine, deceased.

One of the three witnesses to Michael's will is Jacob Cline (1.3), supporting the presumption that Michael and Jacob are brothers.

Michael Cline apparently dies in late 1790 since he is in the 1790 census, but the January 1791 court records note that John Cline, orphan of Michael Cline (1.8), is of full age and chooses Francis Lock as his guardian. This is taken to mean that John is at least 16 years old, but no more than 20 years old. Thus, John is born about 1770-1774.

On March 12, 1798, Michael's wife Catherine is buried at Coldwater Church and the Rev. Markard notes that she bore 14 children (seven still living in 1798) and has 54 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren as of 1798.

Michael and Catherine Cline have 12 known children. The other two children may have died in infancy. These 14 children are born between 1751 and 1774. Thus, the interval between births averages 20 months. This fact is used to estimate the birth dates for Michael and Catherine's children.

Michael's oldest son Michael Cline Jr is killed in the Revolutionary War in 1782, near Orangeburg, South Carolina. The minister of the Coldwater Lutheran Church, Samuel Suther, is the administrator of Michael Cline Jr's estate, and his estate proceedings appear in the court records seven times from January 1783 through July 1787. Attendees at Michael Cline Jr's estate sale in 1783 include his brother George and sisters Mary, Margaret and Catrina. There is no indication that Michael Jr was married or had any heirs. Michael Jr's birth date is estimated to be about 1763, since he was not old enough to have married by the time of his death. If this estimated birth date is correct, then seven daughters are born to Michael (1.8) and Catherine before 1763, one every 20 months.

It is determined that Michael, in his will, first lists his three surviving sons in the order of their birth. He then lists his oldest daughter first among his daughters. It is presumed that he lists all his surviving daughters in birth order as well.

Michael states in his will that two of his daughters are single and identifies them as Anna Mary and Anna Margaret in a note added before signing his will. The marriage records confirm that these two daughters marry after the December 1, 1784 date of Michael's will.

Michael Cline's children are discussed in this chapter in the following order:

Children of Michael Cline (1.8)

(1.8.1) Christina Magdalena Cline, born April 13, 1751.

(1.8.2) Medlina Cline, born about 1752.

(1.8.3) Barbel Cline, born about 1754.

(1.8.4) Mary Magdeline Cline, born about 1756.

(1.8.5) Anna Elizabeth Cline, born about 1758.

(1.8.6) Catherine Cline, born about 1760.

(1.8.7) Anna Mary Cline, born September 24, 1761.

(1.8.8) Michael Cline Jr, born about 1763.

(1.8.9) George Cline, born about 1765.

(1.8.10) child Cline, born about 1767, dies in infancy.

(1.8.11) child Cline, born about 1769, dies in infancy.

(1.8.12) Anna Margaret Cline, born October 24, 1770.

(1.8.13) Daniel Cline, born October 4, 1771.

(1.8.14) John Cline, born 1770-1774.

Christina Magdalena Cline (1.8.1)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Christina as his daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. Michael and Catherine Cline, have their daughter Christina Magdalena baptized at Christ Lutheran Church, Dryville, Pennsylvania on April 13, 1751. Christina does marry, since she is not one of the two single daughters at the time of her father's will. Nothing further is known for Christina. Christina is perhaps deceased by 1798, when at her mother's death, it is noted that only seven of Michael Cline's children are living.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 425, 426).

Medlina Cline (1.8.2)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Medlina as his daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. If Medlina is the second born child of Michael Cline, as implied by her position in the listing of the children in her father's will, then she is born about 1752.

FH1 states that Medlina perhaps marries Frederick Starnes on July 3, 1794. There is a Frederick Starnes on page 692 of the Cabarrus county 1800 census with a wife born 1755-1774 and four children less than 10 years old. Frederick Starnes is also on page 163 of the Mecklenburg county 1790 census with three females in his house, one of whom is probably his wife. If Medlina marries Frederick Starnes, it appears that Medlina's marriage is before 1790.

In fact, Medlina marries before December 1784, since she is not one of the two single daughters at the time of her father's will. It is presumed that Medlina does marry Frederick Starnes, but sometime prior to 1784.

Barbel Cline (1.8.3)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Barbel as his daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. If Barbel is the third born child of Michael Cline, as implied by her position in the listing of the children in her father's will, then she is born about 1754. Barbel does marry, since she is not one of the two single daughters at the time of her father's will. Nothing further is known for Barbel. She is perhaps deceased by 1798, when at her mother's death, it is noted that only seven of Michael Cline's children are still alive.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 426).

Mary Magdeline Cline (1.8.4)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Mary Magdeline as his daughter in his December 1, 1784 will. If Mary Magdeline is the fourth born child of Michael Cline, as implied by her position in the listing of the children in her father's will, then she is born about 1756.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 426) and FH1.

She is perhaps deceased by 1798, when at her mother's death, it is noted that only seven of Michael Cline's children are still alive.

daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Catherine as his deceased daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. Catherine is still single on February 28, 1783, when she attends her brother Michael's estate sale. She marries a Mr. Lewis and has one child, Michael Lewis, who is also named in the will of December 1, 1784. Catherine apparently marries in late 1783 and dies shortly after the birth of her son.

Anna Mary Cline (1.8.7)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Anna Mary as his daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. She is single on February 28, 1783, when she attends her brother Michael's estate sale. She marries on September 4, 1787.

Michael Cline Jr (1.8.8)
son of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline Jr, born about 1763, dies in the Revolutionary War in 1782 near Orangeburg, South Carolina. Therefore, he is not mentioned as an heir in Michael Cline's (1.8) will of December 1, 1784. However, Michael Cline Jr's age is such that his father must be either Michael Cline (1.8) or Jacob Cline (1.3), who are the only two Clines in the area old enough to be his father.

Michael Cline Jr clearly belongs to the Michael Cline (1.8) family rather than the Jacob Cline (1.3) family. The only Cline attendees at Michael Cline Jr's estate sale, on February 28, 1783, are other proven children of Michael Cline (1.8). They are Michael Jr's brother George and sisters Mary, Margaret and Catrina Cline.

Rev. Samuel Suther of the Coldwater Lutheran Church is appointed administrator of the Michael Cline Jr estate. This is the church of Michael Cline (1.8) and his family.

Michael Cline (1.8), in his will of December 1, 1784, mentions his recently deceased daughter, Catherine, in order to recognize her son as an heir. Therefore, Michael Jr has no heirs or they would have been mentioned in his father's will.

If Michael had been married, his wife would normally have been the administrator of his estate or would have been noted as declining to administer. Since Michael Jr's minister is appointed his estate administrator, it seems clear that Michael Jr was not married.

There are no land ownership records for Michael Cline Jr. Only one Michael Cline land transaction is found between 1775 and 1783. That one is a 150-acre land claim on May 13, 1779, which was granted on November 2, 1784 to Michael Cline Sr (1.8).

It is presumed that Michael Jr is a young man born about 1763, old enough to go to war in 1782, but is killed before he can marry and establish a family.

Source. Civil records (Appendix K, p 426).

George Cline (1.8.9)
son of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage rationale. Michael Cline names George as his son in his will of December 1, 1784. He is the only George Cline in the Cabarrus or Rowan county records until his son George Jr comes of age about 1815.

Sources. Civil record and church records (Appendix K, p 427-428), the census (Appendix A, C), and FH1.

George is born about 1765 as determined by census data analysis. Per FH1, George marries Maria Misenheimer, daughter of Jacob Misenheimer. Maria is born on April 22, 1764 and dies on February 8, 1859.

The Misenheimer family are neighbors of the Michael Cline family. Michael Cline sells part of his land to Jacob Misenheimer on August 17, 1775 (Appendix K, p 425).

George appears in the Cabarrus county 1810 census, born 1765-1784, with his wife and seven children born after 1784. He also is in the Cabarrus county 1790 census with his wife, two sons and a daughter (Appendix A, C). Thus, George and Mary are married about 1785 with three children born 1785-1790 and the other four children, born between 1790 and 1810. George and family are not recorded in the 1800 or 1820 census. Since George is married by about 1785, he must be born about 1765, as is his wife.

George attends his brother Michael Jr's (1.8.8) estate sale in 1783. In February 1784, George is cited as holding land adjacent to John Blackwelder's claim. The land cited as George's is most likely a portion of his father's land that George is farming. In 1787, he attends Peter Reap's estate sale.

George is involved in two land transactions with his brothers John and Daniel on October 21, 1799, in which George and Daniel are deeded John's share of the land inherited from their father. This occurs after the 1798 death of their mother.

George adds to his holdings when he buys 32 acres on Coldwater Creek from Abraham Misenheimer on February 19, 1800. The records show that George's neighboring landowners are Jacob Dry, Martin Slough, Nicholas Cook and Rev. Adam Markard. On November 18, 1817, George acquires his brother Daniel's 150-acre half of the land inherited from their father Michael.

George appears in the Cabarrus county court records as a juror 15 times from 1798-1817. He is tasked by the court in 1811 to lay out a road from Concord to Salisbury. In 1814, George, along with his brother Daniel and others, lay out the Concord to Fayetteville road in order to avoid a hill on the west side of Coldwater Creek.

In 1811, George appears in court for the prosecution in the State vs George Barnhart. In 1813, he is tasked to witness the settlement of a line dispute between his brother Daniel Cline and Charles Blackwelder. In 1812, George serves as security for his son Jacob Cline's appointment as a constable.

In 1814, George's son, Jacob Cline, acquires 59 acres on Coldwater Creek from Rolin and David Voils. George holds the deed as his security for his guarantee of payment of the two notes from his son Jacob Cline to the Voils. This transaction record states that George Cline is the father of this Jacob Cline. George Cline's son, Michael, witnesses the transaction.

In April 1829, George is deceased and his son George Jr (1.8.9.4) is the executor. No estate records or will exist for George that identify his heirs. However, George's children are identified in FH1 and certain cited records.

George Cline's children are:

(1.8.9.1) Jacob Cline, son of George Cline (1.8.9). (Appendix K, p 428-429). Jacob is a proven son of George because he is cited as George's son in Jacob's 1814 land transaction.

Jacob is born 1784-1790. Two court records attest to Jacob's being born by 1790. He is of sufficient age in January of 1812 to be appointed as a constable and to acquire land in January 1814. Thus, Jacob is one of the two sons born 1784-1790 in the household of George Cline in the Mecklenburg county 1790 census and the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix A, C).

Jacob is re-appointed constable for 1813 and 1814 and is the captain of his militia company in 1813. Jacob is in the War of 1812 in the Cabarrus county militia in 1814 and 1815.

Court records show that Jacob is ordered to pay child support to Rachel Blackwelder in October 1813, 1814 and 1815.

In October 1814, Elijah Cotton sues Jacob, and in April 1815 Jacob and his sister Elizabeth sue Elijah Cotton. In October 1815, Jacob is tasked by the court for road maintenance.

Jacob marries a Susan who is born about 1800, per FH1.

No trace of Jacob is found in North Carolina after his appearance in the Cabarrus county 1820 census (Appendix D). In that census, he has a wife, born 1794-1804, and two males and two females under 10 years old. In that census, Jacob is shown in error as born 1794-1804.

Jacob is not in any 1850 census and FH1 has no other information about Jacob. He appears to leave North Carolina after 1820 and dies before 1850. He may be the Jacob Cline found in Grainger county, Tennessee on page 393 of the 1830 census and page 94 of the 1840 census. This Jacob is shown as born 1780-1790 with wife born 1790-1800, consistent with the age of Cabarrus county Jacob and his wife. The Grainger county, Tennessee Jacob Cline is not found in 1850, and presumably has died. This Jacob has nine sons and four daughters in his household in Tennessee. These children's ages are such that they could include the two sons and one of the two daughters present in the Jacob Cline household in the Cabarrus county 1820 census. Nothing is known about these possible children of Jacob Cline.

However, one possible son of Jacob is found in Cabarrus county. This possible son would be the child born out-of-wedlock with Rachel Blackwelder, for whom Jacob was assessed child support starting in October of 1813.

Jacob Cline's probable son:

(1.8.9.1.1) Alfred Cline, probable son of Jacob Cline (1.8.9.1). (Appendix K, p 429). Alfred is born either in late 1813 or by mid-1814, as determined from his age of 36 years in the Cabarrus county 1850 census (Appendix G). Rachel Blackwelder receives child support from Jacob Cline starting in October 1813.

Alfred's probable mother, Rachel Blackwelder, marries a Mr. Karraker about 1818 and soon moves to Illinois per an 1838 article in the Concord Tribune. This article also notes that Rachel has a brother named Alfred.

Apparently Alfred is left behind either with the parents of his mother Rachel Blackwelder or with his father Jacob Cline (1.8.9.1). It is noted that Jacob has two males in his 1820 household under 10 years of age. Jacob moves out of the state prior to 1830.

In April 1832, Alfred is bound out by the Cabarrus county court to Moses Ramer, a millwright. Alfred appears in the Cabarrus county 1840 census, single and born 1810-1820 (Appendix F).

Alfred marries Catherine Lefler on February 26, 1850 in Cabarrus county. They appear together in the Cabarrus county 1850 census, but are not in the North Carolina 1860 or 1870 census.

(1.8.9.2) Michael Cline, son of George Cline (1.8.9). (Appendix K, p 429-430). Michael is born in late 1789 in Cabarrus county per his listing in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H) and the Cherokee county, North Carolina 1860 census (Appendix I).

The possible fathers in the Cabarrus county area for Michael are the sons of Jacob Cline (1.3) and the sons of Michael Cline (1.8). These are the only Clines in the area and Jacob (1.3) and Michael (1.8) themselves are too old to have a son born in 1789. Further, the only sons of Jacob (1.3) old enough to be Michael's father are John (1.3.1) and Michael (1.3.2). Their children are proven in the records and include only one Michael (1.3.2.7). The sons of Michael (1.8) old enough to have a son born in 1789 are Daniel (1.8.13) and George (1.8.9). Daniel's sons are proven and do not include a Michael.

FH1 states that George (1.8.9) has a son Michael, but incorrectly identifies that Michael as the one who leaves North Carolina about 1825 for Tennessee and ends up in Tuscaloosa, Alabama in the 1850 census (Appendix H). That Michael is born in 1799 per the 1850 census. He is the son of Michael Cline (1.3.2) and is discussed in the Michael Cline (1.3.2.7) section of this chapter.

The Michael who is the son of George Cline is the one found in the Cabarrus county records up through 1832, closely associated with his brother George Cline Jr and his father's brother Daniel Cline. This Michael (1.8.9.2) does not leave for Tennessee in 1825, but after 1832 he does go to Tennessee and then to Georgia by 1850. His birth date of 1789 is consistent with that of the second of the two sons born 1785-1790 in George Cline's household in the Mecklenburg county 1790 census and the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix A, C).

The records in Cabarrus county for Michael Cline (1.8.9.2), the son of George Cline (1.8.9), show his presence there from 1813-1832.

Michael is appointed constable in 1813. He is the security for his brother George Cline Jr when George is the administrator of their brother Joseph's estate in October 1831.

