Feasterville, S. C.,

Dec. 3d, 1905/

Here in the home of my grandfather, Henry A. Coleman, my father, John A. F. Coleman, now my home, and which in time will be the home of my son and only child, John Albert Feaster Coleman, I begin writing some of the history of our family as I know it, with the hope that it will be of interest and a great pleasure to my boy and others of the family when I am gone. Young people do not feel much interest in family history, and old people do not often take the trouble to write down what they know. Consequently, so much is lost to me that I now long to know. While my grandparents were living here in this old home, I could have learned so much, but with the usual thoughtlessness of youth, I didn't know what I was losing. I did take an interest in family history then, and have treasured up in my mind many things I heard them and other old people tell. But much of it lacks something that I very much want to know.

They never recorded anything. My father, not a great deal. I have wanted to write what I know a long time, but kept putting it off. Again, I hope this may be of interest to you, John, and others who care for such history, and I want you to keep on with the record. I will begin with first the COLEMANS.

They came from Wales to Virginia. I do not know how long ago. Then moved into North Carolina, Halifax County, from which they came to this neighborhood in 1775. There was a large family of them, but I know of only three brothers, Robert, William, and Charles. They soon acquired large tracts of land. Robert, I imagine, was the oldest, and he bought up land that had been granted by King George in 1772 to William Mazyck, also to Joseph Verree, and John Winn, on the headwaters of Beaver Creek. He settled on uncleared land in a quarter of a mile of this home, and lived and died within a mile of the first settlement. He must have had money to have so soon acquired the large area around him. He must have been a man of strong character, and industrious, thrifty habits. His descendants generally have these characteristics, preferring a plain style of living, abhorring show of any kind.

He was a major in the British Army, and I do not know whether he changed before the close of the Revolution. His sons were Whigs. We have a coat of his, in good state of preservation, homespun woven, and made over a hundred years ago.

Robert Coleman was born about 1745, and his wife, Elizabeth Roe, was born in 1747. They had several children when they came to this State, David Roe Coleman the eldest. As I said, there was a large family of the Colemans, and also the Roes. All settled near here. They found the Wagners, Beams, and Mobleys already settled on Beaver Creek. There was intermarriage with these families, which makes me a descendant of them all. The Wagners came from Holland, the Beams from Germany, the Mobleys from England. They were all settled near together on Beaver Creek, several miles below where Robert Coleman settled. They had been here for some time, and had endured the hard life of first settlers, such as Indian foes to dread and conquer.

Hans Wagner had eight daughters, no sons, so a fort called Fort Wagner, was built of hewn whiteoak logs, 12 inches square, a stone wall and deep ditch around it, and the Wagners lived in the fort because there were no sons to protect this family, and when in danger of Indians, the neighbors gathered in his home for safety and protection for all. There are signs of the ditch around this yet. Must have been made in early part of the 17th century. I have been told that the Mobleys settled there about 1735. Later on, the Hamptons came and tried to run these first settlers off. The Mobleys lived on Poplar Ridge, the Beams, Hickory Flat. The Wagners just above them on Reedy Branch, in Fort Wagner. The Hamptons ran the Mobleys off their land. The Beams and Wagners would not run, and got a grant from King George. Hans Wagner and wife, Elizabeth Johnson (from Scotland) are buried near where they lived. Sam Mobley married their daughter, Mary, and continued to live on Poplar Ridge (where they are buried). All these old settlements are obliterated and the graves unmarked. (The above was told me by Cousin Trez Feaster).

The Mayos also lived neighbors to the Beams, and they intermarried. I do not know their nationality.

Robert Coleman married Elizabeth Roe.

Their children:

David Roe Coleman, 1st son, born in Halifax County, N. C., May 19, 1765.

John Roe Coleman, 2nd son, born in Halifax Co., N. C., April 2, 1768.

Robert Roe Coleman, 3rd son, born in Halifax Co., N. C., Feb. 1, 1769.

Wiley Roe Coleman, 4th son, born in Halifax Co., N. C., Oct. 27, 1771.

Allen Roe Coleman, 5th son, born in Halifax Co., N. C., Nov. 7, 1773.

Griffen Roe Coleman, 6th son, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., May 20, 1775.

William Roe Coleman, 7th son, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., Mch. 6, 1776.

Sarah Coleman, 1st daughter, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., Nov. 8, 1778.

Elisabth Coleman, 2nd daughter, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., Sept. 8, 1780.

Solomon Roe Coleman, 8th son, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., Oct. 29, 1783.

Francis Roe Coleman, 9th son, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., July 12, 1786.

Zerebale Coleman, 10th son, born in Fairfield Co., S. C., Nov. 28, 1789.

Henry Jonathan Coleman, 11th son, born in Fairfield Co., SC
June 22, 1793.

Ancil Roe Coleman, 12th son, born in Fairfield Co., SC, April 22, 1796.

Of this large family, three died infants. John, Griffen, William, Francis, and the two sisters went West, first to Greene County, Alabama. I know nothing at all about their descendants, except that they went on to Mississippi and Texas. David, Robert, Wiley, Allen, Solomon and Henry Jonathan lived and died near by, all marrying and rearing rather large families.

Robert Coleman and his wife, Elizabeth, are buried very near where they lived, at what is known as the "Coleman" graveyard. Their small children were the first to be buried there (lie at the foot of parents graves). The first house they built, as near as I can locate it, was on the hill near the Rocky Knoll, above Boney's Fork Branch. I've heard my grandfather say that when they ^{reached} read the place to camp (on getting to where they settled) a large chip was cut from a hickory tree, and bread was baked on it for their supper. The fields then cleared have been ..

cultivated most of the time since, and yield fairly good crops. They built another home half mile south of the graveyard; all trace of that is gone. I know living persons, tho, who have been in the last house - Cousins Elitia Coleman Jeffares and Julia Feaster Coleman say they have bown in it. I think some parts of it were used in building a home for Cousin David Roe Feaster.

Nine years ago we put up a small monument to mark the graves of these two pioneer ancestors, Robert Coleman and Elizabeth Roe. 'Twas paid for by small contributions from many of their descendants to the 7th generation, and from 14 states. I am exceedingly glad that 'tis done, for I think they deserve to be so remembered. Only one (David Roe Coleman) of their grown sons were buried with them, the others who died in this state are buried in family burying grounds near their homes, except Henry Jonathan, who is buried in the Feaster Cemetery by his wife, Polly Feaster.

As I said, I've heard of only two brothers of Robert Coleman, and can trace back to them all very well. There was a large family of them, though, and I see in an old list of Mobley names that several Coleman men and women married Mobleys. I feel sure these were brothers and sisters of Robert Coleman. His brother, Charles, married Polly Mobley. William Coleman married Nancy Butler. I will later on tell of their descendants. Francis Coleman married Margaret Mobley. I will now take the children of Robert in order and tell all I can of their history.

His first child, David Poe Coleman, was my great-grandfather. He married Edith Beam, Sept. 13, 1787. She died in 1825. I have never heard much about her. My grandfather, Henry (Coleman) used to speak of her with much affection. I've heard of one of her children being very cross as a baby. She would card, sew, or do other necessary work with it on her lap, and when it slept, would do her cooking, even if not at the regular time, to get a meal. She couldn't leave it, if awake (must have been one of the first babies, or very spoilt). David Roe Coleman was one of the most honored men in this county. Well informed, tho' not educated, a good surveyor, of upright habits, he was a man of influence. His health was remarkably good, his daily living being simple; his supper for years was cornbread and milk. Had good sound teeth as long as he lived. Could shoot squirrels from the top of tall trees, and rode over his farm almost daily on a pony, accompanied by several small dogs. The last of these was kept by Grandfather Henry as long as it lived (after David Roe's death), named "Lion." His negro slaves were devoted to him and had a happy, well fed and well clothed life, under their kind old "marster." There are a few of them still alive, fifty years ^{after} his death, and they speak of him with the greatest love and reverence, and eyes dim with tears. Mary, who is now 76, and was bought by my father at his sale, looks back on the days spent as a slave of "Marster" as the best time of her life. Her mother, "Creecy", was bought by him and raised from a girl. Her children were above the ordinary, as she was, doing more and better work than many other slaves.

The "Coleman" negroes have always had the reputation of being superior workers, as well as more honest and reliable every way, since they were set free even. This is acknowledged by those who work them. I have heard of some who have gone to other states and their superiority was always noted. I am proud to record here that I believe this was because of the way they had been reared, trained, and treated by their owners, who worked themselves, and learned the slaves to do good work, and by their example of honest dealing, exerted an influence that is still manifested in these ex-slaves, and their descendants. "Eb", another daughter of Greecy, and house girl, died a few years ago. She told me many little happenings in the old life at "Marsters", how good he was to them all, how happy and well fed they were. With eyes filled with tears, she told how she was standing at the back of his chair as he sat at the supper table (some of his grandsons being present) when he was stricken with death. The end was peaceful, as his life had been. I tell these things, John, so that you, who were born 35 years after slaves were set free, may judge something of the character of this old ancestor, a slave holder, and of his treatment of them. You can never know, as I do, of the true feelings existing between good masters and mistresses and their slaves. They were often treated as friends, and many of them proved themselves worthy of all confidence, faithful even unto death. Many of the Coleman slaves are buried adjoining the family graveyard.

Grandfather David Roe Coleman accumulated considerable property, in shape of land and negroes. He was a splendid surveyor, and did much of that work. His eight children all lived, except one, to be grown, marry and raise families. He divided his property as they married, equally among them, giving each the same. In an old diary of his I read where he says he did this to prevent any trouble after his death; each should have his or her rightful share while he lived. As he was never in a court of law, he desired them never to resort to it. I ^{am} proud to say that neither sons, grandsons, nor greatgrandsons have, so far as I know.

