

fairfield genealogy

From: Fairfield Museum [fairfieldmus@truvista.net]
Sent: Friday, July 19, 2013 3:26 PM
To: 'Cathy Newman'
Cc: 'Robert Killian'; 'fairfield genealogy'
Subject: RE: Gladney Gram June 2013
Attachments: Gladney cemetery unk.jpg

<http://www.topoquest.com/map.php?lat=34.37611&lon=-81.20353&datum=nad83&zoom=4&map=auto&coord=d&mode=zoomin&size=m>

Cathy, Sending the attached map where I have shown where the unseed (as yet) Gladney cemetery is located. The one that most are familiar with on the hill was not indicated on the topo quad, so I have inserted onto the attached. The url above will take you to the interactive topo quad if anyone is interested in seeing the rest of the Jackson Creek area in profile.

Should we plan to have someone here at the museum on July 27 for Gladney family visitors, or do you think anyone interested will call ahead during the week to plan to come in? -Pelham

From: Cathy Newman [mailto:newmanca52@gmail.com]
Sent: Sunday, June 30, 2013 4:23 PM
To: Fairfield Museum
Subject: Re: Gladney Gram June 2013

Seems like I've heard about it before from one or two of the older members. I believe one of them was Charles Sidney Gladney but, we lost him a couple of months ago. I loved him dearly.

I will see what I can find out at the reunion. I'm inviting you to come, too. Maybe you can concentrate on finding out about the cemetery. Friday night is the best time to talk to folks. Saturday is more structured. We will start dropping in at the Winnsboro Motel on Friday at about 4:00. You are more than welcome to come.

Is there some type of map showing the two existing cemeteries that you mentioned? And maybe the proposed site of the third one? I've only been to the one MAIN one that has all of the monuments.

See you there,
Cathy

On Sun, Jun 30, 2013 at 4:15 PM, Fairfield Museum <fairfieldmus@truvista.net> wrote:

Forgot to mention. This winter, archaeologist Natalie Adams Pope and I tried to get Buddy Stevenson to show us the other Gladney cemetery that is supposed to be deep in the woods along Jackson Creek on his father's land. He kept putting us off to keep from "upsetting" his hunters, then, because he was afraid of the "wild pigs" he had heard were there. Now, of course, it is snake and poison ivy time, so I don't know if he'll ever take us back there. This is one that we have not documented in the museum records. We'll keep trying and will take copious photos and GPS readings. None of the rest of us are afraid of pigs or snakes, but Buddy insists on accompanying us!!!

-P

PS, maybe some of the other descendants know of this cemetery. It is not the one where the monument is or the one on the corner of #213 and Jackson Creek Rd. Apparently it is an older one and has a wall around it. Will keep you informed.

From: Cathy Newman [mailto:newmanca52@gmail.com]
Sent: Sunday, June 30, 2013 4:03 PM
To: Fairfield Museum
Subject: Re: Gladney Gram June 2013

Pelham,

Thank you for letting us know about the changes. Terry Burkemper is the current president so I'm not sure of the exact time we'll be there. I will forward your email to her.

I think I inadvertently sent our newsletter to everyone in my contact list. I haven't made a mistake like that in forever. I feel really goofy. Sorry about that. I'm sure if I sent an apology to everyone, it would just make it worse. I even sent it to the man who installed our gate!!! Yikes.

Thanks again,

Cathy

On Sun, Jun 30, 2013 at 3:51 PM, Fairfield Museum <fairfieldmus@truvista.net> wrote:

Cathy,

I will have a genealogy room volunteer present on Saturday from 11 – 3 for anyone who wants to look at our records. As our funding requests to the county government have been repeatedly turned down for additional staffing (I am the only paid person), we have had to start closing on Saturdays, except for pre-arranged openings such as reunions or special requests.

I'll also bring the bibles out for folks to see. We keep them in the dark storage to keep them out of constant light, but have them out for such special occasions. Can you think of anything else I can help with?

-Pelham

From: Cathy Newman [mailto:newmanca52@gmail.com]
Sent: Sunday, June 30, 2013 3:43 PM
To: undisclosed-recipients:
Subject: Gladney Gram June 2013

Attached is the June 2013 edition of your Gladney Gram. We are in full preparation for this year's reunion to be held in Winnsboro, SC on July 26-28. I do hope you can join us.

I am also requesting information on Gladney sites to see and family members to talk to when visiting Ireland. I have seen several requests online that were never answered and have been contacted directly with requests for this information. If you or a family member visited Ireland or know someone that has been, PLEASE help us gather information to assist other family members. I am volunteering to gather the information and put it in a format that would be easily forwarded if we receive a request. We will accept any information that you have along with photos, slides, or video (I'll even take old 8mm film if you have it). I have contacted two family members that were recommended to me as having information but have received no information. I vaguely remember a presentation in Winnsboro several years ago that was very informative but it was my first reunion in Winnsboro cannot remember who gave the presentation. Please help if you can.

Please plan to join us in Winnsboro this year. A registration form is attached for your convenience.

See you in Winnsboro,

Cathy Newman

Editor, Gladney Gram

Past President 2010-2012