He proves the signature of his uncle Daniel Cline Sr (1.8.13) in January 1832. Daniel was a witness to Michael Winecoff's will in 1827, but by 1832 Daniel has moved to Missouri. This shows that the court knew that Michael was a close relative to Daniel, able to recognize and vouch for Daniel's signature.

Michael first appears in the land records with a grant of 19 acres on Buffalo Creek and a grant of 10 acres on Plumb Branch, both on June 12, 1819. He then buys 134 ½ acres and another 45 ½ acres on Irish Buffalo Creek on April 29, 1820. Michael sells 37 ½ acres of the latter land on August 15, 1821 and then is granted three acres on Irish Buffalo Creek on January 29, 1822.

In January and July 1832, Michael mortgages his land and personal property to secure about $1600 in debts, including debts to his brother George Cline Jr and his uncle Daniel Cline. Michael apparently gives up his land and personal property to satisfy these debts and leaves Cabarrus county for Tennessee, where a daughter, Sarah, is born in 1836 per the Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H).

In the 1850 census, Michael has a wife Susan and daughter Sophia, born in 1830 in North Carolina. Michael and Susan appear in the Cabarrus county baptism records as the parents of seven children, the youngest of whom is Sophia.

Michael and his family are in the Cabarrus county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E), on page 5 of the White county, Tennessee 1840 census, and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1850 census.

Further, in the Cherokee county, North Carolina 1860 census, Michael and Susan have returned to North Carolina and state that they and their daughter Sophia, born 1832, were born in Cabarrus county. Michael and Susan are living with Sophia and her husband, Tilmond Squirm, in that census (Appendix I).

Michael Cline's children are per baptism records and the census:

(1.8.9.2.1) Balindah Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Balindah is born on March 3, 1817 in Cabarrus county.

(1.8.9.2.2) Mary Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Mary is born on October 1, 1819 in Cabarrus county.

(1.8.9.2.3) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Elizabeth is born on January 6, 1822 in Cabarrus county. Only one daughter born 1820-1825 is in Michael Cline's household in the 1830 census. She could be either Elizabeth or Catherine (below). One seems to die young.

(1.8.9.2.4) Catherine Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Catherine is born on March 5, 1824 in Cabarrus county.

(1.8.9.2.5) George Cline, son of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). George is born on April 3, 1826 in Cabarrus county.

(1.8.9.2.7) Sophia Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Sophia is born on July 17, 1832 in Cabarrus county. She marries Tilmond Squirm.

(1.8.9.2.8) Sarah Cline, daughter of Michael Cline (1.8.9.2). Sarah is born about 1836 in Tennessee per the 1840 and 1850 census.

(1.8.9.3) Leah Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.8.9). Leah is the daughter who is born between 1784-1790 in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1790 and 1810 census (Appendix A, C). FH1 states that she marries Caleb Blackwelder on April 4, 1809, with her brother Michael as bondsman. Leah and Caleb and their first-born child appear to be in her father's 1810 census household. They later move to Iredell county per FH1. After her husband's death on February 15, 1849, Leah returns to Cabarrus county by the time of the 1870 census.

Leah Cline Blackwelder's children are per FH1:

(1.8.9.3.1) Sarah Blackwelder, daughter of Leah Cline Blackwelder (1.8.9.3). Sarah is born on September 12, 1810 and marries Joseph Cook on September 15, 1832. Sarah dies on June 9, 1876. FH1 names eight children:

> Mary J. Cook, born April 18, 1833 and marries Elam Suther. FH1 names four children.
> Leah Elizabeth Cook, born December 21, 1834. She marries first Joe Cook on July 11, 1855 and marries second Jacob M. Phillips. FH1 names five children.

> Caleb Matthias Cook, born January 23, 1850 and marries Margaret Isenhour at St. James Church in Concord. FH1 name six children.

(1.8.9.3.2) Elizabeth Blackwelder, daughter of Leah Cline Blackwelder (1.8.9.3). Elizabeth is born on December 11, 1813 and dies on June 9, 1876.

(1.8.9.3.3) John Blackwelder, son of Leah Cline Blackwelder (1.8.9.3). John is born on July 24, 1815 and marries Sarah Krider of Rowan county on December 23, 1835.

(1.8.9.3.4) Wilson Blackwelder, son of Leah Cline Blackwelder (1.8.9.3). Wilson is born on June 10, 1817. He marries first an Overcash in Texas and marries second a Martin.

(1.8.9.3.5) Rachel Blackwelder, daughter of Leah Cline Blackwelder (1.8.9.3). Rachel is born on March 2, 1819 and marries Alexander Deaton.

He marries Esther Blackwelder on June 10, 1819. Esther is born on December 11, 1792 and dies on March 4, 1879. FH1 recites an extensive obituary for George Jr written by George's friend R. W. Petrea that speaks of George's life and family.

George Cline Jr is the executor for the estate of George Cline (1.8.9) in April 1829. George Jr is presumed to be the son of George Cline, as also stated in FH1. The presumption here is based upon George Jr's serving as executor, the census, and his close association with the other sons of George Cline. George Jr is present, as the son born 1794-1800, in George Cline's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix C).

George Jr is a securitor for a debt of his brother, Joseph, in January 1831 and administers the estate of Joseph Cline after he dies in October 1831. In July 1832, George Jr is securitor for his brother Michael Cline's debts.

George Cline Jr, Joseph Cline, and Daniel Cline have adjoining properties. These properties are all portions of the land inherited from Michael Cline (1.8) by George Cline (1.8.9) and Daniel Cline (1.8.13) as noted in FH1 and inferred from the land records. On October 25, 1829, George Jr acquires 176 acres from his uncle Daniel Cline, including Daniel's home, on Little Coldwater Creek.

George Jr appears several times in Cabarrus county court records in 1837, 1841 and 1843. He and his family appear in the Cabarrus county 1820-1860 census (Appendix D-G, I). All of George's children are baptized at St. John's Church.

(1.8.9.4.2) Archibald Cline, son of George Cline Jr (1.8.9.4). Archibald is born on February 18, 1822 and dies on October 15, 1901. He, his two wives and two of his sons are buried at St. John's Church, as are his father and mother. Archibald marries first Christina Ridenhour on January 6, 1844 and marries second Christina's sister, Mary Adeline Ridenhour, on January 3, 1856. Archibald and his family are in the Cabarrus county 1850 and 1860 census (Appendix G, I). FH1 discusses eight children, the first four of whom are born to Archibald and his first wife:

Her birth date is consistent with that of one of the two daughters born 1794-1800 in George Cline's (1.8.9) household in the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix C). Elizabeth marries John Fisher on October 13, 1818 per FH1.

Elizabeth Cline Fisher's children are per FH1:

(1.8.9.5.1) Lovinia Fisher, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Fisher (1.8.9.5). Lovinia is born on August 13, 1819 and marries N. C. Parham on May 18, 1841. FH1 names one child:

> Julia Parham, marries a Mr. Bangle. FH1 names one child.

(1.8.9.5.2) George Wilson Fisher, son of Elizabeth Cline Fisher (1.8.9.5). George is born on December 2, 1820 and marries Catherine Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2), on October 17, 1850 per the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866. FH1 misidentifies George's wife as Catherine's sister, Elizabeth Cline. George's wife dies at the birth of their first child. He does not remarry and returns to North Carolina in his later years to live with his daughter, who is discussed in FH1:

> Missouri Fisher, born May 20, 1852 in Missouri and dies in June 1927 in Concord, North Carolina. She marries Rufus Alexander Brown on September 5, 1872 in Cabarrus county. FH1 names nine children.

(1.8.9.5.6) Mary Fisher, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Fisher (1.8.9.5). Mary is born on March 8, 1829 and marries Josiah Litaker on August 1, 1853. FH1 names one child:

Elizabeth Litaker, marries a Mr. Hagler.

(1.8.9.5.7) Israel A. Fisher, son of Elizabeth Cline Fisher (1.8.9.5). Israel is born on August 12, 1832. He marries first Mary C. Barnhardt and marries second Leah Barnhardt Styres.

(1.8.9.5.8) Caroline Fisher, daughter of Elizabeth Cline Fisher (1.8.9.5). Caroline is born on May 15, 1834 and marries James Litaker on August 11, 1855. FH1 names one child:

Ugean (Eugene) Litaker.

(1.8.9.6) Christina Cline, daughter of George Cline (1.8.9). (Appendix K, p 427). Christina is a proven daughter of George Cline (1.8.9). The baptism records at St. Johns Church show that Christina is a daughter of George and Mary Cline, baptized by Rev. Adam Marcard on May 26, 1798. She appears as one of the two daughters born 1794-1800 in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix C). FH1 states that she marries Samuel Hartsell on June 5, 1819 and that they move to northeast Mississippi about 1837. Knowledge of Christina's children is from a letter that she and her son, William, wrote from Tishamingo county, Mississippi to Christina's brother George Cline Jr (1.8.9.4) in 1848. This letter is found in the files at Cannon Memorial Library, Conrord and is quoted in FH1.

Christina Cline Hartsell's children are per FH1:

(1.8.9.6.1) Jonathan Hartsell, son of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). Jonathan is born about 1820 and is a farm overseer in Alabama in 1848.

(1.8.9.6.2) Matthew Hartsell, son of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). Matthew is born about 1823 and is a farm overseer in southern Mississippi in 1848.

(1.8.9.6.3) William T. Hartsell, son of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). William is born about 1827 and marries Martha Ann Davis on December 21, 1852 in Tishamingo county, Mississippi.

(1.8.9.6.4) Samuel Franklin Hartsell, son of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). Samuel is born in 1832 and marries Ann M. Metts on February 1, 1856 in Tishamingo county, Mississippi.

(1.8.9.6.5) Mary A. Hartsell, daughter of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). Mary is born about 1836.

(1.8.9.6.6) Daniel C. Hartsell, son of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). FH1 calls him David C. Hartsell, but the 1848 letter calls him Daniel. He is born in 1838 after his family moves to Mississippi from Cabarrus county.

(1.8.9.6.7) Sarah Ann Hartsell, daughter of Christina Cline Hartsell (1.8.9.6). Sarah is born in 1841 in Mississippi.

(1.8.9.7) Joseph Cline, son of George Cline (1.8.9). (Appendix K, p 432). FH1 states that Joseph is born on July 31, 1806. This is consistent with the son born 1800-1810 in the household of George Cline (1.8.9) in the Cabarrus county 1810 census (Appendix C).

FH1 also states that Joseph is a son of George Cline (1.8.9). This relationship is substantiated by the above census data, Joseph's land location, and his close association with other sons of George Cline.

In November 1831, Joseph's land is noted as bordering that of his brother George Cline Jr (1.8.9.4) and his uncle Daniel Cline (1.8.13). In January 1831, Joseph's brother George Cline Jr is securitor for Joseph's debt. After Joseph dies in October 1831, George Cline Jr administers Joseph's estate with Joseph's brother Michael Cline (1.8.9.2) as security.

Joseph appears in land records in January 1831 when he mortgages 96 acres to his brother George Cline Jr to secure a $300 debt. George Jr sells Joseph's 96 acres to cover the debt in November 1831 as part of Joseph's estate settlement.

Joseph marries Christina Blackwelder on October 30, 1826. Christina is born on May 11, 1804 and dies on December 2, 1871. Both Joseph and Christina are buried at St. John's Church in Cabarrus county.

Joseph and Christina, two young females, and Joseph's widowed mother Maria are all in Joseph's household in the Cabarrus county 1830 census (Appendix E).

In the 1840 census, Joseph's widow and two children are present in the household of Joseph's brother, George Cline Jr. Joseph's widow, Christina, and her two children appear in their own household in the Cabarrus county 1850 census. Christina is in her son Jacob's household in the Cabarrus county 1860 census (Appendix F, G, I).

FH1 states that after Joseph's death his widow Christina marries a Mr. Ludwick and moves to Illinois. If so, this does not occur until after 1860 and Christina returns to Cabarrus county, where she is buried next to Joseph in 1871.

Joseph and Christina's children are in the baptism records of St. John's Church. FH1 attributes two additional children, John and Matilda, from these baptism records to Joseph and Christina. However, those two children are actually the children of Joseph Cline (1.3.1.1.2) and Leah Fink Cline.

Joseph Cline's children are per FH1, the census, and baptism records:

(1.8.9.7.1) child Cline, possible daughter of Joseph Cline (1.8.9.7). This possible daughter appears in Joseph's household in the 1830 census as born 1825-1830. She is not in the household of Joseph's widow in the 1840 census (Appendix E, F). If she is a daughter, she dies young.

(1.8.9.7.2) Elizabeth Caroline Cline, daughter of Joseph Cline (1.8.9.7). (Appendix K, p 432). Elizabeth is born on May 20, 1829 and dies on February 22, 1858. She appears with her parents in the 1830, 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix E-G). She marries Aaron Adam Friesland on August 8, 1852 and they move to Illinois. FH1 names one child:

John Adam Friesland.

(1.8.9.7.3) Jacob A. Cline, son of Joseph Cline (1.8.9.7). (Appendix K, p 432). Jacob is born on April 25, 1831 and dies on March 20, 1913. He and his wife are buried at St. John's Church.

Jacob appears with his mother in the 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix F, G). Jacob marries Sarah F. Blackwelder on March 19, 1853. They are in the Cabarrus county 1860 census with two children and Jacob's mother Christina living with them (Appendix I). FH1 names five children:

Harvey Alexander Cline, born on January 8, 1854 and dies November 8, 1905. He appears in his father's household in the 1860 census. He marries Elizabeth C. Moose on June 18, 1874. FH1 names four children.

William Martin Cline, born July 21, 1855 and appears in his father's household in the 1860 census. He marries Cordelia Cress on March 2, 1876. FH1 names eight children.

Luther C. Cline, born September 8, 1860 and dies April 12, 1941. He marries Lula K. Dry on December 2, 1886. FH1 discusses six children.

Christena Cline, born September 8, 1860 (twin) and dies September 14, 1931. She marries Martin Luther Safrit on December 23, 1877. FH1 names six children.

Jacob Robert Cline, born August 28, 1868 and marries Nannie Belle Fink on December 27, 1888. FH1 names five children.

child Cline (1.8.10), born about 1767
child of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. The funeral service for Michael Cline's wife, Catherine, notes that they had fourteen children. Only twelve are found in the records. It is presumed that two of the children die as infants. The birth dates for these infants are inferred from the 1765-1770 gap in birth dates of the known children.

Source. Church record (Appendix K, p 426).

child Cline (1.8.11), born about 1769
child of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. The funeral service for Michael Cline's wife, Catherine, notes that they had fourteen children. Only twelve are found in the records. It is presumed that two of the children died as infants. The birth dates for these infants are inferred from the 1765-1770 gap in birth dates of the known children.

Source. Church record (Appendix K, p 426).

Anna Margaret Cline (1.8.12)
daughter of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage Rationale. Michael Cline names Anna Margaret as his daughter in his will of December 1, 1784. Michael states in his will that he has two single daughters at that time and identifies Anna Margaret as one of these two single daughters.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix K, p 426) and FH6.

Anna Margaret Cline is born on October 24, 1770 and marries James Scott on August 10, 1789. This information is recorded in the Bible of James Scott per FH6. Anna Margaret is the second wife of James Scott who has six children with his first wife.