His house stood about the middle of what we call the "Daddy Field", (his children and grandchildren all called him "Daddy"), not far from the "Long Leaf Pine" that he planted, bringing the small sprout from somewhere between Columbia and Charleston. 'Tis the first one I ever saw, and is a great curiosity in this up country. Good many young ones grow around it now, and a few are scattered over the near fields. The old one must be at least 70 years old. His house was a plain structure, of the style of all the houses around in those days. I remember how it looked. One large room, the main body, was of hewn logs, a splendid chimney, with large fireplace at one end, and the entrance door at the other, shed rooms on each side, and a "loft" above. This house was removed (which I regret) in 1867, and rebuilt for a home for his nephew, Henry J. Coleman. 'Twas not long after the Civil War, the people were stripped of nearly everything, no sawing of lumber, so it was considered ~~stripping~~ a great help to this young man, who had been a soldier four years, to get a home by moving this old house a few miles, and rebuild on his land. It is still standing in tolerably good shape, lived in by negroe renters.

"Daddy Dave" had the mysterious gift or power to cure diseases (called faith cure, I guess). Sick people came to him from long distances to be cured of tumors, wens, cancers, etc. He gave this "power" to his son-in-law, Jacob Feaster, who practiced the same as long as he lived. He gave it to his son, Joan, who never used it. Also gave it to David Cork, who lived a long life and cured many people of divers complains. I know of no one practicing this now.

I can imagine some of the loneliness of this old man, who lived 30 years after the mother/ of his children was gone. Several of his sons and one daughter went to Alabama and made homes in what was then the "gre t unknown West!" They had to go on horseback and wagons - no trains then, and letters were few. Once in a while they would return for short visits to the old father. I see short accounts of these visits in his diary.

Then they would leave him, and I think of the sad partings. He spent much time in reading, as he grew old, and copying sermons. Was a Universalist in faith, and practice, and attended the meetings at the same old church we belong to. From what I gather from his few records, his faith was pure and simple as a child's. His grandchildren loved to stay with him, and he studied Greek with his grandson, David A. (Coleman) after he was 30 years old.

Wells for drinking water were very rare or unheard of then, all the first homes were built near good springs. The "Daddy" Spring is fine and is still giving freely of its good water, over a hundred years since he settled near it. A splendid corn and wheat mill was built near it in 1867, owned by several Colemans, run by the spring water, was a success for years. Gradually it ran down after change of owners. No sight of it left.

Henry Alexander Coleman, my grandfather, and 4th son of Daddy Dave, settled nearest to him of any of his children, in a quarter of a mile, & was the good dutiful son always, and his children loved and stayed with "Daddy" a gre_at deal. I will give here the birshp marriage, and death record of Daddy Dave's family, most of it copied from his Bible, and which was written by himself:

(David Roe Coleman was born in Halifax County,
(N. C., May 19, 1765. Died 25 March 1855.

Married

(Edith Beam in Fairfield Co., S. C., Sept.
13, 1787. She died 28 April 1825. She was about his age.

Their 1st son, Robert Fitz Coleman, born Aug. 26, 1789, died Sept. 7, 1842. Married Susan Feaster. She died
Jan. 15, 1829.

Their children were:

1. Druscilla (Coleman), married William Coleman (son of Solomon Coleman). They went to Randolph County, Ga., had son and daughters.
Descendants still live there. She died about 1880.
2. Edith (Coleman), who first married Mike Adkins, then Andrew Hancock. Had children by both. Also went to Randolph Co., Ga. Died about 1880.
3. Eliza (Coleman) who married Martin Coleman (son of Solomon) at age of 13. He lived only 6 months,
She afterwards married James Brennan, had one child, and it died. She then married John Arnette, all this before she was 20. Had 4 children by Arnette. After his death, late in life, she married Wesley Mayfield, who still lives, age 90. All of her children dead. The last one, Dr. Robert Coleman Arnette, left three sons and 2 daughters. Dr Robert Coleman Arnette, died in 1908, buried at Salem Presbyterian Church.

Eliza died in 1890, buried at family graveyard, where her parents are also buried. This is near Buena Vista, always called the "Coleman" graveyard.

4. John Feaster Coleman, who married in Greene Co., Alabama. Know nothing of him. He went probably to South America in middle life.
5. Andrew Coleman, married in Randolph Co., Ga. Had children, but I know nothing of them.
6. Susan Coleman, married Dr. Sam McClurkin. Died about ~~1862~~ 1862, and is buried at Beaver Creek Baptist Church. She was born Jan. 5, 1829. Left 3 children, only one living, Mrs. Eliza Mills, of Rock Hill, S. C.

2nd son of DRC and Edith, his wife -

Wylie Fitz Coleman, born March 10, 1792, married Nancy Elam, of Chester Co., about 1816. They had seven children. He died March 4, 1835, in Chester Co., and is buried near his home. They had seven children. After his death, his widow moved with them to Chambers County, Ala., and she is buried there. She died in Aug. 1865. She was born and raised on place now owned by Jacob Stone, Sr.

The Elam burying ground is near his house.

Their children:

1. Sophie, born Jan. 19, 1817, married Abner Fant in 1837, June, died March 7, 1838, dying in a year of her marriage, and is buried by her father.
2. Wilson Coleman, born Dec. 27, 1821.
3. Elizabeth Coleman, born Jan. 21, 1819, md. James Cork of S. C., who went to Alabama for her.*
4. Mary Coleman, born Dec. 16, 1824, married Willie Coffield, in Alabama. Left 2 children.
5. David Roe Coleman, born 1st Sept. 1827, married Nancy E. Coleman, of South Carolina (Born March 6, 1830) He died Aug. 20, 1894.
6. Martha Coleman, born Aug. 4, 1830, died about 1874, married Francis Tapley, of Ala. Had 4 children. Moved to Texas. Know nothing of them now.
7. Isabella, Coleman, born Dec. 1833, married Allen Wheelis, of Alabama. She died in March 1891. 7 children.

* They came back here and lived till their children were half grown, then moved to Abbeville County, where she is buried.

The old house of Wiley F. Coleman is still standing, in good condition. Has had rooms added, but the original family room of wide hewn logs and large fireplace are just as when he died in 1835. I and your Paper went in to see it a few years ago, and went out back of the house a little distance to see his grave, under an apple tree. You must remember it is the grave of your greatgrandfather. You pass the place when going to Chester. It is now owned by Wade Roberts.

3rd son of "Daddy" Dave, David Henry Coleman was born Dec. 17th, 1794, married Sarah Franklin, about 1819. Their first four children were born here. They then moved to Greene Co., Ala.

1. Cecilia Coleman, born Sept. 1, 1820, md. a Baine, and had 2 sons, Oscar and James Baine, in 1840.
2. Sarah Coleman, born April 11, 1822.

10th child -

Robert Charles Coleman, born Jan. 31, 1842, was drowned while in bathing near John's Island, close to Charleston, S. C., June 6, 1862. His body was recovered, brought home, and buried in our graveyard. He was very small, but handsome, curly black hair and black eyes. The pet of the family. A good violinist. The last time I saw him, just before he left for Charleston, he was playing his violin, and I remember he played "Annie Laurie". I was a very small girl then.... This death was pathetic. My father was at the same place. The soldiers were, many of them, his cousins and friends. They hunted for his body for days. When found at last, my father was not allowed to see him. He brought him home to the parents, their baby, who could not have a last look at loved one. I just can remember them bringing the coffin in the house. My Grandmother told me that for years after she expected him to return to her.

as she had a feeling that the body may not have been his, but that in some way he was alive and must come back. But his comrades knew it was his body. I imagine the rapture of the meeting with her lost boy when she reached the spirit world. All her children are with her now. She was truly good, unselfish and patient, much loved by her children and all relatives and neighbors. As also was my grandfather. Everybody loved "Uncle Henry."

5th son -

Wilson H. Coleman was born March 25, 1800, married in 1828, Mary Johnston, of Greene Co., Ala.

Their children:

1. Elizabeth Coleman, born June 7, 1829
2. Martha Coleman, born Nov. 14, 1830
3. Wiley Johnson Coleman, born Sept. 7, 1832.
4. Edith Coleman, born Oct. 26, 1834.
5. Mary Coleman, born Jan. 6, 1837.
6. Nancy Coleman, born Sept. 12, 1838.
7. Laura L. Coleman, born June 8, 1846.

I know very little about these relatives, all dead now except Wiley and Laura. He came by here on his return from "the war", I have a faint recollection of him. Have exchanged letters with Laura, but for sometime have heard nothing from her.

6th child (and 1st daughter)

Isabelle Coleman, was born Sept. 13, 1803. Died Sept. 10, 1838. Married February 6, 1823, Jacob Feaster (died Dec. 26, 1872, 34 years after his wife).

Their children were:

1. Jacob Fry Feaster, born Feb. 20, 1824, died Aug. 28, 1852, married Elizabeth Feaster Stone, Sept. 10, 1844. Moses Cockrell is their only living child. (He died Jan. 1915).
2. Edith Drisilla Feaster, born July 24, 1825, (died May 13, 1875) while living in the "Boarding House". Married Henry J. Lyles, Feb. 3, 1844. He died Sept. 23, 1861, of Typhoid Fever, at Germantown, Va., of Co. C, 3th Regiment.

// Their children were:

1. William Woodward Lyles, born March 2, 1845, Died in Virginia while in service.
 2. John Feaster Lyles, born Feb. 16, 1847, married Carrie Lyles.
 3. Arromenus Coleman Lyles, born Dec. 6, 1849, married Mrs. Joe Smith Willy.
 4. Mary Edith Isabel Lyles, born March 4, 1853, died Oct. 16, 1896.
 5. David Henry Lyles, born Oct. 10, 1854, Died Oct. 10, 1870.
3. John Coleman Feaster; born Aug. 21, 1827, Died Jan. 17, 1909, married Sallie P. Lyles, July 14, 1878.
- They have no living children.

