Rev. Workman

AUNT MARY BESS
(Through the eyes of a child.)

She is a special person.
I think she is over eighty,
but I like to go to her house.
If she happens to be snapping beans,
or working in her garden,
I help her with her work.
She wants to know about my family.
I want to hear stories about the white house,
and blow the horn made from a conch shell.
It was brought from Charleston by her great uncle,
a soldier in the Civil War.
Sometimes she opens an old trunk
and shows me a china doll
or funny button-up shoes
and tiny wire-rimmed spectacles.
In the summer we sit on the big front porch
and play Chinese checkers,
or rock and have a glass of lemonade.
Dear God, I am glad that she is my friend
and that we care about each other.