It is noted that FH1 states that Anna Margaret Cline marries Abraham Misenheimer. However, that statement is based on oral tradition in the Misenheimer family rather than documented records. The Bible record cited in FH6 is more likely correct and is utilized here.

Anna Margaret and James Scott have four sons, and she dies on October 8, 1813, when her sons are still young men per FH6.

Anna Margaret Cline Scott's children are per FH6:

(1.8.12.1) John Scott, son of Anna Margaret Cline Scott (1.8.12). John is born about 1790. He is in his father's household on page 161 of the Mecklenburg county 1790 census, the Cabarrus county 1800 census, and on page 142 of the Cabarrus county 1810 census. John marries Katy Hartsell in 1812.

(1.8.12.2) Michael Scott, son of Anna Margaret Cline Scott (1.8.12). Michael is born on April 11, 1791 and dies in 1842. He is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 and 1810 census. He marries Rachel Goodnight on May 26, 1814. Rachel is born in 1796.

(1.8.12.3) Alexander Scott, son of Anna Margaret Cline Scott (1.8.12). Alexander is born about 1795 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 and 1810 census.

(1.8.12.4) George Scott, son of Anna Margaret Cline Scott (1.8.12). George is born about 1797 and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 and 1810 census. George marries Elizabeth Slough in 1817.

Daniel Cline (1.8.13)
son of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage rationale. Michael Cline names Daniel as his son in his will of December 1, 1784. It is noted that there are two Daniel Clines in the Cabarrus county 1800 census. One is Michael's son Daniel (1.8.13) and the other is Daniel Cline (1.4.1.5), son of Boston Cline Jr of Lincoln county. The latter Daniel is only briefly in Cabarrus county and returns to Lincoln county about 1805, as discussed in Chapter 2. Michael's son Daniel (1.8.13) remains in Cabarrus county through 1829, when he moves to Missouri.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 432-435) and the census (Appendix B-D, H).

Daniel is born on October 4, 1771 and dies on March 3, 1856 per his gravestone at the Brazeau cemetery, Perry county, Missouri.

The first record for Daniel is in Cabarrus county when he marries Leah Blackwelder on January 19, 1795. Their bondsman is Frederick Milster. Leah is born in January 1771 and dies on May 12, 1847 per her gravestone, also in the Brazeau cemetery. Daniel Cline and his family appear in the Cabarrus county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D).

On April 19, 1796, Daniel is appointed guardian for his deceased sister Catherine's son, Michael Lewis, who is "disordered in his mind." Daniel's guardianship matters appear again in the court records of 1813-1815 for settlement of Michael Lewis' estate.

In July 1798, Daniel is a juror as are Silas Shinn and Michael Winekauf. They are all from Furrer's company. Daniel also is a juror in 1808, 1811-1813, and 1816.

On October 21, 1816, Daniel Cline, Michael Winecoff, Charles Blackwelder and Jacob Faggart (Fagot) are appointed to lay off one year's provisions for the widow and family of Michael Goodman, deceased.

In April 1798 and July 1799, Daniel is appointed overseer of the road from Concord to the fork in the road at Martin Slough's farm. In January 1814, Daniel is appointed overseer of the Fayetteville road from Coldwater Creek to Slough's field. In October 1814, Daniel and his brother George are appointed to lay out the Concord to Fayetteville road in order to avoid a hill on the west side of Coldwater Creek. Daniel is involved in property line disputes with his neighbor Charles Blackwelder in 1813 and in 1815 and with John Sharkles in 1815.

In October 1799, after the death of their mother in 1798, Daniel's brother John deeds his inherited share of his father's land to his brothers Daniel and George. Land records also show that Daniel is granted 52 acres on Coldwater Creek on December 11, 1800; he sells 26 acres of this grant to his neighbor George Barnhardt on December 29, 1801. Daniel acquires property on the Great Road from George Slough on April 15, 1811. Daniel deeds his 150-acre share of his deceased father's land on Coldwater Creek to his brother George on November 18, 1817. Daniel is granted another 7 acres adjoining his Coldwater Creek land on December 22, 1817.

In 1822, Daniel acquires a lot on Union Street in Concord, the county seat. He sells his Union Street property to James G. Spears, the court clerk on September 19, 1829. On October 25, 1829, Daniel also deeds 176 acres on Little Coldwater Creek, including his home, to his nephew George Cline Jr (1.8.9.4) and Joseph Barnhart. This transaction is probably the land on the Great Road that Daniel acquired in 1811 from George Slough. These transactions appear to liquidate all of Daniel's land holdings. Daniel and his family then leave Cabarrus county and move to Perry county, Missouri, where they are on page 402 of the 1830 census.

Before leaving Cabarrus county, Daniel had witnessed Michael Winecoff's will on October 13, 1827. In January 1832, his nephew Michael Cline (1.8.9.2) proves Daniel's 1827 signature on the will of Michael Winecoff, deceased, for the Cabarrus county court probate proceeding.

The Brazeau, Perry county, Missouri records show that Daniel and his family are very active in the local Brazeau Presbyterian Church from its first permanent building in 1832 through church improvements in 1836 and 1840. Daniel and his sons are among those choosing their seats in the new pews, based upon their contributions to the church. Daniel's children continue to appear in the subsequent church records.

Daniel and his family are on pages 13, 14, and 18 of the Perry county, Missouri 1840 census and are in the Perry county 1850 census (Appendix H). His estate settlement papers and will dated January 29, 1856, document his children. Birth dates for Daniel's children are from the census and church records.

Daniel Cline's children are:

(1.8.13.1) Mary (Polly) Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 435). Per Daniel Cline's will, his daughter Mary marries David Milster in Cabarrus county. David's relationship to Frederick Milster, who is the bondsman for the marriage of Mary's father Daniel Cline, is not known. Mary is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800 and 1810 census (Appendix B, C). The graves of David Milster and his wife Polly are in the Brazeau cemetery, Perry county, Missouri. Mary (Polly) is born on November 4, 1795 and dies on October 21, 1873 per her gravestone. David is born on February 28, 1794 and dies on January 17, 1872 per his gravestone. Mary and David Milster are in household #829 in the 1850 Perry county census with six children in their household. Their seventh child, G. U. Milster, is inferred from the cemetery records.

Mary Cline Milster's children are per the census and cemetery records:

(1.8.13.1.1) Amzi A. Milster, son of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). (Appendix K, p 435). Amzi is born on September 20, 1822 in North Carolina and dies on June 1, 1868 per his gravestone in the Brazeau cemetery. Amzi marries a Sarah, who is born on February 9, 1838 and dies on September 9, 1914 per her grave stone beside her husband's.

(1.8.13.1.2) Robert R. Milster, son of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). (Appendix K, p 435). Robert is born on August 14, 1824 in North Carolina and dies on February 26, 1897 per his gravestone in Brazeau cemetery. Robert marries Ann Luttrell Gibson, who is born on March 28, 1838 and dies on October 1, 1930 per her gravestone beside her husband's.

(1.8.13.1.3) Leah J. Milster, daughter of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). Leah is born in 1826 in North Carolina.

(1.8.13.1.4) G. U. Milster, possible son of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). (Appendix K, p 435). There is a gravestone in Brazeau cemetery for G. U. Milster who is born on April 9, 1830 and dies on July 8, 1906. His wife Nancy J. is born June 21, 1878 and dies March 23, 1936. G. U. Milster is not a son of Daniel Milster because G. U. Milster's birth date conflicts with that of Daniel Milster's proven son, Crawford Milster. Therefore, it is presumed that G. U. Milster is a son of David Milster, the only other known Milster family in the Brazeau area.

(1.8.13.1.5) Mary A. Milster, daughter of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). Mary is born in 1834 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.1.6) Harvey (Harris) A. Milster, son of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). (Appendix K, p 435). There is a gravestone in Brazeau cemetery for Harris Milster born on March 5, 1835 and dies on February 14, 1908. The Harvey A. Milster in the 1850 census is also born in 1835 in Missouri, and it is presumed that Harvey and Harris is the same person. Harris's wife, Mary Jane Milster, is buried beside him, and she is born on May 1, 1838 and dies January 30, 1929.

(1.8.13.1.7) Ann C. Milster, daughter of Mary Cline Milster (1.8.13.1). Ann is born in 1838 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.2) Solomon Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 434, 435-436). Solomon is named as a son in Daniel Cline's will. Solomon is born in 1797 per his listing in the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H). Solomon is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). He serves in the War of 1812 in the Lincoln county militia, 7th company, which is the same unit in which his second cousin, David Cline (1.3.1.2), serves. Solomon marries Margaret (Peggy) Barnhart on July 20, 1822. Margaret is born on December 3, 1797 and dies on March 5, 18__, per her Brazeau cemetery grave stone.

Solomon has his own household with his wife and three children in the Cabarrus county 1830 census (Appendix E). They then move to Missouri and join Solomon's father there. On June 7, 1835, Solomon and Margaret Cline are admitted to the Brazeau Presbyterian Church, Perry county, Missouri, where he pledges money to the church building fund in 1836 and 1838-1840. Solomon has his wife and five children in his household on page 13 of the Perry county, Missouri 1840 census.

The 1840 census data show that Solomon has one son and four daughters. The St. John's Church baptism records in Cabarrus county document the first four of these children.

Solomon Cline's children are:

(1.8.13.2.1) John Monroe Cline, son of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2). (Appendix K, p 435). John is born on January 26, 1824 and dies on October 30, 1845 per his Brazeau cemetery gravestone. The gravestone was read as being for James M. Cline. However, the birth date on the gravestone matches precisely his St. John's Church baptism record. John probably does not marry since he does not appear in the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866.

(1.8.13.2.2) Leah Melissa Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2). (Appendix K, p 435, 436). Leah is born on January 10, 1826. Miss Melissa Cline joins the Brazeau Presbyterian Church on November 16, 1845. On October 14, 1847, Leah marries James C. Wallace of Cape Girardeau county, Missouri, per the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866.

(1.8.13.2.3) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2). (Appendix K, p 435, 436). Elizabeth is born on January 22, 1828. Miss Elizabeth Cline joins the Brazeau Presbyterian Church on November 16, 1845. She marries William L. Smith, of Cape Giradeau county, Missouri, on October 22, 1846, per the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866.

(1.8.13.2.4) Catherine (Catrine) Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2). (Appendix K, p 435, 436). Catrine is born on August 3, 1830. Miss Catherine Cline joins the Brazeau Presbyterian Church in May 1848. She marries George W. Fisher (1.8.9.5.2) on October 17, 1850, per the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866. Catherine and George Fisher are living with her parents, Solomon and Margaret Cline at the time of the Perry county 1850 census (Appendix H). FH1 states that Catherine Fisher dies after the birth of her only child, a daughter who is discussed in FH1:

> Missouri Fisher, born May 20, 1852 in Missouri and dies in June 1927 in Concord, North Carolina. She marries Rufus Alexander Brown on September 5, 1872 in Cabarrus county. FH1 names nine children.

(1.8.13.2.5) Sophia Ann Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (1.8.13.2). (Appendix K, p 435). Sophia is born on April 7, 1831 and dies on March 9, 1853 per her gravestone at Brazeau cemetery. Sophia is living with her parents at the time of the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census, which states that she is born in 1834 in Missouri (Appendix H). Apparently she does not marry, since she does not appear in the Perry county, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866.

(1.8.13.3) Mary Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 435, 436). Mary Elizabeth is born on January 21, 1799, per St. John's Church baptism records. She is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1800-1820 census (Appendix B-D). Her father's will states that his daughter Mary Elizabeth marries Daniel W. Milster. Daniel's relationship to Frederick Milster, who is the bondsman for the marriage of Mary's father Daniel, is not known. There is a gravestone at Brazeau cemetery for Betty Milster, born on January 21, 1799 and dies on November 18, 1857. Mary Elizabeth and Daniel Milster are in household #964 of the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census with the younger eight of their 10 children in their household.

Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster's children are per the census, estate papers and cemetery records:

(1.8.13.3.1) Salina Milster, daughter of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). (Appendix K, p 436). Salina is established as Mary Elizabeth's daughter in the estate papers of Salina's grandfather, Daniel Cline (1.8.13). Salina is born on February 11, 1823 and dies on July 15, 1913. She marries first James Green and marries second James Pullerson per her gravestone in the Brazau cemetery. James Green dies on March 18, 1871 and his gravestone is beside hers.

(1.8.13.3.2) Lawson Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). (Appendix K, p 436). Lawson is established as Mary Elizabeth's son in his grandfather Daniel Cline's (1.8.13) estate papers. There is a gravestone for a Lanson Milster beside that of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster. This Lanson Milster and Lawson Milster are presumed to be the same person. Lanson is born on September 10, 1824 and dies March 9, 1856 per his gravestone.

(1.8.13.3.3) Jane C. Milster, daughter of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). Jane is born in 1825 in North Carolina.

(1.8.13.3.4) Satiria R. Milster, daughter of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). (Appendix K, p 436). Satiria is born on October 16, 1826 and dies on June 27, 1854, and is named as a daughter of D. W. and E. Milster on her gravestone in the Brazeau cemetery. Per the 1850 census, Satiria is called Statiria, born 1827-1828 in North Carolina.

(1.8.13.3.5) Robert Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). (Appendix K, p 436). Robert is born in 1829 in Missouri. The estate papers of Robert's grandfather, Daniel Cline (1.8.13), state that Robert is in Marion county, Oregon Territory where on January 1, 1859 he appoints his brother Abner W. Milster to represent his interest in the estate.

(1.8.13.3.6) Crawford W. Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). Crawford is born in 1830 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.3.7) Mary D. Milster, daughter of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). (Appendix K, p 436). Mary is born in 1832 in Missouri. She marries H. L. Leonard per her grandfather Daniel Cline's (1.8.13) estate papers.

(1.8.13.3.8) Moses S. Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). Moses is born in 1835 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.3.9) Abner W. Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). Abner is born in 1838 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.3.10) Daniel C. Milster, son of Mary Elizabeth Cline Milster (1.8.13.3). Appendix K, p 436). Daniel is born in 1843 in Missouri per the census. There is in the Perry county, Missouri 1870-1900 census and in the Brazeau cemetery a Cline D. Milster, born on November 25, 1843 and dies on December 5, 1911. Daniel C. Milster and Cline D. Milster seem to be the same person. Cline D. Milster marries Isabella Fenwick on February 2, 1865. She is born on January 26, 1843 in Bavaria and dies on August 27, 1920 per her gravestone next to her husband's. Their children are per the Perry county 1870 and 1900 census and cemetery records:

Fanny Milster, born 1866 in Missouri. She marries Edward Lane and dies February 28, 1901 per her grave stone in the Brazeau cemetery.

Arthur Milster, born 1868 in Missouri. His wife is Uline Milster. Arthur dies August 29, 1901 per his gravestone in the Brazeau cemetery.

Dora Milster, born 1870 and dies 1936 per her gravestone near her parents in the Brazeau cemetery. She marries a Mr. Layton.

John R. S. Milster, born September 1872. John Ralph Milster is born 1872 and dies 1940, per his grave stone in Brazeau cemetery.

