

The Fairfield Herald, Winnsboro, S.C. March
8, 1876

Death of Mansel Hall

The announcement of the death of this gentleman will call to mind one who ever in bygone years well known in Fairfield. Mr. Hall was for many years engaged in business in this place, and won the confidence of all with whom he came in Contact. He was a merchant of the red school and his business undertakings were attended with considerable success. For several years past he resided at Rock Hill. His remains were interred on Monday last in the cemetery of the Methodist ~~Ch~~ Church at this place.