4. Susan Elizabeth Feaster, born April 30, 1829, died in Arkansas. Married S. M. Simons, Feb. 1st, 1848.

Their children: (all now living are in Arkansas):

1. Jacob Pingree Simons, born Aug. 16, 1849. Dead.

Dr. C. C. Cox.
5. Roger William Feaster, born July 9, 1887.
6. Hattie Josephine Feaster, born Nov. 5, 1889.

2nd daughter of D. R. C. and Edith, his wife -

Elizabeth Coleman (called Betty) born April 6, 1807, married Isaac Nolen, and went with him to Indian Springs, Ga. (Rode horseback, her father giving her the horse, a negro woman, and horse for her. They all rode horseback. What would a young lady of this day think of such an undertaking! No fast trains, fine carriages, nor automobiles then). Shortly after, they went on and settled in Chambers Co., Alabama. He accumulated much property, was a man of influence. Raised a large family of boys and girls. Aunt Betty died after my grandfather did, so she was the last one of "Daddy Dave's" children to go. Died about 1880 in Texas. Isaac Nolen died before his wife. They moved to Smith County, Texas, before 1860. Some of her grandchildren living there yet, but I know nothing of them. We have a picture of her sent to my grandfather. I saw their old home in Alabama in 1897, a beautiful place, well fixed up in every way. Pity they left it.

Their children:

1. Isabelle Nolen, born Dec. 14, 1827, married John G. Coleman. Both died young, of yellow fever.
2. Robert Wilson Nolen, born Feb. 29, ~~1829~~ 1829, J.
3. Andrew/Nolen, born April 30, 1830.
4. Edith Mary Caroline Nolen, born Mch. 3, 1833, married _____ Stillwell.
5. Laura Ann Nolen, born Sept. 15, 1835, Married
Tolliver Towles.
6. Elizabeth Nolen, born June 3, 1837. Married Moore.
7. Isaac Henry Nolen, born 1839.
8. John Roe Nolen, born Dec. 31, 1841.

If any descendants are living, are in Texas. Uncle Nolen and family moved to Smith Co., before the Confederate War. We know nothing of them now.

The 3rd daughter, and youngest child, of D. R. Coleman and Edith Beam, was "Sallie", born April 10, 1810, died in 1815.

Edith, the mother of the above nine children, died on the 28th of April, 1825, in the 60th year of her age.

This was written in his Bible by her husband D. R. C., and is the only thing recorded of her, except the date of their marriage.

John Roe Coleman, 2nd son of Robert and Elizabeth Coleman, went to Greene Co., Alabama. I have no knowledge of him nor his descendants. There are Colemans in that County yet.

Robert Roe Coleman, 3rd son (of Robert and Elizabeth Roe Coleman) married Nancy Coleman, his first cousin, and settled near his father and brother David. The place now owned by Henry Traylor. Their children were: Hiram Henry, Nylie, Polly and Jonathan David. Polly died when a young lady, unmarried, of typhoid fever.

Hiram H. married Betty Beam, Feb. 4, 1827. Their children: Susan (1st) who married John Feaster Cockrell. She died young, leaving one daughter, who is now the widow Lumpkin, with one son, John. Nancy (2nd) married David Roe Coleman. They moved to Chambers Co., Alabama in 1848. Raised a family of 8 children:

Their children:

1. Lizzie Coleman, married Wince W. Gay
2. Hiram ^{son} Fairfield Coleman married Lena Waller
3. Edward Wilson Coleman md. (1st) Lola Marsh, of Alabama.
(2nd) Jennie Isabelle Coleman
4. Bedford Forrest Coleman married Corrie Wallace
5. Robert Elam Coleman married Lillie Belle Stevens
6. Julia Coleman married James Howell
7. Philip Mayo Coleman married Maggie Smith, Lad saw Paul's Press
- Philip Mayo, Coleman, who was at camp
8. Nancy Coleman, died when about grown. Had been kicked at camp by a mule when a small boy, and never got over the Steel, Ala.
effects of it.

Robert Hiram Coleman (3rd child of Robert Roe Coleman and Nancy Coleman, married Julia Ann Feaster. They had two boys, Lewis Andrew and Robert Feaster. The latter was shot accidentally by a boy companion when 19 years old, while hunting, and died from loss of blood. Lewis married Zura (Mazura) Carter. They had seven children. Live in Florida, where his mother went a widow with the two little boys in Dec. 1867. The father, Robert H., died of fever in Augusta, Ga., June 24th, 1862.

Edward (4th) married Nancy E. Coleman, (grand-daughter of William Coleman, who was brother of Robert Coleman, the 1st). They had no children. We own the land they lived on. 'Tis a part of the 500 acres granted by King George.

Dr. Hiram S., Coleman, the youngest of Hiram H. and his wife, Betty Beam's children, died of consumption January 2d, 1866. Never married. Born after his father's death.

Wylie (2nd son of Robert and Nancy Coleman) married Sally Rainey. They settled where their daughter, Elitia Jeffares now lives. Their children: Francis Daniel, Polly, Seleta, Sarah, Savilla, Robert, Elitia.

Francis Daniel Coleman married Susan Stone. They lived and died where their son, Wylie, now lives. Their children:

1. Robert Coleman went to Tennessee. Twice married.
2. Maggie, Coleman married Elmore Boney.
3. Sallie Coleman married Henry Robinson.
4. Jacob F. Coleman married 3 times.
5. Wylie Coleman married Victoria Robinson.
6. Minnie Coleman married _____ Tonge, of Augusta, Ga.

Polly Coleman married William McLane. He died during the Civil War. They lived on land given by her father. Their children:

1. Sallie McLane married Robert Castles
2. Mary McLane, married James Robinson
3. Jack McLane, married Widow Yongue (nee Isa Crowder)
4. Silas McLane married Mattie Mobley.
5. Fanny McLane married William Mobley

Seleta Coleman married James Morgan. They died young, leaving one son, Hiram Morgan, who is now old and has had a hard life. Being half idiot.

Sarah Coleman married Jesse Gladden, a grandson of Allan Coleman.

Their children:

1. Sarah Rebecca Gladden, married Sam S. Coleman
(3 girls, 2 boys)
2. John Coleman Gladden married in Alabama. I don't know the name. Has one daughter,
Sarah Rebecca Gladden.

Elitia Coleman married Henry Jeffares (her cousin)

Their children:

1. Lizzie Jeffares married Sam Wright (3 boys)
2. Robert R. Jeffares married Lizzie Hogan (2 boys and 2 girls)
3. H. Coleman Jeffares ~~mar~~— died single.
4. Ben F. Jeffares, died single
5. Mattie Jeffares, married Ned Taylor (2 boys, 4 girls)
6. John Wylie Jeffares was thrown by a mule, died from the injury.
7. Sam Jeffares, single.

Savilla Coleman never married. Was an invalid.

Jonathan David Coleman, familiarly known as Jonathan D., married Sallie McLane. They had no children. Raised as their own, her nephew, John Henry McLane. Jonathan D. inherited his father's place (the house is in good condition now, a fine chimney) and was a successful farmer. He accumulated much property in land and slaves. Was called a smart man, though not educated. He lived according to the dictates of a coarse nature, tho he was charitable and kind to the poor. Died a victim to drink, and his property caused dissension and some of it went to waste. His widow dying poor. His niece, Nancy Coleman (Ed's mother) inherited 1/4 of his land, getting most of that known as the "Grubbs Place." It is now owned by Ed (your father).

Wylie Roe Coleman, 4th son of Robert and Elizabeth, married Sarah Ragsdale, and had a large family of sons and daughters, most of whom went to Mississippi and Texas. Their son, Griffin, married Susan Cockrell (niece of grandfather John Feaster). They went to Winston Co., Miss., about 1850. Their descendants still live there. They are Universalists and call their church "Liberty", after ours here. Last year they built a new church, which was dedicated by Dr. Shinn. He helped them build it, and then painted it. Dr. D. B. Clayton had always visited them at regular periods, preaching for them, since their moving to that state. He went every year, as long as he lived. A granddaughter of Griffen visited us 3 years ago, Minnie Coleman Johnson. Had two nice little girls. She told us much of these relatives that we have never seen.

Another son, Williams Coleman (called "Buck") went on to Texas from Miss., and Coleman Co., Texas, is named for him. He married a Miss Head here in South Carolina.

Sophia Coleman married Williams Coleman, her cousin, and went to Miss. Joe (Coleman) married a Miss Banks, lived and died in Fairfield, near where he was born. Some of his descendants live near Blackstock and Ridgeway.

Henry Jonathan Francis Wyatt Coleman was the only one of the family I ever saw. He was a remarkable man in many ways. Was wild and reckless in his young days, drawing down much censure on his head, from relatives. He went West, visiting the brothers and sisters settled there, drank and gambled, and did as he pleased. Late in life he married Ailsey Cockrell, an old maid, and through her, got the old Jacob Feaster home, the land first settled by the Feasters in this county. After her death he married a widow Boulware. She lived only a few months. He lived on alone at the old home, to old age, waited on by the slaves, of whom there were a good many. He was very kind to them and all loved their "Marster" or "Boss". He was always Republican in politics, which was very distasteful to his many Democratic relatives. So they had very little to do with him for years after "the War." He was given the office of Trial Justice by the "Radicals", and in spite of the prejudice that aroused, he proved so wise and just to all during this perilous, soul-trying period, that the esteem and respect of friends was won, and the latter years of his life were his best. He was a man of fine natural intellect, and a memory that covered so much it was interesting to hear him talk. He was a peculiar looking old fellow, as I remember him - tall and large, but active and straight, to the end. One eye was crossed and this gave him a comical expression, and I would wonder which eye was looking at me. His speech was quaint, and to suit himself. Said "needcessity" for necessity. His clothes were homemade, very loose, no fit at all. Yet he was commanding in appearance. I often wish I had talked with him more. So much he could have told me, that now I can't find out.

