

fairfield genealogy

From: Fairfield Museum [fairfieldmus@truvista.net]
Sent: Sunday, January 27, 2013 11:25 AM
To: fairfieldgenealogy@truvista.net
Subject: FW: Cool Coleman Family Genealogy Website

Importance: High

This may be relevant to our family files...

From: scott coleman [mailto:chestercannon@hotmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, February 28, 2009 12:58 PM
To: Ken Coleman2
Cc: Stan Coleman2; Gina White2; Anne Coleman; Laura Coleman; Ben Sturgis; Creighton Coleman
Subject: FW: Cool Coleman Family Genealogy Website
Importance: High

Daddy,

This is so cool and just in time for St. Patrick's Day Irish celebrations!

Just click on the link below the David's DNA Results or just type in and/or cut and paste : <http://www.dacoleman.com> , then you will see a Coleman website page.

Click on "Photos" in the left hand blue margin, then click on: "Ancestry - Coleman Side (Most photos were taken before 1958) ..." There appear to be at least 15 pages of photographs and our direct photographical link to this collection is Papa's grandfather, Thomas Jefferson Coleman.

Remember to be patient for this site is a little s-l-o-w. Of course I will be interested in knowing what you and John Jr. think. Also, I will inquire as to how I might add our Coleman family photographs and of course our Coleman genealogical information.

Scott Coleman

(Ya'll, even though I contributed about a small amount to this genealogy (so far), I am too smart, even if the majority of Chester folks really don't think so!)

Cc: Clint - I'm kin to the Davis's too!

"I've learned from living in Chester That to ignore the facts does not change the fact even if the popular populace continues to think so !"

Scott Coleman

Date: Tue, 24 Feb 2009 18:32:15 -0800

From: jamarthab@bellsouth.net

Subject: David's DNA Results

To: trishasea@charter.net; chestercannon@hotmail.com; tsregan@charter.net; colemanwh@gmail.com

Attached are the results of another DNA test I took.

Looks like Ireland was just the "jumping off point" if you really want to go back in time.

<http://www.dacoleman.com>

Express your personality in color! Preview and select themes for Hotmail®. See how.