(1.8.13.4) Malinda Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 434, 436). Malinda is named as a daughter in her father's will and is in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D) and in the Perry county, Missouri 1830-1850 census. Malinda is born in North Carolina on December 5, 1801 and dies on March 9, 1856 per her gravestone in Brazeau cemetery. She is among those pledging money to the Brazeau Presbyterian Church in 1838-1839. Malinda is in her father's household in the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H). She does not marry per her father's estate papers.

(1.8.13.5) Daniel U. Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 434, 435). Daniel is born in 1809 in North Carolina. He is named as a son in his father's will and is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). He marries a Dorcas, (maiden name unknown), who is born in 1815 in North Carolina. Daniel is not found in the 1830 census, but has his own household with his wife and four children on page 14 of the Perry county, Missouri 1840 census. Daniel is among those pledging money to the Brazeau Presbyterian Church in 1832 and 1836-1839. In 1842, Daniel is elected as one of the singing clerks at the Brazeau Presbyterian Church. His wife Darcus (Dorcas) and daughter Minerva Cline join the church in 1847 and 1848, respectively. Daniel and his family are not in the Perry county census after 1850. Neither he nor any of his children are buried at the Brazeau cemetery and his children are not found in the Perry county marriage records. Therefore, Daniel Cline and his family seem to have moved from Perry county after the 1850 census. He and his wife have seven children in their household in the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H).

Daniel U. Cline's children are:

(1.8.13.5.1) Minerva Cline, daughter of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Minerva is born in 1832 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.2) Oliver H. Cline, son of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Oliver is born in 1834 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.3) Talitha J. Cline, daughter of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Talitha is born in 1837 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.4) Martha J. Cline, daughter of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Martha is born in 1842 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.5) Thomas V. Cline, son of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Thomas is born in 1843 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.6) James M. Cline, son of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). James is born in 1845 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.5.7) Edward Cline, son of Daniel U. Cline (1.8.13.5). Edward is born in 1850 in Missouri.

(1.8.13.6) Isabella Cline, daughter of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 435). Isabella is named as a daughter in her father's will. She is the youngest daughter, born 1804-1810, in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D) and the Perry county, Missouri 1830 census. Isabella marries Eli Clifton on February 6, 1834 in Missouri per Perry County, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 1. She and Eli are not found in the Perry county 1850 census. It is presumed they move elsewhere.

(1.8.13.7) Absalom Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 434, 435). Absalom is born about 1810 and dies in 1840 per the following analysis of census data. Absalom is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 census, born 1810-1820, (Appendix D) and is in his father's household in the Perry county, Missouri 1830 census, born 1800-1810. Absalom's entries in the census can be distinguished from those of his brothers, since the birth years of the other brothers are known.

The 1856 will of Daniel Cline states that his son, Absalom, is deceased and that his inheritance share is to pass to Absalom's two named children. The name of Absalom's wife is unknown. Absalom is a contributor to the Brazeau Presbyterian Church in 1832 and 1836-1839. He chooses his seat in the new pews in February 1840. He does not appear in the 1840 or 1850 census and probably dies in 1840 prior to the census.

Absalom Cline's children are per his father's will:

(1.8.13.7.1) Martha Virginia Cline, daughter of Absalom Cline (1.8.13.7). (Appendix K, p 435). Martha marries William J. Baldridge. Daniel Cline (1.8.13) names both his grand daughter Martha Virginia and her husband in his 1856 will.

(1.8.13.7.2) William J. Cline, son of Absalom Cline (1.8.13.7). (Appendix K, p 435). Daniel Cline (1.8.13) names William as his grandson in his 1856 will.

(1.8.13.8) Moses Cline, son of Daniel Cline (1.8.13). (Appendix K, p 434, 435). Moses is named as a son in his father's will. Moses is in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1820 census (Appendix D) and the Perry county, Missouri 1830 census. He has his own household with his wife and one child on page 18 of the Perry county 1840 census. Moses is born in 1814 in North Carolina and marries Caroline (maiden name not known), who is born in 1822 in Missouri per the Perry county, Missouri 1850 census (Appendix H). Moses pledges money to the Brazeau Presbyterian Church in 1836 and 1838 and is elected as a singing clerk of the church in 1842. His wife, Caroline Cline, joins the church in 1843. Moses Cline dies in June 1877 at the home of R. H. Barber in Wayne county, Missouri per abstracted newspaper obituaries of 1862-1877. Moses and Caroline have three children in their household in the Perry county 1850 and 1860 census.

Moses Cline's children are:

(1.8.13.8.1) Oliver W. Cline, M.D., son of Moses Cline (1.8.13.8). (Appendix K, p 436) Oliver is born in Missouri on November 7, 1839 and dies on November 26, 1906 per his gravestone at Brazeau cemetery. He marries Columbia Shaner on April 28, 1864 per the Perry County, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866. Columbia is born on October 19, 1844 and dies on February 1, 1925. She is buried beside her husband. Oliver and his wife have three children in the Perry county 1900 census. Their three children do not marry per Mrs. Louella Barber of Brazeau, Missouri in correspondence of 1999. Oliver Cline's children are buried beside their parents in the Brazeau cemetery:

Arthur W. Cline, born April 13, 1866 and dies March 17, 1939.

William B. Cline, born August 31, 1870 and dies October 20, 1953.

Carrie Cline, born December 14, 1873 and dies January 22, 1969.

(1.8.13.8.2) Emily Cline, daughter of Moses Cline (1.8.13.8). Emily is born in 1842 in Missouri and marries Robert Hughey on October 15, 1861 per the Perry County, Missouri Marriage Records, Book 2, 1841-1866.

(1.8.13.8.3) Serena Columbia Cline, daughter of Moses Cline (1.8.13.8). Serena is born in 1848.

John Cline (1.8.14)
son of Michael Cline (1.8)

Lineage rationale. Michael Cline names John as his son in his will of December 1, 1784. John Cline, orphan of Michael Cline, being of full age chooses Francis Lock as his guardian in January 1791 in Cabarrus county. There is only this one adult John Cline in the Cabarrus county and Rowan county area records during the period 1787-1809 and there is no John Cline in these records again until 1830.

Sources. Civil records (Appendix K, p 437).

John is probably born 1770-1774. His birth date is derived from the court record noting that he is "of full age" in January 1791, when he chooses a guardian. This is taken to mean that John is at least 16 but no more than 20 years old. Further attesting to John's being born by 1774 is his attendance at Francis Seals' estate sale in 1792.

In 1796, a Joh. Klein is confirmed at Dutch Buffalo Creek Church, later called St. John's Church. This could be John (1.8.14), although he would have been 22-26 years old, which is quite old, since confirmation normally happens around 14-18 years of age. This confirmation entry is believed to be for another Klein. The Joh. may simply be Johan, the often-used German saint's first name for boys, rather than Johannes, which means John in English. The middle name for *Joh.*Klein may have been inadvertently omitted. Thus, the confirmation entry may be for Joh. David Klein (1.3.1.2), born 1777, who is the only known young male Klein (Cline) close to confirmation age in 1796 in this area.

John marries Rachel Shaver on November 5, 1798 in Cabarrus Co. In April 1799, John registers his cattle mark in court. John holds land in Cabarrus county until October 21, 1799, when he deeds to his brothers George and Daniel his share of the land they inherited from their father. John then appears to move to Rowan county.

On March 6, 1805, John Cline witnesses a deed for 100 acres on the south side of the Yadkin River in Rowan county and proves it in the Salisbury court in November 1805. On September 25, 1809, John Cline and Philip Swicegood witness a deed from Philip Harmon to David Harmon on Swan Creek in northern Rowan county. This John Cline is presumed to be John Cline (1.8.14) from Cabarrus county, since there is no other known John Cline in the Rowan and Cabarrus county area at this time.

On April 20, 1802, John Cline sues the administrator for John Smith in the Cabarrus county court. John probably travels back to Cabarrus county from Rowan county to bring this suit.

FH1 states that John Cline of Cabarrus county moves to Sumner county, Tennessee, where his wife's parents have moved. However, the John Cline in Sumner county, Tennessee described in FH1 is actually from Lincoln county and is a son of Martin Cline as documented in the Martin Cline

(4.1.2) portion of Chapter 2 in this book. The John Cline in Sumner county, Tennessee is born in 1785 and his wife is Catherine. He clearly is not the John Cline (1.8.14) of Cabarrus county, who is born 1770-1774 and has a wife Rachel Shaver.

John Cline (1.8.14) of Cabarrus county is not found in any North Carolina records after 1809. A search for John Cline, of the appropriate age to be Michael's son, in the adjacent states of South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and Tennessee turns up no match in the census records of 1800-1850.

It is speculated that John Cline (1.8.14) dies soon after arriving in Tennessee and therefore does not appear there in either the civil records or the census. There is some evidence that his descendants are in Knox county, Tennessee.

There is a younger John Cline, born in 1790-1800, in the Knox county, Tennessee 1830 census who might be a son of John Cline (1.8.14) of Cabarrus county. He is a possible son of John Cline because he names his sons Archibald and George, which are unusual given names among Clines. John's possible father, John Cline (1.8.14), has a brother George who has a son George and a grandson Archibald. This younger John Cline marries in 1813 in Knox county, Tennessee and dies there in 1847. Two possible daughters of John Cline (1.8.14) marry in Knox county in 1818 and 1828.

These facts lead to a very speculative conclusion that John Cline (1.8.14) comes to Knox county, Tennessee about 1810 and dies before 1820, since he is not in the Tennessee 1820 or 1830 census. Further, his son John marries there in 1813, is in the 1830-1840 census and dies in 1847, leaving the family shown in the Knox county 1850 census. It is noted that this possible son John would probably have to be born somewhat prior to his father's marriage to Rachel Shaver in 1798, assuming John and his father's marriage dates have been properly transcribed from the original records.

John Cline's possible children are:

(1.8.14.1) John Cline, possible son of John Cline (1.8.14). (Appendix K, p 437). John is born 1790-1800 per his listing on page 376 of the 1830 census and on page 23 of the 1840 census for Knox county, Tennessee. John has the only Cline family in Knox county, Tennessee after 1820. He marries Polly Miltebarger on March 13, 1813, in Knox county, Tennessee. Polly is born in 1797 in Virginia, per her listing on page 385 of the Knox county 1850 census. John and Polly have three daughters and four sons in their household in the 1830 census and two daughters and six sons in their household in the 1840 census.

John dies in Knox county, Tennessee and leaves his widow Mary (Polly), who applies on October 6, 1847 for a pension for her husband's War of 1812 service.

John Cline's children are per the 1850 census and marriage records:

(1.8.14.1.1) Martha Cline, possible daughter of John Cline (1.8.14.1). (Appendix K, p 437). Martha appears to be one of two daughters born 1815-1820 in her father's household in the Knox county 1830 census. She marries John Snider on March 5, 1833 in Knox county, Tennessee.

(1.8.14.1.2) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.8.14.1). She is the second of two daughters born 1815-1820 in her father's household in the Knox county 1830 census. She is still in her father's household in the 1840 census.

(1.8.14.1.3) Archibald Cline, probable son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). Archibald appears to be the son born about 1820 in his father's household in the Knox county 1830 and 1840 census. Per his listing on page 381 of the Knox county 1850 census, Archibald is born in 1817 in Tennessee and has a wife Elvira, born 1815 in Tennessee, and four children in his household:

William P. Cline, born 1844 in Tennessee.

Elizabeth J. Cline, born 1845 in Tennessee.

James H. Cline, born 1848 in Tennessee.

Susan A. Cline, born 1850 in Tennessee.

(1.8.14.1.4) George Cline, probable son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). George appears to be the son born 1820-1825 in his father's household in the Knox county 1830 and 1840 census. Per his listing on page 358 of the Knox county 1850 census, George is born in 1825 in Tennessee and has his wife Elizabeth, born in 1824, and one child in his household:

Archibald Cline, born 1848 in Tennessee.

(1.8.14.1.5) child Cline, daughter of John Cline (1.8.14.1). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Knox county 1830 and 1840 census.

(1.8.14.1.6) Samuel Cline, probable son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). Samuel appears to be one of the two sons born 1825-1830 in his father's household in the Knox county 1830 and 1840 census. Per his listing on page 365 of the 1850 Knox county census, he is born in 1829 in Tennessee and has his wife Lidia, born in 1830 in Tennessee, in his household.

(1.8.14.1.7) child Cline, son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). He is the second of two sons born 1825-1830 in his father's household in the Knox county 1830 and 1840 census. He is not found in the Knox county 1850 census.

(1.8.14.1.8) John Cline, son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). John appears to be one of two sons born 1830-1835 in his father's household in the 1840 Knox county census. Per his listing on page 385 of the Knox county 1850 census, he is born in 1834 in Tennessee and is living with his widowed mother Mary (Polly) Cline.

(1.8.14.1.9) child Cline, son of John Cline (1.8.14.1). He is the second of two sons born 1830-1835 in his father's household in the 1840 Knox county census. He is not found in the Knox county 1850 census.

(1.8.14.2) Susan Cline, possible daughter of John Cline (1.8.14). (Appendix K, p 438). Susan marries John McBride on December 2, 1818 in Knox county, Tennessee. She is of an age to be a child of John Cline, believed to be a resident of Knox county.

(1.8.14.3) Rebecca Cline, possible daughter of John Cline (1.8.14). (Appendix K, p 438). Rebecca marries Joseph Rutherford on October 30, 1828 in Knox county, Tennessee. She is of an age to be a child of John Cline, believed to be a resident of Knox county.

Jacob Cline of Bavaria

Lineage rationale. Jacob Cline comes to Cabarrus county from Bavaria about 1833 and is not related to any of the other Cline families in this book.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix K, p 438) and the census (Appendix F, G, I).

This Jacob Cline and his family immigrate to America about 1833. They come in through Charleston, South Carolina and migrate to Cabarrus county where they live in the area among other families of German origin. Jacob is naturalized in 1839, as noted in a January 1840 Cabarrus court record.

Jacob and his family are in the Cabarrus county 1840, 1850 and 1860 census. Listed in the household with Jacob are his wife Mary S. Cline and four children, the oldest born in Germany (Appendix F, G, I).

Jacob's widow Mary appears alone in her household on page 505 of the Cabarrus county 1870 census. Jacob's widow Mary Susan Cline dies at age 90 on December 31, 1882 per her gravestone at the Center Grove Evangelical Lutheran Church in Cabarrus county. Mary's birth date is 1799-1800 per the census.

Jacob Cline's children are per the census:

child Cline, son of Jacob Cline. He is born 1830-1835 and probably dies young. He appears in his father's household in only the Cabarrus county 1840 census.

Mary E. Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline. Mary is born in 1832 in Germany. She appears in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census.

Sarah Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline. Sarah is baptized at Organ Church in Rowan county on October 29, 1834. She appears in her father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840 and 1850 census.

Frederick Cline, son of Jacob Cline. Frederick is born 1838-1839 in Rowan county. He appears in his father's household in the Cabarrus county 1840-1860 census. Frederick marries Margaret Earnhart. Frederick dies on March 26, 1910 and Margaret dies on July 21, 1899. Both are buried at Center Grove Evangelical Lutheran Church in Cabarrus county.

Eliza Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline. Eliza is born 1840-1842 in Cabarrus county.