He is buried at the old Cockrell graveyard, on Lizzie Cockrell Lumpkin's land. No stones mark any of the graves. In a few years no one will know where they are.

The graves of Jacob Feaster and his wife, Peggie Cannamore, are right near the old house place where Wyatt lived. The house has lately been burned. These two graves are not marked, but are enclosed by a rock wall. He left considerable property, too, to his relatives (had no child), but none of them had his grave marked.

Allen Roe Coleman, 5th son of Robert and Elizabeth, married his cousin, Sallie (daughter of Charles) sister of his brother Robert's wife. They settled near where Thomas E. Dye now lives. After a good many years, they moved to the Wateree section of this county, spending the remainder of their lives there. Their children grew up and settled there or went West. So that I know very little about them, except that they had twin girls, Betsy and Rebecca, and they married twin brothers, Gladden by name.

The 6th son, Griffin Roe Coleman, went West, and the 7th son, William Roe, went west. The 10th, Zerebabe, and the 12th, Ancil, died young, and their small graves are at the foot of the graves of their parents.

Solomon Roe Coleman, the 8th son, married a daughter of Stephen Coleman, and settled near here, but all I've heard of him is very indistinct in my memory, so I can record nothing of him.

Francis Roe, the 9th son, went West, after marrying Margaret Mobley, in this county. Was said to be the handsomest Coleman of his time. I know nothing of their descendants. I suppose he settled in Greene Co., Alabama, with his brother, John and Griffen. The two sisters, Sarah and Elizabeth, went West too with these brothers. Sarah married Reuben Mobley, I think, but I can't trace the other one.

Henry Jonathan Coleman, the 11th son, and the youngest to reach manhood, married Mary Feaster. They had sixteen children. Five died in infancy.

1st son - John Feaster Coleman married Sallie Gladden (his uncle Allen's granddaughter) and their children:

1. Silas Coleman, died a boy.

5. Henry Jonathan Coleman.

6th son - Dr. Preston Coleman (William Calhoun Preston Coleman) married Jennie Secrest. No children. He died from effects of wounds received at Battle of Manassas.

7th son - Allan Griffin Coleman, was killed near Petersburg, Va.

8th son - Dr. Benjamin Franklin Coleman, died from wounds at Winchester, VA.

9th - George Washington Coleman, married Mary Elizabeth
Stevenson, the 6th of March 1867. She died
Dec. 22nd, 1878. Children:

1. John Franklin Coleman, married Eva Shields, of Fla. 3 children.
2. Samuel Allen Coleman, married Gertrude Shields, of Fla. 4 children.
3. Henry Lee Coleman.
4. Sarah Isabelle Coleman, married
(1st) Howard Leitner Allen
(2nd) J. R. Shelton
5. George Wade Coleman married Miss Latie Skipper, of Fla.

Stephen Crosby married Charity Coleman, but I do not know her connection with my great grandfather, David Roe Coleman.

(NOTE ADDED LATER: "Was 1st cousin, daughter of Stephen Coleman.")

Their children were: William, Tom, Stephen, David, Sally, Eliza.

The above William Crosby married Miss Thomas, of Union Co.,

They were the grandparents of Uncle Butler Estes.

Tom Crosby married Miss ^{Charlotte} Parks. Mrs. Susan (Lemuel) Estes' descendants are from him. (Misses Maude Durham, sisters and brothers.

Stephen married Miss Frances Nevitt. Mrs. Daisy Stone, Cornwell

Stone, ~~was~~ from him.

Also, Claude and D. P. Crosby. David married Miss Ederington.

Mrs. Daisy (Crosby) Stone is also from him, her brothers and sisters, thru their father. Sally married Charles Douglas.

Dr. Jim Douglas and brothers from her. Dr. Charles McLarkin.

Eliza married _____.

I have heard my grandfather speak of "Uncle Sol", who was, I suppose, brother of his uncle, David Roe Coleman, but I do not know more of him, but feel sure he lived and died near my grandfather.

The Solomon Coleman who lived in the old house known as the "Solomon House" was son of William Coleman, the 1st, and consequently a cousin of David Roe ("Daddy Dave"). Eva and Clarence Jeter, of Union Co., are his great, great grandchildren.

Robert Roe Coleman, brother of "Daddy" was called "Partin." They were great for nicknames, and 'tis kept up to the present day.

Churches, of course, were few and far between when these men were young, from 1780 to 1830, and the customs were primitive, what we of this forward age would call very crude, I suppose. They were more natural and sincere, no doubt. Not far from here, back of the present Widener old home, near the new negro church, was a church building or meeting house. The young men and boys would gather to play marbles, pitch horseshoes, jump, etc, before the preaching began, on Sunday mornings. I think this just as creditable as some of the Sunday practices of this great civilized time.

There were two pre chers that visited this meeting house to preach. One, I think named Gain, would arrive, reprimand those engaged in playing games, call them into the house. Of course, they didn't go then. The preacher would, no doubt, pay them his compliments in a way he liked and consigned them to the place he thought they would be sure to go.

Another preacher, William Woodward, on his meeting day, would arrive and join those engaged in games, taking a part. Then say, "Now, boys, let's go in the church for preaching.
Every one would follow him in, behave themselves, and no doubt were benefitted, for he must have been a noble character.

On one occasion (remember, he was a believer in a literal hell of fire, in the hereafter, and that all must go there who were not believers), he said in his preaching, to make the dread of the horrible place as fearful as possible, no doubt, that "the bottom of Hell was covered with infants, not a span long," and looking over to Robert Roe Coleman (He called him Partin) —they were good friends, said, "Now, Partin, you don't believe that." Partin said, "No, I'll be damned if I do."

The present day Baptists say such a doctrine was never preached, but we have the above testimony, handed down by those who had heard it, and like "Partin", would be damned before believing it.

Perhaps 30 years or more after this, at a Baptist church, established several miles from the spot just described, as a place of meeting, the preacher paid his compliments to the Universalist believe in a way that pleased himself and really knowing nothing of it, then said he hoped there were none under the sound of his voice who believed such a sinful, God dishonoring doctrine. Andrew Feaster rose from his seat, standing in full view, said, "Here is one." The preacher was rather taken aback, but was very sorry that anyone was so blinded and on such a mistaken road.

And perhaps 40 years later, a daughter of Andrew Feaster, Drusilla Rawls, living in Columbia, S. C., again stood for the faith. A Presbyterian preacher (her son and his wife belonged to the Presbyterian Church) was calling on the family, and taking it for granted that she, too, was of his flock, said something to that effect. She told him, "No, she was a member of the Universalist Church." "Why! My dear Madam, I am surprised! How comes it you have strayed away thus?" She answered, "I haven't strayed, THEY have done the straying. I am where I belong, and always have been." (And for the 60 years of her life in that city she never "strayed" from the faith of her fathers. Often times, too, she knew of no other of like faith in the place.

Feb. 2nd, 1897, twenty-one years ago (this the 2nd day of February 1918) today, Ed and I were married, here in this home that is so empty now, and he is gone to that place from which no one has ever returned, and I am lonesome for him. Nearly a year he has been gone, the 26th of Feb. 1917, at 3 A. M. he breathed the last struggling breath - breath that he clung to to the last, trying with all his feeble strength to live on here with us. And I feel now that his spirit is near me, tho we cannot speak together. We always observed this date (our marriage day), but today it goes unnoticed except by the feelings of my heart. January 30th was his birthday. We always had a good dinner for that, and often a gathering of kinfolks to enjoy the day with us. This date, too, passed unnoticed, except by me. This miserable weather we've had so long changes everything. It seems queer to think of this birthday, the first one since his birth, that he is not in this life. Oh! Life! How wonderful, how fearful, how mysterious, it is!

I know if you can, you are thinking of this day, Ed, and want to speak to me, to comfort and assure me of the never ending life with you. Be near me, to cheer and comfort, in my loneliness.

February 2nd, 1919.

Another anniversary for me to keep alone. How little we thought of the great change the years would bring for me when you came from Alabama 22 years ago, to take me home with you. We expected to live our allotted years together. I think over the days we enjoyed together in our Alabama home, and am glad we had them, but how I miss your presence now. No one to understand just what I mean, as you did. I am alone today, and wonder if you know and are near

And Marsh is gone to be with you. How often I imagine your glad welcome to him.

Feb. 2nd, 1925. I try not to think. No one besides seems to remember, tho I do.

Feb. 26, 1926, 8 years since you left me. Again, I try not to dwell on this date. Can hardly bear my thoughts, and wonder if you, too, remember!

Feb. 26, 1927. Ten years since we left your frail body at our graveyard. Lola knows the spot now, and talks of our folks and our graveyrd.

(NOTES ARE SCATTERED, AND DATES NOT CONSECUTIVE)

April 30, 1926. Twenty-eight years ago you left me, Pa. I am now older than you were when you departed from this home.

Ma, Ed and Marsh all gone since then, and I am old and alone.

April 30, 1927. 29 years ago. I am remembering.

April 7, 1925. I carried John to Church at Feasterville April 7, 1900, the first time he went to church. Was seven months old, and all the years since he went to church, the last time on Dec. 22nd, 1923. Departed from this old home and life Jan. 7, 1924. God help me.

