

I Slipped Away

I slipped away the other day,
But before I did, I stopped to pray.
I asked the Lord to comfort you,
And see you all safely through.
I asked the Lord to take your hand,
And fit you lovingly in His plan,
To wipe all your tears away,
And give grace for today.

That their prayer be, "Thy will be done".
That you would come to know God's dear son.
And for all my kindred, saints and friends dear,
I just prayed that you all meet me up here.
I prayed for pastor, wife and family, too,
That God would give them grace
And guide safely through.

So look up, my friends, as you bid me "so long".
I finally made it to my brand new home.
I'm not in pain, though I never was, you see,
But this time God came and just set my spirit free.
The angels were kind as they took my hand,
And I followed closely
To this blessed Promised Land.
It's true, my family and kindred
Heaven is so beautiful and so free of sin.