John Martin Clime

Lineage rationale. This family is not actually a Cline family, but is included for completeness because one Mecklenburg county deed interprets the name as Cline. That deed is one of four records for this family, with the others interpreting the name as either Clime or Climb. Further, they are not actually in North Carolina. They lived in the Waxaw settlement that is in current day South Carolina, although it was initially part of the old Mecklenberg county, North Carolina.

Sources. Civil records, (Appendix K, p 438) and the South Carolina census.

John Martin Climb claims 200 acres on September 6, 1754 on Cain Creek in Anson county. This part of Anson county became Mecklenburg county in 1762. Martin adds another 100 acres there on April 14, 1761. John Martin Cline and his wife Caterina sell this 302 acres to Robert Gault on February 17, 1763. This record notes that this land is granted to John Martin Climb on March 26, 1755, but names the seller as John Martin Cline. The Cain Creek land is in present-day Lancaster county, South Carolina. In the 1760s, however, that area was part of Mecklenburg county, North Carolina. John Martin Climb or Cline then disappears from the records in North Carolina.

However, a Martin Clime appears in Charleston, South Carolina where he is a tailor and buys a store lot in St. Philips Parish of Charleston on June 11, 1770. This is probably not the earlier Martin Climb (Clime), but may be his son, since the will of 1787 of this Martin of Charleston names his wife as Anna Christiana, not Caterina. The will also names a son George and George's minor children, Martin and Catherine Clime.

If this reasoning is correct, then John Martin Climb (Clime) may have been quite old (born about 1700) and dies, leaving a son Martin (born about 1730) in Charleston who dies in November 1787, leaving wife Anna Christiana, son George and grandchildren Martin and Catherine Clime.

John Martin and Catarina (Climb) Clime's possible descendants are:

Martin Clime, possible son of John Martin Clime. John Martin is born about 1730 and dies in November 1787 in Charleston, South Carolina. He marries Anna Christiana. Martin's will names his wife, a son George, and two grandchildren, Catherine and Martin:

> George Clime, son of Martin and Anna Christiana Clime. George is born about 1755. On page 41 of the Charleston, South Carolina 1790 census in St. Phillip's parish, there is a Mary Clime, head of household, with a son under 16 and a daughter. This might be George's widow and the children Martin and Catherine Clime. This implies that George dies between the time of his father's will in 1787 and before the 1790 census. George's children are:
> > Catherine Clime, daughter of George Clime. Catherine is probably born 1775-1785. She appears as a minor in her grandfather's 1787 will.
> > Martin Clime, son of George Clime. Martin is born 1775-1785 per the Charleston 1800 and 1810 census. Martin does not appear in the subsequent census and is presumed to have died by 1820. Martin's children are per the Charleston 1800 and 1810 census:

child Clime, son of Martin Clime, born 1795-1800.

Martin Clime, son of Martin Clime. Martin is born 1800-1810. Martin appears as head of household on page 142 of the Charleston 1830 census, where he is indexed as a Cline. Also in the household is his wife, born 1800-1810, three children born 1825-1830, and another female born 1770-1780. She may be Martin's mother or this wife's mother.

This saga of facts and speculation serves to establish that the John Martin Clime or Climb, who is in the South Carolina part of old Mecklenburg county in 1754-1763, is not a Cline. Only one deed abstractor chose to read the name as Cline. In any event, he does not linger in the western South Carolina area and apparently takes his family and descendants to Charleston, South Carolina.

Thus, this John Martin Clime (Climb) is not a Cline and has no connection to the Cline families of North Carolina.

Chapter 4

Cline Families of Rowan County North Carolina

Sources

The information in this chapter is drawn from 1790-1860 census records (tabulated in Appendices A-I) and from civil and church records (summarized in Appendix L).

Cline Families in Early Rowan County

There are three Cline families in the records of early Rowan county. Two of these families are actually residents of other counties as explained below.

The early Rowan county records for Cline, prior to the formation of Burke county from western Rowan county in 1777, all pertain to the Sebastian (Boston) Cline family. This family is in that western part of old Rowan county that became successively Burke county, then Lincoln county in 1782 and finally Catawba county in 1842. The Sebastian (Boston) Cline family is discussed in Chapter 2 of this book.

The Cline records in the southern part of Rowan county pertain to the Jacob Cline family of Cabarrus county and are discussed in Chapter 3 of this book.

The remaining early Rowan county Cline records pertain to the Peter Cline family and are discussed in this chapter.[1]

The Peter Cline Family

Peter Cline Sr (2.1) and Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1)

Lineage rationale. Peter Cline Sr is believed to be the Peter Cline who arrives in Pennsylvania in 1754 from the area of Franconia or Hess, Germany, as discussed in Chapter 1 of this book. No records are found for Peter Cline Sr in Pennsylvania, and he first appears in the North Carolina records in 1774. Peter Cline Jr is found living next to Peter Cline Sr in 1778 and 1779 and is presumed to be his son.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix L, p 440-441) and the census (Appendix A).

[1] The first three generations of descendants of Peter Cline, as determined by the research in this chapter, are tabulated in Table N (p 485) in Appendix O. A later fourth generation is discussed in this chapter, but not tabulated in Appendix O.

Peter Cline Sr and Peter Cline Jr are addressed together to facilitate distinguishing one from the other in the records.

The following discussion establishes that Peter Cline Sr and a son Peter Cline Jr come into the eastern region of Rowan county, probably in the late 1760s, and live first on two 100 acre tracts of land on the waters of the Uwharrie River. They relinquish that land and move to the Potts Creek area of Rowan county by 1778. Peter Cline Sr dies prior to 1787, leaving a son Peter Jr, who is married twice and then dies in November 1791.

The earliest record in North Carolina for Peter Cline is the Friedberg Diary of the early Moravian settlement, which notes that Sara Klein, daughter of Peter Klein, is married on January 23, 1774. She probably is born about 1750, so Peter probably is born about 1720.

On August 8, 1778, Peter Cline is listed as a "non-juror" in Captain David Smith's district in Rowan county. This means that he did not take the oath of allegiance required by the new North Carolina Assembly. Others listed as "non-jurors" in that district are Phillip Beck, Barney Young and Peter Lopp. Also in August of 1778, Peter Cline and Peter Cline Jr are on the tax list in Captain David Smith's district, subject to fourfold tax and each with an assessed value of 200 pounds. Captain David Smith's district includes the Potts Creek area of Rowan county, where Peter Cline is known to reside by at least 1779.

Also on Captain David Smith's 1778 tax list is a John Cline, listed as a poll subject to four-fold tax, but no property. John Cline is presumed to be the son of Jacob Cline (1.3) of Cabarrus county, rather than a son of Peter Cline.

In 1779, Peter Cline contributes 9 pounds for corn and supplies to support the Revolutionary War militia.

On September 25, 1779, John Davis claims 100 acres that contain improvements of Peter Cline Sr and 100 acres that contain improvements of Peter Cline Jr on the waters of the Uary River. The Uary River , now called the Uwharrie River, flows south through the western edge of Randolph county which was formed from Guilford county in 1779. Guilford was formed from Rowan county in 1771. Thus, the Uary River was in Rowan county prior to 1771, but is now about 10 miles east of the Rowan county line. However, the land entry description only differentiates between watersheds; i.e., the Uary River versus the Yadkin River – so the land is in the far- eastern part of 1779 Rowan county, within the Uary River watershed.

Land claims and deeds in this region of the Granville lands were on-hold from 1763, when the Granville land office closed, until 1778 and the advent of the new state government. Peter Cline Sr and Jr must have occupied their 100-acre tracts sometime after 1763 and sustained their improvements on the land for at least seven years to have a valid claim to pass to John Davis. The 1778 state requirement for validity was an improvement of seven years duration, and improvement was defined as a house or a cleared, enclosed cultivated area. Thus, Peter Sr and Peter Jr must have first occupied their land prior to 1771-1772, at least seven years before passing their improved claims to John Davis in 1778-1779. For Peter Cline Jr to be of legal age to make his 100-acre land claim prior to 1772, he is probably born about 1750.

As stated earlier, Peter Cline Sr and Peter Cline Jr are noted as holding land in the Potts Creek area by August 1778 per Captain David Smith's tax list of that date. No land ownership records are found for them prior to 1779. Their earlier records apparently did not survive.

On February 12, 1779, Peter Cline claims 250 acres on Potts Creek in Rowan county. This 250-acre claim has a history of ownership passing from Henry Wartman to Richard Barns and then to Peter Cline. The Potts Creek land is near the Yadkin River, in the central part of Rowan county in what is today Davidson county. On February 12, 1785, Peter claims another 100 acres on Potts Creek, adjoining his own land.

Two Peter Clines appear on the 1787 Rowan county tax lists. One entry is for a Peter Cline in Captain Dougless Haden's district, which is the Jersey settlement area near Potts Creek in current-day Davidson county. This tax list is a census of residents rather than property and shows no males and three females for the Peter Cline household. It appears that Peter Cline Sr has died, leaving his widow and two other females.

The second entry for a Peter Cline is on the 1787 tax list for Captain Bumgarner's district, which is a property list for the northwest Rowan county area that later becomes Davie county, and the northern part of Rowan county that was joined to Stokes county in 1789. Peter Cline is listed as holding 250 acres. This second Peter Cline entry is presumed to be for Peter Cline Jr and indicates that he holds land in the northern part of Rowan county which later became part of Stokes county, as well as further south on Potts Creek.

On May 18, 1789, Peter Cline receives a state grant of 350 acres on Potts creek and sells 100 acres of his grant on May 4, 1791 to Benjamin Simpson. The 1787 Peter Cline entry on Captain Dougless Haden's tax list seems to establish that Peter Cline Sr is deceased by 1787. Therefore, this 1789 state grant must be to Peter Cline Jr for his claim of 250 acres in 1779 and his additional 100-acre claim in 1785.

In other Rowan county actions, Peter Cline is administrator of a Steagle estate on November 8, 1785 and is bondsman for Sam Ingles' marriage on January 3, 1787.

In 1785, Peter Cline marries Rachell Lee. In November 1791, the will of Peter Cloyn (Peter Cline Jr) is probated in the Rowan county court and reveals that he had a first wife with whom he had sons Peter and Daniel, both now under age. Peter's second wife, Rachell Lee Cline, was a widow when they married and thus Peter has a stepdaughter Susannah Lee. Peter and Rachell have a baby, Mary, three weeks old in November 1791, born after Peter's death.

In the Rowan county 1790 census (Appendix A), there is only one Peter Cline household. It appears to be that of Peter and Rachell, who have one other female (Susannah Lee) and four males under 16 years old in their house (Peter, Daniel and two unknown, perhaps prior sons of Rachell Lee).

There is a Simpson Cline in the Rowan county 1790 census enumerated in a household near Peter Cline Jr. Simpson appears to have a wife and two young children, which is consistent with his being of the same generation as Peter Cline Jr. It is presumed that Simpson is also a son of Peter Cline Sr, since Peter Cline Sr is the only Cline in northern Rowan county old enough to have fathered Simpson. Nothing further is found for Simpson Cline in any subsequent North Carolina record or census or in any other state census. Presumably, he dies between 1790 and 1800.

There is an Esther Cline who marries a Mr. Getchy in 1787 in Rowan county. She seems to be of the generation of Peter Cline Sr's children. However, it is more likely that she is a daughter of Jacob Cline (1.3) of Cabarrus county, since Getchy families are found in that area rather than in northern Rowan county.

The probable children of Peter Cline Sr are discussed in the following sequence.

Probable children of Peter Cline Sr (2.1)

(2.1.1) Peter Cline Jr, born about 1750.

(2.1.2) Sara Cline, born about 1750.

(2.1.3) Simpson Cline, born about 1760.

Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1)
son of Peter Cline (2.1)

As previously discussed, Peter Cline Jr appears in eastern Rowan county as a landholder of 100 acres by 1771. He later has 350 acres in the Potts Creek area of central Rowan county, which becomes part of Davidson county in 1822. He also has 250 acres in the northernmost part of Rowan county that becomes part of Stokes county in 1789.

Peter Cline Jr marries twice. The name of his first wife is not known, but his second wife is a widow, Rachell Lee, whom he marries in 1785. Peter Cline Jr dies in 1791. His will states that he and his first wife have two sons, and he and his second wife have a daughter.

Peter Cline Jr's children are per his will:

(2.1.1.1) Peter Cline, son of Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1). (Appendix L, p 442). This third generation Peter Cline is born 1780-1784. He is a child of his father's first marriage and thus is born before 1785. Peter is in his father's household in the Rowan county 1790 census (Appendix A). The Stokes county 1810-1840 census entries for Peter are somewhat inconsistent, but show a birth date after 1780 (Appendix C-F). In his father's will of 1791, Peter is bequeathed all of his father's land, indicating that Peter is the eldest son. Peter first appears as an adult when he witnesses the will of Jacob Miller Jr on December 8, 1802 in Stokes county.

Shortly thereafter, on February 10, 1803, Peter marries Elizabeth Alberty in Stokes county. In the Stokes county 1810 census, Peter Cline, born 1784-1794, has in his household a male under 10, a female under 10, and no wife (Appendix C). Apparently Peter's first wife Elizabeth has died.

In December 1810, Peter's land is noted as bordering a state grant to Zachariah McAtee on Potts Creek in Rowan county and Peter is on the 1815 tax list in Captain Jonathan Davis' company in Rowan county. In February 1818, Peter files his accounting with the Rowan court for his guardianship of Levi Butner. Thus, it seems that Peter has retained his father's land and returns to Rowan county after the death of his first wife in Stokes county.

On September 17, 1812, Peter is bondsman for the marriage of Philip Cline to Polly Rial in Rowan county. The relationship between Peter Cline and Philip Cline is not known. Philip Cline (1.3.4) is identified in Chapter 3 of this book as a son of Jacob Cline (1.3) of Cabarrus county.

After 1818, Peter is found only in Stokes county records, where in 1819 he is ordered by the court to pay Katy Henning 12 pounds for maintenance of a bastard child fathered by him. The November 17, 1823 will of John Adam Henning notes that he has a daughter Katherine and that his daughter Mary Anna is the wife of Peter Cline, so Peter seems closely bound to the Henning family. On February 2, 1828, Peter and his wife Mary Henning Cline and other John Adam Henning heirs sell their inherited 54 acres on Bossnared Creek in Stokes county.

The Stokes county 1820 census shows that Peter and his wife, presumably Mary Anna Henning Cline, have in their household one son and three daughters, all 10 years old or younger (Appendix D). One daughter is probably the daughter presumed to be a newborn in Peter's 1810 census household. The other three children appear to have been born since 1810.

In the Stokes county 1830 census, the same Peter Cline apparently appears with his age group misstated (age 50-60 should be 40-50). His household now has five children born after the 1820 census and three of the four children from the previous 1820 census are still in the house (Appendix E).

Peter Cline is in the Stokes county 1840 census, although Peter is shown as age 40-50 when he should be 50-60. He has in his household six of the children who were in his 1830 household as well as two children born after 1830 (Appendix F).

From these 1810-1840 census records, it is determined that Peter Cline has twelve children.