April 30, 1923. Twenty-five years ago Pa went away from this old home, and the place that once knew him, knows him no more. In this room he lay that night asleep to wake no more here. And I in Alabama, knowing nothing of it. Oh, Life is so hard to understand.

Dec. 3, 1926. Ma went away Dec. 3, 1912, and was buried by the side of Pa's grave. Dec.____, in our dear old graveyard. Since then Ed, Matsh and John have gone, and their bodies rest in same row. Oh, God, how strange, how heartbreaking, is life.

Jan. 7, 1927. 3 years ago John went away at 7 o'clock A. M., 1924.

Jan. 7, 1928. 4 years now, Sept. 7 his 28th birthday. Just me to remember these dates.

NOTE BY ETTA ROSSON: John A. F. Coleman, the son, never married.

This October 13, 1928, is the ^{73rd} 7th anniversary of the marriage John A. J. Coleman and Juliana Stevenson (Oct. 13, 1855). He born June 9, 1828. She, July 14, 1831. Their first child born Aug. 10, 1854, Samuel Stevenson Coleman.

(2nd) Dec. 22, 1856, Jennie Isabel Coleman.

(3rd) Aug. 22, 1859, Sarah Drusilla (died of bad dyspeheria Jan. 5, 1865.

(4th) Jan. 29th, Henry David Coleman, 1866.

(5th) Dec. 31, 1868, Mary Feaster Coleman.

(6th) July 27, 1872, Chaney Savilla Coleman. Died on Sept. 29, 1885, after a few days of severe sickness, which must have been appendicitis. The doctors knew of no such at that time, and could do nothing to relieve or save her life.

Copy of a letter written by David Roe Coleman, 1st, to his son, Wilson Henry Coleman, of Greene County, Alabama.

South Carolina,
Fairfield District,
June 27, 1835.

Dear Son:

I take the present favorable opportunity to write to you a line in way of remembrance, as I have not had a letter from you for a great while, and inform you that your father is still living and in good health (Blessed be God for his mercies). Hoping that you and your family are all well. I believe I have not wrote to you since the death of your brother, Wiley. His widow and children are well and I think are likely to do well. They are very industrious, and your namesake, Wilson, is much so. Wiley had but a very short sickness from Thursday until Tuesday. He was doing very well. I think it was the excessive cold was the cause of his death. I am certain I have never experienced so cold a winter. Our wheat crops were greatly injured and a great many entirely ruined. All the fig trees and chany trees were killed. The fig trees will spring up again, but the Chany will not.

Our prospects for corn and cotton is very good at this time, the seasons have been very good.

As for your brothers and their families, all are well, except Chaney, Henry's wife. She has had a long spell of sickness that has seemed to threaten insanity. Isabella and her family are well. We expect to see Isaac and Betty in July. They were all well when we last heard from them. I am in the 71st year of my age. I am nearly as strong as I ever was, but not so active. I take a great deal of exercise, tho I work but little. I go into no excesses except reading. I think one third of the day is spent by me in reading. I live much alone and think that few men desire peace ~~more~~ more than I do, and none love it better. To love God with all my powers and my neighbors as myself is my aim and end. I rejoice that I have lived a life of Temperance (in almost everything). I have a good pare of spectacles and an excellent little Rifle gun, and I think I can kill more squirrels than any man in the neighborhood. This serves as an amusement for me in my vacant hours from reading. Peace be with you, my dear son,

D. R. Coleman.

I add no more.)

FEASTER GENEALOGY

I will first copy what William Edrington wrote of the Feasters and Colemans in his history of Fairfield County. He got these facts, no doubt, from members of each family, men who were his contemporaries. He lived to be a very old man.

"Andrew Feaster, the first settler of the name (the name was then spelled Pfister) in 1740 emigrated to this State (. S. C.) from Lancaster Co., Penn. His father, Peter, died on the road and was buried somewhere in Va. From him was descended the present family of Feasters of the Beaver Creek section of this county, better known as the Feasterville Township. He had a cousin, John Feaster, who came at the same time and settled in Edgefield Co. He was the great grandfather of Laurens Feaster, of the "Dark Corner" section.

Andrew Feaster was twice married (first wife's name not known), by the first wife only one daughter, Martha, who married William Colvin, of the Sandy River section of Chester Co., now known as the Halsellville township, and near where John Simpson now lives. She moved with some of her children to Greene Co., Ala., and lived to be quite an old lady, over 100 years. Most of her children died before she did, several going further West, into Louisiana and Texas. Her son, Tom Colvin, married Savilla Mobley, and their son, "Long" Thomas Colvin's daughter, Mary, married Nehemiah Cobb. Their son, Tom, married Dora Steele; their daughter, Fannie, married Herbert Gosa, a great-grand-grandson of David Roe Coleman.

Peter Pfister came to America from the Canton of Berne, Switzerland, wife and son. Andrew, and perhaps other children, sometime subsequent to 1735. They settled in Lancaster Co., Pa. Andrew changed the spelling of the name to its present form about 1767. He married in Philadelphia a widow, Mrs. Peter Cooper (her maiden name was Margaret Fry). She had three children - Adam, Eve (or Elizabeth, or Eliza, as she is named in the will of her step-father, Andrew Feaster), and Peter. 'Tis not known just when they left Pa. for the south, some tradition saying 1770, other, nearer 1780. Peter Pfister was then a very old man.

There isn't a thing known about his wife, mother of Andrew. They feared the journey would be too much for him (Peter), and Andrew suggested waiting for his father's death before leaving Penn. But he insisted on their going and bringing him along, saying "Heaven is as near one place as another, and if I die on the way, why bury me there." They were six months on the way, and Peter died in Virginia. Brave old man, and how sad the son must have felt, leaving that spot. I hope the burial was in a graveyard where others lay. They traveled on to Georgia, perhaps there were a number together, for its probable the Colvins came then. When they reached the Savannah River, news of the Indians being on the war-path further on caused them to come back to South Carolina, here they bought land. The first settlement we know of being the place known as the Wyatt Coleman place, he getting it through his wife, Ailsy Cockrell, who was a granddaughter of Andrew, and inherited the land after death of her uncle Jacob Feaster, who left no children. The whole neighborhood around here for many years was known as Feasterville.

There is a Feasterville in Bucks Co., Pa., and a family graveyard. The names on the stones and the traditions in the neighborhood go back to the same generation as Andrew Feaster, and there is a John Feaster, who might have been his brother. They have a tradition of two brothers, but know nothing of any going South. They are not Universalists, but belong to some German church. They do not know of Peter Feaster (Pfister), Sr., of Switzerland. Think they are Germans, but never heard who came to this country first, nor from where.

Andrew Feaster, Jr., was a silversmith, a cabinet maker, a Captain of South Carolina State Militia, and a Free Mason. He was much attached to his brother, John, and bequeathed his property to John's children. He died January 25, 1808, being shot by mistake for Ezekiel Woolley, his brother-in-law, who was the Sheriff. The latter had summoned a posse to assist in capturing a criminal, Shadrack Jacobs, by name, and Andrew Feaster, Jr., was one of the number. It was after dark, and Jacobs shot Andrew, who was riding the Sheriff's white horse, and had on the sheriff's hat. Twenty years after, he was brought back from Texas and was hung in Winnsboro for the crime. He stated that he had supposed the rider of the white horse to be Woolley, whom he had sworn to kill, and regretted deeply having ~~shot~~ shot Andrew Feaster. The latter was carried to the old Gov. Means home, at old Buckhead, and died on the floor in front of the fire. It was said that blood stains marked the spot as long as the house stood.

STEVENSON GENEALOGY

John Stevenson, born 1751, died in 1802.

Janet Murdock Stevenson, born 1757, died July 18, 1852, both natives of County Antrim, Ireland. Buried in New Hope A. R. P. Church Cemetery, Fairfield County, S. C.

Now, I will tell you of your Stevenson ancestry, John. Am glad you remember your own dear grandmother, who did so much for you while you were a baby and as long as she lived was mother and grandmother to you. As you grow older you can look back with pleasure over the many kind and loving things she did for you. Always patient, always ready at your every call. For five weeks after your birth I wasn't able to do the least thing for you, and 'twas her watchful, never failing care that made you live. A puny baby, that had to be "bottle-fed." And I want here to pay tribute to another faithful "old slave", Fanny Boulware, who stayed with us 8 weeks then and helped nurse you and me. You must see that she never comes to want.

She died in August 1916, and didn't suffer from neglect. Had lived here with us most of the time for several years, helping in the kitchen, having plenty to eat and wear, and a room next to mine to sleep. The last two Christmases she hung up stockings, as John did. We went to her funeral and burial at Hessian Church, and helped pay for the headstone that marks her grave. "Well done, thou good and faithful Aunt Fannie."

John Stevenson and his wife, Janet Murdock Stevenson, migrated to America from Ireland about 1790. They then had three children: William, James and Mary, a baby, who sickened and died on the voyage across, and was buried at sea. It took three months to come over, in a sail vessel.

Janet Murdock's father was a dyer, and considered well-to-do. Above the poor young man, John Stevenson, who was forbidden to visit her. They were secretly married a year before her father knew it, and he never fully forgave her. Then I suppose they decided to come to America. Found life very hard here for some time. Bought land in the New Hope section of Fairfield County, where Eb Steenson, their grandson, now lives.

They built a rough log cabin without doors or floors. I guess they were frightened at everything in this new country, and wanted no doors. They went in under the sill at one end, which was some higher there. As they got able, they improved this, adding more rooms, bought a negro woman. More children came as the years went by - John, Hugh, Robin, Peggy, Andrew and Samuel Hemphill, born in 1803.

