

W. B. Dixon of Blackstock Dies Columbia Hospital

1957
William Brown Dixon, Jr., 76 retired farmer, died Thursday afternoon, Feb. 26, at 5 o'clock, at the Columbia Hospital, after a three-week illness.

The son of the late William Brown and Minnie Mobley Dixon, he was born at Liberty Hill. He was married to Elizabeth Grayson of Davis Station, who died in 1956.

Mr. Dixon lived most of his life in the Blackstock section of Fairfield County, was a lifetime member of the Hebron Presbyterian Church near Chester, and an elder of the church for 36 years.

Survivors include two sons, D. M. Dixon of Winnsboro and J. G. Dixon of Great Falls; four daughters, Mrs. J. B. Williams of Clemson, Mrs. R. G. Bartholomew of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Larry Sharkey of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. J. G. Dukes of Edgefield; two brothers, Robert B. Dixon of Blackstock and O. W. Dixon of Greenville; seven sisters, Mrs. Neely