The Moravian records note that Peter Cline's wife dies on May 12, 1845 in Bethania, which is outside Salem in then Stokes county. Peter dies prior to the 1850 census and his estate records do not cite his heirs. Those estate records of 1851 and 1853 are in Forsyth county, which was formed from Stokes county in 1849. However, the record of his estate sale includes three Clines who are probably his heirs. They are Ely (Eli) Cline, Henry Cline and Mary Cline.

Eli Cline is found in the Forsyth county 1850 census as head of his own household. There are also seven other young Clines in the Forsyth county 1850 census, all born in North Carolina and living in non-Cline households (Appendix G). Undoubtedly some of these seven Clines are Peter's children. In the following list of Peter's twelve children, as determined from the 1810-1840 census data, speculative associations are made with some of the seven Clines in the Forsyth county 1850 census.

Peter Cline's children are:

(2.1.1.1.1) child Cline, son of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). (Appendix L, p 442). He is born 1804-1810 to Peter and his first wife. He is in his father's household in the 1810 census but not in the 1820 census. It is speculated that he is the John Cline, born in 1806 in North Carolina, found in the Rowan county 1840 census (Appendix F) and the Madison county, Tennessee 1850 census (Appendix H).

It is further speculated that John is not in his father's 1820 household in Stokes county because he stays behind in Rowan county and is living with a non-Cline family, perhaps bound out to learn a trade. He perhaps chooses not to move to Stokes county with his father and his father's new wife. John appears to be in the household of his father's cousin, Henry Cline (2.1.3.2), in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E).

John Cline marries Polly Rumley on April 28, 1830 in Rowan county and Polly, born 1800-1810, appears to be with John and possibly their two new-born children in the household of Henry Cline in 1830. It appears that Polly dies prior to 1840. John has an older wife, Almira, born 1795 in North Carolina, in the Rowan county 1840 census and the Madison county, Tennessee 1850 census. John has four children enumerated in the 1840 census, none of whom are in his household in the 1850 census:

child Cline, a daughter born 1830-1835.

child Cline, a daughter born 1830-1835.

(2.1.1.1.2) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born in 1810 to Peter and his first wife and is in her father's household only in the Stokes county 1810 and 1820 census (Appendix C, D). She either marries or dies prior to the 1830 census.

(2.1.1.1.3) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born 1810-1815 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). She either marries or dies prior to the 1840 census.

(2.1.1.1.4) child Cline, son of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). He is born 1815-1820 and is in his father's household only in the Stokes county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). It is presumed that he marries about 1840, but is not established in his own household in time to be listed in the 1840 census. It is speculated that he dies prior to 1850 and that the unmarried Polly Cline with children found in the Forsyth county 1850 census is his widow (Appendix G). This Polly is born in 1817 and is living in the Amy Barber household. Polly has a young daughter with her and two possible sons living in other nearby households:

> DeWit Cline, born 1838, listed as mulatto and living in the Henry Briggs household in the 1850 census.
> Thomas Cline, born 1841 and living in the Hugh Philips household in the 1850 census.
> Sarah A. G. Cline, born 1846 and living with her mother in the Amy Barber household in the 1850 census.

Neither Polly Cline nor any of the above children are found in the North Carolina 1860 census.

(2.1.1.1.5) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born in 1820 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). She does not appear with a Cline surname in the North Carolina 1850 census. She probably marries 1840-1850.

(2.1.1.1.6) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household only in the Stokes county 1830 census (Appendix E). She either marries or dies prior to the 1840 census.

(2.1.1.1.7) Eli Cline, son of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). Eli is born in 1825. He is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). He attends his father's 1853 estate sale. In the Forsyth county 1850 and 1860 census, Eli has his own household with his wife, Nancy, and six children born after 1850 (Appendix G, I):

> Sarah Cline, born 1853.
> Peter Cline, born 1854.
> Melirna Cline, born 1855.
> Richard Cline, born 1856.
> Augustine Cline, born 1857.
> Sanford Cline, born 1858.

(2.1.1.1.8) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). It is speculated that she is the Matilda Cline, born in 1826, found in the Forsyth county 1850 census living in the Amigo Chaffus household. Matilda's three-year old daughter is living with her (Appendix G). Matilda Cline is not in the North Carolina 1860 census, but her daughter does appear in that census and another possible daughter, not in the 1850 census, appears in the Forsyth county 1860 census (Appendix I):

Cintha E. Cline, born 1844. She is not found in the 1850 census, but is living near Mary (below) with the Joseph Doub family in 1860.

Mary Cline, born 1847 and lives with the John Doub family in 1860.

(2.1.1.1.9) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). It is speculated that she is the Angeline Cline born in 1826 found in the Forsyth county 1850 census. She is living in the Lewis Leinbach household with her son (Appendix G). Angeline Cline is in the Davidson county 1860 census in her own household with her son (Appendix I):

Isaac Cline, born 1847.

(2.1.1.1.10) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born in 1830 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F). It is speculated that she is the Martha Cline, born in 1830, found in the Forsyth county 1850 census living in the William Houser household (Appendix G). She is not found in the North Carolina 1860 census, but is in the Davidson county 1870 census, still single.

(2.1.1.1.11) child Cline, daughter of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). She is born 1830-1835 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F). It is speculated that she is the Maria Cline, born in 1832, found in the Forsyth county 1850 census living with the William J. Cornelius household (Appendix G). She is single in 1850 and probably marries by 1860. Mary (Maria) Cline attends her father's estate sale in 1853.

(2.1.1.1.12) child Cline, son of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). He is born 1830-1835 and is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F). It is speculated that he is the John H. Cline, born in 1832, found in the Forsyth county 1860 census (Appendix I). It is presumed that John's middle initial is for Henry, who attended his father's estate sale in 1853. John H. has a wife and one child in his household in the 1860 census:

Thomas Cline, born 1858.

(2.1.1.2) Daniel Cline, son of Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1). (Appendix L, p 441). Daniel is the second son of his father's first marriage, and thus is born before 1785. Perhaps Daniel is born in 1785, and his birth results in his mother's death. Daniel is noted as a son of minor age in the will of Peter Cline Jr in November 1791. No further record of Daniel is found in North Carolina. It is presumed that before reaching maturity Daniel leaves the state with his stepmother Rachell Lee Cline, who probably remarries. Daniel probably dies before 1850 since there is no Daniel Cline of his age, born in North Carolina, in any state in the 1850 census. One Daniel Cline of this Daniel's age is found in the Harrison county, Indiana 1820-1840 census, but he has not been researched further.

(2.1.1.3) Mary Cline, daughter of Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1). (Appendix L, p 441). Mary is born in 1791 and is noted as a newborn in her father's will of November 1791. No further record for Mary is found in North Carolina. It is presumed that she leaves the state with her mother Rachell Lee Cline, who probably remarries.

Sara Cline (2.1.2)
daughter of Peter Cline (2.1)

Lineage rationale. Sara is named as a daughter of Peter Cline in the Friedberg Diary of the early Moravian settlement, which notes her marriage to Heinrich Frey on January 23, 1774. No other records for Sara were sought. It is presumed from her marriage date that she is born about 1750.

Source. Moravian record (Appendix L, p 440).

Simpson Cline (2.1.3)
probable son of Peter Cline (2.1)

Lineage rationale. Simpson is presumed to be a son of Peter Cline on the basis of Simpson's apparent age in the census and the presence of only Peter Cline (2.1) of an age to be Simpson's father in Rowan county. Also, Simpson is in the Potts Creek area of Rowan county where both Peter Cline Sr and Peter Cline Jr live.

In the Rowan county 1790 census, Simpson appears with his wife, a daughter and a son in his household. His son is determined to be about one year old per the following Henry Cline discussion. Thus, Simpson seems to be recently married and starting his family, implying that he is born about 1760. Peter Cline (2.1) is the only Cline in Rowan county old enough by 1760 to have been Simpson's father.

Simpson is enumerated in the 1790 census in the same district as Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1) and Peter's known neighbors in the Potts Creek area of central Rowan county.

There are no further records for Simpson Cline in North Carolina after his 1790 census entry. Simpson Cline does not appear in the census of any state in 1800-1850. It is presumed that he dies prior to 1800, and his widow either remarries or is living with her relatives.

Source. Rowan county 1790 census (Appendix A).

There are two Cline males, born 1789-1794, who appear in Rowan county and Stokes county records. They are Henry Cline and Abraham Cline.

The only possible fathers for them in the Rowan county and Stokes county area are Peter Cline Jr (2.1.1) and Simpson Cline (2.1.3). In the Cabarrus county area, only Jacob Cline (1.3.3) is a possible father for Henry and Abraham, since all other Cabarrus county Cline descendants are known and do not include Henry and Abraham.

Jacob Cline (1.3.3) does move from Cabarrus county to Rowan county about 1804 and his children are not known. However, Jacob does not marry until March of 1794, which is after the birth of both Henry and Abraham. Peter Cline Jr's sons are known from his will and do not include Henry and Abraham.

Thus, it is presumed that Henry Cline and Abraham Cline are sons of Simpson Cline. Simpson has one son and one daughter in his Rowan county 1790 census household (Appendix A). That son is determined to be Henry Cline. Abraham does not appear in the household since he is born after the 1790 census.

Simpson Cline's probable children are:

(2.1.3.1) child Cline, possible daughter of Simpson Cline (2.1.3). She is born prior to 1790 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1790 census. Nothing further is found in the records for her.

(2.1.3.2) Henry Cline, probable son of Simpson Cline (2.1.3). (Appendix L, p 442-443). Henry is born 1789-1790 in North Carolina per his listing in the Pike county, Indiana 1850 census (Appendix H). His birth date is confirmed by his listing in the Rowan county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E) and on page 250 of the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census.

On December 18, 1810, Henry marries Catherine Barns with Cornelius Smith as bondsman in Rowan county. Apparently, Catherine soon dies, and on April 23, 1812, Henry marries Susanna Beck with Jacob Helsley as bondsman in Rowan county. The Barns, Beck and Helsley families reside in the Potts Creek area where Peter Cline Jr and Simpson Cline resided. This supports the presumption that Henry is the son of Simpson Cline.

Henry is in the Rowan county militia in the War of 1812.

On February 10, 1830, Henry Cline witnesses a deed from Elizabeth Cline to Robert Simeson for 150 acres on Swan Creek in Rowan county. Adjoining landholders include Grub Beck and George Beck. Swan Creek is near Potts Creek where both the Becks and Simpson Cline live. Single women, other than widows, did not have legal standing to own and sell land in 1830. It is speculated that this Elizabeth Cline is the widow of Simpson Cline and that her son Henry Cline is assisting in her 1830 land transaction.

Elizabeth Cline marries George Booe on August 24, 1830 in Rowan county. George Booe is a widower, born 1770-1780 per his listing on page 368 of the Rowan county 1820 census and page 421 of the Rowan county 1830 census. These census entries show that George is married with a son and daughter in 1820 and has only his son, born 1810, and daughter, born 1795-1800, in his household in 1830. George Booe is the bondsman for the marriage of John Cline (2.1.1.1.1) to Polly Rumley in April of 1830. John is the son of Henry's cousin, Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). The elderly George Booe and Elizabeth Cline Booe do not appear in the census after 1830 in either North Carolina or any other state and presumably die before the 1840 census.

Henry Cline moves from North Carolina to Indiana prior to 1834 when he has a daughter born in Indiana per the Pike county, Indiana 1850 census (Appendix H). That census shows that Henry is born 1789-1790 in North Carolina and his wife Susan is born in 1795 in North Carolina.

The children of Henry Cline are inferred from the census data for his household in the 1820-1850 census and nearby households of his children in the Rowan county 1830 census and Indiana 1840 and 1850 census.

Henry Cline's children are per the census:

(2.1.3.2.1) James Cline, probable son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). (Appendix L, p 443). James is born in 1809 and is in his father's household in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). James has his own household near his father in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E). On August 18, 1817, James is bound to Ephram Daniels to learn the shoemaker's trade. He marries twice in Rowan county, first to Mary Smith on March 25, 1830 and second, to Margaret Swisher on July 27, 1854. James is in the Rowan county 1840 census, the Iredell county 1850 census and the Davie county 1860 census (Appendix F, G, I). James and his first wife Mary, born in 1790 in North Carolina, have no children per the census. In the Davie county 1860 census, James and his second wife Margaret, born 1830 in North Carolina, have two children:

Amanda Cline, born 1852.

James Cline, born 1857.

(2.1.3.2.2) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). She is born in 1810 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E).

(2.1.3.2.3) Lewis Cline, probable son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). Lewis is born in 1814 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Rowan county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). His wife is Sally Ann, born in 1822 in Indiana per the Pike county, Indiana 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H). Lewis is living near his father. Lewis and his wife have six children, all born in Indiana, in their household in the 1850 census:

Isaac Cline, born 1837.

Henry Cline, born 1839.

Francis Cline, son born 1841.

Betsy Cline, born 1843.

Cinthey A. Cline, born 1845.

Sharloto Cline, born 1848.

(2.1.3.2.4) child Cline, son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). He is born 1810-1820 and appears in his father's household only in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D). He probably dies young, since no Cline of this age is found in the Rowan county 1830 census, other than his brother James (2.1.3.2.1).

(2.1.3.2.5) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). Presumably, she marries prior to the 1840 census.

(2.1.3.2.6) Henry Cline Jr, son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). Henry is born 1819-1820 per the following analysis of his census data. He is listed as born 1810-1820 in his father's household in the Rowan county 1820 census (Appendix D) and in his own household on page 250 of the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census. He is listed as born 1820-1825 in his father's household in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E). The consistent interpretation of these census listings is that Henry Cline Jr is born in late 1819 or early 1820. He is living next to his father in Indiana at the time of the 1840 census, but this Henry Cline Jr, born in North Carolina, is not found in any state census in 1850. Henry Cline Jr's children are per the 1840 census:

child Cline, son born 1835-1840.

child Cline, son born 1835-1840.

child Cline, daughter born 1835-1840.

(2.1.3.2.7) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census.

(2.1.3.2.8) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census.

(2.1.3.2.9) child Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Rowan county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census.

(2.1.3.2.10) child Cline, son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). He is born 1830-1835 and is in his father's household only in the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census. He is not found in the Pike county, Indiana 1850 census. Perhaps he dies young.

(2.1.3.2.11) child Cline, son of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). He is born 1830-1835 and is in his father's household only in the Pike county, Indiana 1840 census. He is not found in the Pike county, Indiana 1850 census. Perhaps he dies young.

(2.1.3.2.12) Sary Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). Sary is born in 1834 in Indiana and is in her father's household in the Pike county, Indiana 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H).

(2.1.3.2.13) Susanna Cline, daughter of Henry Cline (2.1.3.2). Susanna is born in 1836 in Indiana and is in her father's household in the Pike county, Indiana 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H).

(2.1.3.3) Abraham Cline, possible son of Simpson Cline (2.1.3). (Appendix L, p 443). Abraham is born 1790-1794 per his listings in the Stokes county 1810-1830 census (Appendix C-E). In the 1810 census, Abraham, born 1784-1794, is living single in his own household and in the 1830 census Abraham, born 1790-1800, has a wife and four children.

He marries first Catherine Stultz on March 12, 1811 in Stokes county. In 1811, the Dobbs Parish records note that an unnamed daughter of Abraham Klein (Cline) dies. Abraham is on the 1815 tax list for the Bethabara district in Stokes county with 25 acres, valued at $125.