1. John Stevenson, died a young man, unmarried.
2. Hugh Stevenson, never married. Was a fine blacksmith, made and saved money. Died owner of a fine place called "Whithall", near Monticello. Our sideboard (bought from Aunt Nancy Estes) was his, and is over 100 years old. My grandmother, Cynthia, never liked her brother-in-law, Hugh. Did not name either of her sons for him, tho' he asked for a namesake.
3. Robin (Robert) was noted for his height of 7 feet. Married Margaret Hartin. Their oldest son, William, was killed accidentally (by Joe Yongue) Left a widow, who was Lizzie Bolick. No children. 2nd son, Milton, is a minister (A. R. P.), married and has children, but I do not know the names. 1st daughter, Nettie (Janet for her grandmother) married Dr. Jim Douglas, of Winnsboro. Had several children, Macy (2nd dtr) unmarried, is a missionary in Mexico. Ebenezer married Mamie Weir. He lives at the old Stevenson home.

4. William (1st son of John Stevenson), born in Ireland, married Jane Thompson. Their children were:

Jean Stevenson, md. Sam Thompson
Mary " died in old age, single.
Peggy " married Middleton Martin (born April 1819, died Feb. 1892). No children.
John " married Nancy Thompson (no kin to those above)
William " md. Caroline Valentin.
Robert " married Nancy Cabeen
Jennie md. Cephus Bolick
Martha md. Jacob Starr
Betsy md. John Hamison.

I am not giving descendants of the above children.

- 2nd son - James Stevenson, married Nellie Weir. Their children:

1. John Stevenson md 3 times: (1st) Dorcas Hill
(2nd) Lizzie Levister
(3rd) Mary Ann McMullen
2. David Stevenson md. Lizzie Hill, niece of Dorcas Hill.
3. Hugh Stevenson)
4. Billy " and) Died young
5. Sam ")
6. Jane Stevenson md. Daniel Bolick
7. Jennie Stevenson md. Asaph Hill, father of the above Lizzie, and brother of Dorcas.
8. Mattie Stevenson and Robert died young.

5. James Stevenson married Sarah Brown (grandfather of Robert and David Stevenson, near Winnsboro)

6. Peggy Stevenson, the only daughter after the one buried at sea, died Oct. 8, 1855, age 35, never married.

7. Andrew Stevenson (6th son) went deranged when a young man. Stayed in the Asylum in Columbia a while. Gradually got better and was taken care of by his younger brother, Sam. Lived to be an old man. Was industrious and helpful in many ways around the home. I remember many peculiar habits, and we children rather feared him, tho' we liked to watch the way he did. In going from the house to the well, or to the lot, or kitchen, he had a certain track of his own, maybe as far again as the one used by the others, but he always went his path, no matter how much someone wanted him to go quickly. He lived in a small house in the yard, or slept there only, and generally took care of his room, making bed and sweeping. Once, some negroes stole all his bedding except a mattress. He thought that my grandmother had a need for them and had taken them, so he said nothing, but lay on half the mattress and pulled the rest over him for cover. 'Twas cold weather. Now and then grandmother or one of the daughters went to his room, and doing so this time, found his bed in such a state. He said "I thought Cynthia needed the bedding and had taken it". Had slept that way several nights. They were all so sorry about it. But he, in his simple goodness, made no complaint, thinking Cynthia did it, and 'twas therefore all right. I can't remember whether the thief was found. Grandfather Sam was always kind to him. He sat by him at the table, from the time he took him in, after being in the Asylum. Leaving his mother and other brothers to live the remainder of his long child's life with "Sam." As I said, he sat by Sam, and was always helped first by him, no matter what company MIGHT be present. And he had a warm place by the fire always. Never talked much, but was fond of all Sam's children and grandchildren. Pleased like a child to see them. Read his large print "Testament" a great deal. Lived to be 77. Poor, good, simple old Uncle Andy! What a queer life! So many things of that time come back to me as I write of you.

Samuel Hemphill, 7th son of John and Janet Stevenson, was born Jan. 4, 1803, died March 29, 1890. Married Cynthia Yongue, born Jan. 17, 1810, died June 15, 1888.

Their children:

Jennie (Jennet) Stevenson, born Dec. 1, 1828, died March 22, 1855.

Juliana Stevenson, born July 14, 1831, died Dec. 5, 1912.

Margaret Jane Stevenson, born Nov. 19, 1833, died May 3, 1874.

John Yongue Stevenson, born July 23, 1836. Killed at 2nd Manassas 1862.

Sarah Amanda Stevenson, born Jan. 25, 1839, died Sept. 9, 1906.

Samuel Hemphill Stevenson, born July 26, 1841, killed at Battle of Seven Pines, 1862.

Mary Elizabeth Stevenson, born June 30, 1844, died Dec. 22nd, 1878.

Nancy Catherine Stevenson, born Feb. 22, 1847, died Feb. 8, 1924.

Cynthia Isabelle Stevenson, born March 5, 1850, died Dec. 6, 1874.

(1st) Jennie Stevenson, married to Joseph Clowney Dec. 7, 1848, by Rev. James Boyce. Had 3 daughters: Fannie, Cynthia, Margaret. The two last died of consumption when young, as did the mother. Fannie married William Bolick. They had - Joe, Sam, John, Charlie and Bell (twins), and Jim.

(7th) Cynthia Isabelle Stephenson, the youngest, died at 24 years of age, unmarried, a beautiful, angelic character, dearly loved by all the family.

John Stevenson's father was John, and his mother's name Molly, but I never heard her maiden name.

Janet Murdock's father was named Hugh. Never heard her mother's name.

John Stevenson and wife, Janet Stevenson, and most of their children are buried in New Hope ARP Church Cemetery. He was born about 1751, died in 1802. She was born in 1757, died July 18, 1852.

THE YONGUE GENEALOGY (1921)

This family must have come from Ireland about same time as the Stevensons. And their first settlement that I know of is near the Stevensons. Am not sure but think the first one was Samuel Yongue, and his wife, Sarah Martin. Am not certain about their children, except my great grandfather, Martin Yongue, who married Juliana Cameron. Her mother was a Moore, of the family who lived near Winnsboro. (The Col. Moore.)

The children of the above were:

1. Sarah Yongue, who married John Thompson, settled where Mrs. Jim Turner lives. Long ago went to Miss., and I know nothing of them now.
2. Cynthia Yongue, my grandmother, (and never a better one)
3. Jane Yongue, and
4. Jennie Yongue. I can't remember their history.
5. Savilla Yongue, married John Milling.
6. Malinda Yongue, died a young lady.
7. James Yongue, married the widow Frances Crosby Estes.
8. Andrew Yongue, married Nancy Robinson.

Robin and William Yongue were brothers of Martin, my great-grandfather.

Robin Yongue married Hester Mobley, when rather an old man. His parents are buried somewhere near his home place. I've never seen the graves. "Graves on Little River, near where they settled, Samuel Yongue and wife, Sarah Ann Martin, and several of their children and grandchildren. I saw the graves, 1928." (This note made later.)

The children of Robin and Hester Yongue were:

1. William Mobley Yongue, md. Savilla E. Coleman
2. Sarah Ann Martin Yongue married David A. Coleman.
3. Susannah Yongue married Moses Clowney.
4. Mary Yongue, married John Lemmon.

5. Rebecca Yongue, married (1st) Henry A. Coleman
(2nd) Dr. Owens.
6. Isabelle Yongue, married (1st) Thomas Clark
(2nd) William Bolick

William Yongue, married Betsy Lane. Their home place was where Sam Clowney, Sr., now lives (1921). He was a cripple from ill health a long time before death. His wife, a great manager of affairs. Their only daughter, Sarah Yongue, married David Milling, 2 children, Russ and Lizzie. Russ, as a boy almost, went as a soldier of the Confederate War, and was wounded, losing one leg. Suffered from it as long as he lived. He married Mary Lemon (whose mother was first cousin of his mother). Lizzie married Samuel B. Clowney. They went to Texas. Have sons there.

Sarah Yongue married second time a David Milling, an older man, perhaps cousin of 1st husband's father. Of this marriage, children: Andrew, died single. Agnes married Robert Lemmon. (Howe Lemon is their son). Rena married James McFie (Present sheriff, 1921). Ladd, was a bachelor.

William and Betsy Yongue had other children, I suppose. I only remember a son, Robert, and know nothing of his descendants.

Robin Yongue and wife, Hester Mobley, are buried in the family graveyard near his home, now owned by Spratt Clowney, who is their great-grandson. (Now owned in 1926 by Blair & Co.) Their children, who are buried in same graveyard are: William Mobley, and wife, Savilla Coleman; Sarah Ann and husband, David A. Coleman. Maletia Jane, Isabelle, and husbands, T. Clark and William Bolick. Son-in-law Henry A. Coleman, and his son, John Feaster, and a number of grandchildren.

This place was owned by a Hill, I've always remembered as being told me, and that the graves of him and wife are also in this graveyard. Robin Yongue added to the house after he bought the place, accumulated much land and negroes.

Hester Mobley was daughter of Isham and Susannah Mobley (first cousins.) They are buried near their home place, the land now owned by the Jeffares, close to McLures Creek, possibly obliterated. Jemima Mobley, sister of Hester, died Dec. 25, 1875.

Robin Yongue, died June 30, 1848.
 Hester Mobley, his wife, died June 23, 1852.
 Maletia Jane, daughter, died April 17, 1857.
 Hester Isabel (Clark-Bolick) died Jan. 1875.
 Susannah Yongue Clowney
 Sarah Ann Martin Coleman
 Mary Yongue Lemon
 Rebecca Yongue Coleman
 William Mobley Yongue, only son, born Sept. 11, 1824.

William Mobley Yongue, married Savalla Elisabeth Coleman, March 26, 1844. She was born Aug. 20, 1825, died Jan. 1877. Their children:

Robert Roe Yongue, born Feb. 14, 1845.) Both died Dec. 5, Chaney Isabelle Yongue, born March 17, } 1848, same day.
 1846.

Sarah Hester Yongue, born May 4, 1848, married
 James B. Turner, Nov. 1867.
 Laura Yongue, born Nov. 28, 1851, married
 Thomas Owings.
 Pierce M. Butler, born Feb. 23, 1854, died Sept. 3, 1856

Margaret Brusilla Yongue, born May 11, 1856, died Oct. 17, 1914.

Henry Coleman Yongue, born Feb. 3, 1859, died Aug. 1885.

Margaret Brusilla Yongue married John B. Propst,
Jan. 8, 1878, by Rev. W. W. Mills. Their children:

Eunice Propst, born March 10, 1879
William Yongue Propst, born April 4, 1881
John Henry Propst, born Aug. 17, 1884.
Stella Propst, born Sept. 25, 1888.
Savilla Isabel Propst, born Dec. 15, 1889.
David Coleman Propst, born Feb. 15, 1892.
John Propst, died young

THE FOLLOWING RECORD KEPT BY MRS. JENNIE I. COLEMAN IN A PENCIL TABLET.

Brusilla Mobley, daughter of Samuel Mobley and Mary Wagner, was born about 1770. Tradition says she was 16 when she married John Feaster, and he 18 years of age. He was born in Lancaster Co., Penn., in 1768. Samuel Mobley lived near Beaver Creek, on Poplar Ridge, as that particular place is yet called, and he and his wife are buried somewhere in that vicinity.

, As near as can be ascertained, Drusilla Mobley and John Feaster were married perhaps in 1786. John Feaster had gone from the western part of what is now Fairfield Co., bought land and settled on Beaver Creek, very near the home of Hans Wagner and Samuel Mobley. The children of Drusilla Mobley Feaster were: Andrew, who was killed in infancy by a colt running over him in the yard; Susan, Hiram, Andrew, (named after the first), Jacob, Mary (called Polly), Chaney, Savilla, John Mobley. The last an infant at his mother's death the 15th of April 1807.

It must have been hard living for the women of that day, as we note the number of children and the mothers dying young. The grandparents, Andrew Feaster and wife, Margaret Fry, were living for more than 10 years after this mother died, and they helped care for the 7 children who grew up. John Feaster had become what was considered well-to-do by that time, had built a house of a superior style to what was common then, and a cemetery was started near that home. Brusilla may have been near the first to sleep in the quiet, isolated spot now, still taken care of by her descendants. Very little is known of her, as she died while her children were small, and the older ones living didn't think to inquire of the grandfather who could have told them. It was said by her brother, John, that she was the best looking of his sisters, and must have been trained in the homely duties of a good housekeeper, as tradition tells of an occasion when a lady of the Means family (who lived near her on these same Beaver Creek lands) was dining with her, complimented her for the beautifully prepared butter, and asked for the loan of her "print", so that she could fix hers in like manner. The reply was that her hand was her "print."

Her home was near Fort Wagner, and less than a mile from where Hans Wagner and his wife are buried.

The seven (7) children of Brusilla Mobley Feaster who grew up and married - Susan, Andrew, Jacob, Mary, Chancy, Savilla, John Mobley. (Hiram and Andrew died young).

1. Susan was the mother of 8 children.
2. Andrew, the father of 11 children.
3. Jacob, the father of 7 children.
4. Mary, the mother of 16 children.
5. Chaney, the mother of 10 children.
6. Savilla, the mother of 9 children.
7. John Mobley, the father of 5 children.

1st Daughter of Drusilla:

Susan, married Robert Fitz Coleman. Her exact age is not known, but he was born Aug. 26, 1789, the 1st child of David Roe Coleman, who was married September 13, 1787. 'Tis probable that John Feaster and Drusilla Mobley were married about the same time, and Susan may have been near the age of her husband. She died Jan. 15, 1829, leaving an infant 2 weeks old. This infant (named Susan) was taken to the heart and home of her sister, Chaney, nursed with her son, John A. F. Coleman.

Her oldest children died young, names William, David Roe, Elizabeth, Drusilla, the oldest that lived, grew up and married William Coleman, son of Solomon, who was first cousin of David Roe, named above. The children of Drusilla and William Coleman were: Rebecca, Mary, Eliza, Caroline, Isabel, Henry. They moved to Randolph Co., Ga., when the first two or three children were small, before the War, maybe as far back as 1840. For a long time now there has been no communication and very little is known of these relatives. Henry, the son, married and he had children. He is now dead. Isabel married, and had one child. She and it are dead. The other three sisters never married, and two of them are alive at the old home, near Cuthbert, where also Henry lived.

William Coleman, who married Drusilla, was an ardent Universalist. In 1850 he wanted the Convention to meet at his place. As there was no church of that faith anywhere near, he built a church almost entirely at his own expense, costing at least $500.00, had it ready for the meeting in August. He was a tall, well formed man, intelligent, pleasant mannered. Was member of Legislature of Ga. several times about 1873. They family went into Spiritualism, finding much comfort and consolation.

Edith, the next daughter, married Michael Adkins, A daughter and son born to them. The daughter, Lizzie, the son named Michael. Mr. Adkins died, and she afterwards married Andrew Hancock. Their first son named Robert. The son and daughter of first marriage born about 1826 or 1827.

The two families, Drusilla and William Coleman, Edith and Andrew Hancock, and their single brother, Andrew, moved to the same neighborhood, near Guthbert, Randolph Co., Ga. Lizzie Adkins married an Allison, and has descendants there. Michael married and has descendants. The children of Edith and Andrew Hancock were: Robert, John, Zack, Drusilla, Sallie. Some of them still live in that county.

John, married and settled in Greene Co., Alabama, where several uncles and brothers of his father had already gone. Don't know wife's name, nor children. Some of them went to Texas, very few living.

Andrew, married after going to Ga., where his sisters lived.

Eliza, 3rd daughter, married Martin Coleman (brother of William, who married her sister, Drusilla). She was only 13 years old at time of marriage, was a widow in 6 months. A year or so later, married James Brennan, to them one child was born, a girl named Mary, who lived to be 4 years old. Said to be a most beautiful child. So strikingly beautiful, that her looks were spoken of 50 years after her death by relatives of her mother, who also was called a beautiful girl - blue eyed and brown haired. She was a widow again and married the 3rd time before she was twenty, to John Q. Arnette. Of this marriage were - Feaster, Berry, Susan, and Robert Coleman. Feaster and Berry went west after the War, died leaving no children. Susan, also a beauty of her mother's style, married her mother's first cousin, Andrew Cameron. Three boys were born to them - Robert, Andrew and Sam. The two first died young, very beautiful children. Before the Birth of Sam, the father, a physician, died of consumption. The bereft wife went home to her mother, where the little boy who never saw his father, came to comfort her the few years she lived. Then the grandmother, who had gone thru so much of sadness and trouble, her only daughter gone when she so much needed her in old age, raised this grandson. Years before Mr. Arnett had died, and for the 4th time Eliza entered the matrimonial state, when her youngest son, Robert, was 16 years old, marrying Wesley Mayfield, who was a kind husband and a father to her daughter and son. She, with Mr. Arnett, went to live in Ga., where her two sisters and brother lived, supposedly soon after they married. Mr. Arnett died there. She came back and lived till her death in 1890, on land left her by her father, her home being near where he and Susan Feaster settled, also near where they are buried, and where she and her daughters are buried. Mr. Mayfield lived on at the old home till his death two years ago, being 96 years old. The grandson, Sam, grew to manhood, graduated in medicine, and practiced his profession until his health failed. He, too, died of consumption. He was the last of the Cameron name, is buried at Salem Presbyterian Churchyard, where also later his uncle, Dr. R. C. Arnette, was buried.

Robert Coleman Arnette was youngest child of Eliza. He and his sister grew up at a time when life was easy and enjoyable for young people in the country. There were slaves to carry on the work, making beautiful living for all. There were many young cousins within their circle of acquaintance, who were much together, lovely girls and fine young men, many of them musicians, and all loved to dance. All had riding horses, and the distance between homes did not count.

Robert Arnette also chose the Medical profession, graduating at Louisville, Ky. He married Miss Kittie Evans, of Monticello, S. C., about 1875.

Their children:

1. John
2. Robert
3. Susan
4. Mary
5. Julian

3rd daughter of Drusilla, Chaney, married to Henry Alexander Coleman, Dec. 5, 1822. She was born Aug. 29, 1800. He was born Sept. 5, 1797. She died July 11, 1878,
He, July 21, 1877. She was the mother of 10 children, i. e.:

David Andrew, born Sept. 16, 1825.
Savilla Elizabeth, born August 20, 1825.
Edith (died an infant) born May 1, 1827.
John Albert Feaster, born June 9, 1828.
Margaret Drusilla, born July 5, 1830.
Isabelle Susan, born Oct. 3, 1832.
Henry Alexander, born Nov. 17, ~~1833~~ 1835.
Mary Kizanna (died an infant) born Jan. 7, 1838.
Sallie Edith Amanda, born Jan. 28, 1840.
Robert Charles, born Jan. 31, 1842.

Chaney Feaster was of fair complexion, blue eyes, light colored, curly hair, features very much like her father.
Rather small in size, of a kind, affectionate nature, patient with hindrances, always ready to excuse and regard kindly the faults of others. Her children loved her dearly, finding her a companion in what pleased them, her consideration always being for their pleasure. Her husband was of like nature, the jolly, loving fun of all laughter producing and congeniality of spirit, kind. Loved music and dancing, played the violin. Their home was a favorite place for the numerous nieces and nephews to gather and in their older days, have heard many recall the good times at this home the best they had.