Abraham's first wife, Catherine, dies prior to 1840. Abraham has no wife in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F). He perhaps marries a second time, probably in the 1840s, to someone whose name is Ursula. In the Davie county 1850 census, there is a widow Ursula Cline, born in 1800, living in the house of her probable mother, Ursula Green, born in 1760 (Appendix G). It is speculated that Ursula is Abraham's second wife, since there are no other known Cline males in the area who die 1840-1850 to have left this widow, except Abraham. Abraham is not in any state 1850 census and presumably dies prior to 1850. He leaves no will or estate records. It is speculated that Abraham's second wife, Ursula Cline, returns to her elderly mother in nearby Davie county after Abraham's death.

Abraham's children are inferred from the Stokes county 1820-1840 census. In 1849, Forsyth county is formed from the southern part of Stokes county where Abraham lives. In the Forsyth county and Rowan county 1850 and 1860 census, there are seven young Clines, born in North Carolina, living in non-Cline households (Appendix G, I). Undoubtedly some of these seven are Abraham's children. In the following listing of Abraham's children, speculative associations are made for some of these seven young Clines.

Abraham Cline's children are per the census:

(2.1.3.3.1) child Cline, son of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). He is born 1810-1815 and is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). It is speculated that he is the Phillip Cline, born in 1810-1811 in North Carolina, found in the Forsyth county 1860 census and living in the Jacob Transne household (Appendix I).

(2.1.3.3.2) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). (Appendix L, p 443). She is born and dies in 1811 per the Dobbs Parish records.

(2.1.3.3.3) child Cline, son of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). He is born 1815-1820 and is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1820-1840 census (Appendix D-F). It is speculated that he is the Solomon Cline, born in 1815 in North Carolina, found in the Forsyth county 1860 census with his wife and five children (Appendix I):

> Nathan Cline, born 1852.
> Charles Cline, born 1853.
> Lusetta Cline, born 1854.
> Leon Cline, born 1857.
> Jane Cline, born 1859.

(2.1.3.3.4) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1820 census (Appendix D). It is speculated that she is the Elizabeth Cline, born 1814-1816 in North Carolina, found in the Rowan county 1850 census in the household of Jacob Corl with a newborn daughter (Appendix G). A probable young daughter and a possible son of Elizabeth are living in two nearby households. Elizabeth also appears in the Rowan county 1860 census in the Michael Dickson household, and with her probable daughter living in a nearby household (Appendix I):

> Alexander Cline, born 1837 and living in the George M. Lyerla household in the Rowan county 1850 census. Also in this household is Michael Dickson. Alexander is not found in the North Carolina 1860 census.
> Margaret E. Cline, born 1845 and living in the John Pinksten household in the Rowan county 1850 census. Margaret is living with the Upshaw Elliott family in the Rowan county 1860 census. In each census, Margaret is living near her mother.

Susanah Cline, born 1850, a mulatto, and living with her mother in the Jacob Corl household in the Rowan county 1850 census. Susanah is not found in the 1860 census and perhaps dies young.

(2.1.3.3.5) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). (Appendix L, p 443). She is born 1815-1820 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1820 and 1830 census (Appendix D, E). It is speculated that she is the Nancy Cline who marries William Conrad on September 24, 1833 at Bethania in Stokes county.

(2.1.3.3.6) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1830 and 1840 census (Appendix E, F).

(2.1.3.3.7) child Cline, son of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). He is born 1825-1830 and is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census. He is not listed in his father's 1830 census household (Appendix E, F). It is speculated that he is the William Cline, born in 1825, and living single in the John Spoch household in the Forsyth county 1850 census (Appendix G). Also in this household is Elisha Stolz. Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3) married a Catherine Stultz in 1811. William J. Cline is also found in the Forsyth county 1860 census with his wife Amanda, born in 1833, and six children (Appendix I):

Lucinda Cline, born 1851.

William Cline, born 1853.

Mary Cline, born 1854.

Silas Cline, born 1856.

Samuel Cline, born 1858.

David Cline, born 1860.

(2.1.3.3.8) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). She is born 1825-1830 (probably 1830) and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F).

(2.1.3.3.9) child Cline, daughter of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). She is born 1830-1835 and is in her father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F).

(2.1.3.3.10) child Cline, son of Abraham Cline (2.1.3.3). He is born 1830-1835 and is in his father's household in the Stokes county 1840 census (Appendix F). It is speculated that he is the Edward (Edwin) Cline, born in 1836, living with the Philip Pfaff family in the Forsyth county 1850 census (Appendix G). Philip Pfaff is one of the administrators for the estate of Peter Cline (2.1.1.1). Edward is living single in his own household in the Forsyth county 1860 census (Appendix I).

Johannes Klein

Lineage rationale. Johannes Klein is the only other Cline found in the Rowan county – Stokes county region in addition to those already discussed in this chapter and in Chapter 5. He is not related to any other Clines in this book and he leaves no descendants.

The Moravian records note the death by drowning of Johannes Klein, who had just joined the Salem community from Europe by way of Charleston, South Carolina. He is buried in Salem on August 22, 1770.

Source. Moravian records (Appendix L, p 443).

Chapter 5

Cline Families of Surry, Guilford and Orange Counties North Carolina

Sources

The information in this chapter is drawn from 1790-1850 census records (tabulated in Appendices A-H) and from civil and church records (summarized in Appendix M).

Christopher Cline (3.1.1)
son of John Klein (3.1)

Lineage rationale. Chapter 1 establishes that Christopher Cline is the son of John Klein of Darmstadt who immigrates to Pennsylvania via the port of New York in 1754. Christopher comes to North Carolina after he marries in 1775.

Sources. Civil and church records (Appendix M, p 446-447) and census records (Appendix A-D).

The records establish a fairly complete history for the Christopher Cline family. Christopher is born about 1756, probably in Pennsylvania. His listing in the Guilford county, North Carolina 1800 census shows that he is born after 1755 (Appendix B). He marries Margaretha Busch in Pennsylvania in May 1775, and they come to the Moravian Wachovia settlement area in then Surry county, North Carolina on June 27, 1775.

Christopher eventually marries three times and has a family of three sons and one daughter. His two older sons marry in North Carolina but eventually move to Ohio. His youngest son also marries in North Carolina and eventually moves to Georgia. By 1840, none of the Christopher Cline family remains in North Carolina.[1]

Christopher is probably the Mo_____ (Moravian ?) Klein on the November 11, 1777 Surry county tax list, where he is cited as owning 40 acres. He is then on the 1782 tax list for the town of Salem.

In August 1786, Christopher is mentioned in the estate settlement of Martin Rominger in Surry county. The abstractor of this estate record notes that Christopher's marriage record is found in Pennsylvania. His marriage record states that Christopher Klein (Cline), a saddler, marries Margaretha Busch in May 1775 at the Moravian Church in the town of York, Pennsylvania. She is born on January 15, 1756 and is the daughter of John and A. Maria Busch. His marriage record also states that Christopher and Margaretha come to Wachovia, North Carolina on June 27, 1775. Wachovia is the Moravian settlement in the part of Surry county that becomes Stokes county in 1789 and later becomes Forsyth county in 1849.

[1] The first two generations of descendants of Christopher Cline, as determined by the research in this chapter, are tabulated in Table O (p 487) in Appendix O. A later third generation is discussed in this chapter, but not tabulated in Appendix O.

Christopher buys 200 acres on Abbott's Creek in Rowan county from Jacob Beck on July 4, 1786 and sells this land to John Lopp Sr on November 2, 1788. This Abbott's Creek land is about 15 miles southeast of Salem in current-day Davidson county. In both of these land transactions Christopher is cited as a resident of Surry county and so apparently does not move his residence from Surry county to Abbot's Creek. His continuing residence in Surry county is further evidenced by a 1786 land purchase in Surry county. On September 29, 1786, Christopher buys 150 acres in the Friedburg settlement in Wachovia on the south fork of Muddy Creek.

The Moravian records state that Christopher Klein seeks a funeral for his wife in Salem on November 17, 1789. Christopher is on the 1790 and 1791 Stokes county tax lists and appears in the Stokes county 1790 census (Appendix A). In that census, Christopher has one son under 16 years age and a female, who is probably a daughter, since his first wife has died.

Christopher then moves eastward to Guilford county where he is living when he sells his Friedburg settlement, Stokes county land on June 15, 1795. This land is noted on the 1793 Stokes county tax list as being handled by Jacob Reminger. Therefore, it appears that Christopher is an absentee landowner and is already in Guilford county by 1793.

In Guilford county Christopher acquires 125 acres from John Byford on south Buffalo Creek on October 15, 1798 and another 19 acres from Byford on Rock Creek on February 15, 1799. On September 24, 1800, Christopher acquires 246 acres on Reedy fork of the Haw River in Guilford county and resells it on December 6, 1800 to Adam and Andrew Waggoner.

Christopher seems intent upon acquiring land on which he does not live, presumably as an investment. On November 21, 1801, he acquires 100 acres back in Stokes county on Muddy Creek and on October 4, 1803 he claims 100 acres on the South Fork of the Catawba River in Lincoln county adjoining Henry Weidner. This Lincoln county claim cannot be for Christopher Cline (1.4.2), son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4), of Lincoln county, since Christopher (1.4.2) is deceased prior to 1800 (see the Christopher Cline section of Chapter 2 of this book). There is no other Christopher Cline in the state at this time.

In the Guilford county 1800 census, Christopher Cline is listed as born 1755-1774 and is shown with a female, born 1774-1784, and two sons, born 1784-1790 (Appendix B). It is presumed that the apparent daughter in the 1790 census is no longer in Christopher's household. She is probably the Mary Cline who marries Keziah Phillips in Stokes county on January 21, 1799. Therefore, the female in Christopher's household in the 1800 census is probably his second wife.

On January 29, 1805, Jacob Cline, noted as a son of Christopher, marries the widow Catherine Wagerman (Waggoner) at the Brick Church of Guilford county. This church is in eastern Guilford county on the Orange county border. Later land transactions show that Christopher and his family probably live both in Guilford and Orange county near this church. On September 7, 1805, both Christopher and his son Jacob and Jacob's wife, Catherine, are recorded as members of Brick Church.

On February 21, 1806, Christopher sells his two Guilford county land tracts (125 acres and 19 acres) to his son Jacob and leaves Guilford county for Burke county where he appears in the Burke county 1810 census (Appendix C). In this census Christopher is listed as born prior to 1765, and listed in his household is his second wife, born 1765-1784. Also in his household is a male, born 1795-1800, who cannot be Christopher's son. No son corresponding to that birth date is in Christopher's prior 1800 household, unless he is born in late 1800 after the 1800 census is taken. However, a late 1800 birth seems to be precluded by the 1801 birth date of Christopher's youngest son, Solomon. Solomon is present in Christopher's 1810 household. Solomon's 1801 birth date is determined from census data as discussed later.

Christopher's second wife apparently dies after 1810, since Christopher marries Elizabeth Arley in Burke county on December 30, 1812, and they move to Lincoln county.

On October 19, 1813, Christopher claims more land in Lincoln county in addition to his earlier 1803 claim there. His 1813 claim is for 100 acres on the south fork of the Catawba River and borders Henry Holman and Philip Fry. On April 27, 1816, Christopher claims another 200 acres bordering Philip Fry on the south fork of the Catawba River.

Christopher Cline then appears in the Lincoln county 1820 census with his third wife, Elizabeth Arley, who is born prior to 1775 and his youngest son (Appendix D). On March 1, 1821, Christopher is the bondsman when this son, Solomon, marries Sally Amburn. Michael Cline (1.4.8), son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4) of Lincoln county, officiates as Justice of the Peace. The family history, FH2, incorrectly assumes that Solomon Cline is the son of Christopher Cline (1.4.2), the son of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4). The FH2 assumption seems to be based on the presence of Michael Cline as the Justice of the Peace and the mistaken belief that Boston Cline's son Christopher is still alive. However, as discussed in Chapter 2 of this book, Christopher Cline (1.4.2) clearly is deceased prior to 1800 and cannot be the Christopher who is bondsman for Solomon's 1821 marriage. FH2 is apparently unaware of the existence of the younger Christopher Cline (3.1.1) from Guilford county.

Christopher (3.1.1) then disappears from the North Carolina records. It is presumed that both he and his third wife die prior to the 1830 census. No will or estate record for Christopher is found in North Carolina. Christopher's children are determined from their close association with Christopher in the records with confirming data from the census.

Christopher Cline's children are:

(3.1.1.1) Mary Cline, daughter of Christopher Cline (3.1.1). (Appendix M, p 446). Mary is born about 1780 and marries Keziah Phillips on January 21, 1799 in Stokes county. No further information is known.

(3.1.1.2) Jacob Cline, son of Christopher Cline (3.1.1). (Appendix M, p 448). Jacob is born in North Carolina in 1784 per the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix H). In that census, Jacob has in his household his wife Katherine, born in 1782 in North Carolina, and two sons.

Jacob marries the widow Catherine Waggoner on January 29, 1805 in Guilford county. As noted previously, Jacob Cline is documented as the son of Christopher in this Brick Church marriage record in Guilford county. Jacob and his wife are mentioned as members in the Brick Church records in 1805, 1807 and 1812. These records also note the birth of two of their children in 1809 and 1811.

Jacob acquires his father's land in 1806 when Christopher leaves Guilford county and moves to Burke county. Jacob witnesses a deed in Orange county in February 1808. On March 19, 1808, Jacob acquires 214 acres on the south side of the Haw River on Traveses Creek in Orange county. He sells this land on September 29, 1812. On February 20, 1812, Jacob sells the 125 acres in Guilford county that his father sold to him in 1806. On December 23, 1823, Jacob is the attorney-in-fact in Guilford county for Andrew Waggoner of Preble county, Ohio for Andrew's sale of 122 acres in Guilford county on Buffalo Creek. Jacob Cline's wife was the widow of a Waggoner, and it appears that Jacob continues to be associated with the Waggoner family.

Jacob and his family appear in the Orange county 1810 census and the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Analysis of these two censuses shows that Jacob has three daughters and three sons by 1820. Jacob moves to Ohio about 1825, but is not in the 1830 or 1840 census there. He is in the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census with two mature sons in his household and another probable son living nearby. These sons are listed as born in Ohio. If this is accurate, their birth dates imply that Jacob comes to Ohio by 1815 and then returns to North Carolina by 1820, before settling in Ohio for good by 1825. Jacob's children are known from baptism records and the census. It is possible that he has one other child born in Ohio, but there are no census records of 1830-1840 to verify this, and there is no sign of such a child in 1850.

Jacob Cline's children are:

(3.1.1.2.1) Daniel Cline, son of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). (Appendix M, p 448). Daniel is born on October 29, 1809 to Jacob and Catherine Klein per the Brick Church records in Guilford county. Daniel is in his father's household in both the Guilford county 1810 census and the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix C, D). Daniel is found in his own household in the St. Clair county, Missouri 1850 census and is listed as born 1809-1810 in North Carolina (Appendix H). Listed in his household is his wife Elizabeth, born in 1810 in Kentucky, and five children, all born in Missouri:

Frances Cline, daughter born 1839.

Henry Cline, born 1841.

Mary Cline, born 1843.

John Cline, born 1844.

Martha Cline, born 1847.

(3.1.1.2.2) Rosina Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). (Appendix M, p 448). Rosina is born on November 18, 1811 to Jacob and Catherine Klein per the Brick Church records in Guilford county. Rosina is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D).

(3.1.1.2.3) child Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D).

(3.1.1.2.4) child Cline, daughter of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D).

(3.1.1.2.5) Abel Cline, son of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). Abel is born in 1816 in Ohio and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census and in the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix D, H).

(3.1.1.2.6) child Cline, son of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). He is born 1810-1820 and is in his father's household in the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix D). He might be the Jacob Cline, born in 1820 in Ohio, who has a household near Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2) in the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix H). However, this young Jacob could also be the son of another Jacob Cline found in Preble county in the 1820-1840 census, who has a son in his household of the age of this young Jacob. It is more likely that this young Jacob belongs to the long-established Jacob Cline family of Preble county, rather than to Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2) who is not found in Preble county until 1850. Therefore, the name of this child Cline (3.1.1.2.6) is unknown.

(3.1.1.2.7) Levi Cline, son of Jacob Cline (3.1.1.2). Levi is born in 1824 in Ohio and is in his father's household in the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.3) Christian Cline, probable son of Christopher Cline (3.1.1). (Appendix M, p 448-449). Christian is born in 1788 per his listing in the Preble county, Ohio 1850 census (Appendix H). In this census, he has in his household a wife Catherine, born in 1793 in North Carolina, and two children. Christian is presumed to be a son of Christopher Cline (3.1.1) because of Christian's close association with Christopher and Christopher's proven son Jacob in both Guilford county and later in Preble county, Ohio.

Christian Cline is a member of the North Carolina militia from Guilford county in the War of 1812. On July 2, 1813, Christian acquires 107 acres on Reedy Fork in Guilford county. Christian is found on the 1815 tax list of Guilford county in the David Thomas district, which includes Rock Creek township. Rock Creek is where Christian's father Christopher also owns land and is where the Brick Church is located. Christian sells his 107 acres on Reedy Fork in Guilford county on October 2, 1817. He moves to Preble county, Ohio where he appears in the 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H).

Christian apparently is not in his father Christopher's household in the 1790 census since only one son is listed there. Christopher's wife dies in November of 1789, and Christopher does not immediately remarry. Thus, the two-year old Christian is probably living with relatives or friends. The child in the 1790 household is the six-year old Jacob, Christian's brother.

However, Christian is living in his father's household in the Guilford county 1800 census (Appendix B).

Christian's children and their birth dates are determined from his household on page 116 of the Preble county, Ohio 1840 census and the Preble county 1850 census.

Christian Cline's children are:

(3.1.1.3.1) child Cline, possible daughter of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). She is born 1800-1810 and is in her father's household in the Preble county 1840 census. She seems almost too old to be Christian and Catherine's daughter, since Catherine is born in 1793, but an 1810 birth date is feasible.

(3.1.1.3.2) child Cline, daughter of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). She is born 1810-1820 and is in her father's household in the Preble county 1840 census.

(3.1.1.3.3) child Cline, daughter of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in the Preble county 1840 census.

(3.1.1.3.4) child Cline, son of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). He is born 1820-1825 and is in his father's household in the Preble county 1840 census.

(3.1.1.3.5) child Cline, daughter of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Preble county 1840 census.

(3.1.1.3.6) child Cline, daughter of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). She is born 1825-1830 and is in her father's household in the Preble county 1840 census.

(3.1.1.3.7) Jacob Cline, son of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). Jacob is born in 1833 in Ohio and is in his father's household in the Preble county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.3.8) William Cline, son of Christian Cline (3.1.1.3). William is born in 1836 in Ohio and is in his father's household in the Preble county 1840 and 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.4) Solomon Cline, probable son of Christopher Cline (3.1.1). (Appendix M, p 447). Solomon is born in 1801 in North Carolina per his listing in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). Solomon is in his father's household in both the Burke county 1P810 census and the Lincoln county 1820 census (Appendix C, D). He marries Sally Amburn on March 1, 1821 in Lincoln county with his father as bondsman.

Solomon appears in the Macon county 1830 census with his wife and five young children (Appendix E). He then moves to Georgia about 1840 where he appears on page 13 of the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census with his wife and nine children in his household. Solomon is found in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census and is a Methodist preacher. Also in his 1850 household is his wife Sarah, born 1803 in North Carolina, and eight of the nine children of the 1840 census, all cited as born in North Carolina. The ninth child is living in a nearby household. Three younger children also appear in Solomon's household, all listed as born in Georgia (Appendix H). Five of Solomon's children are found in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1860 census, but not Solomon, who has either died or moved on.

Solomon Cline's children are per the census:

(3.1.1.4.1) child Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). He is born 1820-1825 and is found in his father's household only in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E). He presumably dies young.

(3.1.1.4.2) child Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). She is born 1820-1825 and is in her father's household in both the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. She is possibly the Mary Cline, born 1827, in Solomon's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). It is also possible that Mary is the wife of the son Elisha in Solomon's household rather than a daughter.

(3.1.1.4.3) Levi Cline, probable son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Levi is born in 1826 in North Carolina and is living with the Satterfield family, near his father's house, in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He is in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census. He is not in the Georgia 1860 or 1870 census.

(3.1.1.4.4) Elisha Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Elisha is born in 1829 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). Elisha's wife may be the Mary Cline found in this 1850 household. Elisha is also in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and Gilmer county, George 1840 census. Elisha is living with his younger brother George W. Cline and is on page 889 of the Cherokee county, Georgia 1860 census. Neither George nor Elisha has a wife in the household, but there are two young children, who are probably the children of Elisha because George is too young to be their father:

Willis Cline, born 1855 in Georgia.

Saphronia Cline, born 1858 in Georgia.

(3.1.1.4.5) Eli Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Eli is born in 1830 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He is also in his father's household in the Macon county 1830 census (Appendix E) and the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census.

(3.1.1.4.6) William Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). William is born in 1832 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census and the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He is also on page 896 of the Cherokee county 1860 census with his wife Martha, born 1842 in Georgia, and a son:

Samuel Cline, born 1859 in Georgia.

(3.1.1.4.7) John Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). John is born in 1834 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census and the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He is also on page 891 of the Cherokee county 1860 census with his wife Elizabeth, born 1839 in Georgia, and three children:

Cynthia Cline, born 1852 in Georgia.

William M. Cline, born 1856 in Georgia.

Martha Cline, born 1859 in Georgia.

(3.1.1.4.8) Elizabeth Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Elizabeth is born in 1835 in North Carolina and is in her father's household in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census and the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.4.9) Susan Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Susan is born in 1837 in North Carolina and is in her father's household in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census and the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.4.10) George W. Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). George is born in 1839 in North Carolina and is in his father's household in the Gilmer county, Georgia 1840 census and the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). George heads his own household on page 889 of the Cherokee county 1860 census. He is single, but his brother Elisha and his two children are living with him. Also in George's household is an elderly Nancy Cline, born in 1776 in Georgia. Her relationship to the Solomon Cline family is not known.

(3.1.1.4.11) Marion Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Marion is born in 1841, and is the first of Solomon's children born in Georgia. He is in his father's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H).

(3.1.1.4.12) Martha Cline, daughter of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). Martha is born in 1843 in Georgia and is in her father's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). She is living with the Wayne family and is on page 891 of the Cherokee county 1860 census.

(3.1.1.4.13) James Cline, son of Solomon Cline (3.1.1.4). James is born in 1845 in Georgia and is in his father's household in the Cherokee county, Georgia 1850 census (Appendix H). He may be the James Cline, born 1842 in Georgia, who is on page 366 of the Muscogee county, Georgia 1860 census.

Clines in Orange County of Unknown Lineage

Only two other Clines are found in the Guilford county or Orange county records prior to 1820. They are unrelated to the Christopher Cline family discussed in this chapter or to any other Cline families discussed in this book. They are included here simply to complete the listing of all known Clines in North Carolina prior to 1820.

William Cline. (Appendix M, p 449). On February 4, 1779, William is cited as holding land north of a grant on Ellebys Creek of the Nuese River in Orange county. No other North Carolina records are found for this William Cline. Presumably, he is a temporary resident who moves out of state.

Henry Cline. (Appendix M, p 449). On June 24, 1806, Henry is cited as holding land adjacent to that of Evan Jefferies in Orange county.

Henry is born by 1785 in order to be old enough to own land in 1806. Therefore, he is not the Henry Cline (2.1.3.2), born 1789-1790, of Rowan county and discussed in Chapter 4 of this book.

No other North Carolina records are found for this Henry Cline. Presumably, he is a temporary resident who moves out of state.

It is possible that one or both of these Clines have sons, born in North Carolina, who are later found in the 1850 census outside of North Carolina (Appendix H). There are eight Clines born in North Carolina found in other states in the 1850 census who have not yet been connected with other North Carolina Cline families. For example, William Cline of Orange county might be the father of the William Cline, born about 1780-1790 in North Carolina who marries Jane Bryant in North Carolina and moves to Illinois about 1819. His widow Jane, born 1795 in North Carolina, is found in the Montgomery county, Illinois 1850 census (Appendix H).

More research is required to establish such connections, but it seems clear that the above two Orange county Clines do not persist in North Carolina and have no connection to the other Clines discussed in this book.

Henry Cline (Sr) and Lewis Cline are both in the Pike Co 1840 census (no township named), p 250, and a Henry Cline Jr also is on p 250 in 1840, age 20-30. This Henry Cline (Sr) was in Rowan Co, NC through the 1830 census. It should be noted, however, that there is also an earlier Henry Cline in Pike Co, IN in both the 1820 census (Madison Township) and the 1830 census, age 30-40 (Clay Township). This is probably not the NC Henry Cline, since this earlier Henry Cline did not live in Logan Township and his age is barely old enough to be 60, as the NC Henry Cline is in 1850. The Alexander Cline below (b IN in 1823) may be the son of the other earlier Henry Cline who has a son of this age in the IN 1830 census. Thus, Henry Cline here in the 1850 census must be the NC Henry Cline and the earlier Henry Cline, who was in IN by 1820, has either left the state or died leaving his son Alexander (below).

Alexander Cloin [Cline], Pike Co p 50	27	laborer	IN	possible son of an earlier Henry Cline, who is in IN from at least 1820 through 1830

Allen Co, KY is just across the state line from Sumner Co, TN where Martin Cline and his three sons John, Adam and Michael lived. There is a widow Sarah Cline (Allen Co 1850 census, p 119), 53, b TN, who is probably Adam Cline's widow with four children b KY, 1830-1840. Another possible son of Adam is George Cline (Allen Co 1850 census, p 119), 26, b TN and his wife A. J., 20, b KY, and two daus. There is an M. Cline (Allen Co 1850 census, p 120), 45, b TN, with wife N. Cline, 45, b TN, who is probably Michael whose wife is Nancy Rippy Cline. Michael is a son of Martin Cline's son Michael (deceased). Michael and Nancy have seven children b TN 1828 through 1840 and two children b KY (age 5 and 3). Martin's son John's son, John, appears (Allen Co 1850 census, p 119), 34, b TN and wife E. Cline, 30, and b TN with two children b TN 1839 and 1841. Thus, Martin Cline's descendants appear to have moved slightly north into KY, except for John Cline's sons Andrew, William and Alfred who are still in Sumner Co, TN in 1850.

Michael Cline's will

Will of Sebastian (Boston) Cline (1.4)

State of North Carolina, Lincoln County. The twenty seventh day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety one.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Bostian Cline, of Lincoln County and State aforesaid, being very weak of body, but of sound mind and memory, thanks be to almighty God; therefore, calling unto mind the mortality of my body, and knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this, my last Will and Testament. That is to say, principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul into the hands of my God who gave it, and my body to the earth to be buried in decent Christian burial at the discretion of my executors, nothing doubting that I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God.

And, as touching such worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me in this life, I give and dispose of the same, in the following manner and form.

I give to Elizabeth, my beloved wife, all my household furniture and my husbandry goods, and still, and furniture thereto belonging, and one mare, and all my cash, and my outstanding debts, for her use during her natural life. And, what she should not make use of during her lifetime of aforesaid estate, is to be equally shared by all my children. And to my son Christopher Cline, my executor must pay, out of my estate within three months, the sum of twenty shillings. Likewise, my daughter Utilly, wife of George Heffner, her part of my estate, I give unto my grand children, Henry Heffner and Catherine Huit (Huyet).

I constitute, and appoint and ordain my beloved wife Elizabeth executrix, likewise, my son Michael Cline, executor, of this my last Will and Testament. And, I do hereby disavow and revoke, and disannul all and every other former testaments, wills, and bequests and legacies and executors by me before named, willed and bequeathed, rectifying and confirming this to be my last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, the day and year above written.

Bostian Cline (Seal)

Will of Michael Cline (1.8)

In the name of God, Amen, I, Michael Klein, of Mecklenburg County, in the state of North Carolina, planter, being mindful of the frailty and mortality of human nature, and that it is appointed for all men once to die, but considering the uncertainty of the time, and my being weak in body but in perfect mind, memory and understanding, I make this my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say,

First and principally I recommand my soul unto Almighty God who gave it (to) me, and my body to the earth, there to (be) buried according to the direction of my executors hereafter named, in shure and certain hope that it will be raised up to everlasting life at the end of the world through the merits of our Lord Jesus Christ, my Redeemer. And as tuching my worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me within this life. I give, bequeath, demise and dispose of as here followeth:

First: I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Catarina, one-third of all my moveable estate and beside(s) her bed, her spinning wheal (wheel), and a cow and a calf, likewise her seat on my place during her widowhood.

Item: I give, bequeath and demise unto my three sons, George, Daniel and John Klein all my land containing in all 220 acres, 120 acres thereof is deeded and 100 acres is entered, which said land is to (be) equally devoid (divided) between them; for them, their heirs and assigns forever. And unto my son George I give and bequeath besides, a mare and colt, and the gun which I had given him some time past, for him, his heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my two daughters that are single yet,* each of them a cow and a calf, a bed, a spinning wheal (wheel) and an iron pot when they come of age or should be married, for them, their heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my grandson, Michael Lewis, son of my daughter Catarina, when he is married, the sum of 15 Pounds good money, to be paid out of my estate for him and his heirs forever.

Item: It is my will and desire that the remainder of my estate should be equally divided to these my children here named, when they are married or come of age, namely: George, Daniel, John, Christina, Madlena, Barbel, Mary Magtaline, Anna Elizabeth, Anna Mary, Anna Margareth, but if any of these should die without having any heirs lawfully begot in wedlock, then such share in the estate shall fall back to the other surviving ones to be equally divided amongst them.

And unto this my last will and testament I ordain, constitute, and appoint my beloved friends Bostian Lentz and Samuel Suther as my lawful executors to this my last will and testament, revoking and disannulling all other former wills and testaments, former debentures, or deeds of gifts before (this?) my last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof I have before these present witnesses hereunto set my own hand and seal this first day of December, Anno Dom. 1784.