Her father opposed her marriage, as three of his children had already married Colemans. If he had aught against the character of Henry A. Coleman, 'tis not known. This was a great grief to her, as she dearly loved her father. Had only a faint recollection of her mother. The father opposing, she was married at the home of her sister, Susan, and several years passed before she was forgiven and visited by him -- not till after the death of her third child, when she was very ill. Tho' she never was known to criticize the treatment received, nor did her children, as far as known. Several of the children of Drusilla were of a more stern nature, speaking in an emphatic manner, that made some stand in awe of them. Not so with Chaney, She was ever sweet natured and a preacher. When she lay in the last sleep, that knows no waking, one of her nephews, of a very unemotional, undemonstrative nature himself, stood looking at her, with eyes filled with tears (unusual). He said, "She was always good to me, always made me welcome."

When her 4th child was 6 months old, her sister, Susan, died, leaving an infant 2 weeks old. Chaney took this baby and nursed it with her own boy, John, and kept her in her home most of the time until she (Susan) married Dr. S. B. McLurkin (at her home.)

Chaney had the sorrows that came to all. Two children lost in infancy. Her youngest son lost his life by drowning in river near Charleston, in 1862, while stationed there. Next youngest died from effects of wound received at Battle of Manassas in 1862. Her oldest son died of pneumonia, contracted while nursing his brother, John, who was very ill with same, in 1863. For 3 months John was ill. Sallie, the youngest, and said by her father to be "the best of you all", died July 28, 1858, having been married just a year, only 18.

Her oldest daughter, married and mother of 7 children, was an invalid, in bed 4 years. Her recovery, restored health for some years afterward was miraculous. Two daughters married and moved away to Georgia, and the ways of communication and travel were not like that of this time, of course, many anxious hours were spent about them. When Sherman's army started on its famous march, the husband of one daughter was in the Confederate Army; the other, an invalid who had been exempted from active service. The two families, with their slaves, refuged to the home of their parents in S. C., where they remained for several years. On the return to Ga., where the country had been swept, as Sherman said, life was hard, for many years.

The parents, Chancy and Henry, so sorely bereft in many ways, called on their only son left, John, to come to their home and manage the large farm, part of which had a mortgage of $9,500 on it, made during the War, when Henry A. Coleman bought the lands of Solomon Coleman, very near his own home. John, his wife and two children, Sam and Jennie, came to this home in December 1865. And never did son and daughter-in-law more nobly fulfill all duties toward these parents in their old days.

John Albert Feaster Coleman married Juliana Stevenson Oct. 15, 1853. He died April 30, 1898. She, Dec. 3, 1915. Their children: Samuel Stevenson, Jennie Isabel, Henry David, Mary Feaster, Chanay Savilla.

Sam married Sarah Rebecca Gladden (descended from Polly Mobley). Their children: Kate, Annie Belle, Jesse Gladden, John A. F. Savilla

YOUNGEST CHILD OF DRUSILLA

John Mobley Feaster, married Kisannah Pickett, about 1826. He lived in home of his father, probably for a while, or near by, as they had a store in partnership. Then he built a home very near the church, built by his father (in 1834), and inheriting the land surrounding and on which the church was built, he gave a deed of 6 acres to the church.

Subsequently he moved to Columbia, S. C., and was a merchant there for several years. Finally went to Fla., Alachua County, in 1848. After the war, he went lower down, on Indian River, in Brevard County, purchased land and settled with his nephews and nieces and son and daughter. Lived there till his death, though some of his family lived on in Alachua County, and are yet there. His wife, Kisanna, probably died in Alachua County.

Their children

Elizabeth (called Lizzie) married a Mr. Reeves. They had 3 or 4 children. Ed and Agnes grew up and married. Ed married a Miss Johnson. Has children, lives in his grandfather's old home, at Micanopy. Agnes first married Everett, then Duncan. Do not know of her children.

John Pickett, oldest son of John M. Feaster, married Rebecca Kennedy, of Sumter Co., S. C. She is still living at Rochelle, Fla., Alachua County. Their children: Jacob, John, Lottie and Mary. John married and has a big family. Jacob and Andrew, unmarried, live with their mother. Lottie and Mary married Zetrouers, and had families.

Jacob, son of John M. Feaster, married (1st) Ann Crankfield. One daughter, Kizanna, married, but has no children. (2nd marriage), a Miss Lynn, and the children are Jack, Bessie, Lois, Sallie, Otis and Lynn. All of these live in Fla.

Drusilla, 2nd daughter of John M. Feaster, married her 1st cousin, James Cameron. He going to Fla. to live. They had one daughter, Chaney (called Manie), Drusilla 2nd time married Edgar McCrorey, and her daughter married Charles McCrorey, nephew of her husband. They have two children, live somewhere in Ga.

John M. Feaster, after making a home in lower Fla., married Doreas Mobley McCrorey, his first cousin, and whose son, Charles, married his granddaughter, Manie. She died of yellow fever.

Robert Charles, the youngest of Chaney's children, was born Jan. 31, 1842. The spoiled pet of the family, his life was happy in all that a country boy could enjoy. One day he went hunting and seeing a large, very scary object in the bushes, he fired at it, and ran in great hurry to the house, and said, "Pappy, I killed a bear!" The father, going to investigate, found he had killed one of his large hogs. He was small of stature, with a handsome, clear-cut face, curly black hair, and sparkling black eyes. He, too, was, as were most of the Colemans and Feasters of that generation, a splendid fiddler. And like the others, he went to the war, was drowned at Church Flats, John's Island, near Charleston, S. C., Friday, the 6th June 1862. He was 3d Serg't. Co. B, 17th Regt., S. C. Volunteers. The soldiers were in bathing, he took cramps, and went down before 'twas understood he needed help. Several days before his body was recovered. Brother John, there waiting, and walking the shore in agony of distress, the body at last brought home to the parents, to be laid by "Sallie", in the little cemetery. For years the mother had a feeling that maybe her boy, her baby, would return, that he was not drowned, but carried off to sea, and that 'twas not his body (which she was not allowed to see). But Comrades knew it was he. And all, who knew and loved, carried in their hearts ever since, the memory of "Little Bob."

(Something seems to be missing here, as paper continues with: (the children of Henry Coleman and his wife, Anna Owens. Henry Coleman was son of David Andrew Coleman, son of Henry Alexander Coleman above.— ETTA ROSSON).

Their children are:

Dr. David Andrew
Mary Edith
Sarah Isabel
Henry Alexander
Cornelia Ella (M. Nell)
Hester Caroline
Rebecca Owens

Dr. David is a popular physician, located at Blackstock, S. C. Married Miss Lizzie Clowney (descendant of Sam Mobley and Mary Wagner). Their children are: Robert, Henry, Anna Glenn, David Andrew, Thaddeus Carmichael, Margaret Brice.

Mary Edith, a lovely young lady, is homemaker (Their mother leaving them some years ago) for the father and sisters.

Sarah Isabel, "Nell", Carrie, fine girls, and graduates of Winthrop College, are successful teachers, having schools in different parts of the State.

Rebecca is yet a college girl, pretty, and of the friendly, humorous nature of her mother. Carrie was principal of a large school the past term. Is almost a reproduction in appearance of her great aunt, Drusilla Coleman. Henry Alexander is a tall, fine looking man, has a good business reputation, and bright future.

Hester Caroline died unmarried, Dec. 25, 1941, aged 63. A good, unselfish character, loved and respected by the large family connection. Her life was spent quietly in the service of others. Specially attending to the mother, who was an invalid in body and mind for several years. Interested greatly in the nieces and nephews growing up around her.
Always pleasant.

COPIED FROM JENNIE I. COLEMAN'S PAPERS, 1949,

There were Frees, Nobleys, Meadows (Meadors) Shannons. There was a Savilla Shannon. Drusilla Shannon married a Colvin.

Copy of a letter written by David Roe Coleman to his son, Wilson, of Greene County, Ala. — "South Carolina, Fairfield District, June 27, 1855. Dear Son, I take the present favorable opportunity to write to you a line in way of remembrance, as I have not had a letter from you for a great while, and inform you that your Father is still living and in good health. (Blessed be God for His mercies). Hoping that you and your family are all well.

I believe I have not wrote to you since the death of your brother, Wiley. His widow and children are well, and I think are likely to do well. They are very industrious, and your namesake, Wilson, is much so. Wiley had but a vefy short sickness, from Thursday until Tuesday. He was doing very well. I think it was the excessive cold was the cause of his death. I am certain I have never experienced so cold a winter. Our wheat crops are greatly injured, and great many entirely ruined. All the fig trees and chancy trees are killed. The figs will spring up again, but the chany will not. Our prospect for corn and cotton is very good at this time. The seasons have been very good so far. --- Your brothers and their families are all well, except Chany, Henry's wife. She has had a long spell of sickness and has seemed to threaten insanity, but is getting better. Isabelle and her family are well. We expect Isaac and Betty to see us in July. They were all well when we last heard from them. I am in the 71st year of my age. I am nearly as strong as I ever was, but not so active. I take a great deal of exercise, tho I work but little. I go into no excesses, except reading. I think one third of the day is spent in reading. I live much alone and think that few men desire peace more than I do, and none love it better. To love God with all my powers and my neighbors as myself is my aim and end. I rejoice that I have lived a life of Temperance (in almost every thing). I have a good pare of spectacles and an excellent little Rifle gun, and I think I kill more squirrels than any man in the neighborhood. This serves as an amusement for me in my vacant hours from reading. Peace be with you, my Dear Son.
